A BLOODLESS DUEL IN OHIO.—The Dayton (Ohio) Journal gives the following account of a bloodless duel, which it asserts took place in the vicinity of that city on Thursday afternoon:

"One of the parties was a well-known Democratic politician, formerly Chairman of the City Democratic Executive Committee. It must be said, in defence of the fact, that the challenged party was a 'colored pusson.' Of course chivalry was in the ascendant. The American fellow-citizen of African descent was determined to maintain the honor of his nationality, while the ex-member of the Democratic Central Committee had a sure thing of it, in making it a condition of the duel that there should be no lead in the pistols. The darky was not posted on this point; he believed that it was the regular thing according to the latest style of the duello. The parties met, as arranged by the seconds, on the banks of Mad River. The Ethiopian was furnished with an antiquated pepper-box revolver, while the Democratic Caucasian was similarly armed. The word was given to take positions. The Democrat and the African obeyed the summons; but the darkey stood upon his courage and the honor of his race, while the Democrat took his position with the agreed certainty that blank cartridges only were to be used.

The men being placed, the usual words were given, and the parties fired. As might have been expected, no one was hurt. The contest went on until three shots had been exchanged. On the fourth fire, as had been arranged, the forehead of the Democratic committeeman was discolored by a stain, as of blood, and he fell heavily to the ground. The darkey was the challenged party, and, as an African, could not refuse to vindicate the courage of his race. So, when he saw his antagonist fall, he was disposed to fly, and he did fly—right into the arms of the authorities! He got into town with all possible speed, confessed his crime, and was sent to jail at his own request. He was at last released on sham bail; and the belligerents, who had so lately faced each other at the pistol's mouth, fortunately met. The darkey was overjoyed to find that he had not put a hole in the skull of his antagonist, as appearances had indicated, and the two combatants settled their difficulty with a drink, after failing to accomplish such a result with pepper-boxes."

CHILDREN'S EATING. — Whenever a parent sees a child come to the breakfast table, nibble a little, then go away, death is in the distance, and may be near in a great many cases; in all there is solid ground for apprehension of coming ill in some form or other. This want of appetite for breakfast may come on very slowly; it may be weeks before it is decided enough to be remarked; so much the worse for the child, because greater will be the difficulty in righting things.

If children are going to school, eating should be made compulsory, or brain disease will follow, sooner or later, for the brain must be nourished, or restless sleep follows, and in its train dreams, nervousness, cold feet and hands, with severe debility.

All school-children should have plenty of meat and bread for breakfast and dinner, with all fruits and berries they can get afterwards for dessert; if not these then no dessert at all. A speedy and easy way to remedy meal-time nibbling is to begin with a supper of bread and butter, and one cup of hot milk and water, and nothing else; allow not an atom of anything to be eaten between meals, and compel them to be in bed by nine o'clock. Within a week a hearty breakfast will be the result, with an increasing vivacity, activity, life and joyousness.—Christian Weekly.

NO LIGHT MATTER.—The Titusville Herald says: "We had supposed that the time had passed by, when men went smelling around, inside of oil or benzine tanks, with lighted lanterns or cigars, but it appears not, for a man at Parker's Landing went into a tank with a burning lantern, while oil was being pumped into the former, and the gas igniting, the bystanders were treated to what they supposed to be Encke's comet going through the skies, with a nebula of coat-tails, suspenders, and tank timber following. We are glad he was not seriously injured, and sorry that several buildings in the vicinity were burned."

—On one of the recent cold nights a lady acquaintance of ours put her two boys in bed in a cold room, tucked them up and sat down on the edge of the bed to hear them say their prayers. Johnny, aged seven, got through all right and cuddled up to Willie, age five, who had just commenced his prayer. Presently Willie began to hurry, the words came faster than he could distinctly utter them, and the prayer ended thus: "I pray the Lord my soul to keep—amen—take your hand off from me or I'll warm your ear for you." Johnny was tickling him.—Nashua Telegraph.

—"Let's disinfect" is the polite phrase to accompany the clinking of glasses at Chicago.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES. — Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children,

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S
Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scene of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give rest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HARVEY FISK. A. S. HATCH.

FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS

and Dealers in Government Securities,

No. 5 Nassau Street,

New York, Nov. 20, 1871.

The successful and rapid negotiation of nearly three-fourths of the FIFTEEN MILLION LOAN OF THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY, and the energetic prosecution of the work of extension and preparation of the road for an extensive mineral, agricultural, and through traffic, have placed the financial affairs and resources of the Company upon such a basis, that we are directed to advance the price for future sales of the Bonds, as explained in the following letter of MR. HUNTINGTON, President of the Company:

OFFICE CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY
54 William Street, New York,
NOVEMBER 18, 1871.

MESSRS. FISK & HATCH,
Bankers and Financial Agents C. & O. R.R.Co.:
Gentlemen:

The Western Division of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, comprising the 95 miles between Huntington, on the Ohio River, and the mouth of New River (above the Falls of Kanawha), is now substantially completed, and will, in a few days, be ready to receive the immense coal and other business that is awaiting its completion. The Eastern Division, comprising 227 miles, between White Sulphur Springs and Richmond, is now in complete order and successful operation. The grading and masonary on eleven of the 102 miles, between the mouth of New River and White Sulphur Springs, is complete, and the work on the remaining 91 miles is so far advanced that track-laying will be commenced on this portion of the road in May next, and continued without interruption until the whole line is completed.

In view of these facts, you are hereby directed to make no further sales of the Bonds of said Company at a less price than 94 and accrued interest, at which price you will continue to sell until further orders.

Very respectfully yours,
C. P. HUNTINGTON, President.

In compliance with the foregoing instructions, the price of the Bonds, from this date, until further orders, will be 94 and accrued interest.

The scarcity of, and demand for, really

Desirable six per cent. Gold Bonds,

for solid and permanent investments, is evinced by the facts that

Five-Twenty Bonds of 1867 are selling at....115
Central Pacific Bonds are selling at.....103
Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are selling at..94

These bonds all pay both principal and interest in New York City, in U. S. gold coin, and are equally safe for investment.

The reason why FIVE-TWENTY BONDS are so high is because no more can be issued, and the outstanding amount is being rapidly decreased by purchases by the Government: from their surplus revenues.

The reason why we think CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS will in time advance to the price of Five-Twenties, is because no more can be issued; while the operation of their Sinking Fund will soon commence to decrease the amount.

The reason why CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are selling so low, comparatively, while equally safe, is because the Company are selling Bonds to complete the road. They will all be sold in a short time, and in a few months the road will be finished, when we have no doubt the same result will follow as with FIVE-TWENTY and CENTRAL PACIFIC Bonds. The Sinking Fund of the Chesapeake and Ohio must go into effect within one year after the completion of the road.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are issued either coupon or registered—the denominations are as follows:

$100, which cost to day.....$94.13
$500 " " " 471.56
$1000, " " " " 943.12

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, may be sent through any National Bank or Banker; or accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

We buy and sell Government and Centrall Pacific Bonds, and receive them in exchange for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds.

Accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum.

New Publications.

The New York Times appeals to the public with the new year for enlarged circulation and general appreciation. It has earned the right to do so. It has carried on the past year one of the grandest, as it has been one of the most gigantic, fights with official corruption that has ever been known in political affairs. It has exposed, totally defeated, and almost wholly routed, the horde of thieving scoundrels who have for years been plundering the people of New York city and corrupting the entire politics of the country. It began the work single-handed and alone, and it has had a magnificent victory. This grand result should of itself win it friends. Moreover, it is a first-class news and literary journal, discussing all topics with candor and freshness. Its summaries are very intelligently made up, and the reader reaps profit and entertainment from its columns. As an unexceptionable family paper we cordially commend it.

WORK on the Wolfeborough Railroad began on Wednesday, Dec. 12th. At nine o'lock there was a gathering of the citizens of Wolfeborough at the place of breaking ground in Mill Village. The meeting was called to order by Hon. John M. Brackett. B. F. Parker, Esq., was appointed chairman. An interesting letter from friends of the road was read by Mr. Brackett. Lyford Shorey, born in that town and the oldest citizen, being eighty-eight years of age, threw the first shovelful of earth. Brief addresses were made by B. F. Parker, Buel C. Carter, Blake Folsom, and Charles H. Parker. Cheers were given for the Wolfeborough Railroad, the Eastern Railroad, the town of Wolfeborough, the town committee, Judge Whitehouse, the engineer of the road, the venerable Shorey, the men that do the work and the ladies. It is expected the road will be completed by midsummer.

PISTOL PRACTICE.—An old man named David Graves was shot and mortally wounded by his son-in-law, Joseph Musso, in Memphis, Tenn., on Thursday evening. Musso shot his wife and mother-in-law, but not seriously. The shooting was caused by domestic infelicity. In New York, Friday afternoon, a police officer named Doyle, accompanied by two policemen, attempted to arrest a Mrs. Shea in her house. She resisted and shot Doyle with a pistol, the ball taking effect in his mouth, from which wound he shortly after died, bleeding to death before medical assistance could be procured. The woman is under arrest.

LYNCH LAW.—A man named Browning, accompanied by others, recently went to the house of George Duncan (colored), in Bracken county, Ky., it is said to whip the latter or eject him from his house. Duncan showed fight, and on the door being broken down by his assailants, fired into the crowd and killed Browning. Duncan was captured and taken to jail in his shirt and drawers. On Sunday night disguised and armed men took him from the jail and started in the direction of Powersville. Duncan slipped away from the party, but was recaptured and finally hanged to a tree.

EXAMINING BOARDS.—In accordance with the suggestion of the civil service reform commission, the President will appoint as a regular examining board three persons from each of the different departments of the government, who will personally conduct all examinations of applicants, being governed in their action by the regulations from time to time established by the advisory board. It is probable that the duties of the latter board will not require a continuous session.

PROPER.—Henry C. Warlick, Milus Carrell, Eli Ross Stuart, Josiah Martin and Samuel G. Brown, members of the South Carolina Ku-Klux, pleaded guilty on Friday and were each sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment and $100 fine. The trial of Dr. Edward Avery, charged with conspiracy in preventing colored men from voting in 1870, was begun in Columbia, Friday.

THE PERILS OF THE LEAGUE ISLAND NAVAL SITE.—A Philadelphia despatch says that the steam frigate Chattanooga, lying in the channel at League Island, sprung a leak and sunk. It is supposed that she was cut through by the ice.

WILLIE BURGES, a Lynn news-boy, 14 years old, was killed while trying to get on the cars while they were in motion, Saturday morning.

New Hampshire Items.

Messrs. Johnson & Cogswell have contracted for a large summer house to be built on Sunapee Mountain, to be completed by the first of July next. It will command one of the finest prospects in the State.

THE RUSSIAN STEAMSHIP KUMA, plying on the Caspian Sea, foundered, in a terrible gale. All on board—officers, crew and passengers—were drowned. The steamer had a million roubles in treasure on board which is a total loss.

SUSPECTED MURDER.—It is believed that Borroughs, the supposed suicide who was found dead in a house in Paterson, N. J., was murdered by poison, and two abandoned women have been arrested as accessories.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE JOURNAL OF MUSIC is a new Monthly paper published at Manchester by I. S. Whitney. It is the only musical newspaper published in the State and we wish it abundant success.

A BOILER EXPLOSION in a steam sawmill at Baltimore, Md., Friday morning, killed one man, wounded several, and wrecked the building.

A SMALL-POX PATIENT BURIED ALIVE. The Milwaukee Wisconsin vouches for the following:—

A few days ago a man residing in the Ninth Ward, named Ruskowski, after being sick with the small-pox some time, died, as was supposed. According to the regulations recently passed by the Board of Health, he was buried shortly after his decease. His sister, who, it seems, was not satisfied with the hasty manner in which her brother was disposed of, was so worked up by the circumstances and so certain that all was not right, that to satisfy herself she had his body exhumed some six hours after the burial. To her own joy, and to the amazement of those who had pronounced the man dead, it was found that indications of life still remained in the body of the buried one. He was at once taken back to his house, and after considerable exertion, and the applying of the proper restoratives, he was virtually brought to life again. He is now living and doing well.

CANCER. — A correspondent of the Boston Advertiser, writing from Pittsburgh, Penn., says:—

I want to tell you how I cured my cancer last summer without time or money. Eight years ago a cancer came on my nose. It grew slowly for several years; the last two years it grew very fast. It became frightful. It had begun to eat my left eye. I had paid hundreds of dollars and tried doctors from far and near without finding relief. Last summer I began drinking wild tea, putting the tea grounds on my cancer every night as a poultice. In six weeks my cancer was cured. I am 62 years old. I have told this remedy to several that had cancer and know two that have been cured since. I believe wild tea grows over the country generally, always on high land.

LETTER FROM THE BURNT REGION IN WISCONSIN.—A letter from Sheboygan County, Wisconsin, under date of Christmas Day, says:

"We have had unusually cold weather since winter set in, with little snow. Very little suffering in the burnt region exists, thanks to the bountiful charity of the whole world. The pineries are alive with teams and men, and more lumber will be cut the present winter than for many years previous, in anticipation of an increased demand from burnt Chicago the next season."

—A civil engineer of Chicago, who believes that rain can be produced by artificial methods, has petitioned Congress to enable him to carry out his proposed experiments. He wants to be furnished with nine hundred cannon not less than twenty-four pounds' calibre each, and thirty thousand pounds of powder to fire in them, together with an electrical battery and other appliances, to enable him to discharge the pieces simultaneously.

—One of the largest planters of the South is Colonel G. B. Lockett of Georgia. He has planted this year 3000 acres of cotton and 2000 acres of corn and small grains. At the lowest estimate, his cotton crop will sell for $180,000. Colonel Lockett employs 300 hands, all black, and has no trouble with his help. Throwing out the value of the increase of slaves, he thinks that cotton can be raised more cheaply than before the war.

—Slow mails trouble the Texans. The State Journal says: "We mailed a business letter to Bastrop on the first of the month, which arrived on the 12th, travelling at the rate of three miles a day. The reply came in four days. The distance is thirty-five miles. Whenever we contemplate the mail facilities of Texas, we are struck speechless with admiration."

THE ALMANAC Publishers complain that their business is destroyed by Ayer's American Almanac. The people prefer it to any other, the Farmer's, Western, Southern or the numerous local almanacs when they can get Ayer's. It supplies the best astronomical data, weather and jokes of them all, and above all, medical advice which is invaluable for every family. It is supplied gratis by the druggists, and should be preserved for constant reference and use. We are sure that no good housekeeper or grandmother goes willingly without one. — Anti-Slavery Standard, N. Y.

—The newest style mirrors are framed with wide frames of burnished steel, and the chandeliers are to match, of glass and steel, with glass pendants. By gaslight the effect is perfectly dazzling, and many new houses have adopted this style.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TO THOSE WHO ARE BOWED DOWN by nervous Debility, and despair of ever recovering the vigor and mien of manhood we earnestly recommend DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. Before they have finished the first bottle, they will feel the restorative principle at work in every portion of their broken-down systems, and hope will spring up in their hearts. No case of Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, Gout or Kidney Disease, can resist this unequalled vegetable tonic, which is undiluted by any distilled or fermented liquor. 4wd10

PROGRESS OF THE REVOLUTION —A new light dawned upon the world with the introduction of PLANTATION BITTERS twelve years ago. Drastic purgation went out—restoration and renovation came in. The eyes of the people were opened to the great fact that the way to cure disease is to strengthen and support its victims, not to place them at its mercy by depriving them of the little strength they have. It soon became evident that as a means of infusing vitality into the feeble system, regulating the secretions, curing indigestion, and reforming a bilious habit of body, no medicinal preparation then known was at all comparable to the new restorative. Since then hundreds of attempts have been made to rival the Bitters. They have all failed, and the GRAND REVOLUTION IN MEDICAL TREATMENT, which was commenced in 1860, is still in progress. Nothing can stop it, for it is founded on the principle, now universally acknowledged, that physical vigor is the most formidable antagonist of all human ailments, and experience has shown that PLANTATION BITTERS is a peerless invigorant, as well as the best possible safeguard against epidemic diseases.

There is, probably, no way in which we can benefit our readers more than by recommending to them for general use Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. It is adapted to almost all the purposes of a Family Medicine; and as a specific for coughs, colds, whopping coughs, soreness of the chest, lameness, stomach, rheumatism, spitting of blood, and all lung difficulties, it has no equal that ever we saw or heard of.

The propriety of giving condition medicine to horses, cattle and sheep, was discussed and admitted by many of the Agricultural Societies throughout the State, last Fall, and we believe that in every case but one they decided in favor of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders. Good judgment.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Warning words.

The strength and nervous energy of the human body ought to be increased during the winter, for two reasons: In the first place, diseases of the most deadly character may be generated at this season; and secondly, it is of the utmost importance that during the cold weather months the system should be put in a condition to withstand the effects of the Spring miasma, and the subsequent depressing heat of Summer. It is therefore advisable, in fact essential, to tone, regulate and invigorate the digestive and secretive organs at this period of the year, and of all the stomachics and alteratives at present known, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most powerful, the most harmless, and the most agreeable. The temperature of winter would be in itself a glorious tonic, if it did not, unfortunately, bring with it a volume of chilling moisture and unwholesome winds, which have a bad effect on the skin and lungs. These must be guarded against, or there is no security for health. The effect of a course of the Bitters is to give vigor and tone to the entire organization—the superficial muscles and nerves, as well as the internal viscera. A regular habit of body, a healthy and natural flow of bile, an active digestion, a good appetite, pure blood, and a vigorous circulation of that fluid, are among the blessings derivable from a persistent use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only more than supplies the place of the best tonics, cathartics and antiseptics prescribed in their separate forms by physicians, but performs the threefold work of invigoration, regulation and purification, at one and the same time.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like, and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

BETTER AND CHEAPER.

THAN ANY OTHER

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER—Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

On Friday evening, Dec. 28, the Board of Mayor and Aldermen met in special session. The Committee on Accounts presented bills in the following departments, Fire Dept., Streets, School Houses, Repairs, Almshouse, Health Committee, Bridges, Printing, Bridge Street Sewers, Police, Collector's Commissions, and Interests. The report was accepted and the bills ordered to be paid.

The same Committee reported bills of F. B. Johnson, G. E. Barsantee and Thomas Entwistle, for witness fees for persons sent to the House of Correction, recommending that they be disallowed. Adopted.

Same Committee reported bill of Henry H. Ham, for care and repairs of Town Clocks, B. Norton's bill for refreshments furnished to firemen, and Stoddard & Beacham's bill for carriage hire, &c., and recommended that they be paid; and the Board so ordered.

Same Committee reported bill of S. W. Moses, for wagon hire, &c., and recommended that so much of said bill as was contracted previous to Oct. 13 be allowed, and the portion contracted since that date disallowed; and that the police be notified.

Voted, that all bills approved be made payable at once.

Committee on Claims recommended that D. Austin's claim be referred to next Board, which was agreed to. W. S. Willey's claim for damages, for sheep killed by dogs, was also referred to next Board.

Committee on Bills on 2d Reading reported the Ordinance regulating the letting of sail boats; referred to next Board.

Committee on School Houses were instructed to confer with Canon Walsh to ascertain if the proposed new Catholic church will be furnished with a bell, and if so what arrangements can be made for its use as a fire-alarm bell.

Voted, that the thanks of this Board be tendered to his Honor the Mayor for the able and courteous manner in which he has presided the past year; and that an expression of thanks be tendered to Ald. Fernald and the City Clerk.

Adjourned.

Kearsarge S. F. E. Co., No. 3, have their first annual Ball this (Monday) evening, at Congress Hall, and propose to give all who attend a perfect entertainment. Harlow's Band will furnish the music, and a large number of out-of-town firemen and Portsmouth citizens will be present as invited guests.

But the clerkship at the Paymaster's office is not a "sinecure," Billy; and Congressman Hibbard is powerless, while Senator Buckingham is disinclined. New Hampshire editors who want sinecures become clerks of the State Senate and leave more competent persons to do the work.

The Eastern Railroad, being unable to build cars fast enough at its own shops, has ordered them elsewhere, and now has ten first-class passenger cars nearly completed at the Taunton Car Works. These cars will be out in two weeks, and will be a credit to the builders as well as to the railroad company.

Passenger and freight trains on the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad extension begin running regularly to Conway to-day. It is the intention to transport passengers from Boston to Conway in six and one-half hours; distance, 134 miles. About four miles of road to North Conway remain unfinished, but will be completed by next May, in season for travel to the White Mountains.

The Pearl Street Freewill Baptist church in this city, having been completely reconstructed, was re-dedicated on the evening of Dec. 29. The house is more convenient and the audience room will conveniently seat four hundred persons. The invocation was by Rev. E. Owens; reading the scriptures and prayer by Rev. J. Fullonton of Raymond; sermon, on the elements of the power of the gospel, by Rev. A. H. Heath of Providence, R. I.; dedicating prayer by Rev. J. Malcolm of Biddeford, Me.; closing services by Rev. C. P. Smith and Rev. W. H. Alden of this city. The house was well filled and the exercises interesting. The pastor, Rev. L. L. Harmon, has done a good work in planning and raising the means for reconstructing the church.

After the opening of the Girls' High School on Saturday, the compliments and congratulations of the season were exchanged—an unusually joyous half hour being spent in brief addresses by the teachers, with expressions of heartfelt thanks for the elegant gifts bestowed. The Principal, Mr. Aurin M. Payson, was the recipient of a frosted silver Sirup-Pitcher and Salver, and two Silver Knife and Fork Resters. To Miss Arabella C. Morgan, the Assistant, the young ladies presented a gold-lined Silver Goblet and a massive Gold Ring. All these gifts were choice and beautiful and are a proof of strong attachment and friendship between the pupils and their instructors, which we trust will be as lasting as life. There was a season of merry making over the reception of the ring and "span" of resters, which will be remembered by all the participants. For further particulars, ask the young lady members of the class of '72.

OLD TIME CHRONICLES, No. 44.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

The Oldest House in New Hampshire.

There is a house near the harbor in Scituate, Mass., considered the oldest now standing in New England. It was built in 1634, and consequently is 237 years old. There is one in our State according to family tradition built in 1638, but four years after that in Scituate, and therefore 233 years old. This house is in Greenland. Of late a visit was made to it, and from its owner and occupant, and other sources, we are able to give the following information relative to it.

The house is a little westerly of the Parade, on the road leading to Exeter. It is of brick and quite large, some over 30 feet in length and 22 in width, two stories high, the lower story eight and one-half feet, the upper story eight. The gable ends are high, so that the garret is spacious. The walls in the lower story are eighteen inches thick, but less above, and in the gable ends but nine inches. The front walls are beautifully speckled. This is by having bricks burnt at the end scattered all through. The sleepers over the cellar are of red oak, ten inches in diameter, the bark remaining on three sides, as when put in. The beams that support them were hewed fourteen by twelve inches. The beams of the house are twelve inches square, and all the timber of the house is of oak, massive and strong. It is thought that one object in building this house so strong was to have it secure against the Indians. On the east end there is a serious rend in the wall, rather high up. It is believed this was caused by the great earthquake of 1727 or that of 1775.

The bricks for the house were made in lower ground, some ten rods in front, a little to the southeast, and dried on higher ground a little farther on. In plowing there, pieces of brick are found. At an earlier date boards were found, on which it was supposed brick were dried.

When this house was erected Greenland was a part of Portsmouth, and so remained for nearly seventy years. Greenland was then mostly a wilderness. A Mr. Weeks built the house, and it has continued in the family name to the present time. The present occupant is of the seventh generation of the Weeks family on the place.

This house was erected but fifteen years after the settlement of New Hampshire commenced. Probably there were not at the time five hundred people in the Province. Portsmouth, including then Greenland, Newcastle, part of Rye and part of Newington, might not then have had more than a hundred of souls. It was 138 years before the Declaration of Independence, and 151 years before the inauguration of Washington as the first president. It is a venerable building, and may stand for years, for centuries longer.

"Long may it live, and heavens' loud blast defy Till time's last whirlwind shakes the vaulted sky."

—John C. Calhoun's plantation in South Carolina has been bought by a wealthy colored man.

THE AMERICAN WASHER!

Price, $5.50.

The American Washer Saves Money, Time, and Drudgery.

The Fatigue of Washing Day no Longer Dreaded, but Economy, Efficiency, and Clean Clothing, Sure.

In calling public attention to this little machine, a few of the invaluable qualities, (not possessed by any other washing machine yet invented,) are here enumerated.

It is the smallest, most compact, most portable, most simple in construction, most easily operated. A child ten years old, with a few hours' practice, can thoroughly comprehend and effectually use it. There is no adjusting, no screws to annoy, no delay in adapting! It is always ready for use! It is a perfect little wonder! It is a miniature giant, doing more work and of a better quality, than the more elaborate and costly. One half of the labor is fully saved by its use, and the clothes will last one-half longer than by the old plan of the rub board. It will wash the largest blanket. Three shirts at a time, washing thoroughly! In a word, the ablution of any fabric, from a Quilt to a Lace Curtain or Cambric Handkerchief, are equally within the capacity of this LITTLE GEM! It can be fastened to any tub and taken off at will.

No matter how deep rooted a prejudice may exist against Washing Machines, the moment this little machine is seen to perform its wonders, all doubts of its cleansing efficacy and utility are banished, and the doubter and detractor at once become the fast friends of the machine.

We have testimonials without end, setting forth its numerous advantages over all others, and from hundreds who have thrown aside the unwieldy, useless machines, which have signally failed to accomplish the object promised in prominent and loud sounding advertisements.

It is as perfect for washing as a wringer is for wringing. The price, another paramount inducement to purchasers, has been placed so low that it is within the reach of every housekeeper, and there is no article of domestic economy that will repay the small investment so soon.

All that is asked for this GREAT LABOR SAVER, is a fair trial. We guarantee each machine to do its work perfectly.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

Evening Chronicle.

COMMENCING THE NEW YEAR.—We are very glad of the opportunity to quote the following excellent advice from the Boston Pilot:—

We are just beginning to write on the blank leaf called 1872; let us begin, everyone, like sensible, progressive people—let us begin by killing a dangerous nuisance. * * * One of the greatest nuisances—the most senseless humbugs in this country—is the humbug called "Standing Treat." Everybody knows what it is; but to refresh the general memory we shall explain it fairly and briefly.

A man—a hard working man, let us say—is on business, or is thirsty, perhaps, and wants a glass of ale or lemonade: he enters a drinking place. Standing there are five or six acquaintances drinking, all "good fellows;" one of them is treating: the workingman is asked in a friendly way, "Come, take a drink with us:" he takes it. Another treats—he drinks again. Then he remembers that he came in to pay for his own drink, and he says, "Come, now, have a drink with me," and so he pays a dollar for his glass of ale, and is very safe if he gets away sober.

Or you meet a friend in the street when you are thinking of buying a nice little present for your wife, as you have just the money in your pocket. The friend says, "Come and take a drink with me;" and you go. You'll never buy the present for your wife: when you take the drink, you think you are bound to return it, although neither you nor your friend are in need of it. And your nice sense of honor is vindicated, and you, like a poor heathen carrying food to its idol, stuff your poor wife's present, or your own book, or the money for the lecture course, or at least something good and useful, down the throat of the unrelenting god of the Treating System.

Are you going to stand this tyranny always? Are you going to be ruled by this King Humbug till your hair is white, and you lie down to dream of all the piles of golden dollars you have flung into the insatiable maw of this bar-room divinity?

Remember this, and it is better to remember it on this New Year's Day than when your hair is white—the god of the Treating System never closes his jaws but he grinds from five to ten feet of good land that might be yours and your children's forever, if you only had courage to stand out against this custom. Remember—one grind of the jaws—one glass of ale or whiskey—is a foot of land.

We also commend the following, except that we would say, "If you want a drink, resist the temptation."

Now let us begin the New Year with a resolution to be no longer the slave of this treating humbug. If you want to have a drink, go and have it and pay for it, but pay for no more; and if a friend wants you to drink, don't give him one in return unless he wants it. The best way to avoid the necessity of treating large companies and spending five dollars instead of twenty cents is—not to drink with them. You must have courage to stand the charge of being "unsociable;" but don't be frightened—depend on it, the very people who speak against you in the bar-room for so doing, are the very people who have a something telling them within that they should go and do likewise. Take our advice on it; think over the whole thing, and when you see just what a dangerous nuisance this Treating System is—make a New Year's Resolution that you will not be ruled by it any longer.

THE NORTH ADAMS CHINAMEN.—A North Adams correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune says the Chinamen shoemakers continue to give good satisfaction. Their pay roll for the month of November shows that the aggregate loss of time by seventy-four workmen was only five days. The climate seems to agree with them, and they express themselves much pleased with their home, but they never will say even to their employers what course they intend to pursue when they have finished their three years' labor. The correspondent says:

"I am told by the superintendent that the work accomplished by the seventy-four Chinamen now employed is equal both in quality and quantity to that formerly done by the same number of Crispins, while the Chinese work, of course, at a much less expense. The Crispins were paid from $15 to $20 per week for doing the work for which the Chinamen are paid (as is generally supposed, though not definitely known,) about $23 a month. The best proof that Mr. Sampson is pleased with his cheap labor is the fact that he intends to procure more of it when he enlarges his works, which he is expecting to do within a year. The time for which the present number were hired expires in about eighteen months, and the course then pursued by their employers will be watched with great interest, and will have a powerful influence upon the labor question."

—Senator Chandler gave his daughter Minnie, who married Congressman Hale, of Maine, last week, a house worth $40,000 as a wedding present.

—Two Chicago aldermen and two ex-aldermen have been indicted by the grand jury upon charges of corruption and bribery.

—An Indianian who hadn't a whole pair of boots or trousers received three silk hats on Christmas.

—The bell worn by Mrs. O'Leary's cow is exhibited in eighty-one different places in Chicago.

—The latest thing out in New York is the gas,—according to the Golden Age.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS.
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
For all the purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING
Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood,

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the finest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

"ELI PERKINS" has joined the Internationals, and thus sends up the parade in his last letter to the Commercial Advertiser:

"Well we've had our march!

We Internationals have met the enemy and we are thouers. The glory of breaking the Sabbath is on our heads!

This morning I met Mr. De Shingle, the tailor, again.

"Gooten Morngen, Heron Perkins," he said, seizing my hand.

Then we walked along and dropped in to see my friend, the shoemaker. My shoemaker's friend's name is Patrick O'Flanagan—he is an Italian. He fought for the Commune under Garibaldi. Mr. O'Flanagan wore a coat with a hole in it, and a red flag on the color.

"What is the status of liberty, and have you mended my shoes, Mr. O'-Flanagan?" I asked, as I entered the abode of the International.

"It is well," he replied, nervously moulding a piece of shoemaker's wax between his thumb and forefinger. "Yes, it is well. We have done it. We have broken the Sabbath, and struck a blow at despotism never to be forgotten."

"You don't tell me so, Mr. O'Flanagan?" I exclaimed, nervously. "You don't tell me that Despotism and Tyranny are used up, and that they are never to trouble us again?"

"I do," he replied—"I solemnly do."

"Who marched, Mr. O'Flanagan—to whom belongs the glory?"

"Some of America's fairest and bravest sons and daughters, sir—men of great character and purity, like Colonel Ryan; and fair and chaste women, like Miss Claflin."

"Did Ryan and Tennie march?"

"Nothing surer, Mr. Perkins."

"Then be kind enough, Mr. O'Flanagan, to hand me my mended shoes. I must go away and reflect," I said pensively.

And I strode towards home thinking that if liberty could walk with such supports as these she ought to be able to get along alone!

HOW A BODY WAS RECOVERED.—Last week a man fell into the Detroit river and was drowned. The next day attemps were made to find the body with grappling hooks. While the men were thus engaged, a buyer of junk-stuff, named David Bopito, an Italian, who happened to pass up the docks, watched them for a while, and then asserted that he knew of something that would lead to the speedy grappling up of the body. He proposed to get a loaf of baker's bread, put some quicksilver into one end, and seriously asserted that on being thrown into the water it would float to a point directly over the body, and then stand still. He was hooted at, and told to go about his junk buying, not a man believing in the old woman's whim, as they termed it. Bopito went away, but returned in a little while, threw a loaf of bread into the water near where the man went off the dock, and in a moment called the attention of two men below to the fact that the loaf was spinning around like a top. It went parily under the wharf, stood still for a moment, and then went half a block down stream, turning right and left, and, as vouched for by five different men, stood nearly two minutes against the current, which was floating drift wood right by it. Very much excited, the Italian shouted to the searchers to drag over the spot. They were further down, and it was half an hour before they passed over the spot, but when they did the drag hooked into the clothes of the drowned sailor, and he was hauled to the dock.—Detroit Post.

A FAIR JOKER AND A FAIR JOKE.—One of the best things at the Woman's Bazar was the art gallery, and the best in the art gallery was No 117. This mysterious number caused a great deal of fun. The young lady attendant was well suited for her position, keenly enjoying a joke. During the fair while she was alone with the works of art a young gentleman sauntered in, inspected the exhibition of talent, laughed at the puns and was about to retire when the lady said, "O! you have not seen 117." The young fellow looked at his programme—"117—One sweet kiss before we part." He blushed, gave a hesitating step towards the door, and again looked at the lady. She piteously continued. "That is my duty to show you; that is why I am here." The color grew deeper on the poor fellow's face. He looked as though his faith in woman's modesty had received a death-stroke; as though man were down-trodden and oppressed. The lady advanced toward him, took his hand and laid in it the biggest sugar kiss that you can buy at the confectioner's. With a sigh of relief, and a guilty, confused look at his own thought, the modest young man burst into a laugh and confessed it was the best joke of the fair.—Charlestown Chronicle.

—Mrs. C. M. Pincia of Monmouth, Me., recently feeling a queer sensation on the crown of her head, was examining it, when she discovered the point of a needle protruding, and with a pair of pincers she succeeded in drawing forth a needle about one and a half inches long. She swallowed the needle five years ago.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

Describe symptoms in all communications.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of nature, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these processes are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appear. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

HARVEY FISK. A. S. HATCH.

FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS
and Dealers in Government Securities,
No. 5 Nassau Street,
New York, Nov. 20, 1871.

The successful and rapid negotiation of nearly three-fourths of the FIFTEEN MILLION LOAN OF THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY, and the energetic prosecution of the work of extension and preparation of the road for an extensive mineral, agricultural, and through traffic, have placed the financial affairs and resources of the Company upon such a basis, that we are directed to advance the price for future sales of the Bonds, as explained in the following letter of Mr. HUNTINGTON, President of the Company:

OFFICE CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY
54 William Street, New York,
NOVEMBER 18, 1871.

MESSRS. FISK & HATCH,
Bankers and Financial Agents C. & O. R.R.Co.:
Gentlemen:

The Western Division of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, comprising the 95 miles between Huntington, on the Ohio River, and the mouth of New River (above the falls of Kanawha), is now substantially completed, and will, in a few days, be ready to do the immense coal and other business that is awaiting its completion. The Eastern Division, comprising 227 miles, between White Sulphur Springs and Richmond, is now in complete order and successful operation. The grading and masonry on eleven of the 102 miles, between the mouth of New River and White Sulphur Springs, is complete, and the work on the remaining 91 miles is so far advanced that track-laying will be commenced on this portion of the road in May next, and continued without interruption until the whole line is completed.

In view of these facts, you are hereby directed to make no further sales of the Bonds of said Company at a less price than 94 and accrued interest, at which price you will continue to sell until further orders.

Very respectfully yours,
C. P. HUNTINGTON, President.

In compliance with the foregoing instructions, the price of the Bonds, from this date, until further orders, will be 94 and accrued interest.

The scarcity of, and demand for, really

Desirable six per cent. Gold Bonds,

for solid and permanent investments, is evinced by the facts that

Five-Twenty Bonds of 1867 are selling at...115
Central Pacific Bonds are selling at.....103
Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are selling at..94

These bonds all pay both principal and interest in New York City, in U. S. gold coin, and are equally safe for investment.

The reason why FIVE-TWENTY BONDS are so high is because no more can be issued, and the outstanding amount is being rapidly decreased by purchases by the Government from their surplus revenues.

The reason why we think CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS will in time advance to the price of Five-Twenties, is because no more can be issued; while the operation of their Sinking Fund will soon commence to decrease the amount.

The reason why CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are selling so low, comparatively, while equally safe, is because the Company are selling Bonds to complete the road. They will shortly be sold in a short time, and in a few months the road will be finished, when we have no doubt the same result will follow as with FIVE-TWENTY and CENTRAL PACIFIC Bonds. The Sinking Fund of the Chesapeake and Ohio must go into effect within one year after the completion of the road.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are issued either coupon or registered—the denominations are as follows:

$100, which cost to day.....$94.13
$500 " " " 471.56
$1000, " " " 943.12

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, may be sent through any National Bank or Banker; or accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds so ordered may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense; and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

We buy and sell Government and Central Pacific Bonds, and receive them in exchange for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds.

Accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGGART."

TUESDAY, JANUARY 2, 1872.

The Governorship.

The object of the Republican State Convention is to see to it that our best, ablest and most popular men are placed in nomination. The principles of the party need not be meddled with. If they alone were to govern the votes of the people, New Hampshire would give some of her old-fashioned majorities. The political antecedents of men have much to do with the result in such a contest. The fact has reasonable demonstration almost daily in State and municipal elections, where men receive larger votes then their fellow-candidates. The duty of the Convention must be plain to every person who may be a delegate. It is simply to nominate the best men the party contains. Locality is nothing. The western part of the State might reasonably claim that it was entitled to the governorship, but if the best man resides in the eastern portion of the State, place him in the field. Obligation to individuals is nothing. A., B. or C. may have rendered invaluable services to the party, but if they cannot be elected, it is our duty as a party organization to leave them alone.

What we want in the coming campaign is assurance of success, and if Huron D. Walker of Portsmouth is the strongest candidate, our duty is plain, or if E. A. Straw can win the governorship, as against his fellow-townsman, by all means nominate him. We are of the number who do not favor a man simply because he may be entitled to it at the hands of the party, or because his personal vanity may be gratified by a nomination, but earnestly desire the nomination of that man whom we may reasonably suppose can be elected. The experience of last spring should be of value to us in this respect.

The various gentlemen whose names have been mentioned in this connection are all men of sterling qualities and well fitted for the position; whichever may receive the nomination, will confer honor upon the party which elects him, and the office. The duty of each delegate is a responsible one—choose the most desirable man to place before the people. Claremont Eagle.

THE GLOUCESTER ADVERTISER says the year now closing has been a most disastrous one to the fishing fleet, a larger number of vessels having been lost than in any former year since the business has been prosecuted. The loss of life is also very large, and only exceeded by that of 1862, when 148 lives were lost—8 more than the present year. Twenty vessels and 140 lives have been lost the present season, against 13 vessels and 95 lives last year. The total tonnage of the vessels lost this season is 1035.93, their value $92,000, insurance $78,351. The heaviest losses have been in the Georges fishery, 10 vessels and 95 lives having been sacrificed. Fourteen vessels and 28 lives have been lost in the Bank fisheries, 1 vessel and 4 lives in the mackerel fishery, 1 vessel and 12 lives in the Greenland halibut fishery, 2 vessels and 1 life in the shore winter fishery, 1 vessel in the herring fishery, and 1 in the coasting business. Of the 140 men lost 48 were known to be married, leaving 48 widows and 98 fatherless children.

DURING THE PAST YEAR there have been twenty-nine foreign arrivals at Newburyport and thirty-five foreign clearances. The coastwise arrivals in the same time have been seven hundred and thirty. The value of goods imported there during the year has been $140,000, on which duties have been paid at the custom-house to the amount of $60,000. The principal articles imported were sugar, molasses, coffee, salt, coal, lumber and wood. Of these, by far the greater value of foreign importations is of the two first named. The fresh fish brought there for the consumption of the city and the country in its vicinity during the past year has amounted to over one million pounds—valued at $30,000—for which the consumers have paid more than double this amount.

AN EXPERIMENT that will be watched with interest by manufacturers is being made at Brunswick, Me.,—the distribution of power by the conveyance of compressed air in pipes. If successful, as there seems every prospect, it will undoubtedly be adopted in many towns where no cheaper power is available.

THE PRINCE'S GAIN IS THE EDITOR'S LOSS.—The editor of the Indianapolis Journal informs the readers of his paper that "We have ordered the printers to distribute the able obituary notice of the Prince of Wales, prepared expressly for the Evening Journal by our foreign editor. It contains a great deal of valuable and interesting information about English affairs, all of which our readers must lose in consequence of the pig-headed obstinacy of Wales in refusing to die when the doctors gave him up."

OUR READERS will notice that Oliver Ditson & Co. commence the year's advertising on an enlarged plan and with increased space. As they publish nearly a thousand different books, it is only by reading a number of advertisements as they appear that one gets an adequate idea of their immense and valuable stock. Any one may procure their Descriptive Catalogue of Music Books merely by sending for it, and it will be valuable for reference.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT NEWBURYPORT. On Saturday afternoon, Edward Porter, son of John Porter of Newburyport, fell from the roof of a new house on High street, killing him instantly. Porter had just finished slating, and slipping, fell head foremost to the ground, a distance of about thirty feet, striking the frozen earth with terrible force. He was a young man of much promise.

EXPLOSION.—While a large road wagon propelled by steam and carrying heavy boilers, was passing through the streets of Glasgow Scotland, surrounded and followed by a throng of of children, one of the boilers exploded, killing five children and injuring seven so badly that their recovery is doubtful. The dead and injured were frightfully mutilated.

AN ODD EXPERIMENT.—A California scientist declares that he has prolonged his life by sleeping with his finger tips touching his toes, and has invented a machine to hold the body in that position when in repose. He assumes that the vital electric currents, instead of running off and being wasted, are thus kept in an even circumflow.

SHE DID RIGHT.—A drunken husband of Monigomery, O., lately amused himself by smashing all the dishes and furniture. His wife calmly waited until the destruction was concluded and then inventoried the loss, the bill of which she took to the saloon keeper who sold the liquor, and urged it with so much determination that it was paid.

—In the local paper, Dr. Putnam, of Bath, Me., calls attention to an article in the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal, in which persons are warned against wearing green kid gloves. It has been observed in several cases that the hands of persons wearing gloves of this color will soon become covered with an eruption which the physician finds hard to cure as the poison enters the system. Upon analysis it has been found that the green used for dying the kid contains arsenic. Dr. Putnam affirms that he has met similar cases in his own practice.

—Siemens, the well-known English telegraphist, has invented a photometer, which has proved that light penetrates to a depth of one hundred fathoms below the surface of the sea. Hitherto it has been supposed that 50 fathoms was the farthest depth to which the sun's rays could reach, but an apparatus, of which the main feature is chemically prepared paper, has proved that the sun is more than three times as powerful as was supposed.

—Alexis, like Daniel Webster, doesn't care much for money, but he thought $1500 a little steep for sixteen hours' lodging and one meal at the Spencer House, Niagara Falls. The landlord, probably desiring to perpetuate the harmonious relations between the two countries, consented to take $1000, which was paid. The people of that vicinity are greatly incensed at the disgraceful occurrence.

THE ALMANAC Publishers complain that their business is destroyed by Ayer's American Almanac. The people prefer it to any other, the Farmer's, Western, Southern or the numerous local almanacs when they can get Ayer's. It is supplied gratis by the druggists, and should be preserved for constant reference and use. BUSINESS NOTICES.

TO THOSE WHO ARE BOWED DOWN by nervous debility, and despair of ever recovering the vigor and vim of manhood we earnestly recommend DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. Before they have finished the first bottle, they will feel the restorative principle at work in every portion of their broken-down systems, and hope will spring up in their hearts. No case of Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, Gout or Kidney Disease, can resist this unequalled vegetable tonic, which is undiluted by any distilled or fermented liquor. 4wd10

There is, probably, no way in which we can benefit our readers more than by recommending to them for general use Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. It is adapted to almost all the purposes of a Family Medicine; and as a specific for coughs, colds, whopping coughs, soreness of the chest, lame stomach, rheumatism, spitting of blood, and all lung difficulties, it has no equal that ever we saw or heard of.

The propriety of giving condition medicine to horses, cattle and sheep, was discussed and admitted by many of the Agricultural Societies throughout the State, last Fall, and we believe that in every case but one they decided in favor of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders. Good judgment.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Warning words.

The strength and nervous energy of the human body ought to be increased during the winter, for two reasons: In the first place, diseases of the most deadly character may be generated at this season; and secondly, it is of the utmost importance that during the cold weather months the system should be put in a condition to withstand the effects of the Spring miasma, and the sebaceous depressing heat of Summer. It is therefore advisable, in fact essential, to tone, regulate and invigorate the digestive and secretive organs at this period of the year, and of all the stomachics and alteratives at present known, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most powerful, the most harmless, and the most agreeable. The temperature of winter would be in itself a glorious tonic, if it did not, unfortunately, bring with it a volume of chilling moisture and unwholesome winds, which have a bad effect on the skin and lungs. These must be guarded against, or there is no security for health. The effect of a course of the Bitters is to give vigor and tone to the entire organization—the digestive organs and nerves, as well as the internal viscera. A regular habit of body, a healthy and natural flow of bile, an active digestion, a good appetite, pure blood, and a vigorous circulation of that fluid, are among the blessings derivable from a persistent use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only more than supplies the place of the best tonics, cathartics and antiseptics prescribed in their separate forms by physicians, but performs the threefold work of invigoration, regulation and purification, at one and the same time.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like, and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN

HAIR RENEWER

Is the only infallible Hair Preparation for

RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR AND PROMOTING ITS GROWTH.

It is the cheapest preparation ever offered to the public, as one bottle will last longer and accomplish more than three bottles of any other preparation.

Our Renewer is not a Dye; it will not stain the skin as others.

It will keep the Hair from falling out.

It cleanses the Scalp, and makes the Hair SOFT, LUSTROUS AND SILKEN.

Our Treatise on the Hair sent free by mail.

The French Claims.

Letters have been received in this city from Washington, which indicate that the bill so long before Congress, for the payment of the French spoliation claims, will undoubtedly be passed the present session, as the Senate is now disposed to vote the pending bill for the relief of the claimants. Blank memorials to the Senate and House of Representatives can be found at the office of Mr. John Sise, No. 5 Market Square, and all parties who have any interest in the claims can call there to sign the petition.

Laconics.

The nine o'clock bell rings at 65 minutes after 8 o'clock, o'nights, now.

The Schooner Piscataqua, with an assorted cargo, sailed Monday morning from this port to the West Indies.

Prof. Moses T. Brown's Readings at the Universalist Church, Thursday evening, will be from miscellaneous selections.

Mr. Joseph W. Neal held the lucky number (864) which drew the sleigh offered by Messrs. Terhune & Berry to their patrons as a New Year's Gift.

The members of the new City Government will be sworn in at the Court House, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to-day. We shall publish Mayor Walker's address to-morrow.

Charles Grant of this city graduated from a three years' residence at the Reform School, on New Year's Day. We hope his new year will be happier than its predecessors.

Purchasers of presents should bear in mind that cameo jewelry is all the rage this year, and lockets and earrings, rings and bracelets, are elegantly set with diamonds and pearls.

A large Newfoundland dog badly bit a boy named Murphy on the face, New Year's Day. This is the second time this dog has bitten a person. He seems to need a dose of lead.

The teachers of the Boys' High School, Messrs. Lewis E. Smith and Stephen W. Clark, were presented with a silver Sirup Pitcher and Butter Knife, each, as New Year presents, on Monday. The gifts were choice and elegant testimonials of the regard in which the teachers are held.

At a meeting of the Republicans of Gosport, held Dec. 25, the following Republican Club Officers were chosen for the year 1872: Pres., E. H. Downs; Vice Pres., William Robinson; Sec., O. S. Caswell; Ex. Com., S. H. Robinson, A. J. Caswell, J. A. Caswell. A. J. Caswell and O. S. Caswell were appointed delegates to the several conventions.

A large delegation of our business men go to Concord to-day to urge the nomination of Hon. Horton D. Walker. The movement is by no means confined to politicians. Men who have taken no interest in politics for years now come to the front and ask the Republican State Convention to help us redeem the 1st Senatorial and 1st Councillor districts by nominating Mr. Walker for Governor.

Geo. L. Treadwell, Esq., treasurer of the Public Library fund, desires to acknowledge through our columns the receipt of $10 from John H. Miller, Esq., of Boston, being the third installment of his subscription to the fund which was so well started by the liberality of Hon. F. Jones. Mr. Jones' gift is available at any time when the total donations amount to $5000, if within five years from the date when it was made, failing which it reverts to the donor. There will probably never be a more favorable opportunity for securing a free public library, and more interest should be shown in the matter by those who can well afford assistance.

Newington sends the following delegates to the various conventions: State, Elias Frink, Thomas Staples; County, John Towle, Wm. Garland; Senatorial, Jos. W. Whidden, A. J. Cole; Councillor, Henry Beane, J. S. Pickering. The Republican Organization is as follows: Pres., Reuben L. Lane; Vice Pres., Darius Frink; Sec., Wm. Rollins; Ex. Com., L. L. DeRochemont, James Hoyt, Elias Frink, Eph. Pickering, A. J. Cate.

The "Fakir of Vishnu" opened his course of entertainments at the Temple, Saturday evening, to a good audience. His jugglery is good, the "Marionette Family" are amusing, and gifts are distributed among the audience, as advertised. The advertisement may be found in another column.

The new year opened with a genuine January thaw.

The lecture course before the New London Institution includes "Carleton," Rev. D. W. Faunce, Rev. W. H. H. Murray, Rev. J. D. Fulton, Geo. A. Marden, "Oliver Optic," and Wendell Phillips, as we learn by Mr. Moses Yeaton, Jr., of this city, an attendant at the Institution. An "Old Folks' Concert is to close the course.

The lease of the Wolfboro' Railroad to the Eastern has been signed. A Pullman saloon car now runs through this city from Boston to Bangor.

The members of the Court Street Society made their Pastor, Rev. C. P. Smith, a donation visit at his residence on Wibird Street, Monday evening. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all the participants, and after they adjourned the Pastor found his larder well filled.

On Monday afternoon at two o'clock an emery wheel at the Machine Shop of Critchley & Whalley on Hanover St., while making 4000 revolutions per minute, burst, with the noise of a canonn, and threw its fragments in all directions. One fragment, weighing some five pounds, struck the front of the building, breaking through, and then indented itself in the floor above. Another piece struck a book in the hands of Chas. Black, knocking it upon the floor. Other pieces did slight damage to the machinery, and one of the workmen at a lathe near by had one hand slightly injured. Several men standing near had narrow escapes.

Thomas Goodwin had two fingers of his right hand blown off, Monday, by the accidental discharge of a gun. His dog, in fawning upon him, in some way struck the hammer and exploded the charge.

Mr. Howard Dame, a brakeman on the Eastern Railroad, had his foot badly crushed under the pilot of the engine attached to the 7 o'clock P. M. train, at the Eastern depot on Monday.

—Pio Nono comforts himself for his loss of temporal power, it is said, by playing billiards, in which he has grown particularly skillful since Rome ceased to be an ecclesiastical city. Cardinal Antonelli, who is often his adversary, is easily discounted by Pio. Antonelli is reported to have declared that adversity so much improves the Pope's stroke, that if he should be driven from the Eternal City, he would be the best billiard player in Europe.

—The Sultan and the Pope have had their little differences in the past, and we believe even now the former does not recognize the infallibility of the latter, but that does not prevent him from addressing a letter, signed "Abdul Aziz Khan, Lord of the Empire of Prosperity," to "The Dignity of the Most Majestic, Most Noble, and Most Beloved Pope Pius IX., our sincere friend."

DEATHS.

In this city, Jan. 1, Mrs. CAROLINE RAND, aged 61 years, 5 months, widow of the late Mr. Edward Rand. Funeral services Thursday, at 2 o'clock, P. M., at No. 71 Congress Street.

Thus passed away suddenly, after a painless illness, one whom her children arise up and call blessed—blessed in her patient devotion to her household, her constant self denial, the fullness of her mother-love—blessed in her leaning upon the Savior as she went in the twilight down thro' the Valley of Shadows—blessed in her quiet and full release into the peace and glory of the "New Year" of Heaven. SEWING MACHINES
CHEAP AT LAST!
Having received a large number of Sewing Machines (including nearly all kinds) in EXCHANGE FOR THE "DOMESTIC,"
I am prepared to offer them at very low prices. Many of them have not been in use more than a month, and are actually better than new ones of the same make, because they have been run just enough to make them work easily. They accumulate so fast that I must dispose of them soon or be over-run with second-hand Sewing Machines. So now is your time to buy cheap, either for cash or by installments. I still continue my offer of
to all who will exchange the

THE AMERICAN WASHER!
Price, $5.50.
The American Washer Saves Money, Time, and Drudgery.
The Fatigue of Washing Day no Longer Dreaded, but Economy, Efficiency, and Clean Clothing, Sure.
In calling public attention to this little machine, a few of the invaluable qualities, (not possessed by any other washing machine yet invented,) are here enumerated.
It is the smallest, most compact, most portable, most simple in construction, most easily operated. A child ten years old, with a few hours' practice, can thoroughly comprehend and effectually use it. There is no adjusting, no screws to annoy, no delay in adapting! It is always ready for use! It is a perfect little wonder! It is a miniature giant, doing more work and of a better quality, than the most elaborate and costly. One half of the labor is fully saved by its use, and the clothes will last one-half longer than by the old plan of the rub board. It will wash the largest blanket. Three shirts at a time, washing thoroughly! In a word, the ablution of any fabric, from a Quilt to a Lace Curtain or Cambric Handkerchief, are equally within the capacity of this LITTLE GEM! It can be fastened to any tub and taken off at will.
No matter how deep rooted a prejudice may exist against Washing Machines, the moment this little machine is seen to perform its wonders, all doubts of its cleansing efficacy and utility are banished, and the doubter and detractor at once become the fast friends of the machine.
We have testimonials without end, setting forth its numerous advantages over all others, and from hundreds who have thrown aside the unwieldy, useless machines, which have signally failed to accomplish the object promised in prominent and loud sounding advertisements.
It is as perfect for washing as a wringer is for wringing. The price, another paramount inducement to purchasers, has been placed so low that it is within the reach of every housekeeper, and there is no article of domestic economy that will repay the small investment so soon.
All that is asked for this GREAT LABOR SAVER, is a fair trial. We guarantee each machine to do its work perfectly.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or fashion or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model. does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

THIRTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS BETTER OFF.—For a number of weeks past our chance-loving citizens have been purchasing tickets in the Public Library drawing that came off in Louisville recently. Although not to be classed exactly with that class Mr. John R. Durff, of this city, also bought a ticket—No. 3278—which without thought, he carelessly placed in his pocket. Mr. Durff for eight years has been connected with the Post Office Department in this city. For several years he has held the position of superintendent of the letter carriers, and in this position is well and favorably known to the majority of our citizens. At present he receives a salary of $125 per month, just about enough to comfortably support himself and wife. He is now in his thirty-first year, and with his charming little wife resides in a small rented cottage, No. 7 Avery street. This is the second lottery ticket that he has ever purchased—the other being one in our recent fair distribution and proved a blank—and Mrs. Durff being opposed to such speculations he never informed her of the purchase until yesterday afternoon. About noon yesterday, while busily engaged in assorting the Charleston mail, Mr. Durff was tapped on the shoulder by a boy, who handed him a dispatch, of which the following is a copy:

LOUISVILLE, December 16—10.40 A. M.
Mr. John R. Durff, Memphis Tenn.:
Your number, 3278, has drawn the capital prize of $35,000.
A. T. MESSER, Clerk.

Reading over several times the dispatch which informed him that he was comparatively a rich man, Mr. Durff placed it in his pocket and "went for" his ticket. Sure enough, it was 3278. A ticket which he had endeavored to sell a one-half interest in a few days before for $5 was now worth $35,000. Unlike what most men would under similar circumstances, Mr. Durff quietly replaced his ticket and proceeded with his work, never ceasing until it was completed. Then he took his hat and overcoat and went home. It may be that he walked with a slightly buoyant step and confident air, but what man would not who was $35,000 better off than he was an hour before. Arriving home, he could control himself no longer, and for the first time in his life he executed a pigeon-wing. It all came out in a minute, and then there was a joyous time at 7 Avery street. During the afternoon he received many congratulations, one being from Cheyenne, where a friend acts as telegraph operator. This piece of good fortune, Mr. Durff says, will not cause him to invest in any more lotteries, he believing in the old saying that "lightning never strikes twice in the same place." The general public will be pleased to learn that he will retain his position in the post office. He expects to get his money Monday, as it is now in the Citizens Bank at Louisville, awaiting his order. Memphis Avalanche of Dec. 17.

LOST IN A FOREST.—One week ago last Wednesday morning, the mercury stood at zero, and though it moderated some, a wind sprang up, and the air was filled with snowflakes, making it very cold. A German citizen, named Hoopins, started to the woods to cut a pole to prepare for butchering. His little boy, four years old, saw the direction he took, and after he had gone some time, slipped out at the gate and followed. The father returned at noon, not having seen the child. He was raised, but supposed to be at some neighbor's house, and was not hunted for until toward night. He could not be found, and the town was aroused, and squads set out in all directions with lanterns, but to no purpose. Next morning the search was renewed. Just before noon the little fellow was found by Fred Moffat, who was out gunning. His dog discovered him, and attracted his attention by barking. The little fellow had wandered about a mile and a half from town, and had laid exhausted on a pile of sawdust in a clearing, not 200 yards from the house of Josiah Chase, on the Spangler farm. He was lying on his face, with his knees under his body, and the right arm on the back of his head. He was without mittens, and only dressed in his common clothes. When found, he was entirely unconscious, with the blood oozing from his mouth and nose, and no pulse perceptible except at the temple. He had been out in the cold for over twenty-four hours, and had he not been very fleshy and full of animal life, he would have perished. He remained unconscious twenty-four hours, but is rapidly recovering. He may lose the first joints of his fingers on his right hand, but will not otherwise show the effects of his severe freezing.

—The Hartford Courant says: "A workman at Colt's armory who has (or had) a very long beard, flowing down upon his breast, was the other day at work upon a small lathe revolving rapidly. He said he 'felt something tickling his beard,' and looking down, saw some of the longest hairs touching the lathe. Quick as a flash, before he had time to think of his danger, the longest hair of his beard caught in the lathe and wound him up; the next he knew the lathe was nearly turning out the inside of his nose, cutting out the cartilage that separate the nostrils; then, with a mighty effort, he straightened up, saving himself from further operations on the lathe by pulling out a handful of beard a foot long and as large round as his wrist—which will be handy for his wife to use as a 'switch.' His injuries are painful, but not dangerous."

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS.
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors docfored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin. They are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1ydawM8

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
For all the purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING
Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum.
Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood,
Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

DIED AT HIS WIFE'S GRAVE.—The Sacramento Record of the 14th has the following:

A very sudden death occurred yesterday, under rather singular circumstances. Joseph Griffith, a resident of Virginia City, with his mother-in-law, Mrs. Kelley, and his little daughter, yesterday afternoon visited the grave of his wife at the City Cemetery. While standing at the head of the grave examining the tombstone, he dropped dead. The heart that had throbbed with love for the wife and mourned over her death, ceased its pulsations at her sepulchre, and there, amid the homes of the dead, the spirit of the widowed husband winged its way in search of its mate in spirit land.

—Michigan means fish water.

—The material and good will of the eight Boston dailies now published is valued at $20,000,000.

—A Missouri musician sat down upon a keg of powder and began to smoke. They found one button.

—Some of the towns in Illinois have contributed two dollars for each inhabitant, old and young, in aid of Chicago.

—Nervous headache is said to be instantly relieved by shampooing the head with a quart of cold water, in which a dessert-spoonful of soda has been dissolved.

EXCHANGE FOR THE "DOMESTIC,"

I am prepared to offer them at very low prices. Many of them have not been in use more than a month, and are actually better than new ones of the same make, because they have been run just enough to make them work easily. They accumulate so fast that I must dispose of them soon or be over-run with second-hand Sewing Machines. So now is your time to buy cheap, either for cash or by installments. I still continue my offer of

THE AMERICAN WASHER!

Price, $5.50.

The American Washer Saves Money, Time, and Drudgery.

The Fatigue of Washing Day no Longer Dreaded, but Economy, Efficiency, and Clean Clothing, Sure.

In calling public attention to this little machine, a few of the invaluable qualities, (not possessed by any other washing machine yet invented,) are here enumerated.

It is the smallest, most compact, most portable, most simple in construction, most easily operated. A child ten years old, with a few hours' practice, can thoroughly comprehend and effectually use it. There is no adjusting, no screws to annoy, no delay in adapting! It is always ready for use! It is a perfect little wonder! It is a miniature giant, doing more work and of a better quality, than the most elaborate and costly. One half of the labor is only saved by its use, and the clothes will last one-half longer than by the old plan of the rub board. It will wash the largest blanket. Three shirts at a time, washing thoroughly! In a word, the ablution of any fabric, from a quilt to a lace Curtain or Cambric Handkerchief, are equally within the capacity of this LITTLE GEM! It can be fastened to any tub and taken off at will.

No matter how deep rooted a prejudice may exist against Washing Machines, the moment this little machine is seen to perform its wonders, all doubts of its cleansing efficacy and utility are banished, and the doubter and detractor at once become the fast friends of the machine.

We have testimonials without end, setting forth its numerous advantages over all others, and from hundreds who have thrown aside the unwieldy, useless machines, which have signally failed to accomplish the object promised in prominent and loud sounding advertisements.

It is as perfect for washing as a wringer is for wringing. The price, another paramount inducement to purchasers, has been placed so low that it is within the reach of every housekeeper, and there is no article of domestic economy that will repay the small investment so soon.

All that is asked for this GREAT LABOR SAVER, is a fair trial. We guarantee each machine to do its work perfectly.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and improprieties in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appear. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

FISK & HATCH,

and Dealers in Government Securities,

No. 5 Nassau Street,

New York, Nov. 20, 1871.

The successful and rapid negotiation of nearly three-fourths of the FIFTEEN MILLION LOAN OF THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY, and the energetic prosecution of the work of extension and preparation of the road for an extensive mineral, agricultural, and through traffic, have placed the financial affairs and resources of the Company upon such a basis, that we are directed to advance the price for future sales of the Bonds, as explained in the following letter of Mr. HUNTINGTON, President of the Company:

OFFICE CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY
54 William Street, New York,
NOVEMBER 15, 1871.

MESSRS. FISK & HATCH,
Bankers and Financial Agents C. & O. R.R. Co.:
Gentlemen:

The Western Division of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, comprising the 95 miles between Huntington, on the Ohio River, and the mouth of New River (above the Falls of Kanawha), is now substantially completed, and will, in a few days, be ready to do the immense coal and other business that is awaiting its completion. The Eastern Division, comprising 227 miles, between White Sulphur Springs and Richmond, is now in complete order and successful operation. The grading and masonary on eleven of the 102 miles, between the mouth of New River and White Sulphur Springs, is complete, and the work on the remaining 91 miles is so far advanced that track-laying will be commenced on this portion of the road in May next, and continued without interruption until the whole line is completed.

In view of these facts, you are hereby directed to make no further sales of the Bonds of said Company at a less price than 94 and accrued interest, at which price you will continue to sell until further orders.

Very respectfully yours,
C. P. HUNTINGTON, President.

In compliance with the foregoing instructions, the price of the Bonds, from this date, until further orders, will be 94 and accrued interest.

The scarcity of, and demand for, really

Desirable six per cent. Gold Bonds,

for solid and permanent investments, is evinced by the facts that

Five-Twenty Bonds of 1867 are selling at...115
Central Pacific Bonds are selling at.....103
Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are selling at..94

These bonds all pay both principal and interest in New York City, in U. S. gold coin, and are equally safe for investment.

The reason why FIVE-TWENTY BONDS are so high is because no more can be issued, and the outstanding amount is being rapidly decreased by purchases by the Government from their surplus revenues.

The reason why we think CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS will in time advance to the price of Five-Twenties, is because no more can be issued; while the operation of their Sinking Fund will soon commence to decrease the amount.

The reason why CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are selling so low, comparatively, while equally safe, is because the Company are selling Bonds to complete the road. They will all be sold in a short time, and in a few months the road will be finished, when we have no doubt the same result will follow as with FIVE-TWENTY and CENTRAL PACIFIC Bonds. The Sinking Fund of the Chesapeake and Ohio must go into effect within one year after the completion of the road.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are issued either coupon or registered—the denominations are as follows:

$100, which cost to day.....$94.13
$500 " " " 471.56
$1000, " " " 943.12

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, may be sent through any National Bank or Banker; or accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

We buy and sell Government and Central Pacific Bonds and receive them in exchange for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds.

Accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
NO. 768 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and faithful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY patents for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

The Daily Chronicle,

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 3, 1872.

THE NEW YEAR brought new troubles to the New York Tammanyites. The new Board of Aldermen desired admission to the city chamber. The old Board claim to hold over—and kept the new Board out until they reorganized. Then the newly elect Aldermen were let in, headed by Henry A. Clinton, a lawyer. A small boy distributed to the disgusted members of the old Board, copies of a writ from Judge Brady, enjoining each to desist and refrain from acting as Aldermen any longer. The old Board had passed resolutions for the impeachment of Mayor Hall for malfeasance in office, and appointing Charles O'Conor and John Hardy to prepare articles of impeachment and prosecute the same before a proper tribunal. The new Board organized and adjourned.

SALEM, Mass., elected municipal officers on Monday. Hon. Samuel Calley, Republican, was chosen Mayor over Mr. George F. Choate, Republican. Calley had 1177 votes, Choate 1129, and there were 157 scattering votes.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., is greatly excited over a brutal outrage by a negro upon a little white girl, and a mob has attempted to hang him, but he was protected by the Sheriff and police.

THE BOSTON JOURNAL looks nice in its New Year suit. It is the best "made up" paper in Boston.

THE PUBLIC DEBT was decreased four and half millions of dollars in December.

New Hampshire Items.

Mr. Samuel Eaton of Danville, lately deceased, has left a $1000 legacy to the F. W. Baptist Home Mission Society. The Rev. G. W. Thompson of Stratham has devised $10,000 to the American Peace Society.

The senior class at Dartmouth College has raised $300 to increase the libraries of the literary societies.

Epping has voted $15,000 for the construction of the Nashua and Rochester Railroad. The meeting was fully attended and much interest manifested. The friends of the road are jubilant, as this sum, added to the private subscriptions in the town, nearly completes the million dollars required for the road, and consequently insures its success. An offer to lease the road to the Nashua and Worcester Railroad Campany for twenty years at six per cent. upon its cost has been accepted by the directors of the proposed road.

On the morning of the 23d ult., Mrs. Hiram Titus of Colebrook, complaining of a pain in her ear, took her bed, and in five minutes was dead.

On the 26th ult., in Peterborough, Mr. Daniel Allen of Peterborough sat down in a chair after eating his breakfast and died without a struggle or groan. He was aged sixty-six.

Mr. Samuel Colley of Kensington, aged ninety-two years of age, walked from that place to Newburyport, a distance of twelve miles, on the 29th, on his way to Byfield upon a visit to his daughter.

On Christmas day, in Bennington, Mr. B. Dutton fell and chopped off a finger from his right hand with an axe with which he was about to cut wood.

A Somersworth cow has died of "heart disease."

Lyme has voted, four to one, to withdraw a suit brought by the Selectmen against a citizen for the sale of liquor. It was also voted to remove the liquor agent on the ground that his prices were better than his stimulants.

Last August, Mr. Samuel Jones, an eccentric citizen of New Boston, suddenly disappeared. He made a visit to a friend at Raymond at that time, and nothing has been heard of him since. He had property to the amount of about $30,000, but left no family living. His nephews and nieces, who believe that he is dead, have applied to Hon. David Cross, the judge of probate, for letters of administration upon his estate. Some of his acquaintances, however, believe that he is still living. Further testimony upon the point is to be taken.

The Manchester Daily Union puts on a new dress and is enlarged. It looks neat and is a very readable exchange.

The Galaxy has entered on the seventh year of its existence, under circumstances of unusual prosperity. A new series of papers by Judge Jeremiah Black will soon appear; also other articles by our most prominent statesmen, which the publishers are not yet at liberty to announce. In the January number commences a series of articles by General G. Custer, under the title of "My Life on the Plains." Judging from the first article, and from the wild and romantic experience which General Custer has had as a cavalry officer among the Indians, these papers cannot fail to be of very great interest. They will continue through the year. The sketches of prominent living public characters by Justin McCarthy will be continued. Mr. McCarthy is one of the most charming of magazine writers. One of the most widely-known and popular of American humorists will begin early in the year a series of articles original in form and treatment. The serial stories of the Galaxy have always commanded the widest attention. Those for the year 1872 will be by writers who have now a powerful hold on American readers. The Galaxy serials have been by such writers as Charles Reade, Anthony Trollope, Justin McCarthy, Mrs. Annie Edwards, and J. W. De Forest. An ex-Shakeress begins in the January number the story of her "Fifteen Years among the Shakers"—a narrative that will throw much light on the interior life of that strange community. The Galaxy gives great care to the selection of short stories from the large number offered its editor, and makes them a noticeable feature of each number of the magazine. For $4 per year one may obtain in the Galaxy a vast amount of instructive and entertaining reading; and, were this his only source of culture, one could not fall very far behind the spirit of the age.

—One dollar and a half to regular customers is the latest quotation of wedding fees in Indiana.

—An old lady says of a certain pompous clergyman that he seems filled with the divine inflaters.

—The recall of Senor Roberts and the appointment of Admiral Polo as Spanish minister at Washington are confirmed.

—A young man who has traveled through New Jersey says he saw some land there so poor that you couldn't raise a disturbance on it.

Political.

Hon. Henry Smith, an administration man, has been nominated for speaker of the New York Assembly over a Greeleyite.

—A Boston horse committed suicide.

—George Washington recently assaulted Henry Clay, at Omaha, and gave him a severe beating.

—The Tammany Society has elected Augustus Schell grand sachem in place of William M. Tweed.

—The Kickapoo Indians from Mexico have recently committed serious outrages on the Texas border.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

THE ALMANAC Publishers complain that their business is destroyed by Ayer's American Almanac. The people prefer it to any other, the Farmer's, Western, Southern or the numerous local almanacs when they can get Ayer's. It supplies the best astronomical data, weather and jokes of them all, and above all, medical advice which is invaluable for every family. It is supplied gratis by the druggists, and should be preserved for constant reference and use. We are sure that no good housekeeper or grandmother goes willingly without one. — Anti-Slavery Standard, N. Y.

PROGRESS OF THE REVOLUTION.—A new light dawned upon the world with the introduction of PLANTATION BITTERS twelve years ago. Drastic purgation went out—restoration and renovation came in. The eyes of the people were opened to the great fact that the way to cure disease is to strengthen and support its victims, not to place them at its mercy by depriving them of the little strength they have. It soon became evident that as a means of infusing vitality into the feeble system, regulating the secretions, curing indigestion, and reforming a bilious habit of body, no medicinal preparation then known was at all comparable to the new restorative. Since then hundreds of attempts have been made to rival the Bitters. They have all failed, and the GRAND REVOLUTION IN MEDICAL TREATMENT, which was commenced in 1860, is still in progress. Nothing can stop it, for it is founded on the principle, now universally acknowledged, that physical vigor is the most formidable antagonist of all human ailments, and experience has shown that PLANTATION BITTERS is a peerless invigorant, as well as the best possible safeguard against epidemic diseases.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Warning words.

The strength and nervous energy of the human body ought to be increased during the winter, for two reasons: In the first place, diseases of the most deadly character may be generated at this season; and secondly, it is of the utmost importance that during the cold weather months the system should be put in a condition to withstand the effects of the Spring miasms, and the subsequent depressing heat of Summer. It is therefore advisable, in fact essential, to tone, regulate and invigorate the digestive and secretive organs at this period of the year, and of all the stomachics and alteratives at present known, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most powerful, the most harmless, and the most agreeable. The temperature of winter would be in itself a glorious tonic, if it did not, unfortunately, bring with it a volume of chilling moisture and unwholesome winds, which have a bad effect on the skin and lungs. These must be guarded against, or there is no security for health. The effect of a course of the Bitters is to give vigor and tone to the entire organization—the superficial muscles and nerves, as well as the internal viscera. A regular habit of body, a healthy and natural flow of bile, an active digestion, a good appetite, pure blood, and a vigorous circulation of that fluid, are among the blessings derivable from a persistent use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only more than supplies the place of the best tonics, cathartics and antiseptics prescribed in their separate forms by physicians, but performs the threefold work of invigoration, regulation and purification, at one and the same time.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like, and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

BETTER AND CHEAPER.

THAN ANY OTHER

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER — Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

BATCHELOR'S HAIR DYE.

This superb Hair Dye is the best in the world—perfectly harmless, reliable and instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints or disagreeable odor. The genuine WM. A. Batchelor's Hair Dye produces IMMEDIATELY a splendid Black or Natural Brown, leaves the hair clean, soft, and beautiful; does not contain a particle of lead or any injurious compound. Sold by all Druggists. Factory, 19 BOND STREET, N.Y.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TO THOSE WHO ARE BOWED DOWN by nervous Debility, and despair of ever recovering the vigor and vim of manhood we earnestly recommend DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. Before they have finished the first bottle, they will feel the restorative principle at work in every portion of their broken-down systems, and hope will spring up in their hearts. No case of Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, Gout or Kidney Disease, can resist this unequalled vegetable tonic, which is undiluted by any distilled or fermented liquor. 4wd10

There is, probably, no way in which we can benefit our readers more than by recommending to them for general use Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. It is adapted to almost all the purposes of a Family Medicine; and as a specific for coughs, colds, whopping coughs, soreness of the chest, lame stomach, rheumatism, spitting of blood, and all lung difficulties, it has no equal that ever we saw or heard of.

The propriety of giving condition medicine to horses, cattle and sheep, was discussed and admitted by many of the Agricultural Societies throughout the State, last Fall, and we believe that in every case but one they decided in favor of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders. Good judgment.

The City Government

For 1872 was organized at the Court House, Tuesday morning, between the hours of ten and eleven o'clock. The Common Council was called to order by the Clerk of last year's Board, and temporarily organized by the choice of Mr. Andrew P. Wendell for chairman.

In convention of the Boards of Mayor and Aldermen and Common Council, the vote for Mayor was announced and Mayor Adams administered the oath of office to Hon. Horton D. Walker, Mayor-elect. The Aldermen and Councilmen were then qualified, with the exception of Alderman-elect Isaiah Wilson and Councilman-elect Joseph H. Emery, who were absent. The convention then rose.

The Common Council balloted for a President, and Israel P. Miller, Republican, was unanimously chosen, receiving ten votes. On assuming the chair Mr. Miller briefly referred to the misgivings he had felt on accepting the Presidency of the Council the preceding year, from a lively appreciation of his own inexperience; and said that he would certainly have declined the honor had he not felt confident that a generous courtesy would prêvail in the official intercourse of the members—an expectation which events had shown to be fully warranted, no member having ever allowed political feeling or difference of opinion concerning any matter under discussion, to make him forget what was due to himself as a gentleman,—and expressed full confidence that the present Council will be as courteous and forbearing as the past one. He suggested that the duties of the Council, though less arduous than those of the upper Board, would take up much time in the early part of the year, but that no member had a right to shirk or complain on that account, as it was the bounden duty of those who had accepted positions of trust at the hands of their fellow citizens to give up all the time required for a faithful performance of the business entrusted to them. He expressed a hope that some effective plan would be speedily devised for securing a better water supply for extinguishing fires, mentioned that on several occasions during the past year engines had played upon conflagrations through twelve or fourteen hundred feet of hose, and gave as his opinion that any reasonable expenditure in procuring more water would be fully approved by the tax-payers, as the best organized and most efficient fire department was little better than useless without an abundant supply of water. In conclusion, he thanked the Council for the confidence expressed in their choice of him as their chairman and promised to deserve it to the best of his ability.

The Common Council then balloted for a Clerk; Henry A. Yeaton had 9 votes, Marcellus Bufford 1, and Mr. Yeaton was chosen. In convention, a ballot for City Clerk resulted as follows: Marcellus Bufford 11, M. Bufford, 4, Israel P. Miller 1. The Mayor administered the oath of office to Mr. Bufford. Rev. William H. Alden offered prayer and Mayor Walker then delivered an address which our readers will find elsewhere. It bears evidence of careful consideration of matters of the greatest importance to the city and all will join in its recommendations and suggestions. The Mayor dwells particularly on the necessity of constructing two more reservoirs, and pays deserved compliments to the Police and Fire Departments, and to the efficiency of Street Commissioner Ham, Chief Engineer Marston and Mr. and Mrs. Haven L. Scott, the worthy couple in charge of the City Farm.

After the adjournment of the two Boards, our newly fledged City Fathers visited the Boys' High School. Reading and declamation by the scholars were followed by short addresses by Ald. Hatch and Marvin, after which the officials visited the Girls' High School, on the floor above, where they made a somewhat longer stay than in the boys' school. The regular routine of the school was proceeded with for a short time; and then His Honor the Mayor, Ald. Hatch and Marvin and Councilman Miller made brief remarks, complimenting the school on the proficiency exhibited, and the ladylike department of the pupils. One boy and three girls only were absent at the time of the visit, and the City Fathers expressed themselves as more than pleased with the evident painstaking of the teachers and the progress of the scholars. But that another Assistant is needed in each school was suggested, and the general impression seemed to be that the schools are too large for the present number of teachers to manage to the best advantage.

Mayor Walker's Address.

Gentlemen of the City Council:

We have been chosen by the free suffrage of an intelligent constituency to manage the affairs and to advance the interests of our beloved city for the current municipal year.

I feel myself under the deepest obligations to my fellow citizens for their renewed and continued expressions of confidence in honoring me for the fourth time with the highest office at their disposal.

It will be my earnest endeavor as well as my highest ambition (with your assistance and co-operation) to show to them that the confidence reposed in me has not been misplaced, or unappreciated. We have taken the prescribed oath and invoked the divine blessing upon us, and by our presence have signified our acceptance of the trust thus confided to us.

The best and highest interests of our city should be our aim, the rights of every citizen should be sacredly guarded and protected, and the wants of the humblest individual thoughtfully and carefully considered: Animated by these high motives we may devise and execute measures for the general good of all.

FINANCES.

The condition of our finances will be among the many things that will particularly claim our attention. The debt of the city, all of which is funded, amounts to $247,500; there are available assets to materially reduce this amount. The debt coming due this year is $33,700, which can be provided for without taxation, by State Bonds soon to issue under the law for reimbursing municipal war expenditures. Under this law it is expected, that about $60,000 in State Bonds will be deposited with this city, to be used wholly and exclusively for the reduction of the city debt. The State Tax paid by this city has been for several years past $30,078 per year, being about half of one per cent. on the assessors' valuation. For the coming year it will be only one-half of that sum, namely $15,039. And while I would urge the most rigid economy in all of the expenditures consistent with the best interests of the city, our appropriations the coming year should be sufficient to meet all the necessary requirements of the several departments.

STREETS, SEWERS AND SIDEWALKS.

The Street department comes more directly under the eye of the public, than almost any other of the city. And among the many items which go to make up the list and swell the expenses of our municipal government, but few are necessarily greater than those of our streets. The great amount of work to be done in the various portions of the city, in repairing and grading streets, extending sewers, cleansing gutters, directing watercourses, &c., is sufficient to call forth the best energies of our efficient Street Commissioner. Much has been done to improve the condition of our streets within the last ten years. Still much more is yet to be accomplished before it can be said that our streets are in good order. I am informed by our Street Commissioner that the powerful rains which we had late in autumn, greatly damaged our streets, which, owing to the lateness of the season have not been repaired. This department is also necessarily expensive from the fact that the material for repairing has to be brought from a great distance. The gravel in close proximity to the city has been nearly, if not quite all used, and thus we have been obliged to look elsewhere for a supply. The Stone Crusher which was purchased and put in operation the past year proved defective and so much time elapsed before it could be repaired, that it can hardly be said to have demonstrated its utility, and may perhaps be regarded in the light of an experiment. Still I am informed by the Street Commissioner that the small part of Islington Street upon which the crushed stone has been used has proved a success. The travel upon the main thoroughfares has greatly increased within a few years. Owing to the heavily loaded teams which are almost constantly in our streets, wearing them down and making deep ruts in spring and autumn, constant care is required to keep them in order. The rough and uneven streets which we could tolerate in former years will not satisfy the increasing growth and prosperity of our city. The wealth of our people, the reputation of our city and the comfort and convenience of the travelling public must all be consulted. Something has been done the past year in the way of sewerage and still more will be necessary during the coming season. Our sidewalks as a whole are in a very good condition; still they will need our care, the repairing, relaying and extending new walks will be presented to your consideration from time to time and I trust these several departments will receive at your hands that attention which their importance demands.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The Police department of a city is one of the utmost importance, as upon its efficiency the inhabitants are largely dependent for their comfort and safety. It is evident that its moral power must exceed its physical power and that the character of the police has much to do with the character of the city. It should be composed of men of good moral character, men of courage, men of decision, men of sound judgment, always ready to act. Each member should so conduct himself as to command the respect of all. From the best information I can obtain, our police have sustained the good name which has heretofore been awarded to them, and while we may justly claim for our city greater exemption from thieves and burglars than most cities, owing to the efficiency in a great degree of our police, still eternal vigilance is the only price of our safety. I earnestly invoke on behalf of the police force which may be appointed the present year, your countenance and your support, and the support, of all good citizens, to sustain them in their arduous and unpleasant duties.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Fire department to which our citizens are so largely indebted for the protection of public and private property, I am pleased to say is in a highly satisfactory condition. We have three steamers, two hand engines, with all their appurtenances, and with the 1000 feet of hose already voted to be purchased, it may be said, to be in excellent order. Much improvement has been made in this department under the efficient lead of our Chief Engineer. The several companies are well officered and manned, and whenever called out have done effective service, characterized by a will that defied the devouring element. This department is composed principally of young men of energy, who know their duty and are ready to do it. It is necessarily sustained at very great expense, but when we take into the account the large amount of property protected, the security felt by our citizens, knowing that we have a well organized and efficient body of firemen ready at all times to devote their time and labor and to peril their lives if necessary for the protection of property, it more than compensates for the whole expense attending it. The tax-payers will not probably object to an appropriation necessary to keep this department in good condition. And on the other hand if the firemen are properly encouraged in their arduous duties, they will feel it incumbent on them, not only to aid in the protection of property, but by their influence and example sustain such wholesome regulations as are essential to its efficiency. In a city like ours where the buildings are largely composed of combustible material, much anxiety is unavoidably felt during the dry season, not only on account of the rapidity with which fire would spread, but more especially on account of the scarcity of water. For several years past we have been highly favored by a kind Providence, "but as in the time of peace we should prepare for war," so in a time of apparent safety we should prepare for danger, and I am pleased to learn that steps have already been taken to secure if possible a greater supply of water for some portions of the city, and I would most earnestly recommend the building of at least two reservoirs the coming season. This seems to me to be absolutely necessary and I would most respectfully and earnestly commend this subject to your careful attention. I think the suggestion or recommendation of the Chief Engineer is a good one, that a pair of horses should be kept in close proximity to the steamers, with harness on during the night (if thought necessary,) as a few moments' delay in reaching the fire might result in a severe conflagration. I have thus dwelt at some length upon this subject because I deem it of such vital importance to the safety of our city.

ALMS HOUSE AND CITY FARM.

The management of this department is directly under the control of a Board of Overseers, the Mayor being Chairman. But its interests are so closely connected with the interests of the city, that I cannot fail to speak of them. In a recent visit to the institution I am pleased to say that I found it a pattern of neatness, excellent discipline, and in perfect order throughout, which are evidences of the superior skill and good management of Mr. and Mrs. Scott, who are its efficient head. There are nearly forty inmates in the institution at the present time; five are over ninety years of age, and require much attention and care to make their brief stay comfortable; there are several who are far advanced in life, all of whom appear happy and well cared for. The buildings are generally in good repair, except the barns situated at the northwest of the institution. These need repairs; the roofs must be shingled and otherwise put in order, and I would recommend that the small barn (so called) be moved so as to join the eastern end of the other barn, virtually making but one; this I believe would save much time and labor in handling the hay. The stock on the farm looks thrifty and healthy and well cared for. The farm has yielded its abundant harvest in everything except in hay and apples, these crops being diminished.

OUR SCHOOLS.

There is no department of the public service of such vital interest to our community as our common schools. Who can doubt that money appropriated for the advancement of public education is wisely invested, and yet there are many persons to be found in almost every town and city who are wanting in a just appreciation of our public schools, and are sure to censure those who advocate any expenditure of money which must be provided for by taxation to meet the actual wants of this department. But a brighter day has dawned upon us, and the cause of education begins to receive from us that aid and sympathy which its importance demands. It is gratifying to know that our schools are in a flourishing condition, and will compare favorably with those of other cities. We have a faithful corps of teachers, who are untiring in their efforts to promote the cause of education. Theirs is a work of much patience and hard labor, and they are justly entitled to the aid and sympathy of every true friend of the cause. I commend this department to your earnest consideration.

THE HEALTH OF OUR CITY.

We have reason for devout thankfulness to a kind providence for the general health which has prevailed in our city during the past year. The desolating scourge which has visited so many places, has not been permitted to come nigh us. Our Health Committee cannot be too vigilant in the discharge of their duties as the warm season approaches, as upon the cleanliness of our city depends in a great degree its health and prosperity. The natural advantages of our city are great.

We have one of the finest harbors in the country. Our society is intelligent, our schools are excellent, our churches large and commodious, our hotels are unsurpassed by any in the land, our streets are clean, well lighted and abound with beautiful shade trees, our city combines both city and country, and has already become one of the most popular watering places for pleasure-seekers during the warm season.

In conclusion, Gentlemen, I have thus presented a few thoughts for your consideration more perhaps in the form of suggestions than recommendation, from the fact that all of the Board of Aldermen with one exception have served the past year, and the other gentleman has had large experience in former years. It is also gratifying to me that a majority of the members of the Council are returned; and I would add in this connection, that it may be regarded as an evidence of your fidelity and faithfulness in the discharge of duty.

Gentlemen, to us is committed the safety, comfort and convenience of this entire population. Let us be zealous in the performance of all our duties, seeking that wisdom which can only direct us aright in all things, and so influence us in all our acts that we may have an approving conscience.

And, Gentlemen, permit me here to express the hope that I shall have your sympathy, your co-operation, and your forbearance, in the duties which are before us, and that nothing may occur to disturb the harmony of our deliberations.

Laconics.

This is the ladies' year.

Small bills are plenty at this season.

Mr. George W. Goodwin has been appointed freight agent at the Newburyport depot.

Stillman B. Allen, Esq., will deliver his lecture on "the Enchanted Land" at Alfred, Me., Thursday evening.

One of our promising young hair dressers is about to offer gifts to his patrons—every other ticket to draw—a blister.

Maj. Donovan of Lowell has had that wheelbarrow handsomely fitted up and now sends it to Hon. Frank Jones, in memory of his watch.

A very brilliant meteor was seen towards the north, Monday evening. Decending rapidly it seemed to explode, and a lady friend fancies she heard an explosion like a rocket.

The City Marshal received a letter from the Lowell police, at noon on Tuesday, requesting him to look out for a coat thief named John Foley, who had been operating in Lowell. The man was in custody and the property recovered before 7 o'clock in the evening.

The "Fakir of Vishnu" makes things lively about town by the transportation of the leading gift at his evening entertainment, in a job wagon, to which attention is called by fife and drum. The "Fakir" is determined to thrive. Give him a call.

We understand that Mr. Nathaniel Wiggin of Greenland has sold his splendid Fearnaught gelding "Brownie" to Frank W. Miller of this city. Brownie is eight years old, weighs about 1150, was the first colt of old Fearnaught, and is regarded by horsemen as a very promising animal.

The Ladies' Sewing Circle of Pepperel Lodge of Good Templars, of Kittery Point, will held a Levee and Fair on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and evenings, Jan. 9 and 10, in their Hall at the Point, if fair weather; if stormy, the Fair will be postponed to the next fair evening.

We are pleased to hear that Mr. J. Howard Dame was not injured so severely as was supposed, at the Eastern depot. The accident occurred by his slipping on ice just as the engine approached him. The fall was a hard one, and he suffers from it a great deal, as he fell on his back.

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Mrs. George Vandenhoff is to give miscellaneous readings before the Young People's Christian Union, at the Temple, next Monday evening. Selections will be made from the works of Dickens, Longfellow, Jean Ingelow and others.

The Western Union Telegraph Company are to entirely rebuild their line upon the Eastern Railroad another season. A new line is to be erected from South Berwick to Portland over the Boston & Maine extension. This company have contracted for 4000 cedar poles, 7 1-2 inches at the top, for this work. These poles are to be cut on the line of the European & North American Railway.

Mr. Leonard Cotton, who died in this city on Monday, was formerly actively engaged in the West India trade, having been a resident there for several years. During the latter part of his life he was engaged in accumulating old buildings and property which no other person seemed to value, and possessed a perfect museum of curiosities. Mr. Cotton leaves considerable property.

Asst. Marshals Barsantee and Entwistle on Tuesday evening arrested a clothes-line thief named Charles Smith, who was sent to State prison not long since for shooting at his wife. He was caught in a yard on Bow Street, and had proofs of his prowess in the shape of a clothes-lineful of clothes in his capacious pockets. There has been considerable of this kind of sneak thieving carried on around Church hill lately, and the police have been watching sharp for the pilferers. Mr. Smith will get little sympathy from the washerwomen.

The Ball given by Kearsarge S. F. E. Co., on New Year's evening, was a very successful affair, a large number of visiting firemen being present from Bath, Biddeford and Berwick, Me., Medford, Mass., and other places, with officers and members of the other companies comprising the Portsmouth department, members of the Board of Engineers, representatives of the City Government, the navy and the press, and many others. An abundant and excellent supper was served in the engine house on Court Street at midnight, after which the dancing recommenced and was kept up with spirit until 5 o'clock Tuesday morning. The Company may congratulate themselves on having carried their first annual ball through with complete success.

THIRTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE IN THE TREATMENT OF CHRONIC AND SEXUAL DISEASES.

A Physiological View of Marriage.

The cheapest book ever published—containing nearly three hundred pages, and one hundred and thirty fine plates and engravings of the anatomy of the human organs in a state of health and disease, with a treatise on early errors, its deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by a report of cases treated. A truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent free of postage to any address, on receipt of twenty-five cents,—in stamps or postal currency,—by addressing DR. LA CROIX, No. 21 Maiden Lane, Albany, N. Y. The author may be consulted upon any of the diseases upon which his book treats, either personally or by mail, and medicines sent to any part of the world.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 Endicott street, BOSTON, on all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving a description of your cases.

To Females in Delicate Health.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

CERTAIN CURE in all cases or no charges made DR. DOW is consulted daily upon all difficult and chronic diseases, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawb26

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Billiousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood,

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of everybody, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

SHOT WITH A CORK.—A lady resident in Louisville, Ky., retired, as usual, the other night, in good health, and with a feeling of security regarding her personal safety, not dreaming of the proximity of danger or the probability of injury from deadly weapons, which she afterward supposed were at the time pointing at her from the window just opposite her bed. While peacefully reposing and enjoying the comfort and luxury of a cozy room on a winter's night, suddenly there was a sharp report at the window, the whir of some kind of missile passing through the room, and a sound as of a shot striking the person of the lady, followed by a sharp, stinging sensation between the shoulders. A scream pierced the air and startled the members of the household, who came running to the chamber and found the lady fainting. Cold water was freely used, when the lady recovered and cried out that she was shot, and a boy was despatched in haste for a doctor on Third street. The physican filled his pockets with probes and forceps and knives and whatnot, for the surgical visit, and went rushing to the rescue, thinking, probably, to save a poor suffering creature's life. The door was opened and he hurried into the room, but instead of finding his patient writhing in pain and agony he was overwhelmed with surprise, and, perhaps, was a little disappointed to find her laughing and blushing, as if enjoying one of the best of jokes. Before he could ask any questions, she hastened to explain that after he was sent for a member of the family examined her shoulder and no wound was found. She then remembered that she had left a few bottles of ale in the room, near the window, and further investigation proved that one of the corks had popped out, striking her in the back, which she thought was a bullet shot through the window. It was an amusing affair to the doctor, who liked a jest as well as any one, and he joined with the family in a laugh at the wounded lady's expense, albeit he was a little disappointed in his anticipation of a splendid case of cutting, slashing and probing, and—his usual fee.

FROZEN PLANTS.—Some clear, still night, Jack Frost will find his way into the lady's parlor or chamber in which she keeps her plants, and, ah me! next morning her sweet pets will be as rigid as the artificial flowers on her bonnets. Now, what shall be done? Don't hurry them into a warm room by the side of a stove, as you would a frost-bitten chicken. Let them remain where they were frozen; close the window shutters or drop the curtains, so as to make the room quite dark; then sprinkle the plants with cold water direct from the cistern, and wait for the result. Do not allow the room to become warmer than forty-seven degrees for twenty-four hours. If a few drops of spirits of camphor are thrown into the dish of water before sprinkling, it will be all the better. Plants treated in this way, though frozen so badly that the water will freeze on when sprinkled, by keeping the the room dark and cool for an entire day, will come out unharmed.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid face, the lack-luster eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequence.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

HARVEY FISK. A. S. HATCH.

FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS

and Dealers in Government Securities,

No. 5 Nassau Street.

New York, Nov. 20, 1871.

The successful and rapid negotiation of nearly three-fourths of the FIFTEEN MILLION LOAN OF THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY, and the energetic prosecution of the work of extension and preparation of the road for an extensive mineral, agricultural, and through traffic, have placed the financial affairs and resources of the Company upon such a basis, that we are directed to advance the price for future sales of the Bonds, as explained in the following letter of Mr. HUNTINGTON, President of the Company:

OFFICE CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY
54 William Street, New York,
NOVEMBER 18, 1871.

Messrs. FISK & HATCH,
Bankers and Financial Agents C. & O. R.R.Co.:

Gentlemen:

The Western Division of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, comprising the 95 miles between Huntington, on the Ohio River, and the mouth of New River (above the Falls of Kanawha), is now substantially completed, and will, in a few days, be ready to do the immense coal and other business that is awaiting its completion. The Eastern Division, comprising 227 miles, between White Sulphur Springs and Richmond, is now in complete order and successful operation. The grading and masonary on eleven of the 102 miles, between the mouth of New River and White Sulphur Springs, is complete, and the work on the remaining 91 miles is so far advanced that track-laying will be commenced on this portion of the road in May next, and continued without interruption until the whole line is completed.

In view of these facts, you are hereby directed to make no further sales of the Bonds of said Company at a less price than 94 and accrued interest, at which price you will continue to sell until further orders.

Very respectfully yours,
C. P. HUNTINGTON, President.

In compliance with the foregoing instructions, the price of the Bonds, from this date, until further orders, will be 94 and accrued interest.

The scarcity of, and demand for, really

Desirable six per cent. Gold Bonds,

for solid and permanent investments, is evinced by the facts that

Five-Twenty Bonds of 1867 are selling at....115
Central Pacific Bonds are selling at.....103
Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are selling at..94

These bonds all pay both principal and interest in New York City, in U. S. gold coin, and are equally safe for investment.

The reason why FIVE-TWENTY BONDS are so high is because no more can be issued, and the outstanding amount is being rapidly decreased by purchases by the Government from their surplus revenues.

The reason why we think CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS will in time advance to the price of Five-Twenties, is because no more can be issued; while the operation of their Sinking Fund will soon commence to decrease the amount.

The reason why CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are selling so low, comparatively, while equally safe, is because the Company are selling Bonds to complete the road. They will all be sold in a short time, and in a few months the road will be finished, when we have no doubt the same result will follow as with FIVE-TWENTY and CENTRAL PACIFIC Bonds. The Sinking Fund of the Chesapeake and Ohio must go into effect within one year after the completion of the road.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are issued either coupon or registered—the denominations are as follows:

$100, which cost to day.....$94.13
$500 " " " " 471.56
$1000, " " " " 943.12

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, may be sent through any National Bank or Banker; or accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our risk, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

We buy and sell Government and Central Pacific Bonds, and receive them in exchange for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds.

Accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 4, 1872.

The State Convention.

The Republican Convention for the purpose of nominating candidates to be elected Governor and Railroad Commissioner next March, assembled in Phenix Hall, Concord, Jan. 3d. It was one of the largest conventions ever held by the party in New Hampshire, numbering 662 delegates, and was called to order at about half past 11 o'clock, A. M., by Hon. E. H. Rollins, Chairman of the State Committee, who made a short but effective speech in which he contrasted the records of the two great political parties. Hon. Jacob Benton of Lancaster was chosen President, with a Vice President from each county, Gen. Gilman Marston of Exeter representing Rockingham County. On taking the chair Mr. Benton made a brief speech, referring to the proud record of the Republican party and heartily endorsing the national administration.

Previous to balloting for a candidate for Governor, Hon. James W. Emery of this city appeared upon the platform to correct an erroneous impression caused by a despatch from Concord in the Boston Journal. He stated that Mr. Walker's friends would earnestly support him, and that there was no intention of withdrawing his name. Mr. Emery pledged the support of Mr. Walker's friends to Mr. Straw in case of the latter's nomination, and John B. Clarke, Esq., of Manchester, returned the compliment for Mr. Straw's friends, should Mr. Walker be the nominee.

The convention proceeded to a ballot, and Messrs. John R. Varney of Dover, David Quint of Manchester and Geo. W. Marston of Portsmouth were appointed to count the votes, which were declared as follows:—

Whole Number	660
Nec. for a choice	331
Asa Fowler of Concord had	1
Albert S. Twitchell of Gorham	1
Dexter Richards of Newport	1
Dauphin W. Beckminster of Keene	1
Edward L. Goddard of Claremont	1
William C. Patten of Kingston	1
Samuel W. Hale of Keene	30
Horton D. Walker of Portsmouth	223
Ezekiel A. Straw of Manchester	303

and Hon. Ezekiel A. Straw of Manchester was nominated. On motion of Mr. Marston of Portsmouth, in behalf of the friends of Mr. Walker, the nomination was made unanimous, amid great cheering.

After quiet was restored, a ballot for Railroad Commissioner resulted as follows:—

Whole No. votes	530
Nec. for choice	266
E. A. Straw	2
Russell S. Wiggin of Dover	96
Dauphin W. Beckminster of Keene	152
Albert S. Twitchell of Gorham	280

and Mr. Twitchell was declared the nominee.

The members of the State Committee as chosen by counties were announced, resolutions were reported by Judge Fowler of Concord, and were passed, and speeches were made by Senator Wilson, Senator Patterson and Ex.-Gov. Harriman, after which the convention adjourned, the members being confident of their ability to elect the excellent ticket nominated.

Political.

At a special election in the 9th congressional district of Massachusetts, to choose the successor of Wm. B. Washburn, who resigned to become governor of Massachusetts, Col. Alvah Crocker of Fitchburg was chosen by a very large majority, receiving at least nine-tenths of all the votes cast. Many towns were unanimous for Crocker.

Governor Walker of Virginia vetoed the joint resolution of the legislature, suspending the funding of the State debt, but the veto will probably be of no avail.

Governor Hoffman's message to the New York legislature is a lengthy document, recommending a new charter for the city of New York, and a revision of the State constitution. Tweed did not appear in the Senate.

Van Nort, successor of Tweed in New York, has discharged 60 sinecurists, know as water police, they each drawing $1000 per annum. A similar number of sewer inspectors will soon follow.

BAD WORK.—In New York, on New Year's day, there were half a dozen stabbing affrays, but otherwise the city was peaceable. Michael Hefford, while being assaulted by another boy, named William Trumbull, in Albany, N. Y., shot the latter fatally. Three Germans quarrelled with another named Burch, in Williamsburg, N. Y.; Burch fled to his residence, and upon opening the window was shot twice by his assailants and will die. A fight occurred on board schooner Julia E. Gamage, of Rockland, Me., now lying at a New York wharf, in which a young man named Hassan was killed and another man mortally wounded.

On Tuesday, Jan. 2, a man named Billings, his wife and another woman, name unknown, were found murdered at Winsdor Locks, Conn. Dennis McCarthy was kicked to death in Church Street, New York, by three unknown roughs, while peaceably going home. An unknown man, on whose person $77,000 in cash and notes were found, jumped from a car in St. Louis, on the North Missouri Railroad, and was instantly killed, his head being completely severed from his body. A tragedy occurred in a house of ill-fame kept by one Lottie Morton and another woman, at Little Rock, Ark., in which the woman Morton was shot dead by a Capt. Newland, and a Mr. Latham mortally wounded in endeavoring to protect her,—after which Newland committed suicide; both Newland and Latham were highly connected.

Correspondence.

BALTIMORE, MD., Dec. 31.

If to make a noise is an observance and a celebration, then Christmas is both observed and celebrated in Baltimore. Certainly such a fearful din as there was from 6 o'clock Sunday evening until 12 o'clock Monday night, could only be paralleled by the carnival at Rome or pandemonium let loose. It was fearful. No Fourth of July celebration in any city, village or town in New England could hold a candle to this Christmas in Baltimore, so far as noise and drunkeness are concerned. Most of your readers know what a melodious sound issues from a common dinner horn. It is an acceptable sound, to be sure, when it is used for the purpose of calling the hungry yeoman to dinner; but at other times, even when suggestive of fresh fish, it is anything but musical. One of the chief methods of celebrating the birth of our Saviour, here, is the blowing of tin horns. Every youngster big enough to walk is supplied with one by his fond parents or somebody else, and as there are "right smart" of children here it can perhaps be imagined what a series of toots came from these instruments of torture. All night and all day the din was kept up, until it seemed as though nothing but want of breath would bring relief. In addition to the horns were drums, guns, pistols, fire crackers, (which when they exploded would make a noise as loud as a small cannon,) bells ringing, toy instruments, and every other device under the sun for making a noise.

Egg-nogg enough was made and drank to cause a flood in Jones' Falls, if it had been emptied there instead of down people's throats,—at least that is what one of the city papers said. In consequence of such quantities of that beverage being consumed, many got drunk, and on every street could be seen parties of young men who were most decidedly "how came you so?" It was freqently remarked that never before had been seen so many intoxicated people on the street. The Baltimore American has been advising the ladies not to act as "bar-maids" on New Years' day, but to give their callers coffee instead of liquor; and it is quite probable that many will heed the advice, and that there will not again be such a display of tipsy humanity as there was on Christmas day. Hope so. R.

THE UNGOVERNED HOUSE.—A lady correspondent of one of the papers, writing from Washington of the U. S. Senate, makes an incidental allusion to the other legislative branch, and speaks of it as "The Ungoverned House." It is proverbial that the House of Representatives is ungoverned; that there is not order there, but disorder and confusion. Why is it thus? Are there not rules for its order? Do legislators live daily in the violation of their own rules? It is not a part of the duty of the Speaker to preserve quiet and decorum? Has that body no regard for its honor? Has it no self respect? Order is judged important in families, in schools, (or was once,) in communities and almost everywhere; and why not in the national House of Representatives? Is that body always to be in confusion worse confounded? Confusion that the veriest country boys' debating club, or little childrens' music school, would be ashamed of? Forbid it all that is decent, right and good in the universe.

J. F.

MR. CHARLES C. FLINT, at a Connecticut fire, was, it is feared, fatally injured by falling upon a crowbar, which was standing with the point upwards, with so much force that the bar penetrated his body clear into the intestines and he was fastened upon it, attention being called to his fearful condition by his groans.

GOVERNMENT AGENTS in France are said to have unearthed a powerful imperialist propaganda, which holds its meetings and lays its plots in subterranean labyrinths.

RIOT AND BLOODSHED.—A fellow named Howard was arrested in Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 30, for a dastardly crime. Public indignation ran very high against him, and on Tuesday, Jan. 2, had got worked up to a degree which produced a mob intent upon taking summary vengeance upon the prisoner. The police were insufficient to disperse the crowd about the jail and the military were called out. Stones, were thrown and finally the soldiers fired, killing two men and wounding others. The excitement is great and further troubles are anticipated.

PERFECTLY SAFE.—A lamp containing non-explosive liquid gas exploded in Brooklyn, Jan. 2, and badly burned Mrs. Bougas and two children.

PROGRESS OF THE REVOLUTION.—A new light dawned upon the world with the introduction of PLANTATION BITTERS twelve years ago. Drastic purgation went out—restoration and renovation came in. The eyes of the people were opened to the great fact that the way to cure disease is to strengthen and support its victims, not to place them at its mercy by depriving them of the little strength they have. It soon became evident that as a means of infusing vitality into the feeble system, regulating the secretions, curing indigestion, and reforming a bilious habit of body, no medicinal preparation then known was at all comparable to the new restorative. Since then hundreds of attempts have been made to rival the Bitters. They have all failed, and the GRAND REVOLUTION IN MEDICAL TREATMENT, which was commenced in 1860, is still in progress. Nothing can stop it, for it is founded on the principle, now universally acknowledged, that physical vigor is the most formidable antagonist of all human ailments, and experience has shown that PLANTATION BITTERS is a peerless invigorant, as well as the best possible safeguard against epidemic diseases.

THE ALMANAC Publishers complain that their business is destroyed by Ayer's American Almanac. The people prefer it to any other, the Farmer's, Western, Southern or the numerous local almanacs when they can get Ayer's. It supplies the best astronomical data, weather and jokes of them all, and above all, medical advice which is invaluable for every family. It is supplied gratis by the druggists, and should be preserved for constant reference and use. We are sure that no good housekeeper or grandmother goes willingly without one. — Anti-Slavery Standard, N. Y.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Warning words.

The strength and nervous energy of the human body ought to be increased during the winter, for two reasons: In the first place, diseases of the most deadly character may be generated at this season; and secondly, it is of the utmost importance that during the cold weather months the system should be put in a condition to withstand the effects of the Spring miasma, and the subsequent depressing heat of Summer. It is therefore advisable, in fact essential, to tone, regulate and invigorate the digestive and secretive organs at this period of the year, and of all the stomachics and alteratives at present known, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most powerful, the most harmless, and the most agreeable. The temperature of winter would be in itself a glorious tonic, if it did not, unfortunately, bring with it a volume of chilling moisture and unwholesome winds, which have a bad effect on the skin and lungs. These must be guarded against, or there is no security for health. The effect of a course of the Bitters is to give vigor and tone to the entire organization—the superficial muscles and nerves, as well as the internal viscera. A regular habit of body, a healthy and natural flow of bile, an active digestion, a good appetite, pure blood, and a vigorous circulation of that fluid, are among the blessings derivable from a persistent use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only more than supplies the place of the best tonics, cathartics and antiseptics prescribed in their separate forms by physicians, but performs the threefold work of invigoration, regulation and purification, at one and the same time.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POMPEIAN TOITERIE BEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like, and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

BETTER AND CHEAPER.

THAN ANY OTHER

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER—Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TO THOSE WHO ARE BOWED DOWN by nervous Debility, and despair of ever recovering the vigor and mien of manhood we earnestly recommend DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. Before they have finished the first bottle, they will feel the restorative principle at work in every portion of their broken-down systems, and hope will spring up in their hearts. No case of Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, Gout or Kidney Disease, can resist this unequalled vegetable tonic, which is undiluted by any distilled or fermented liquor. 4wd10

There is, probably, no way in which we can benefit our readers more than by recommending to them for general use Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. It is adapted to almost all the purposes of a Family Medicine; and as a specific for coughs, colds, whopping cough, soreness of the chest, lame stomach, rheumatism, spitting of blood, and all lung difficulties, it has no equal that ever we saw or heard of.

The propriety of giving condition medicine to horses, cattle and sheep, was discussed and admitted by many of the Agricultural Societies throughout the State, last Fall, and we believe that in every case but one they decided in favor of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders. Good judgment.

The best and the cheapest—the famous Halford Table Sauce.

THE AMERICAN WASHER!

Price, $5.50.

The American Washer Saves Money, Time, and Drudgery.

The Fatigue of Washing Day no Longer Dreaded, but Economy, Efficiency, and Clean Clothing, Sure.

In calling public attention to this little machine, a few of the invaluable qualities, (not possessed by any other washing machine yet invented,) are here enumerated.

It is the smallest, most compact, most portable, most simple in construction, most easily operated. A child ten years old, with a few hours' practice, can thoroughly comprehend and effectually use it. There is no adjusting, no screws to annoy, no delay in adapting! It is always ready to use! It is a perfect little wonder! It is a miniature giant, doing more work and of a better quality, than the most elaborate and costly. One half of the labor is fully saved by its use, and the clothes will last one-half longer than by the old plan of the rub board. It will wash the largest blanket. Three shirts at a time, washing thoroughly! In a word, the ablution of any fabric, from a Quilt to a Lace Curtain or Cambric Handkerchief, are equally within the capacity of this LITTLE GEM! It can be fastened to any tub and taken off at will.

No matter how deep rooted a prejudice may exist against Washing Machines, the moment this little machine is seen to perform its wonders, all doubts of its cleansing efficacy and utility are banished, and the doubter and detractor at once become the fast friends of the machine.

We have testimonials without end, setting forth its numerous advantages over all others, and from hundreds who have thrown aside the unwieldy, useless machines, which have signally failed to accomplish the object promised in prominent and loud sounding advertisements.

It is as perfect for washing as a wringer is for wringing. The price, another paramount inducement to purchasers, has been placed so low that it is within the reach of every housekeeper, and there is no article of domestic economy that will repay the small investment so soon.

$5.50,

All that is asked for this GREAT LABOR SAVER, is a fair trial. We guarantee each machine to do its work perfectly.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Laconics.

The pastor of the Methodist Church received a very handsome dressing gown from the Sabbath School Christmas tree.

The editor of the local Democratic organ adds his signature to an item in regard to Collector Shannon, in his issue of the 3d.

The first business meeting of the City Councils for 1872 takes place this evening at the City Rooms. The Common Council will meet at 7 1-2 o'clock.

Rev. C. M. Dinsmore will lecture in Greenland on Friday evening, Jan. 5; subject, "The Old Philosophers." Mr. Dinsmore lectured last week in the Lyceum Courses at Alton and Windham, on "The Elements of Manhood."

Mr. L. A. Johnson, for the last three and a half years a student with and assistant of Dr. A. P. Stevens, has purchased of him the artificial teeth department of his dental business, and advertises in another column to give satisfaction or take no pay.

The Democrats of the 1st District nominated Dr. Josiah C. Eastman of Hampstead for Councillor. Hon. Frank Jones of this city and Gen. Michael T. Donahoe of Concord were chosen delegates to the National Democratic Convention.

Rev. James DeNormandie delivered the opening lecture of the People's Course at the Universalist church in Kittery, Tuesday evening, Jan. 2, on "The Divine Law in Trade." The second lecture of the course will be by S. B. Allen, Esq., of Boston, on Wednesday evening; subject, "The Enchanted Land."

The "Fakir of Vishnu" gives his last entertainment at the Temple this (Thursday) evening. He has had large audiences during the week, attracted partly by the good juggling and the amusement afforded by the Marionette Family and the Magical Soirees, and partly by the hope of many individuals that they may be of the lucky ones to receive gifts. For to-night he offers as the two principal gifts, $25 and $15, with the other gifts as usual.

The editor of the Portsmouth Democratic organ, in his issue of Wednesday, tried his "wit" at improvising a full and accurate report of the proceedings at and just before the Republican State Convention at Concord. As he was not there, his statement that "scores of exceedingly loyal men were hustled away to sleep off their drunks" must have been based on his knowledge of the manners and customs of delegates to Democratic conventions. He made a similar statement last year concerning a Republican convention at Exeter, which he did not attend; and the Exeter correspondent of his own sheet wrote to the Boston Traveller that "a more atrocious and unfounded falsehood never appeared even in the columns of the" Portsmouth Democratic organ. The only intoxicated person we saw while in Concord was the reporter of the Democratic sheet referred to.

A lecture by Rev. Wm. A. Drew of Augusta, Me., on "Our Pilgrim Fathers," was delivered in the Universalist Chapel at Kittery Foreside on Sunday evening, Dec. 31st. Commencing with the causes which exiled the Pilgrims, and following them through the persecutions, dangers and privations to which they were subjected, crossing the Atlantic and landing at Plymouth, Mr. Drew gave in a most interesting manner, incidents, illustrations and reflections showing that the landing of the one hundred and one immigrants on these shores was one of the most important events in the history of the world. While the lecturer corrected many popular errors, he has added to the interest of his subject by rescuing from oblivion many details which the people of New England should understand and appreciate. Lyceum managers will find this a valuable lecture to include in their courses. The lecture occupied an hour and twenty minutes in its delivery, and was listened to with marked attention. Mr. Drew is upwards of 73 years of age, and possesses a wonderfully erect form and clear, ringing voice for one of his years. He was the guest of B. F. Chandler, Esq., (who was formerly a citizen of Augusta,) during his stay in this vicinity.

THE GENERAL COURT of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts assembled at the State House in Boston, Jan. 3. Hon. H. H. Coolidge was again chosen President of the Senate. The election sermon was preached in the Old South church by Rev. A. P. Peabody, D. D. Governor-elect Washburn will be inaugurated to-day.

SENATOR TRUMBULL called on the President on New Year's day, after nearly everybody else had come and gone, and met a very cordial reception.

KU-KLUX.—Dr. Avery was found guilty of the charges brought against him, in the U. S. Court at Columbia, S. C., on the 2d. Four prisoners from Spartansburg county pleaded guilty and were remanded for sentence.

BRIGHAM YOUNG was arrested in Salt Lake City, Jan. 2, on a charge of murder. Judge McKean refused to admit him to bail, and he is held a prisoner in his own house by a United States marshal.

THE MAINE LEGISLATURE assembled on Wednesday, Jan. 3. Hon. Reuben Foster of Waterville was chosen President of the Senate, and Hon. Fred. Robie as Speaker of the House.

THE IRISH CENSUS.—The late census of Ireland shows that the population of the island is still diminishing. Since 1841, the population has decreased from eight millions to less than five and a half millions. The loss in the last ten years is 296,208. This diminution has fallen unequally on the religious sects. According to the London News, there are but 258 Jews in Ireland, a decrease of thirty-five per cent. since 1861. The adherents of the now disestablished Church have decreased by only one and three-quarters per cent., those of Presbyterians, Methodists, Independents, Baptists, and the Society of Friends, by nearly four per cent., while the Roman Catholic decrease has amounted to more than eight per cent., and "other Christan pursuasions," which have sunk nearly two-thirds in the province of Munster, and rather more than held their own in Leinster and Connaught, have so increased in Ulster as to stand one and a quarter per cent. higher for the whole country.

HEALTH VERSUS FASHION.—A distinguished Paris physician says: "I believe that, during the twenty years I have practiced my profession, twenty thousand children have been carried to the cemeteries, a sacrifice to the absurd custom of exposing their arms. Put the bulb of a thermometer into a baby's mouth, and the mercury rises to ninety degrees. Now carry the same to its little hand; if the arm be bare, and the evening cool, the mercury will sink to 50 degrees. Of course, all the blood that flows through these arms must fall from ten to forty degrees below the temperature of the heart. Need I say, when these currents of the blood flow back to the chest, the child's vitality must be more or less compromised? And need I add that we ought not to be surprised at its frequent recurring affections of the tongue, throat, or stomach? I have seen more than one child, with habitual cough or hoarseness, entirely relieved by simply keeping the hands and arms warm."

—This is the kind of weather that makes the livery and doctor's business lively. Those who start out on a sleigh-ride now-a-days usually take a buggy along to ride home in, and vice versa, while some livery stable keepers employ a corps of men with thermometers on their hats to stand around town and watch for any change in the weather that will necessitate the change of their rolling-stock from runners to wheels. The man that is frost-bitten to-day dies of sun-stroke tomorrow, and one physician informs us he treated a patient on Christmas for coup de soleil by putting ice on his brain, who was brought to his office yesterday to have the frost taken out of his wooden leg so that the sap could circulate again.—Titusville Her.

—A demure-looking chap hailed a charcoal cart with the query, "Have you got charcoal in your wagon?" "Yes, sir," said the expectant driver, stopping his horses. "That's right," observed the demure chap with an approving nod; "always tell the truth and people will respect you." And he hurried on, much to the regret of the peddler, who was getting out of the wagon to look for a brick.

—The evils of the present prison system are seen in the fact that if Tweed was convicted of his crimes it would be necessary to send him to the Penitentiary to mingle with all classes of criminals. Murderers, thieves, burglars and all would be subjected to his con-Tammany-ating influence, destroying all hope of reform for them.

—Mr. Dall, in his Alaska article in Harper's Magazine for January, gives a rough estimate that Florida pays us four per cent. net, Texas twenty, New Mexico and Arizona nothing or worse, and Alaska eight—which is rough on New Mexico and Arizona, decidedly.

—The party to whom the New York policy dealers paid their money to keep the police from raiding on them has absconded, being charged with defrauding the city, and is said to be one of the principals in the voucher robbery.

—The new style of collar for gentlemen is something wonderful to behold. It grows out of the neck like a leaf from a cornstalk, and then spreads all over a man like the harness of a Good Templar.—Hartford Times.

—Two Boston men subscribed twenty-five thousand dollars to fit out the Hassler with scientific instruments for Agassiz, on the simple condition that Boston was to have duplicates of his discoveries.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model, does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

Gov. Walter Barefoote.

BY ALBERT H. HOYT.

Walter Barefoote came from England to the province of New Hampshire between 1650 and 1655. We know that as early as 1660, he was a resident of Great Island, now Newcastle, the seat for many years of the proprietary and provincial government of New Hampshire. In 1683 he wrote to the "Lords of the Committee of Trade and Plantations" [Chalmers Pol. Annals] that he had then been a resident of the province more than twenty-five years. Of his previous history or condition we know nothing, unless we give credit to the ex parte statement of one William Davis, made in 1676 before Edward Rawson, Esq., secretary of the Colony of Massachusetts Bay. Barefoote is there charged, among other things, with deserting his wife in England. But there are obvious reasons for regarding this deposition with grave suspicion (see Historical & Genealogical Register, Vol. 5, page 358). Barefoote has not fared very well at the hands of our historians. He is styled a "tool of Cranfield," a "factious person," etc. It is true that he was a staunch loyalist, and a friend if not a member of the Church of England, and his enemies—extreme puritans—set the example, which is followed even to this day, by sectaries and politicians, of aspersing all who opposed them. But Barefoote is not the only character that has suffered from the misrepresentation or neglect of our historians. Conspicuous examples of this partizanship may be found in the case of Capt. John Mason and Sir Ferdinando Gorges, characters of far greater consequence than ever Barefoote was. Had these and other prominent men who were concerned in the early history of New England, belonged to, or been active in the cause of the puritan party, it is safe to believe that Increase or Cotton Mather would have devoted pages to their memory, and we should have had their adventures, exploits, pedigrees and family histories set forth at length, and the Latin, Greek and Hebrew tongues would have been taxed for apt words of eulogy. It is charged upon Barefoote by some, that he was arbitrary in his official conduct; but he had to deal with many men who were intent upon courses subversive of the rights of the crown, and of its loyal subjects. However, after a careful examination of the printed records, we discover no evidence of peculiar rigor of manner or of misconduct on his part. He was faithful certainly to his oaths, and never played a double part toward the king, or his ministers and agents. He was obnoxious undoubtedly to the authorities and leading men of the Bay, and to their sympathizers and abettors in New Hampshire; for he was a strenuous opposer of their attempts, finally unsuccessful, to extend the jurisdiction of the Colony of the Bay over New Hampshire.

Moreover, it should be set down to his credit (and great credit it is), that he never persecuted men for their "opinions," either in matters of religion or politics; and he was one of the few in office who protected the Quakers from the violence of men, both of the laity and clergy, who claimed for themselves rights, and immunities even, which have ever been the peculiar property of "tender consciences:" among which is the right to persecute the minority for disobeying the will of the majority; and immunity from punishment for disobedience when in the minority. There is evidence that he was a man of ability and of good education. He is styled, in the court-records in Exeter, chirugion; and the following from the old town-records of Portsmouth, furnished me by Hon. Marcellus Bufford, the efficient and courteous city clerk, settles the question as to his profession.

At a meeting of the selectmen the 11th June, 1678,

Agreed with Capt. Barefoote for the curing of Rich; Harvey who lately broke his leg, and if sd Barefoote make a perfect cure providing and finding all means at his own cost excepting Rhum for stupes [bandages, &c.] (which the town is to find), and if said Barefoote shall perfect the cure he is to have for the same twentie pounds all into money or mercht white oak pipe staves at £3:10s. per m., and if in case he perform not a perfect cure, he agrees to have nothing for his pains more than 20s. in money already pd him for what he has done for him to this day.

Mr. Ric; Harvey deceased the 13th day of this instant June 1678.

He held various important offices. He was deputy-collector of customs during Pres. Cutt's term; he was named counsellor in Gov. Cranfield's commission, and held that office from Oct., 1682, to Jan., 1683; deputy-governor from Jan., 1683, to May, 1686, and a part of that time was the acting governor; assistant to Mason in the Court of Chancery, for a time; justice of the Court of Common Pleas, by virtue of his office of counsellor; and upon the accession of Pres. Dudley was made a justice for New-Hampshire.

From the letter to the "Lords," above referred to, it appears that he became connected by marriage with many of the leading families of the country, but who his wife was or whether he had any children, we know not. He makes no mention of either in his will. Savage and Quaint state that his sister Sarah was the wife of Thomas Wiggin, son of Thomas of Dover, and the language of the will tends to support that statement.

Barefoote's will was proved in Boston, 21 Feb., 1688-9, and it is probable that he died soon after its execution. Considerable documentary matter relating to Gov. Barefoote will be found in "The Provincial Records of New Hampshire," edited by Dr. Bouton, and a copy of his Will will be found in the Historical & Genealogical Register, for January 1872.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawf6b16

The Chronicle.

JAMES AND JOSEPH.—Joseph Coburn was interviewed in Cincinnati, the other day, regarding his recent dispute near New Orleans. "This last fight," said the great man, "was my last one, and I don't care about having any more of it. I have gathered laurels and honors enough. Nobody ever licked me, and now they can't put up money enough for me to fight again. It's the same way with Mace. He is determined to quit this business." So Joseph will lead a quiet life hereafter. He will get pleasantly drunk and roam the streets of New York, "licking" people in a miscellaneous manner. Occasionally he will get into a police court, to be released on bail and never called for trial. By-and-by he will buy a saloon and transact a legitimate business. Behind his bar he will gradually wax fat and old, taking a hand in the little argument in his vicinity merely by way of pastime. He will have a diamond breast-pin and amuse himself with ward politics after the manner of a retired statesman. Then he will die, being previously interviewed in a respectful manner by all the New York reporters, and then he will be followed to his grave by a large concourse of people, not a single one of whom knew him but to love him. It is a pleasant picture. We do hope that no anxious politician will spoil it by making Joseph the Democratic candidate for President.—Rochester Democrat.

—The critic of the Indianapolist Journal gives the celebrated left-hand pianist Wehli, the following appreciative notice: "No piece of furniture was ever so maltreated as the grand piano at the Moulton concert last night. Wehli seemed animated by the demon of destruction, and his demoniac rage gave him a strength that seemed supernatural and infernal. He pawed and he clawed; he pounded and hammered, and reared up in his seat like a man in a strychnine spasm, until the tortured instrument, from pleading protestation passed through the gamut of complaining wails and agonized groans, up to the incoherent shrieks of melody hopelessly insane. After wreaking his vengeance on the unoffending instrument until his rage was satiated, he paused for a moment, and then tackled it with his left hand."

—In 1867, one Hendrickson, of Rochester county, N. Y., sold his wife Sarah to John Barnhart for four dollars. A bill of sale was made out and signed, and Sarah was transferred to Barnhart's house, where she lived happily with him for 4 years. Recently she eloped with Levi Townsend. Barnhart, not wishing to be thus swindled out of his property, applied to the court for redress, and a writ of replevin was granted him. On the day set down for trial the Justice failed to appear. The case will now be moved to an adjoining town for adjudication. Eminent counsel have been engaged on both sides.

—There is a story of a shrewd agent who tried vainly to buy the great naturalist for a winter's lectures. "Why, sir, you will make more money than by ten years of this work," he reasoned. "But I have not the time to make money," said Agassiz.

—The following notice, printed on colored card-board with a nice border, hangs in a place of business in Rome, N. Y.: "Mebbe you don't petter had loaf count here, ven you don't got some peesniss, ain't it?"

—A Wisconsin man while on a visit to Chicago, recently, met at the dinner table eleven boyhood's friends in his native Connecticut town, eight of whom were his schoolmates in the year 1814.

—By breaking her husband's will, Mrs. Hawes of San Francisco, instead of an annuity of twenty-five hundred dollars, will receive one million dollars that was left to found a university.

—Mr. Joseph Bays, a Jacksonville, Florida, merchant, was stung by a yellow wasp and very soon thereafter was carried home in an unconscious state. He has since recovered.

—A few minutes devotion at night will not clear the conscience of a foul trick done during the day, nor will going to church on Sunday atone for the willful sins of a week.

—In the double murder case in Halifax, N. S., the coroner's jury rendered a verdict of wilful murder against Gehan as the principal, and the girl Hamilton as an accessory.

—A young candidate for the legal profession was asked what he should first do when employed to bring an action. "Ask for money on account." He passed.

—The St. Louis papers consider the large quantities of petroleum stored in warehouses in that city a source of great danger, and fear the fate of Chicago.

—The Second Adventists have definitely settled on 1873 as the time for the end of the world. This is about the 1873d time they have fixed the date.

—An infant child six months old was strangled to death in its cradle at Lyndonville, Vt., with the top of the nursing-bottle which it had pulled off.

—The first prince of Wails—Jeremiah.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given.

Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

Describe symptoms in all communications.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES—SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Bechu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

and Dealers in Government Securities,

No. 5 Nassau Street.

New York, Nov. 20, 1871.

The successful and rapid negotiation of nearly three-fourths of the FIFTEEN MILLION LOAN OF THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY, and the energetic prosecution of the work of extension and preparation of the road for an extensive mineral, agricultural, and through traffic, have placed the financial affairs and resources of the Company upon such a basis, that we are directed to advance the price for future sales of the Bonds, as explained in the following letter of MR. HUNTINGTON, President of the Company:

OFFICE CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY, 54 William Street, New York, NOVEMBER 18, 1871.

MESSRS. FISK & HATCH,
Bankers and Financial Agents C. & O. R.R.Co.:
Gentlemen:

The Western Division of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, comprising the 95 miles between Huntington, on the Ohio River, and the mouth of New River (above the Falls of Kanawha), is now substantially completed, and will, in a few days, we ready to do the immense coal and other business that is awaiting its completion. The Eastern Division, comprising 227 miles, between White Sulphur Springs and Richmond, is now in complete order and successful operation. The grading and masonary on eleven of the 102 miles, between the mouth of New River and White Sulphur Springs, is complete, and the work on the remaining 91 miles is so far advanced that track-laying will be commenced on this portion of the road in May next, and continued without interruption until the whole line is completed.

In view of these facts, you are hereby directed to make no further sales of the Bonds of said Company at a less price than 94 and accrued interest, at which price you will continue to sell until further orders.

Very respectfully yours,
C. P. HUNTINGTON, President.

In compliance with the foregoing instructions, the price of the Bonds, from this date, until further orders, will be 94 and accrued interest.

The scarcity of, and demand for, really

Desirable six per cent. Gold Bonds,

for solid and permanent investments, is evinced by the facts that

Five-Twenty Bonds of 1867 are selling at.....115
Central Pacific Bonds are selling at.....103
Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are selling at..94

These bonds all pay both principal and interest in New York City, in U. S. gold coin, and are equally safe for investment.

The reason why FIVE-TWENTY BONDS are so high is because no more can be issued, and the outstanding amount is being rapidly decreased by purchases by the Government from their surplus revenue.

The reason why we think CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS will in time advance to the price of Five-Twenties, is because no more can be issued; while the operation of their Sinking Fund will soon commence to decrease the amount.

The reason why CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are selling so low, comparatively, while equally safe, is because the Company are selling Bonds to complete the road. They will all be sold in a short time, and in a few months the road will be finished, when we see no doubt the same results will follow as with FIVE-TWENTY and CENTRAL PACIFIC Bonds. The Sinking Fund of the Chesapeake and Ohio must go into effect within one year after the completion of the road.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are issued either coupon or registered—the denominations are as follows:

$100, which cost to day.....$94.13
$500 " " " 471.56
$1000, " " " 943.12

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, may be sent through any National Bank or Banker; or accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

We buy and sell Government and Central Pacific Bonds and receive them in exchange for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds.

Accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case, which is valuable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. FRIDAY, JANUARY 5, 1872.

The Political Campaign.

If there had been a doubt that the Republicans of New Hampshire took a general interest in the approaching election, that doubt would have been dispelled by the appearance of the delegates to the State Convention of the 3d instant. In point of numbers it exceeded the attendance of past years and in ability it was unsurpassed. The Republicans of the State chose their representative men to meet in council—men whose faith in the principles of the party is inbred, men of energy, shrewd to plan the coming campaign, eager to throw off the lethargy of 1871, and impatient to enter the coming canvass which is to redeem the State. The stirring speech with which Hon. E. H. Rollins opened was a reflex of the thoughts which filled the minds of the assembled delegates. Earnest, impassioned and eloquent, it found a ready response. Never before did New Hampshire Republicans gather together with firmer purpose or truer resolve to place before the people men eminently fit for their support and an enunciation of principles that has no uncertain sound. With such a purpose in view, harmony was easily secured, and the party enters the campaign unitedly supporting the excellent candidates nominated.

The Republicans who supported the nomination of Hon. HORTON D. WALKER for Governor form a very large minority disappointed by the defeat of their favorite, but being confident that a future convention can hardly fail to do them justice, and knowing that in Hon. EZEKIEL A. STRAW they have a candidate, popular, capable, discreet, one who will confer dignity and honor upon the office of Chief Magistrate of the State, hesitate not in their duty and propose to do their utmost in polling their proportion of the 39,000 votes which are surely Republican in the Granite State to-day. Portsmouth sends kindly greeting to Manchester and proposes friendly emulation during the campaign, a return once more to the old fashioned majorities which helped place New Hampshire far beyond doubt in the days of Fremont and Lincoln.

The nomination of Mr. ALBERT S. TWITCHELL of Gorham for candidate for Railroad Commissioner is a fortunate selection. He was a soldier in the recent war and is a young man of great ability. His nomination is conceded to be a strong one. Coos county has a rare opportunity to make handsome gains and the Republican delegates have shown their confidence in the result by their action.

We enter the Spring campaign under most favorable circumstances. Let our friends forget not the record of the past year, its mortifying and unexpected results, the high handed outrages which Democratic legislators attempted last June, the despicable trading which gave them control of the State. Above all let them remember that a U. S. Senator is to be chosen next June and that there is no excuse for feuds that may endanger the choice of a Republican legislature. Organization and labor are necessary to complete success. Prompt action and unceasing vigilance until election will ensure a triumph over which every friend of Republican principles throughout the country shall rejoice.

THE RESOLUTIONS passed at the Republican State Convention on the 3d, are as follows:—

Resolved, That the republican party is still, as it ever has been, the party of freedom, improvement, retrenchment and reform; that having during its past short but eventful career secured and established the right of every man to his own limbs and sinews and earnings, the equality of all men before the law, the inability of a State to enslave any portion of its people, and the duty of the Union to guarantee to every citizen the full enjoyment of his liberty and rights until he forfeits them by crime, its mission henceforth is one of peaceful but actual progress to protect the weak and humble from violence and oppression, to extend the boundaries and diffuse and blessings of civilization, to promote universal education and the general diffusion of knowledge; to see that all laws are faithfully executed, and justice impartially administered, to stimulate ingenuity in the discovery of new inventions of economizing labor and thus enlarging production, the only real source of individual or national wealth; to encourage agriculture as well as manufactures, mining and the mechanic arts, thereby bringing nearer together the producers of food and fabrics, and furnishing both with a home market, thus exchanging the gains of industry and the wages of labor by reducing the cost of transportation and diminishing the expense of exchanges between farmers and citizens; retrench unnecessary expenditures, reduce taxation to the lowest point consistent with the maintenance of the national credit, abolish all unnecessary offices, rebuke venality and expose and punish corruption and robbery; to wrest power from the hands of mere politicians by trade, and confide it to those most worthy and best qualified to wield it, by electing and appointing to office only honest and faithful men, so as to administer every department of the government with the most rigid economy and the strictest fidelity, that its burdens may bear as lightly and its benefits be as generally diffused as possible, and thus make a happier and brighter future for the toiling masses, and contribute to the welfare, enlightenment and happiness of the whole people.

Resolved, That the success of the present national administration in reducing the public debt, diminishing and equalizing taxation, administering every branch of public affairs with economy and efficiency, forming and improving the civil service, enforcing the laws without fear or favor, protecting the nation's wards with paternal care against the cruel avarice of speculation and fraud, and maintaining friendly relations with foreign powers, has been such as to command the approbation of the great majority of the American people and justly entitle it to the confidence and commendation of every true Republican.

Resolved, That while not unwilling to let the dead past bury its dead, we cannot forget, and the American people can never forget, that to the so-called Democratic party and its leaders, South and North, we owe all the calamities of the late slaveholders' rebellion and the burden of debt now resting upon the industry of our State and nation.

Resolved, That so long as a single soldier disabled in the war for the Union remains to be provided for; so long as one dollar of the national debt incurred in the prosecution of that war remains unpaid; so long as loving hands do not cease to garland with flowers the graves of our heroes fallen in the defence of liberty and country—so long should not the government of that country be surrendered to the control of those who sought or would have permitted its destruction.

Resolved, That the Republican party, while justly proud of its past history, is not unmindful of its duties to the present, or of its obligations to the future. In its name, therefore, and the name of the people of New Hampshire, we inscribe upon our banners, honesty, economy, retrenchment and reform—honesty in the public service, economy in the public expenditures, retrenchment of all unnecessary offices, and reform, social and political everywhere.

Resolved, That one of the primary objects of civil government being the protection of property, the wealth of the country should bear its full proportion of the expenses of the government, and all taxation to be just must be equal.

Resolved, That we call upon Congress to abolish the franking privilege, give the people the cheapest practicable postage, make no more grants of the public lands except as free homesteads to actual settlers, reduce the expenses of the army and navy, encourage every department of honest industry, secure to labor everywhere its just reward and promote universal education.

Resolved, That the Democratic party, in the course of its brief and accidental control of our State government, by its wanton expenditure of the public money and consequent increase of the State debt, by its greed for office and reckless partizan legislation, by its complete subserviency to demagogues and the appointment of incapable and inefficient men to office, has shown itself to be signally unworthy of the confidence and support of the people; and that particularly the course of the leaders of that party in attempting to gerrymander senatorial districts and ward lines, thus outraging the most sacred rights of the people, and in prolonging the session of the legislature for weeks after the public business was completed, for no other purpose than to secure the offices of the State for its adherents by a resort to bribery, fraud, intimidation and revolution, has merited the rebuke and should receive the condemnation of every honest man in New Hampshire.

Resolved, That President Grant, by the wisdom, prudence, skill, honesty, sagacity and abundant success with which he has administered the affairs of the nation as its executive head, has fully justified the confidence reposed in his integrity and ability as a statesman by the Republican party, and richly merits a renomination and re-election at their hands, and we confidently propose him as the Republican standard-bearer in the presidental campaign of 1872.

Resolved, That we have the fullest confidence in the ability, integrity, practical wisdom and sagacity of the gentleman this day nominated as our candidate for governor, and earnestly commend him to the Republican voters of New Hampshire as eminently worthy of their support at the polls.

Resolved, That we recommend Albert S. Twitchell, this day presented as our candidate for railroad commissioner, as a gentleman well qualified for the position for which he has been selected, and fully entitled to the confidence of the Republican party.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Warning words.

The strength and nervous energy of the human body ought to be increased during the winter, for two reasons: In the first place, diseases of the most deadly character may be generated at this season; and secondly, it is of the utmost importance that during the cold weather months the system should be put in a condition to withstand the effects of the Spring miasma, and the subsequent depressing heat of Summer. It is therefore advisable, in fact essential, to tone, regulate and invigorate the digestive and secretive organs at this period of the year, and of all the stomachics and alteratives at present known, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most powerful, the most harmless, and the most agreeable. The temperature of winter would be in itself a glorious tonic, if it did not, unfortunately, bring with it a multitude of stinging nettles and unwholesome winds, which have a bad effect on the skin and lungs. These must be guarded against, or there is no security for health. The effect of a course of the Bitters is to give vigor and tone to the entire organization—the superficial muscles and nerves, as well as the internal viscera. A regular habit of body, a healthy and natural flow of bile, an active digestion, a good appetite, pure blood, and a vigorous circulation of that fluid, are among the blessings derivable from a persistent use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only more than supplies the place of the best tonics, cathartics and antiseptics prescribed in their separate forms by physicians, but performs the threefold work of invigoration, regulation and purification, at one and the same time.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that! It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like, and is in all respects the very best.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TO THOSE WHO ARE BOWED DOWN by nervous Debility, and despair of ever recovering the vigor and vim of manhood we earnestly recommend Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. Before they have finished the first bottle, they will feel the restorative principle at work in every portion of their broken-down systems, and hope will spring up in their hearts. No case of Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, Gout or Kidney Disease, can resist this unequalled vegetable tonic, which is undiluted by any distilled or fermented liquor. 4wd10

There is, probably, no way in which we can benefit our readers more than by recommending to them for general use Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. It is adapted to almost all the purposes of a Family Medicine; and as a specific for coughs, colds, whopping coughs, soreness of the chest, lame stomach, rheumatism, spitting of blood, and all lung difficulties, it has no equal that ever we saw or heard of.

The propriety of giving condition medicine to horses, cattle and sheep, was discussed and admitted by many of the Agricultural Societies throughout the State, last Fall, and we believe that in every case but one they decided in favor of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders. Good judgment.

THE ALMANAC Publishers complain that their business is destroyed by Ayer's American Almanac. The people prefer it to any other, the Farmer's, Western, Southern or the numerous local almanacs when they can get Ayer's. It supplies the best astronomical data, weather and jokes of them all, and above all, medical advice which is invaluable for every family. It is supplied gratis by the druggists, and should be preserved for constant reference and use. We are sure that no good housekeeper or grandmother goes willingly without one. — Anti-Slavery Standard, N. Y.

SEWING MACHINES

CHEAP AT LAST!

Having received a large number of Sewing Machines (including nearly all kinds) in EXCHANGE FOR THE "DOMESTIC,"

I am prepared to offer them at very low prices. Many of them have not been in use more than a month, and are actually better than new ones of the same make, because they have been run just enough to make them work easily. They accumulate so fast that I must dispose of them soon or be over-run with second-hand Sewing Machines. So now is your time to buy cheap, either for cash or by installments. I still continue my offer of Obituary.

Mr. Bernard W. Hanscom, whose death in Charlestown, Mass., we announced in a previous issue of this paper, was a respected member of one of the most prominent, influential and worthy families which made the Piscataqua river and its immediate neighborhood so famous for ships, before the almost total decline of the shipbuilding interest of the country. He was born in Eliot, Me., and was the son of Samuel Hanscom, Jr., the builder of the celebrated ship Nightingale, (one of the finest ships that ever left this port,) and of many other noted vessels; he was a brother of Justin Hanscom, Esq., of this city, and a cousin of Chief Naval Constructor Isaiah Hanscom, United States Navy. On the death of his father he came to this city, and learned the printer's trade in the CHRONICLE office, with Frank W. Miller, Esq., with whom he remained for about three and a half years, winning the friendship and esteem of his associates by the trustworthy performance of his duties, his unvarying good temper and his manly respect for himself and for the rights of others. On leaving this city he located in Salem, Mass., and learned the trade of a painter, at which he worked until he was obliged to give it up as it was injurious to his health; he then became connected with the Street Railway in that city, and was its Superintendent for some years, until failing health compelled his resignation, after which he removed to Charlestown, Mass., where he died of consumption on Sunday, Dec. 31. He married Miss Hannah Perry, a daughter of Ittai Perry, Esq., of Salem, who with three children survives him. Mr. Hanscom left little if any property, other than a life policy of $2000. He was a kind father, loving husband and firm friend, and always held the esteem of all with whom he was associated. P.

Laconics.

At a regular meeting of New Hampshire Lodge, No. 17, I. O. O. F., the following officers were duly installed for the current term:—N. G., John H. Stickney; V. G., Benjamin R. Walker; Rec. Sec., Frederick Akerman; Treas., John M. Clark.

The local Democratic weekly is enlarged and its form altered, the first issue for the present year having thirty-two long columns on four pages, instead of forty columns on eight pages, as heretofore. There is no more handsomely made up and printed paper in the State,—nor anywhere else, that we know of; and it is a great shame that so handsome a paper should be so utterly demoralized in politics. There's only one more improvement you can make in the paper, Bro. Guppy,—let it hereafter contemn the Evil One and all his works, and advocate the equal rights of all men, in all cases.

Among the bequests of the late Henry Goddard of Portland, is the sum of $1000 to the General Charitable Society of this city.

Democratic papers in this State have hard luck. The Manchester Union says every dollar of the profits of its business for the last six or seven years "is in the pockets of delinquent subscribers." Cut them off, neighbors, if they don't pay. That is the way we do. Most of our subscribers, daily and weekly, pay in advance.

At the funeral of the late Mrs. Caroline Rand, on Thursday, her four sons, Rev. Edward A. Rand of South Boston, Rev. William A. Rand of South Seabrook, and Messrs. Wallace and Manning K. Rand of Boston, acted as bearers.

U. S. S. Speedwell returned from a cruise off the coast, Thursday evening, having in tow schooner Ida May of New York, which was fallen in with at anchor off Boar's Head. The crew were exhausted, needed aid and had hoisted a signal of distress. The Speedwell reports an unknown schooner on shore at Boar's Head, but could render no assistance, the sea being very heavy.

By the Western Union Line we learn that the schooner Rough Diamond, of St. John, N. B., 128 tons register, commanded by Capt. Patterson and bound home from New Haven in ballast, went ashore at Hampton Beach on Thursday morning about 8 o'clock. No lives lost. The schooner is not insured. She lays in an easy position, and will probably be got off if the sea does not increase.

Correspondence.

KITTERY, ME., Jan. 2.

The second lecture in the High School Course was delivered last evening by C. L. Hayes, Esq., Chairman of the Board of School Committee, who chose for his subject "Army Reminiscences." For upwards of an hour, the lecturer very pleasantly entertained his audience by picturing before them the scenes and incidents experienced by the 32d Regt. Maine Volunteers, during the late war. From the pleasant rendezvous at Augusta, to less congenial quarters on the field of battle, the speaker would relate the experiences of his regiment in a very characteristic manner; now a funny story would be told at the expense of the "Johnnies," and then of his fellow soldiers. At the conclusion of the lecture Mr. Hayes received the congratulations of his friends for the interesting manner in which he had entertained them. It is not definitely settled who the next lecturer will be. *

PLAYED OUT. — The Indianapolis Journal gives a horrible account, for the truthfulness of which it vouches, of the death in that city of a woman by worms bred from wearing "jute" switches. The publishing of soul-harrowing tales of death from jute-bugs is about played out, (it always was useless, for the girls didn't mind jute-bug stories worth a cent,) as fashion no longer compels lovely woman to pile artificial abominations on her head until it looks like a lop-sided cabbage. Give us frightful accounts of ankle diseases induced by wearing spikes under the middle of the foot instead of heels, brethren of the press.

TWENTY KU-KLUX raided upon some negroes near Frankfort, Ky., on the night of the 22d, whipping one, ordering the others to leave on pain of death. One farmer was notified to employ but white laborers. It is declared that the purpose of these outlaws is to drive negroes from the county.

DEATHS.

In this city, Jan. 4, Mrs. MARY MANZON, aged 63 years. An affectionate and beloved mother. N.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is lighter speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1st of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

Morning Chronicle.

Political.

The Concord Patriot acknowledges that the Republican State Convention was an unusually large one. The Patriot will observe that the Republican vote next March will be very large, also.

The Pennsylvania Senate is likely to be untied. An election to fill the vacancy in the 4th district is ordered for the 30th inst. A Republican will be chosen.

A MAIL that had been missing since Dec. 8, was found in a desk in the express office at Rockland, Me., on the 2d of January. It had been hastily placed there by the mail agent, who was soon after accidentally killed, and all trace of it therefore lost. The contents comprised thirty-five checks for pension bounties. The loss of this mail had led to strong suspicions of mail robberies on the route between Boston and Rockland.

GERMANS in London are signing a petition to Bismarck urging him to demand of the United States an apology and indemnity for supplies furnished by American citizens to the French government of national defence during the late war.

FAMINE in Persia continues, and desolation is undiminished. Entire districts of the country have been depopulated, and the distress in the cities is terrible. The efforts of the Government to afford relief are unavailing.

GOVERNOR PERHAM of Maine was inaugurated on the 4th. The State debt is $7,227,000, having been reduced $840,000 last year.

TEN MORE MEMBERS of the Ku-Klux organization have pleaded guilty, in South Carolina.

The debt of Manchester is $430,329.-89, an increase of $26,729.61 the past year.

THE DEBT of Pennsylvania is $18,100,000.

THIRTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE
IN THE TREATMENT OF
CHRONIC AND SEXUAL DISEASES.
A Physiological View of Marriage.
The cheapest book ever published—containing nearly three hundred pages, and one hundred and thirty fine plates and engravings of the anatomy of the human organs in a state of health and disease, with a treatise on early errors, its deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by a report of cases cured. A truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent free of postage to any address on receipt of twenty-five cents, in stamps or postal currency, by addressing DR. LA CROIX, No. 31 Malden Lane, Albany, N. Y. The author may be consulted upon any of the diseases upon which his book treats, either personally or by mail, and medicines sent to any part of the world.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.
DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No. 7 and 9 Pavilion, (Washington St.) on all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.
Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.
Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving a description of your case.
To Females in Delicate Health.
Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.
CERTAIN CURE in all cases where no charge made. DR. DOW is consulted daily upon all difficult and chronic diseases, having no his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which attracts patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
For all the purposes of a Family Physic,
CURING
Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum; Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood.
Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. These effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are sugar coated and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefit they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying out all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literarily dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
YOUNG FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfw8d

The Chronicle.

A BAD LOT.—Timothy Billings and his wife, who were recently found murdered in their residence near Windsor Locks, Conn., kept a notorious house of ill-fame; and the woman who was murdered at the same time, Julia Hays, was one of its inmates. One woman who lived in the house committed suicide not long ago, and a man who had visited them was shortly after found dead from the effect of drugs; Billings and his wife were arrested on suspicion, but nothing was proved against them. It is plain that their deaths occasioned no loss to society, but it is to be hoped their murderers may be discovered and properly dealt with, as it is unpleasant to have that kind of people around loose. The murderers are supposed to be two French Canadians, brothers, named Davis.

THE MILK PRODUCER'S ASSOCIATIONS of Massachusetts and New Hampshire had a special meeting in Ayer, Mass., Jan. 4, and B. H. Hutchinson of Milford, N. H., was chosen president, and E. D. Tuttle of Acton, Mass., secretary. The question discussed was, "what is the best method of raising milk?" and the answer seems to have been, "with a pump handle." All the milk producers of New Hampshire and Massachusetts are men. Mr. Flint of Concord said he used to have a route in San Francisco, where he always added three quarts of water to nine quarts of milk. The creamy appearance was given to blue milk by the application of a small quantity of burnt sugar and salt. One of his lady customers, who was accidentally given good milk one day, refused to have him supply her longer, as she didn't like that kind. Men couldn't live by selling pure milk at the price they do, and he didn't believe much was sold in Boston.

THIRTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE
IN THE TREATMENT OF
CHRONIC AND SEXUAL DISEASES.
A Physiological View of Marriage.
The cheapest book ever published—containing nearly three hundred pages, and one hundred and thirty fine plates and engravings of the anatomy of the human organs in a state of health and disease, with a treatise on early errors, its deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by a report of cases treated. A truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent free of postage to any address, on receipt of twenty-five cents,—in stamps or postal currency,—by addressing DR. LA CROIX, No. 21 Maiden Lane, Albany, N. Y. The author may be consulted upon any of the diseases upon which his book treats, either personally or by mail, and medicines sent to any part of the world.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following ing symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S
EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S
Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

HARVEY FISK. A. S. HATCH
FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS
and Dealers in Government Securities,
No. 5 Nassau Street,
New York, Nov. 20, 1871
The successful and rapid negotiation of nearly three-fourths of the FIFTEEN MILLION LOAN OF THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY, and the energetic prosecution of the work of extension and preparation of the road for an extensive mineral, agricultural, and through traffic, have placed the financial affairs and resources of the Company upon such a basis, that we are directed to advance the price for future sales of the Bonds, as explained in the following letter of MR. HUNTINGTON, President of the Company:
OFFICE CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY
54 William Street, New York,
NOVEMBER 18, 1871.
MESSRS. FISK & HATCH,
Bankers and Financial Agents C. & O. R.R.Co.:
Gentlemen:
The Western Division of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, comprising the 95 miles between Huntington, on the Ohio River, and the mouth of New River (above the Falls of Kanawha), is now substantially completed, and will, in a few days, be ready to do the immense coal and other business that is awaiting its completion. The Eastern Division, comprising 227 miles, between White Sulphur Springs and Richmond, is now in complete order and successful operation. The grading and masonary on eleven of the 102 miles, between the mouth of New River and White Sulphur Springs, is complete, and the work on the remaining 91 miles is so far advanced that track-laying will be commenced on this portion of the road in May next, and continued without interruption until the whole line is completed.
In view of these facts, you are hereby directed to make no further sales of the Bonds of said Company at a less price than 94 and accrued interest, at which price you will continue to sell until further orders.
Very respectfully yours,
C. P. HUNTINGTON, President.
In compliance with the foregoing instructions, the price of the Bonds, from this date, until further orders, will be 94 and accrued interest.
The scarcity of, and demand for, really
Desirable six per cent. Gold Bonds,
for solid and permanent investments, is evinced by the facts that
Five-Twenty Bonds of 1867 are selling at....115
Central Pacific Bonds are selling at.....103
Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are selling at..94
These bonds all pay both principal and interest in New York City, in U. S. gold coin, and are equally safe for investment.
The reason why FIVE-TWENTY BONDS are so high is because no more can be issued, and the outstanding amount is being rapidly decreased by purchases by the Government from their surplus revenues.
The reason why we think CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS will in time advance to the price of Five-Twenties, is because no more can be issued; while the operation of their Sinking Fund will soon commence to decrease the amount.
The reason why CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are selling so low, comparatively, while equally safe, is because the Company are selling Bonds to complete the road. They will all be sold in a short time, and in a few months the road will be finished, when we have no doubt the same result will follow as with FIVE-TWENTY and CENTRAL PACIFIC Bonds. The Sinking Fund of the Chesapeake and Ohio must go into effect within one year after the completion of the road.
The Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are issued either coupon or registered—the denominations are as follows:
$100, which cost to day.....$94.13
$500 " " " 471.56
$1000, " " " 943.12
Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, may be sent through any National Bank or Banker; or accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.
We buy and sell Government and Central Pacific Bonds, and receive them in exchange for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds.
Accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum.

Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of greatness and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. News vs. Temperance.

A paper published in Boston, called the "News," said to be edited by a clergyman and pretending to favor the temperance cause, says the Republican nominee for Governor is one of the ablest Republicans in the State, and ventilates predictions and publishes "news" which seems to have been imposed on it or to have been concocted in its editorial sanctum. It says:—

They will have a hard task to elect him, for the Democracy having been encouraged by an accidental success last year will strain every nerve for the re-election of Gov. Weston. Mr. Straw will call out a very full vote from the business men of the southern part of the State. He will have to contend, however, with a disaffection in the eastern part, owing to the failure to select Mr. Walker, and a like disaffection in the western part, owing to Mr. Haile's defeat. He will also lose among the laboring men because he is the representative of the capitalists, and an aristocrat, while the fact that it is but four years since Manchester was represented in the Governor's chair by Gov. Smyth will create much jealousy. The party however, anticipates gaining largely from ignoring the temperance question, as it has. By doing so it has secured the co-operation of the State Central Committee, which last year, because of the adoption of a Prohibitory candidate and platform, allowed the election to go by default. The Republicans have deliberately ignored Prohibition for the sake of the votes of rumsellers. Prohibitionists now can do but one thing—ignore the Republican party.

The statement that there is "disaffection" in this section of the State because of "the failure to select Mr. Walker" is "news" indeed. We have yet to find a Republican who does not support Hon. E. A. Straw, cheerfully and willingly. The Republicans of this vicinity prefer principles to men, and do not descend to petty squabbling to please their enemies in disguise. The suggestion of the "News" that prohibitionists should "ignore the Republican party" is in keeping with its past attempts to injure the party in New Hampshire. It has in times past repeatedly attacked the Chairman of the State Committee, needlessly, knowing that to him more than any one man is due the credit of the grand Republican triumphs which signalized the campaigns from 1856 to 1870. The Republican party has placed the laws regarding the sale of intoxicating liquors upon the statute book, while the Democrats have persistently opposed such action. Last year they consented to be loaded down with other schemes that so-called temperance men insisted on, and went under. This year they wisely ignore the question, thinking their record sufficient indication of their principles. No sane man doubts that the course advised by the "News" would end in the success of the Democracy. Last year's lesson is sufficient for any true temperance man. No cause will ever be forwarded by the triumph of men who have always fought against it. We presume, following the logical conclusions of the "News" editor, were he in danger of drowning, with a strong swimmer at his side, that he would immediately strive to climb atop the swimmer's head for his own safety, and failing of that would clasp his arms about those of the swimmer and render all attempts at rescue impossible, especially if a shark were near.

We confess we have no sympathy for and no patience with such impracticable people. Their pretensions appear ludicrous in the light of their experience and we always look with distrust or contempt upon their wofully misspent efforts. We do not defend the sale of intoxicating liquors; we would in fact beg (and should be tempted to steal) rather than deal out liquid poison to friend or foe; but we do think the "temperance advocates" go too far, overreaching themselves and injuring their allies by their provoking and impudent demands. And when some of them choose to misstate matters and distort facts we conclude that they are not actuated by principle and are not worthy of trust.

A CHALLENGE.—Portsmouth has acted a magnanimous part in according to Manchester the nomination with so much equanimity. She presented an excellent man, one whom the party would delight to honor, and in opposition to whom many regretted to vote. When the delegation from Portsmouth acquiesced so fully in the result, we felt doubly sure of a victory; and now we understand that the Republicans of that friendly city challenge even Manchester to do better, or to give a greater majority for the candidate than will be given by the commercial old town of Portsmouth.—Mirror.

Just so, Bro. Clarke. Portsmouth challenges Manchester to roll up as large a majority for Hon. Ezekiel A. Straw, our next Governor, as Portsmouth will.

Political.

The New York commissioner of public works on Thursday removed twenty more of the water-police and twenty clerks from his own office. The aggregate saving is $60,000 per annum.

Johnson was re-elected mayor of Memphis, Tenn., by 800 majority, on the 4th inst.

The controversy between the factions in Louisiana has assumed almost warlike intensity. A supposed purpose of the Warmouth men to forcibly eject from his chair the speaker of the house, Carter, was the beginning of an excitement which was increased by the calling out of police and military guard by both factions and which still exists without abatement. Governor Warmouth and several of his followers were arrested upon warrants issued upon representations made in an affidavit charging them with conspiracy. They were taken to the United States marshal's office and released on bail. Subsequently there was much excitement in the house in the seating and unseating of members.

The new board of New York aldermen passed a resolution refusing to recognize the mayor's right to appoint members of the board, and ordered the minutes of appointments expunged from the records. The clerks of the old board were removed.

Horace Greeley and Whitelaw Reid were among the witnesses before the congressional committee of investigation, Thursday, in its inquiries into the alleged custom-house abuses in New York.

The Washington National Republican suggests Collector Ferney for the nomination for the next Vice-Presidency, if Mr. Colfax declines it.

Rev. A. P. Peabody preached the annual election sermon to the members of the Massachusetts legislature on the text, "Thou shalt not steal."

Hon. E. A. Straw's nomination was received with great rejoicing in Manchester, and an impromptu procession was organized in the evening and proceeded to his residence, where speeches were made and a collation served.

Speaking of Messrs. Walker and Straw, the contestants for the Republican nomination for Governor, the Concord Monitor truly says:

Both bad hosts of friends, who zealously urged their several claims with a generous spirit of rivalry which sought to do no injustice to either. The result leaves no wound.

New Hampshire Items.

Mr. P. Madden of Concord was fined on Wednesday $5 and costs for cruelty to his horse. The evidence showed the animal to have been turned into a field, where he was left for the space of eight days, at the expiration of which time he was found dead. It was also known that during a portion of the time a snow-storm prevailed. The popular feeling was much aroused against Madden, and the court-room was packed with an eager crowd during the progress of the trial, which occupied nearly three hours.

The Democrats of the Wolfeborough district have renominated Hon. Alphonzo H. Rust for Councillor. Hon. John C. Moulton of Laconia was nominated for Senator; and Hon. Ira A. Eastman and William Rand, Esq., were chosen delegates to the National Convention.

The New Hampshire Sentinel, at Keene, commenced its 74th volume with the New Year and is enlarged. It is one of our best exchanges in this State, and deserves the support of its patrons.

The debt of the city of Dover is $245,908.28, an increase of $47,416.29 the past year.

The Dover Enquirer appears in enlarged form, and is always full of good reading. Success to it and its gentlemanly proprietors. May Dover never be without its influence.

Jonathan Brown, aged 54, while at work in his woods in the northerly part of Hopkinton on Tuesday, was struck across the shoulder and side of the head by a falling tree. One bone of the fore arm was found be broken, but no fracture of the skull was detected. His recovery is doubtful.

The Republicans have nominated Otis G. Hatch of Tamworth for Senator in the 6th district, and Samuel I. Vose of Peterborough in the 8th. Hon. M. W. Tappan was beaten by Mr. Vose. John J. Morrill of Gilford is the Republican nominee for Councillor in District No. 2.

Hon. E. A. Straw, is a native of Warner, 52 years of age. In early life he was a civil engineer, but for the last twenty years he has been the Agent of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Co., which is said to be the largest manufacturing corporation in the world.

Mrs. Chas. H. Spalding of Milford, while washing windows, had one drop on her fingers and was held a prisoner for an hour until a man and axe released her. The fingers were not broken, either.

THE RIOT at Rochester, N. Y., is believed to be over. The negro, Howard, was taken into court at half past 9 o'clock, Thursday evening, pleaded guilty, was sentenced to twenty years in the State prison and at once conveyed there. His victim is recovering. It now appears that the military were pelted with stones and billets of wood, and had pistols fired at them, before using their weapons. The feeling against the soldiers is subsiding, and quiet is restored.

THE N. Y. STANDARD has a Washington dispatch which says Secretary Fish is to retire from the Cabinet and be succeeded by Judge Pierrepont, sure. Mr. Fish it said to have taken offence at the proposed change in the Cuban policy of the Administration, as indicated by ordering the frigate Congress to Port-au-Prince to bring home the Hornet.

REV. THOMAS TRACY, who resides on Brown's square, Newburyport, in going up stairs to bed, fell down several steps and broke the top of the thigh bone of one of his legs. Mr. Tracy is 94 years old.

MRS. LAURA FAIR, the noted murderess, died on Saturday in jail, in San Francisco. So the unhappy woman's assertion that so handsome a person as she could not die on the gallows has come true.

—Mrs. John A. Holmes, of Deering, Maine, gave a shirt to a man to be laid out in, as he was apparently dying, but he obstinately recovered, and afterward with grim humor chose that very shirt to wear when he was married to the donor.

—They had a chicken pie at a fair in Bridgeport recently, composed of one hundred chickens, fifty pounds of flour and twenty of lard. It was baked in a pan nine feet in diameter, made for the purpose.

—Doctors say Indian rubber tubes for nursing bottles are very bad.

—Nobody ever gets over being born in Virginia or Kentucky.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Warning words.

The strength and nervous energy of the human body ought to be increased during the winter, for two reasons: In the first place, diseases of the most deadly character may be generated at this season; and secondly, it is of the utmost importance that during the cold weather months the system should be put in a condition to withstand the effects of the Spring miasma, and the subsequent depressing heat of Summer. It is therefore advisable, in fact essential, to tone, regulate and invigorate the digestive and secretive organs at this period of the year, and of all the stomachics and alteratives at present known, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most powerful, the most harmless, and the most agreeable. The temperature of winter would be in itself a glorious tonic, if it did not, unfortunately, bring with it a volume of chilling moisture and unwholesome winds, which have a bad effect on the skin and lungs. These must be guarded against, or there is no security for health. The effect of a course of the Bitters is to give vigor and tone to the entire organization—the superficial muscles and nerves, as well as the internal viscera. A regular habit of body, a healthy and natural flow of bile, an active digestion, a good appetite, pure blood, and a vigorous circulation of that fluid, are among the blessings derivable from a persistent use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only more than supplies the place of the best tonics, cathartics and antiseptics prescribed in their separate forms by physicians, but performs the threefold work of invigoration, regulation and purification, at one and the same time.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like, and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

BETTER AND CHEAPER.

THAN ANY OTHER

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER—Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

Sold by all Druggists. Factory, BOND ST. BET. N.Y.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TO THOSE WHO ARE BOWED DOWN by nervous Debility, and despair of ever recovering the vigor and mien of manhood we earnestly recommend DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. Before they have finished the first bottle, they will feel the restorative principle at work in every portion of their broken-down systems, and hope will spring up in their hearts. No case of Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, Gout or Kidney Disease, can resist this unequalled vegetable tonic, which is undiluted by any distilled or fermented liquor. 4wd10

The propriety of giving condition medicine to horses, cattle and sheep, was discussed and admitted by many of the Agricultural Societies throughout the State, last Fall, and we believe that in every case but one they decided in favor of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders. Good judgment.

There is, probably, no way in which we can benefit our readers more than by recommending to them for general use Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. It is adapted to almost all the purposes of a Family Medicine; and as a specific for coughs, colds, whopping coughs, soreness of the chest, lame stomach, rheumatism, spitting of blood, and all lung difficulties, it has no equal that ever we saw or heard of.

PROGRESS OF THE REVOLUTION.—A new light dawned upon the world with the introduction of PLANTATION BITTERS twelve years ago. Drastic purgation went out—restoration and renovation came in. The eyes of the people were opened to the great fact that the way to cure disease is to strengthen and support its victims, not to place them at its mercy by depriving them of the little strength they have. It soon became evident that as a means of infusing vitality into the feeble system, regulating the secretions, curing indigestion, and reforming a bilious habit of body, no medicinal preparation then known was at all comparable to the new restorative. Since then hundreds of attempts have been made to rival the Bitters. They have all failed, and the GRAND REVOLUTION IN MEDICAL TREATMENT, which was commenced in 1860, is still in progress. Nothing can stop it, for it is founded on the principle, now universally acknowledged, that physical vigor is the most formidable antagonist of all human ailments, and experience has shown that PLANTATION BITTERS is a peerless invigorant, as well as the best possible safeguard against epidemic diseases.

THE ALMANAC Publishers complain that their business is destroyed by Ayer's American Almanac. The people prefer it to any other, the Farmer's, Western, Southern or the numerous local almanacs when they can get Ayer's. It supplies the best astronomical data, weather and jokes of them all, and above all, medical advice which is invaluable for every family. It is supplied gratis by the druggists, and should be preserved for constant reference and use. We are sure that no good housekeeper or grandmother goes willingly without one. — Anti-Slavery Standard, N. Y.

CAUTION!—Druggists are sometimes careless, and in purchasing their stock get hold of an imitation of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, or a counterfeit article, and innocently sell it for genuine. Never buy a package without seeing that the name printed upon it is Dr. Sage's Catarrh REMEDY, and not Dr. Sage's Catarrh Cure, New Catarrh Cure, Catarrh Reliever, or some other similar sounding name. Also that it has printed both upon the wrapper and also upon the U. S. Government Stamp, which is upon it, the words "R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y." In this way you will be sure to get the genuine. 571.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Laconics.

Mr. John Pearson, Jr., the well known proprietor of the steam bakery at Newburyport, has an especial adaptation to the business which has grown so largely under his superintendence. His "spice biscuit" has become a necessity to every family, and is largely sold by the trade here. Mr. Pearson's ingenuity in preparing varied productions to tempt the appetites of the public has no end. He is now introducing a sweet biscuit which will sharpen any one's appetite at sight, and delight the children and grown people, those who are dumb, blind or deaf. Persons wearing glasses, and spec-less bipeds, politicians, merchants, seamstresses, Episcopalians, Unitarians, Spiritualists, Methodists, and all sorts of people who get a taste want "some more." And Pearson thrives, 1st, because he deserves to; 2d, because he can't help it; 3d, because his cooking is neat; 4th, because he knows his business.

The large and handsome clock over the general delivery window of the Post Office is not only an excellent advertisement of the watch repairing and jewelry business of Mr. J. H. Hutchinson, who placed it there, but a great convenience to the public and the post-office clerks, as well. It is kept accurately regulated to the Post Office time, so that any person can tell whether he is in time or too late for any particular mail by merely looking at the official bulletin, without being obliged to enquire of the clerks. The clock and bulletin together should also do away with several hundred queries a day from expectant individuals to the clerks, concerning "how long before the next mail is expected in."

Mr. Frank W. Miller of this city has a mare colt seven months old, well broken to harness, which he drove into town, Friday, from his residence, a mile out, harnessed to a light sleigh, (the driver walking behind.) "Junie," (who knows her name as well as a dog,) is black, with two white feet and ankles behind, and a star on forehead; and her weight was found to be a little rising 500 pounds. Like all the Morrill and Fearnaught stock, she is very docile and intelligent, and is greatly admired by horse fanciers. Mr. Miller believes the Fearnaughts are well named; and he is ready to match his filly against any colt of Fearnaught Prince, of her age, at one, two, three and four years, in races of heats.

The teachers and scholars of the public schools of this city have presented Mr. J. S. Montgomery, the well known writing teacher, with a beautiful writing desk and elegant Bible, worth $35, as tokens of their respect and esteem. The gifts are on exhibition at the store of H. B. Buzzell & Son. Mr. Montgomery is a patient and industrious teacher and deserves larger compensation for his valuable services.

To-day being the festival of the Epiphany, or the Manifestation of our Saviour to the Gentiles, services will be held in St. John's church, morning and afternoon, at the usual hours of Sunday worship. There will be evening services in the same church to-morrow, it being the first Sunday of the month, commencing at 7 o'clock.

At Newcastle, the Granite State Debating club has been organized by the choice of J. Mahlon Bickford for President, William A. Tarlton, Secretary, and Charles E. Whitehouse, Treasurer. The subject of "Woman's Rights" was discussed at the first meeting.

Whether or not it is true, that he "who drives fast horses should himself be fast," it would seem to be no more than a fair inference, that whoever claims the protection of the civil service act, should himself be civil in his own acts and words.

Schooner Gem, from Boston for Rockland, with a heavy cargo of assorted merchandise, arrived at Newcastle on the 4th, leaking at the rate of 1400 strokes per hour. She had been ashore off Odiorne's Point.

The teachers of the Hanover Street School, Mr. Chas. E. Buzzell, Miss S. F. Drake and Mis Hattie N. Guptill, received handsome presents from their pupils on Christmas day.

All the Delegates of the County Convention from this city, are desired to meet at the Common Council Room this (Saturday) evening promptly at 7 o'clock.

It is thought the Eastern Railroad will pass its July dividends on account of the great losses sustained by the Revere accident.

The County Commissioners laid out the road from Jenness' saloon to the beach at Rye and staked the boundaries on the 26th of December.

With the first week of the New Year we find our subscription list largely increased. Thanks, friends. And still there is room.

The workmen in T. S. Nowell's shoe manufactory have presented our respected school-mate, Mr. Alpha Senter, book-keeper of that establishment, with an elegant rosewood writing desk with all the necessary equipments for summing up the large figures of that busy locality. Mr. Senter is a faithful clerk and genial companion, and we are glad to chronicle such a complimentary testimonial. The writing desk is valued at $40.

Mr. James R. Morrison has purchased the lot on Union Street, reserved for a new street to the Rundlett estate, of Mr. Charles H. Sides, for $400. Mr. Geo. E. Stackpole has purchased a lot of B. F. Webster on Lincoln Avenue.

....Sch. Lucy Robinson has been sold by Mr. Geo. T. Vaughan of this city to Philip Stimson and others of Brooklyn, Me., for $2000.

....The Post Office hours are from 7:30 A. M. to 7:30 P. M., instead of 8:30 P. M., as the circulars of the Postmaster are made to say. Those having the circulars will please make the correction with a pen.

....By the will of Miss Mary Rogers, the North church of this city receives $500, for a Pastor's Library. About two years ago this lady gave to this church the valuable lot on Middle street on which their fine chapel has been erected.

....Card Brothers have secured the building known as the Spool Factory, at the North End, and are now using it for the storage of new carriages as fast as they are turned out. One of the apartments holds eighty which is a sight of much interest.

....The new Hymnal adopted by the recent Episcopal Convention comes in to use in the churches on Epiphany Sunday, January 6th. This (with the psalms and hyms in the Hymn Book) is the only volume authorized for use in their public services. A three year's trial will be given it, and a revision by the next Convention.

....The schooner Emily E. Staples, launched last week at Kennebunk off the ways of Messrs Crawford and Ward, is to run as a packet between this city and Boston. She will be in charge of Capt. Stephen Staples, of New York, who is part owner. The vessel is of one hundred tons, and pronounced a superior craft.

....Damon Lodge, Knights of Pythias, have elegantly fitted up their Hall in Exchange Building, formerly Mercantile Hall, and the Lodge is rapidly increasing in members. The following officers were installed on Tuesday evening last: Thornton Betton, V. R., Edward D. Coffin, W. C., Wm. Kennedy, V. C., Fred D. Akerman, R. S., Oliver F. Gerrish, B., Wm. B. Grogan F. S., John A. Durgin, G., Robert Bates, I. S., Charles Cummings, O. S., Samuel C. Whittier, Charles H. Sides, James H. Dow, Trustees.

....The Week of Prayer as set forth by the Evangelical Alliance, commences Sunday next, and will be observed by the churches. The first day will be devoted to appropriate sermons, Monday Thanksgiving, Tuesday Humiliation, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday to Prayer, closing on Sunday with Sermons, Subject; "Thy kingdom come, thy will be done in earth as it is in heaven."

....Some miscreant entered the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association at No. 5 Congress Street some time Saturday night, and turned the gas on full force, and left it so. Occupants of the offices on the second floor who had occasion to visit the building the next day were somewhat affected by the escaping fumes, but failed to find the cause, until Monday forenoon. Had a person entered the room with a light the result might have been disastrous to life and property.

....The Young People's Christian Union announce a reading by Mrs. George Vandenhoff, at the Temple Monday evening next. One who has listened states, she has in an unusual degree the faculty of making her own appreciation of the text and the feeling to which the subject gives an impulse, speak to the hearer through the living voice. Her truthfulness to nature and the exactness with which she conveys both the thought and emotion of the author are her peculiar fortes. A request is made that Mrs. Vandenhoff will give "The High Tide on the Coast of Lincolnshire." A full house will doubtless greet this lady on this her first appearance before a Portsmouth audience.

NEWINGTON. — The people of Newington made their annual visit at the residence of their minister, Rev. Franklin Davis, on New Year's Day. They came loaded with good things, and after enjoying a very pleasant season socially and festively, left behind greenbacks and other valuables to the amount of nearly $50. These annual visits tend to unite minister and people, to keep the cold out of doors, the frost from the windows, and the heart warm, kindling the fire of love in the soul, bringing into exercise the sympathies and affections and the nobler feelings of our nature.

FURS, &c.—Among the names which time and fair dealing has honored, that of WM. M. SHUTE & SON, 175 Washington St., Boston, is well known. Their large assortment of Hats, Caps, Furs, Umbrellas &c., is always in style, and offered at the lowest rates. Our readers will find Mr. Moses Rand, Jr., (for many years in employ of this house,) and Mr. Chas. H. Edmonds, (also a number of years with this firm,) alert to suit the tastes of all desiring to purchase. See list of Boston houses in another column.

TRANSFER OF STOCK. — Messrs. Moody Currier of Manchester, Treasurer of the Concord Railroad, and Edson Hill, a Director, also of Manchester, have contracted with Wm. A. Tower of Boston, John H. Pearson of Concord, and J. W. Johnson of Enfield, Directors of the same road, to deliver to them during the year about 1500 shares of the stock of said corporation, at $95 per share. It is rumored that Mr. Johnson has also contracted for 1700 shares of stock of the same company, to be delivered in one year at the same price, now owned by Ex-Gov. Fred Smyth.

MAJ. GEN. HALLECK is reported as hopelessly ill.

—Dr. Thacker shot Chief-of-Police McGee dead at Fort Wayne, while defending himself from an attack by McGee. Thacker surrendered himself.

—Mr. Bergh is very sick in New York with pneumonia.

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices —and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling these use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the Earthquakes and Volcanoes.

Professor A. M. Delissier, formerly engaged in scientific researches with the British army and now located at Boston, writes us that he hasn't "the slightest doubt" that the shock experienced in this city on Thanksgiving Day was that of an earthquake, "as it was also felt at other places" and was quite in accordance with his theory, anticipation and prediction. The Professor proposes to lecture on scientific subjects, more especially on his newly discovered theory of earthquakes and volcanic action, and the means by which he is enabled to anticipate their occurrence, setting forth the fact that any one acquainted with the theory may calculate at any time in advance the period when they may take place as confidently as the return of a comet or an eclipse, or the revolution of a planet.

He treats of volcanic eruptions and earthquakes as arising from the same causes and thinks they are occasioned by the combined influence of the bodies of the solar system, in their reciprocal actions, citing Newton's demonstrations that attraction throughout the material world affects alike the smallest particle of matter and the greatest body.

In accordance with this principle the influence of the attraction of other bodies in our system acting upon the neutral point of gravitation between the earth and moon, drawing that point towards the earth's crust on the moon, arriving periodically at its perigee, causes the water collected in the interior of the earth to come in contact with the metalloids of the earth, the bases, such as sodium, potassium, calcium, magnesium, platinum, &c. The water becomes chemically decomposed, yields its oxygen readily to those substances which have an affinity for it, liberates volumes of hydrogen gas, produces intense inflammation and combustion and finally explosion.

He does not dispute the fact that molten matter may exist within thirty or forty miles of the earth's crust, as the temperature has been found to uniformly and steadily increase with increasing depth as far down as it has been found possible to penetrate the earth; but he claims that there are subterranean waters still lower, and that there is communication between the waters on the surface of the earth and those in the interior.

Volcanoes are generally in proximity to the sea coast, the most violent especially. Coast situations have been the theatres of some of the most terrible modern earthquakes, as those of Lima, Lisbon, Messina, Caraccas, Port Royal, Cape Haytien, San Salvador, &c., &c. Several volcanoes are found on islands, and many islands are themselves produce by volcanic agency. There are some exceptions to this rule, as, for instance, the American volcanoes, some of which are situated in the interior of the continent; but, taking their relative positions into consideration, there is great reason for supposing that they are arranged over the same general line of communication with the sea.

It appears that volcanic action follows nearly in a line on the earth, agreeing and parallel with the ecliptic, for it it will be observed that the most violent earthquakes and volcanic eruptions have taken place on a superficial belt that surrounds the globe and embracing a width of a certain number of degrees to north and south of this line, where a number of small islands, principally raised by volcanic action, have found their way to the surface of the ocean.

Most of the violent earthquakes have occurred at the time the tide was either setting in, highest, or just commencing to ebb, and at those places where the greatest modern convulsions have occurred they took place more frequently when one or more of the planets were in conjunction with or in opposition to the sun, or at a period when they arrived at their peribelion at the time of their conjunction or opposition, although it does not necessarily follow that the sun must be either in conjunction or opposition with the moon at the time of their occurrence, as earthquakes often occur when the moon is in or near its quadrature; but it will be observed when it thus occurs that the other bodies in the solar system are conspiring with either the sun or moon, whichever may be near the meridian of the spot, or at its nadir where the convulsion takes place, or where the nodes approach nearest the earth at the time of conjunction or opposition, exercising as they necessarily must ordinary power, particularly should the moon be in perigee at the time of syzygy, and taking place at the vernal or autumnal equinox, the sun being vertical to the equator; those bodies that are either at or approaching their conjunction and opposition with and to the sun must also be vertical to the equator at the time of the intersection of that imaginary line by the sun, moon, and planets.

Comets have their influence in causing eruptions, earthquakes and inundation, raising the tides. The Professor is of the opinion that the same laws produce and govern the tides within as well as on the surface of the globe.

Earthquakes are of much more frequent occurrence in the torrid zone, and especially at the equator, at about the time of the equinoxes, the sun then being vertical to the latter and following vertically all places agreeing with the ecliptic.

Five months before the occurrence of the great earthquake of Dec. 23, 1858, in Jamaica, he predicted it from calculations, having observed that on that date Saturn would be occulted by the moon passing the meridian of the Island of Jamaica. The earthquake not only occurred on the date predicted, but within one hour and forty minutes from the exact time.

He says:—An earthquake which I had predicted, occurred in the Island of Jamaica on the 20th of August, 1852. I then said that if my theories were correct there would be another in exactly the length of one cycle of the moon, an hour over nineteen years from that time. That earthquake came as presaged, on the 20th of August, 1871, at the very hour I had expected it. I have also had my predictions in each case verified by the earthquake at Cairo, October 12, 1856; at Smyrna also in 1856; at San Salvador on April 16, 1854; at St. Thomas in October, 1857; at Callao, August 13, 1868; at Quito, August 16, 1867; at San Francisco in October, 1867, and others.

The science is as exact as any other, and no law governing the universe is more clearly defined and easily understood than that applying to earthquakes. Those earthquakes which occur by the moon's cycles, other bodies conspiring, may be presaged with confidence at any distance of time preceding. He predicts with confidence an earthquake in Cuba and Jamaica on December 23, 1877, exactly the duration of a moon's cycle from that of December 23, 1858—when the moon and other planetary bodies will occupy a similar relative position to the earth as on that date.

Professor Delissier also thinks it probable that all planets have similar convulsions and that moon-quakes are thirteen times more violent than earthquakes, she being but one-thirteenth the size of our globe and consequently the more readily and violently acted upon by planetary influences.

He accounts for the aurora borealis thus:—The process of chemical inflammation and combustion produced by the tides of the subterranean waters must in its course evolve great quantities of hydrogen gas. This light gas rises to the surface of the earth and ascends very rapidly in immense volumes, upon which refracted light produces the brilliant and beautiful tints which we witness in auroral displays. This hydrogen is united with the oxygen of the atmosphere by electrical action, and forms water, which descends in the form of rain. Every display of the aurora borealis is followed within three days by a rain-storm. For instance, within three days after the magnificent aurora witnessed in September, 1870, descended those terrific rain-storms which did so much damage in Virginia, destroying over $3,000,000 worth of property and many lives. Again, the fine auroral displayed in New England about the middle of November was followed by the heavy gale and continued rains, which our readers so well remember.

Auroras more frequently occur at the autumnal equinox in the northern hemisphere than at any other time, and are always followed by heavy rains, not necessarily where the aurora is witnessed, but wherever the dense clouds of hydrogen gas may be driven by the currents of wind until they are combined by electric action with the oxygen of the atmosphere.

In support of his theories, Professor Delissier adduces a great mass of data drawn from his observations, not only upon the class of phenomena spoken of at this time but of kindred nature, such as geysers, mud volcanoes, &c., all highly interesting, evincing great thought and deep research, and confirming the accuracy of his theories to the fullest extent.

—Frank McGraw was sentenced in Washington to a fine of $5000 or imprisonment for three months, for larceny of treasty seals from the State department.

—James Thomas, Michael Antoine and Thomas Roach have been acquitted in New York on the charge of mutiny on the brig J. L. Bowen.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully each circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf6t18

—There are ten million cows in the United States.

—Pennsylvania wants one hundred more post offices.

—A Cincinnatian married the divorced wife of his own son.

—Maine cultivates less than 3,000,000 acres out of 20,000,000.

—Wendell Phillips believes in John Brown and John Calvin.

—A company is forming in London to import American oysters.

—A Western editor explains that an "affair du cœur" is a dog fight.

—Beecher's Church has 2,116 members, 1,291 of whom are woman.

—The making comfortables warmer by lining them with newspapers is coming rapidly into fashion.

—A revengeful Tennessecan dosed a neighbor with shot recently for calling him a liar ten years ago.

—Some New York ladies keep a journal in which they note down all the particulars of their love affairs.

—A large roll of unpaid bills in his breast pocket saved the life of a Floridian from the knife of an assasin.

—Great powers and natural gifts do not bring privileges to their possessors so much as they bring duties.

—"Rainbow colored eyes superinduced by external unfriendly influences" is the expression for a black eye.

—A California ruffian is said to have "a wonderful talent for bereaving any family he does not happen to like."

—A man, it is said, is not good for much until he is thirty-five, and a woman is not good for much after that age.

—"Ah!" mused Smith, as he contemplated his extensive collection of New Year's bills, "how true it is that in the midst of life we are in debt."

—The popular superstition that overturning the salt is unlucky, originated in a picture of the Last Supper, by Leonardo da Vinci, in which Judas Iscariot is represented as overturning the salt.

—A thoughtful Danbury lady puts lard on the stoop when she wants her husband to stay home an evening. Barring an hour or so devoted to rubbing his back, the time is pleasantly occupied.

—M. Figuier, a French scientist, locates heaven one hundred miles above the earth, and fills it with a gas so etherial that the delights of intoxication are there constantly felt, unfollowed by any of its depressing effects.

—A perfidious paragraphist on the New York Post says: "A Swiss gentleman fancies he has 'invented' a piano which is played by electricity—when plenty of performers can not touch the instrument without shocking every one who hears them."

—A man named Betts allowed a poor drunken woman to freeze to death in his back yard, in New York city, a night or two since. She laid in the snow a foot from his door, and though he knew she was freezing, and went out often to see how she was getting along, he hadn't humanity enough to take her in by his fire. Betts was "censured" by the coroner.

—It is related of Coleridge that while walking down the street one day in profound meditation, he found himself face to face with a baker's boy carrying a large basket. He seized the urchin, took him solemnly aside, and declared to the astonished and bewildered youngster: "I never knew a man good because he was religious; but I have known one religious because he was good."

—One stormy blustering night, recently, a verdant Massachusetts couple presented themselves at the residence of a certain Norfolk clergyman, requesting to be married. After the ceremony was performed, the happy groom pocket book in hand, asked: "Wal, squire, what's to pay?" The astonished and expectant reverend modestly replied that he never named his price for any such service, but accepted whatever anybody was pleased to give him. The money was returned to the capacious pocket with a grin and a bow: "Wal, I'm obleeged to ye, I declare; I'll do as much for you some time." "Yes," chimed in the blushing bride, "much obleeged to ye, as far as I'm consarned. If it hadn't a stormed, we should have gone to Dedham!"

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following ing symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

Describe symptoms in all communications.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of those same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR,

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. Dr. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair, and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

MOBS VS. MILITARY. — The Boston Times, commenting on the Rochester, N. Y., riots, and the firing by the soldiers upon the mob, says:—

The lesson taught by the Rochester slaughter is a warning against a too ready resort to the military. Popular violence is not creditable to any community, it is true, and any encroachment upon law and order should be discouraged; but it is a deep and lasting disgrace that affairs were so managed at Rochester that three or four peaceable citizens had to be murdered in the streets to insure the safety of the beast Howard. So long as there is more protection for such wretches as he than for the worthiest citizen—so long as law is cunningly twisted and tortured for their immunity, and their punishment almost impossible, there will be a premium on crime, and such outrages, already growing in frequency, will become the rule of the land. The lives and property of good citizens are but poorly protected in this free country of ours, but half a regiment of military are always ready to stand by a villain like this Howard.

The crime of which the negro Howard was guilty we consider worthy of punishment by death, if any crime whatever is to be so punished; and Howard's offence was of the most aggravated kind. It is also but too true, as the Times says, that the law often seems to be more for the protection of criminals than of honest men, and is tortured and twisted in such a manner as to virtually offer a premium on crime. Yet we fail to see the justice of condemning the soldiery for their conduct, or implying that their quelling a mob was "standing by a villain." Had there been any probability that the scoundrel would have escaped the punishment due his crime at the hands of the law, through corrupt judges or legal quibbles, there would have been perhaps as satisfactory an excuse for the mob as a mob can ever have; but the criminal was already in custody, and the court only awaited certain information concerning the recovery or death of his victim, that in case of the latter he might be tried and punished for what the law regards (though we do not) as the greater offence, murder. The law had taken prompt cognizance of the affair, and it was to enforce the law and not to protect or punish a guilty wretch that the military were called out; and so far as we can judge from the reports given, it was in self defence that they fired upon the crowd. Our admiration for the law, as at present administered, is quite as small as that of the Times; but our admiration for mobs is still smaller. "The majesty of the law" is very much of a humbug; but a mob is a nuisance, generally as brutal as cowardly,—and our opinion is that when blank cartridges are used against a mob it should be after the bullets are all fired away.

CHAIRMAN ROLLINS' SPEECH.—The length of our report of the proceedings of the Republican State Convention was so great as to preclude the insertion of any speeches. The following is a verbatim report of the lively and appropriate one with which Hon. E. H. Rollins opened the Convention:

Gentlemen of the Convention: I am sure you will pardon me for occupying a few moments of your valuable time, before the officers of the day are announced.

You have assembled as representatives of the Republican party, under very extraordinary circumstances. We have a Democratic Governor. Our action to-day will, I am confident, be so satisfactory to our party and to the people that Gov. Weston will be the last of his tribe. We beat the enemy in twenty successive well contested campaigns; but at the last election he achieved a partial success; this, not on account of any regard which the people have for modern Democracy, or its conduct during the war, or love for copperhead principles; but rather by reason of local troubles, disaffection, and unusual apathy in our own ranks. We were, in fact, beaten by ourselves. One experiment of this kind is sufficient. The people have had enough of Democratic rule, enough of Tammany, enough of Ku-Klux, for two decades, at least. The experience of the past year has taught us a lesson which we shall not speedily forget. We now know that there must be harmony in our ranks, life and activity in our organization, vigor and discretion in our action, and wisdom in our councils,—to render success certain. I have given much attention to political affairs since the last election, and know that I utter but the truth when I say the Republicans have determined, in compact, irresistible columns, to "move upon the works of the enemy" and redeem the State. We have not forgotten the more than 39,000 legal votes which we gave for the Republican candidate in 1868. We can, if we so resolve, repeat that memorable campaign.

For sixteen successive years, the Republican party administered successfully the affairs of this State. Those were memorable years. Slavery was abolished. The greatest war of modern times was carried on, to suppress a monstrous Democratic, slaveholders' rebellion. New Hampshire sending to the tented field more men than England gave the Duke of Wellington at Waterloo. Enormous expenditures were manfully met; the credit of the State was kept without a stain; education prospered; manufactures were developed; wealth increased; and reformatory and charitable institutions were handsomely maintained. In looking over the history of the party for the whole of those sixteen years, there is little to regret, and much, very much, of which we may reasonably be proud.

Now, gentlemen, I congratulate you most heartily not only on account of our history, and the brilliant prospect before us, but also in view of the fact that we have a national administration worthy of public confidence and ardent support. President Grant's administration is making for itself a memorable record. It will not suffer in comparison with any of its predecessors. Great wisdom is displayed in the management of foreign affairs; while prudence, energy and reform are the characteristic features of its domestic policy. The Treasury of Washington proves my first proposition, and the wonderful rapidity with which our national debt, expenditures, and taxes have been reduced, affords most conclusive evidence of the latter. While some newspapers and a few orators have been engaged in learnedly discussing the question of civil service reform, the President has quietly and unostentatiously issued his proclamation practically establishing it, thus leading the way for Congress, and intrenching himself more firmly than ever in the hearts of the American people.

In looking over this noble gathering of men of our party, it is apparent even to the casual observer that the members of this Convention are fully competent to discharge the duties assigned them, with ability and discretion. When your labors have been concluded, and your work submitted to the patriotic citizens of our State, they, stimulated by the remembrance of one year of Democratic attempt at misrule, and looking back over the splendid record of the Republican party—a record brighter than the stars—will endorse your action, and win a victory next March that will make the hearts of all loyal patriots in the land leap for joy.

SCARED AND QUIT THE FIELD.—We already begin to see the shaking among Democratic office-holders. By a sort of accident Col. Clough, of Canterbury, became Councillor in the first district last year, but has by his course become so unpopular with his own party that they dare not risk him again. Prominent Democrats in Concord declare that his appointments killed him, and came near killing the party. They openly denounced the appointment of the State House janitor, of a portion of the bank commissioners, of his zeal to secure the appointment of persons without the requisite qualifications, for trustees of various State institutions. We have heard the Colonel denounced more bitterly by Democrats than by Republicans. Certain Democratic members of the House, last year, protested against voting for him, and so to make it sure, Boss Bingham demanded that all should carry the numbered ticket, and the reluctant ones had to "toe the mark." "There," said on first-class Democrat, "that's the nastiest dose I ever swallowed. Thank God, it's down!" Some of the Colonel's nearest neighbors called him a "fraud" on the party. There was so many with similar feelings that they drove him off, with the empty honor of a nomination which he had told them in advance he would decline.

Now we happen to know Col. Clough, and don't by any means admit that he is half as mean as his Democratic brethern assert. He is far above the average in ability, in honesty, and in the advocacy of a practical and useful policy. He stands by the farmers, among whom he is a leading man. He goes for paying the debt of the nation and the State; for paying all that we owe in the terms of the contract, just as every good farmer does, and it is for this his party repudiate him and force him from the ticket. He is too outspoken; he has too much of the bluntness of the honest yeoman in him to be moulded to the wishes of the leaders. He don't believe in lawyers for Governors, nor members of Congress, nor State legislators, nor in professional gentlemen.

For this as well as other reasons, he is pushed aside and our old friend, Dr. Eastman, a politician of the old regime, is brought out,—a very merry, genial fellow, who always wears an "ineffable smile," which is admirably adapted to winning votes.

Now, we like the Doctor, and should have great confidence in his skill, for if his pills won't cure, his jolly face will do much better, but as a politician he went to seed about the time Jack Hale threw overboard the old Democratic party. Clough swapped for Eastman, —a farmer for a doctor! Eh?—Manchester Mirror.

ROUND THE WORLD.—One can go round the world in about eighty days. Tickets can be bought "for the round trip" for $1145 in gold. The route is from New York to San Francisco, say 3000 miles; San Francisco to Yokehama, 4700, thence to Hong Hong, 1500 miles, thence to Calcutta, 3500 miles, thence to Bombay 1400 miles, Bombay to Suez, 3000 miles, from Soez by the way of Alexandria and Brindisi to London, say 2300 miles, and from London to New York, 2300 miles. Total, 22,600 miles.

THE NORTH ATLANTIC FLEET is to be strengthened for protective purposes and to present a sufficiently large force to guard American ships from molestation and illegal search on the high seas by Spanish cruisers.

—Human hair stands—or hangs—third in value on the list of articles imported into this country.

THE SNOW BLOCKADE.—A Cheyenne dispatch says four passenger trains, carrying about 800 passengers, arrived from Ogden, which left December 21, 22, 23 and 28 respectively. There was little trouble on the road west of Medicine Bow, but the trains were detained between Ogden and that point a week, from no other cause than lack of proper understanding and information on the part of the company's officers. The greater part of the time was spent on side tracks where it was almost impossible to obtain meat, and the passengers suffered considerably in consequence, subsisting on crackers and dried meats. Between Laramie and Cheyenne the road was impassable, except with the help of a large force of men working night and day. The snow was deep and constantly drifting. On one part of the road near Sherwin the trains made only four miles in twenty-four hours. Should the weather continue favorable, as now, the road may be kept clear, but winds or more snow will again blockade it. The time from San Francisco of the first passengers was seventeen days.

—A Louisville girl came blushing into the parlor recently and told her father, when he noticed her bloom, that she had been enjoying unseen happiness. The old gentleman thought she had been praying and was glad, as he is a pious man; but instead the wicked lass had been kissed by her lover in the unlighted hall.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Winter-Proof Systems.

Thick boots and flannels are necessary at this season, but the human frame requires something more than these to render it water-proof. The inner man, as well as the outer surface of the body, must be protected. The raw, moist, chilly winds which prevail at this season transpierce the warmest clothing, and are apt to effect the health unfavorably, both through the pores and the respiratory organs. The surest remedy for the evil is to strengthen the internal machine, and thus enable it to repel the devitalizing influence of unwholesome weather. Enrich the blood, gently stimulate the circulation, regulate the bowels, invigorate the stomach, tone the liver and brace the nerves with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and no condition of the atmosphere, however inclement, no variation of the barometer or thermometer, however sudden, will have power to disorder the system thus fortified in advance, and put in perfect working order. Damp and cold, acting upon a sensitive or feeble organization, may produce consumption, diptheria, neuralgia, rheumatism, dyspepsia, liver complaint, low nervous fever, or intermittent fever; the importance of rendering the system impervious to these two destructive elements is therefore obvious. Persons in delicate health, or who are at all liable to be injuriously affected by atmospheric influences, should take the Bitters daily throughout the winter and spring. In this way dangerous diseases may be warded off, and a condition of perfect health preserved by individuals of comparatively feeble physique, while those more robust, who scoff at precautions, are suffering the penalty of their recklessness in hospitals and sick rooms.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretensions of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use

BUSINESS NOTICES.

REANIMATING THE HAIR.—When the hair ceases to draw from the scalp the natural lubricant which is its substenance, its vitality is, as it were, suspended, and if not promptly attended to, baldness will be the certain result. The one sure method of avoiding such an unpleasant catastrophe is to use LYON'S KATHAIRON, which, when well rubbed into the scalp, will speedily reanimate the hair and prevent it from falling out. Besides that, this inimitable resuscitant and strengthener of the Hair nourishes and stimulates its young and tender fibres, removes all obstacles to their growth in the shape of dandruff and dirt, and ultimately produces a new crop of hair, stronger, glossier, and twice as abundant as the old. As a hair dressing it is notably the most agreeable, refreshing and serviceable article ever placed upon a dressing table.

TO THOSE WHO ARE BOWED DOWN by nervous Debility, and despair of ever recovering the vigor and men of manhood we earnestly recommend DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. Before they have finished the first bottle, they will feel the restorative principle at work in every portion of their broken-down systems, and hope will spring up in their hearts. No case of Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, Gout or Kidney Disease, can resist this unequalled vegetable tonic, which is undiluted by any distilled or fermented liquor. 4wd10

THE ALMANAC Publishers complain that their business is destroyed by Ayer's American Almanac. The people prefer it to any other, the Farmer's, Western, Southern or the numerous local almanacs when they can get Ayer's. It supplies the best astronomical data, weather and jokes of them all, and above all, medical advice which is invaluable for every family. It is supplied gratis by the druggists, and should be preserved for constant reference and use. We are sure that no good housekeeper or grandmother goes willingly without one. — Anti-Slavery Standard, N. Y.

WORTHY OF NOTE.—An exchange says there is scarcely a day passes that we don't hear, either from persons coming into our office or in some other way, of the success of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment in the cure of coughs and colds, so prevalent about town just now.

If we can benefit the readers of the Chronicle any by recommending Parson's Purgative Pills to be the best anti-bilious medicine in the country, we are willing to do so. We have had about as good a chance to know as any one.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Laconics.

The Republican County Convention will be held at Exeter to-morrow. At a meeting of the Portsmouth delegates, Saturday evening, it was voted to support Frank W. Miller, Esq., for the office of County Commissioner. We hear the names of Wm. H. Belknap of Exeter, Geo. W. Weston of Windham, and John J. Leavitt of Hampton mentioned in connection with the candidacy for Register of Deeds; and Messrs. Geo. G. Lougee of Rye and W. N. Dow of Epping are said to be candidates for County Treasurer.

A communication on the subject of the alarming and wide-spread prevalence of the small-pox at the present time, written by one of our oldest and most experienced physicians, is well worthy of attention and consideration. Our city has thus far escaped its visitation; and if we suggest that keeping it away and guarding against it are better than "stamping it out" after it arrives, we have no fear that we shall be called alarmists—and do not care if we are so called. The disease amounts almost to an epidemic in many towns and cities in this country; and in Europe, with which we are in daily communication, it is worse than for many years. The total number of deaths from small-pox in London during the last year, was 8000; average of the thirty-one years preceding, 600. The medical journals call attention to the alarming increase of the disease in all quarters, and vaccination (which has been strongly opposed and denounced by some people for several years past) and re-vaccination are earnestly counselled.

At a meeting of Wentworth Encampment, Post 14, G. A. R., of Kittery, Me., held Friday evening, Jan. 5, the following officers were installed for the current year: C. L. Hayes, P. C.; S. A. James, S. V. C.; S. R. Skinner, J. V. C.; F. C. Berry, Adjt.; F. C. Eaton, Q. M.; J. O. Trefethen, Surgeon; J. J. Lambert, Chaplain; S. Buxton, O. D.; C. A. Bowden, O. G.; J. Kuse, Q. M. S.; L. L. Goodrich, S. M. E. A. Duncan was chosen delegate.

An opportunity to enjoy a pleasant evening's entertainment and at the same time to assist a Society which has done an excellent work in the past and hopes to extend its sphere of usefulness in the future, is offered for this evening, when Mrs. George Vandenhoff will give miscellaneous readings at the Temple, comprising selections from Dickens, Longfellow, Jean Ingelow and others, under an engagement with the Young People's Christian Union. The tickets are placed at 50 cts., and the house should be filled. Mrs. Vandenhoff holds a high position as an elocutionist, and the object of the Union must commend itself to every one. Tickets can be secured at several places. See adv't.

The members of the Boys' High School class of '64 will hold their second annual Reunion at the Kearsarge House on the 31st inst.

A subscriber asks why the melodeon at the Cabot Street school house is not used during school hours.

Miss Susan Staples of Kittery, Me., who has been under arrest for several months on a charge of setting fire to Messrs. Ireland & Sweat's store in that town, was last week discharged, the grand jury at Saco not finding a true bill against her.

Naval Constructor William L. Hanof the Charlestown Yard has been ordered to Washington to examine plans of a third rate sloop the Navy department propose to build.

Communicated.

SMALL POX.—Many people are asking with surprise why there are so many cases of small pox everywhere. At the present time the reason is very plain and simple, viz: there is more general neglect and refusal to be vaccinated now than there was twenty years since, from prejudice and fear of being poisoned by impure virus, or that it will stir up some latent disease. If there is some ground for such an apprehension, the danger or risk is not one twentieth part as great as the neglect to be vaccinated leads to.

All are liable to come in contact with persons from the remotest parts of the world, whose clothes may be filled with small pox poison, direct from some pest house, in consequence of the great facility and rapidity of travel. In Paris and London, for years past, meetings have been held for the purpose of discouraging vaccination. We now are seeing the results of those meetings not only in those cities but in all parts of the world, in the ravages of small pox. In Paris, last summer it prevailed to such an extent and deaths were so numerous from it, that it reminded us of its effects, as reported, before vaccination was introduced as a preventive of small pox. It is the duty and for the interest of every one, not only to be vaccinated thoroughly, but to be re-vaccinated from time to time, as is convenient. For if it will take more than once it shows that it need to be repeated; and if it does not take, then there is no harm done,—except the slight expense, and that is given as an insurance against taking the disease.

Probably a twentieth part of every community has not been vaccinated. So taking that part of the community, with those who are imperfectly protected by vaccination, it makes a large number to have small-pox or varioloid, if they should happen to be exposed to it. P.

EASTERN RAILROAD. — The Boston Traveller gives an account of improvements lately made on the Eastern Railroad. It says that directly subsequent to the Revere disaster a new and ample siding was constructed at the Everett Junction on the Saugus Branch with the main line, making the fourth on this branch in the space of nine miles, viz: at Everett, Maplewood, Cliftondale and Lynn Common. Workmen are now completing a very capacious turnout at the West Lynn station, for the accommodation of freight trains, which will not a little facilitate passenger trains in emergencies. The second track on the main line has been pushed to within a short distance of Ipswich, and will be rapidly completed to Newburyport. The Essex branch is also going forward in its construction. Meanwhile the city of Lynn is being supplied with increased accommodations. Besides enlarging and improving the four depots already existing (including the Swampscott station) the fine new station house between Market and Pleasant Streets is going forward with energy and the old Central square station is being remodelled to great advantage.

—Leap year now begins. Maidens with aspirations take notice. Glad we're married and free from the agonies of apprehension that will this year beset timid bachelors.—Boston Traveller,

We ask our friends George of the Dover Gazette and George of the Portsmouth Chronicle, where we three "timid bachelors" shall flee for refuge?—Great Falls Journal.

The "wicked," only, flee, Ed.

FISK SHOT.—The telegraph on Saturday evening announced that Jim Fisk had been shot by Stokes, his rival in the disgraceful Fisk-Stokes-Mansfield performances, and was not expected to live. No particulars given, further than that he was shot in the thigh and arm. At a late hour on Sunday we learned through the International Line that Fisk died from his wounds at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Few honest men will mourn his death, however much they may condemn the murder.

NO RUM—NO CRIME.—Noble is Ohio's banner county. They have no saloons there; consequently during the past year not a felony was committed in that county, which has 20,000 inhabitants. At the last term of Court, there was not a single criminal case on the docket.

THE PROVIDENCE PRESS is a nice paper and has a holiday dress on; but when it calls the Republican nominee for Governor of New Hampshire Ezekiel Shaw, we come to the conclusion that its news editor hasn't recovered from New Year festivities.

THE EFFECT OF ALEXIS.—The ishvostchiks of the droschkystand at Court Square occasionally blockade the crossings, to the great annoyance of foot passengers. The sabakoutch-elevecks of our city should keep the droschkys out of the way of pedestriankys.—Memphis Ledger.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE.

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from faitly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N.B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1st of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

New Hampshire Items.

A gentleman in this town received by express a package containing a watch, on the outside of which the sender had made the following indorsements: "Only a watch—bang it through—toss it around—drop it twice at least. Merely a watch, simply a watch; knock it about! Second attempt in one week to get a watch over the road, whole." The watch was received intact.—Keene Sentinel.

The Rochester Courier says that Mr. Ephraim Richardson, who died in that town recently at the age of 85 years, owned and kept the Langdon House for sixteen years and did not sell any intoxicating liquor during that time. All honor to him!

Mr. Hezekiah McIntire died Monday morning, and his wife died on Tuesday morning, both after an illness of only a few days. They were both buried in the same grave; they were aged respectively fifty-eight and fifty-seven years. Mrs. M. gave directions about the burial of her husband, but she had a relapse from a sickness that was not considered dangerous, and quickly followed his departure.—Rochester Courier.

Hon. S. M. Wheeler, of Dover, has disposed of his matched pair of black horses to a New York man for $2000, delivered in that city.

The Nashua Telegraph, speaking of the resolutions commonly passed at political conventions, says: "so far as our observation goes newspaper men make the best platforms and lawyers the worst. The explanation is easy. The former, if trained at all, are trained to put things as an arrow goes to its mark. The latter do so much skirmishing, the mark is often lost sight of entirely. A short, simple, sententious platform is the article wanted. Half a dozen resolutions of six lines each are enough to express the political creed of any man, should he live a thousand years."

Mr. S. A. Gerould, Jr., of Keene, lost a horse on the 30th ult., in a singular manner. It was being shod when it became frightened from some cause, reared up and fell over upon its back, striking its head in such a manner as to cause instant death. It was worth $500.

New Publications.

The January number of Good Health contains the fourteenth paper by Professor Kneeland, on "Means of Preserving Health," a paper entitled "Physical Force Imperishable," and other articles appropriate to its purpose.

Leavitt's Farmer's Almanac for 1872. Published by Edson C. Eastman & Co., Concord.

Elgin Almanac for 1872, finely illustrated. Issued by the Elgin Watch Co.

The New Hampshire Register for 1872 is issued by the Claremont Manufacturing Co., and is a welcome document. It contains an almanac, votes for Governor in 1870 and 1871, list of county officers, a schedule of stamp duties, a business directory and other valuable material for reference. Every business needs one. For sale at the book stores.

The Commercial Bulletin, the only paper of the kind in the country, and a model paper every way, appears enlarged to the extent of eight columns. The Bulletin is conducted with great enterprise and ability, and merits the large favor it has won with the mercantile community.

The January number of Hall's Journal of Health has articles on Venerable Men, What to do in Emergencies, Living Together, Chapped Hands, etc.

The January number of The Radical contains a suggestive paper by D. A. Wasson, entitled "Jewels;" an essay on "Home and Social Life," by Arethusa Hall; the beginning of a story by Frances Gerry Fairfield, and several other articles by writers of influence among ligionists. An effort is making to establish the magazine permanently by raising a fund of $50,000.

ARCHEOLOGICAL. — The Bowling Green (Ky.) Pantagraph has the following:—In Muhlenburg County, Kentucky, on the west side of Mud River, about ten miles above its entrance into Green River, is still to be seen a sandstone rock, with a flat surface of thirty or forty feet square, upon which rock appear Indian hieroglyphics as strange and as difficult to decipher probably as any in the United States. Among the figures not yet erased by time, is the full-sized form of an Indian, surrounded by numerous forms of different animals. The sun, moon, the stars, and other symbolic signs are distinctly carved on the rock, and no one has yet been found with archæological knowledge sufficiently profound to fathom the significance of the carvings upon this rock. We would call the attention of antiquarians to this Indian relic, which ought to find a place in any complete history of this portion of Kentucky. The waters from time to time overflow the rock, and the signs upon it are becoming gradually more difficult to decipher.

—Taste is the first sense a dying person loses.

THIRTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE
IN THE TREATMENT OF
CHRONIC AND SEXUAL DISEASES.
A Physiological View of Marriage.
The cheapest book ever published—containing nearly three hundred pages, and one hundred and thirty fine plates and engravings of the anatomy of the human organs in a state of health and disease, with a treatise on early errors, its deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by a report of cases treated. A truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent free of postage to any address, on receipt of twenty-five cents,—in stamps or postal currency, —by addressing DR. LA CROIX, No. 31 Maiden Lane, Albany, N. Y. The author may be consulted upon any of the diseases upon which his book treats, either personally or by mail, and medicines sent to any part of the world.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfwbl6

The Chronicle.

—Mr. Charles H. Webb, whose witty productions have frequently appeared in the publications of Harper and Brothers, has discarded literature to devote himself to making large sums of gold in Broad Street. After Mr. Evans returned from Brazil, some two years ago, and published three brilliant articles on that country in Harper's Magazine, Evans met Webb, and related some of his hunting exploits—how he had bagged monkeys, tapirs, etc. "Are you a good shot?" asked Webb. "Oh, I can snuff a candle," was the reply. "That's why you went out there to practice on tapirs," said Webb. A certain United States judge, a scholarly man and brilliant conversationist, but noted as an interminable talker, one day said, "There's Webb, now, a clever fellow, a brilliant fellow; what a pity he has an impediment in his speech!" On hearing it, Webb observed, "There's Judge——; he's a clever fellow, a brilliant fellow; what a pity that he has'nt!"—Harper's Monthly.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following ing symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATION. Established upward of 20 years. Prepared by

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion;

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weaknesses, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The unparalleled new bald and gray heads that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."☞

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. Murder of Jas. Fisk, Jr.

The Fisk-Mansfield-Stokes imbroglio, which has been considered in the light of a farce, has ended in tragedy. Stokes has been hard pressed in the trial, by the unseemly scandal which has been occupying the attention of the court for the past six or eight weeks, and especially Saturday afternoon was more than ever humiliated by a rough cross examination by Fisk's counsel.

He was obliged to testify to his own infamy and his case went by the board. Even Josie Mansfield gave way to her emotions and wept in court. Stokes and Josie had been charged with attempts to black mail Fisk; while they claimed only to recover money loaned Fisk, who had previously disgorged $50,000. After the adjournment, Stokes lunched at Delmonico's with a few friends and while there was informed that the grand jury had indicted Josie and himself for attempt to levy blackmail. St kes immediately left the table and about half-past four o'clock in the afternoon entered the Grand Central Hotel, going in at the gentlemen's entrance, ascending the stairs and crossing over to the head of the stairs at the ladies' entrance. Fisk entered the Hotel about the same instant, asked if Miss Morse was in and being informed that she was, proceeded to ascend the steps leading to the ladies' parlor. He was unaware of the proximity of Stokes at first, but received a bullet from a revolver, which lodged in his abdomen. He looked up and recognized Stokes, who fired again, the bullet entering Fisk's left arm, a third shot whizzing past his head. The shot in the abdomen entered two inches above the umbilicus.

Fisk fell on the steps, mortally wounded. Stokes ran past him, telling a door-boy who had seen Fisk fall that a man was shot and that he must send a physician. The boy accused him of the deed and several porters stopped and held him until the police took him in charge. The affair was witnessed by two door-boys only. Fisk was taken into a room up stairs and several eminent physicians were called. His wife was telegraphed to at Boston. Being told of his critical condition, he made oath to the following statement:—

James Fisk, jr., being sworn, says: "I feel I am in a very critical condition; I hope I will recover. This afternoon, about 4 1-2 o'clock, I rode to the Grand Central Hotel, entered by the private entrance, and when I entered the first door I met a boy of whom I enquired if Mrs. Morse was in. He told me Mrs. Morse and her youngest daughter had gone out, but thought the other daughter was in her grandmother's room. I asked him to go up and tell the daughter that I was there. I came through the other door, and was going up the staircase, and had gone about two steps, when, looking up, I saw Edward S. Stokes at the head of the stairs. As soon as I saw him I noticed he had something in his hand; in a second of time I heard a report, saw a flash, and felt a ball enter my abdomen on the right side. A second shot was fired immediately after, which entered my left arm. When I received the first shot I staggered and ran toward the door, but, noticing a crowd gathered in front, I ran back on the stairs again. I was then brought up stairs in the hotel. I saw nothing more of Stokes until he was brought before me by the officer for identification. I fully identify Edward S. Stokes, as the person who shot me. JAMES FISK, JR.

Stokes was carried to the room and Fisk fully indentified him as the assassin. He was then committed to the Tombs. It is said that it was Stokes' intention to maim Fisk, not to kill him. There seems to be no doubt that Stokes' ruin was effected solely by Fisk. He is of good family, a native of Philadelphia, and until he came under Fisk's influence led a comparatively respectable life. Fisk "took him up" about eighteen months ago, made him his intimate and brought him into the company of Mrs. Mansfield. He became infatuated, deserted his wife, an estimable lady, and in time supplanted Fisk in the affections of Mrs. Mansfield, to Fisk's amazement and indignation. There followed a quarrel, bitter enmity and relentless persecution. Stokes declares that Fisk has robbed him of a fortune of $200,000, and to recover this the infamous suit which has ended in this terrible tragedy was in part instituted.

When it became evident that Fisk would die, he called Jay Gould to his bedside and said:—"Well, Gould, I guess that assassin Stokes has finished me. I fear I am going myself where the woodbine twineth. Old fellow, this looks as if you'd have to run Erie alone, now."

Fisk made his will before becoming unconscious. Mrs. Hooker, his sister, receives $100,000 in Narragansett Steamship Company's shares; his father and mother receive $5000 a year each; to each of the two Misses Morse he bequeathed $2000 a year; to the 9th regiment $11,000, (this gift was made a week ago, but was legalized Saturday night;) to his wife he bequeathed the balance of his property of all kinds; to Jay Gould, for whom he entertained the warmest and most disinterested friendship, he left his personal effects and entrusted to him "The labor of love" (so it is called in the will) of carrying out all his (Fisk's) projects in regard to public improvements. Mrs. Fisk inherits all her husband's shares in the Erie Railroad.

Fisk became unconscious before seven o'clock and was unable to recognize his wife, who arrived about that time. She was terribly agitated and the scene in the death chamber was heartrending. At quarter before eleven o'clock, Sunday, Fisk breathed his last. He will be buried to-day at Brattleboro', Vermont.

Hs was a man of wonderful energy and great craft. Bold and unscrupulous, he attained great notoriety. His dishonorable speculation in gold, of "Black Friday" remembrance, was an indication of his character. His murder was cruel and cowardly and Stokes deserves to be hung for it, if any man ever deserved hanging.

New Hampshire Items.

In Brown's mill at Wakefield, lately, twenty-five inserted teeth were torn from a saw by turning a log. One flew and took a workman's finger off.

On the 3d, in Newport, two little girls were running between the stone posts at school-house yard, when one stepped on the other's heel, pitching a little daughter of Mr. Edwin Miller against a post and cutting her head badly.

Henry Holt, Esq., a democratic member of the legislature, died at Woodsville, last month.

A bill to admit free of duty all material used in the construction of ships was defeated, yeas 59, nays 64.

VICE PRESIDENT COLFAX has finally acceded to the earnest requests of his friends and will accept a renomination. This is sensible. The only foolish thing we have ever known Schuyler guilty of was his statement that he would never be a candidate for office again.

THE ADMISSION OF UTAH as a State is warmly opposed by people there on the ground that if admitted with the proviso that polygamy is to be abolished, that the proviso will be a dead letter, and the State virtually would be in the hands of the Mormons.

THE DUTCH GAP CANAL is open to navigation, has 15 feet depth of water at low tide, and the steamship Wyanck has already passed through.

RUSSIA.—The entire population of Russia, including all its Asiatic possessions, is just about twice that of the United States. Russia in Europe, which is, to all intents real Russia, is about as wide as from Portland, Me., to Laramie, Wyoming, and longer than from the tip of Florida to the tip of Maine. This grand division of the Russian Empire contains sixty-eight millions of subjects. St. Petersburg has about the population of Philadelphia; Moscow that of Brooklyn; Odessa scarcely more than Cleveland, Buffalo or Newark.

A PROMISING BOY.—Winfield Scott Wagner, aged thirteen, resided with his parents at Mount Vernon. For a year or more he has been incorrigible. Recently he hit his father on the head with a stone and chased him about half a mile with a meat axe. When he returned to the house his sister expostulated with him, whereupon he knocked her down with a frying pan and prepared to cut her throat with a butcher knife. His mother threw a pail of water over him, and Officer Rider arrested him. Justice Edmonds committed him to the House of Refuge.—N. Y. Sun.

A GREAT ENTERPRISE.—Gen. Wm. S. Rosecrans proposes to build through the centre of Mexico, on a north and south line, a railroad connecting with the Pacific railroads of the United States. To effect this object, he asks Congress to pass a bill incorporating a grand national banking and railroad company in Mexico, for the purpose of transacting any business not inconsistent with the laws of the United States or the laws of nations. Any grants of land or money that may be made by the Government of Mexico are to be applied to the promotion of the trade and commerce with the United States. The power of the United States to grant such a charter may, however, be considered as very doubtful.

—The fifty per cent. of silica in the straw and grain, respectively, shows why it is that oats flourish luxuriantly on meadow land that has been broken up from grass. It also indicates that potash, for the reduction of the silicates, is absolutely essential to a constituent of the soil. Wood ashes, therefore, are very serviceable in the growth of the crop, as well as in the production of the finer grasses.

—That doctors differ is a a thing of common acknoledgment, but that they go farther than contradiction of each other's theories and notions is not so generally understood. The Wharton poisoning case has had fearful influence in exposing quackery and quacks, far out of the mouths of the learned in medical chemicals come the accusations and the proofs. Prof. McCulloch says that Tony might make a respectable income by turning flap-jacks, but his ignorance of chemistry ought to starve him, and Tony says McCulloch is a dogmatic, self-sufficient humbug. Prof. Aiken goes farther, for he says McCulloch is a professional fraud, and Dr. Warren calls Aiken a dog poisoner. Whatever their respective attainments may be in public estimation it is evident that they understand themselves perfectly, namely: that they are quacks shielded by diplomas most indiscreetly disposed.—Boston Times.

RUM SOAKED.—A man died in New York from habitual drunkenness. A post mortem examination of his internal organs showed that his blood was largely mixed with alcohol. The Coroner testified that the heart smelled as though it had been steeped in alcohol. People who are in the habit of keeping themselves saturated with the vile alcoholic compounds under the names of rum, gin, bourbon, etc., should take warning from such an example. We may talk of soft hearts, noble hearts, and true hearts, but how can a heart "steeped in alcohol" be any of these?

—A celebrated writer says that if one could but read it, every human being carries his face, and is good-looking or the reverse, as that life has been good or evil.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Winter-Proof Systems.

Thick boots and flannels are necessary at this season, but the human frame requires something more than these to render it water-proof. The inner man, as well as the outer surface of the body, must be protected. The raw, moist, chilly winds which prevail at this season transplace the warmest clothing, and are apt to effect the health unfavorably, both through the pores and the respiratory organs. The surest way to avert the evil is to strengthen the internal machine, and thus enable it to repel the devitalizing influence of unwholesome weather. Enrich the blood, gently stimulate the circulation, regulate the bowels, invigorate the stomach, tone the liver, and brace the nerves with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and no condition of the atmosphere, however inclement, no variation of the barometer or thermometer, however sudden, will have power to disorder the system thus fortified in advance, and put in perfect working order. Damp and cold, acting upon a sensitive or feeble organization, may produce consumption, diptheria, neuralgia, rheumatism, dyspepsia, liver coo plaint, low nervous fever, or intermittent fever: the importance of rendering the system impervious to these two destructive elements is therefore obvious. Persons in delicate health, or who are at all liable to be injuriously affected by atmospheric influences, should take the Bitters daily throughout the winter and spring. In this way dangerous diseases may be warded off and a condition of perfect health preserved by individuals of comparatively feeble physique, while those more robust, who scoff at precautions, are suffering the penalty of their recklessness in hospitals and sick rooms.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health" viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

BETTER AND CHEAPER.

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER.—Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to tip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they preserve their Leather, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RE-ANIMATING THE HAIR.—When the hair ceases to draw from the scalp the natural lubricant which is its substenance, its vitality is, as it were, suspended, and if not promptly attended to, baldness will be the certain result. The one sure method of avoiding such an unpleasant catastrophe is to use LYON'S KATHAIRON, which, when well rubbed into the scalp, will speedily re-animate the hair and prevent it from falling out. Besides that, this inimitable resuscitant and strengthener of the Hair nourishes and stimulates its young and tender fibres, removes all obstacles to their growth in the shape of dandruff and dirt, and ultimately produces a new crop of hair, stronger, glossier, and twice as abundant as the old. As a hair dressing it is notably the most agreeable, refreshing and serviceable article ever placed upon a dressing table.

TO THOSE WHO ARE BOWED DOWN by nervous Debility, and despair of ever recovering the vigor and mien of manhood we earnestly recommend DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. Before they have finished the first bottle, they will feel the restorative principle at work in every portion of their broken-down systems, and hope will spring up in their hearts. No case of Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, Gout or Kidney Disease, can resist this unequalled vegetable tonic, which is undiluted by any distilled or fermented liquor. 4wd10

THE ALMANAC Publishers complain that their business is destroyed by Ayer's American Almanac. The people prefer it to any other, the Farmer's, Western, Southern or the numerous local almanacs when they can get Ayer's. It supplies the best astronomical data, weather and jokes of them all, and above all, medical advice which is invaluable for every family. It is supplied gratis by the druggists, and should be preserved for constant reference and use. We are sure that no good housekeeper or grandmother goes willingly without one. —Anti-Slavery Standard, N. Y.

WORTHY OF NOTE.—An exchange says there is scarcely a day passes that we don't hear, either from persons coming into our office or in some other way, of the success of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment in the cure of coughs and colds, so prevalent about town just now.

If we can benefit the readers of the Chronicle any by recommending Parson's Purgative Pills to be the best anti-bilious medicine in the country, we are willing to do so. We have had about as good a chance to know as any one.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

The Library Fund.

A wealthy Boston gentleman who takes great interest in Portsmouth affairs writes as follows:—

That the entire amount as proposed has not been made up long before this, is I think entirely the fault of the trustees having the matter in charge. Nearly two years since, I spoke to several persons in Boston who said that they were ready to contribute whenever the Portsmouth people showed themselves in earnest in the matter. This fact I made known both to Mr. Hatch and to Mr. Sise, and urged their moving promptly, at the same time saying that when they came to Boston (after seeing what could be done in Portsmouth) I would contribute and do what I could to aid them in obtaining further subscriptions. Why is there not prompt action on the part of the trustees?

Reminiscence.

The recent decease of our respected fellow citizen, the late Leonard Cotton, brings to mind many of the traits and proclivities which have marked the last fifty years of his sojourn with us. It has been already stated that for several years of his early manhood, he was a resident of one of the commercial ports of the West Indies. He returned from thence to take up his residence in Portsmouth and for several years thereafter was engaged in the West India trade to a greater or less extent. It was about this time, we think, that he was fortunate enough to draw a prize of some ten thousand dollars in the Havana lottery, an accident that would have proved disastrous to most young men, but which he regarded as he would the result of a lucky voyage or speculation, instead of inciting him to try his luck again in the same direction, it only added to his means of pursuing a regular vocation. He was always ready for a trade,—and few were the articles, old or new, from a rag bag to a railway that did not find in him a buyer at some price. He was usually fortunate enough to find sooner or later a purchaser of his varied properties at a profit, for he had the good sense to wait until his opportunity came; when others hastened to sell at a loss, he was ready to buy, and await his chance to sell again, never forcing a sale of his own. Many well remember how dull and spiritless the auction sales of by gone years have been when Mr. Cotton was not present to surprise everybody by his spirited bid. In the days when Major Larkin was in the full tide of success as the leading auctioneer of Portsmouth, he was often dependent upon the presence of Mr. Cotton at his sales to help raise the low tone of his company. At times, when an article of value was put up, and the bidders were slow, commencing at a very low figure, Mr. Cotton would suddenly electrify them all by adding one hundred dollars instead of five to the last bid, and whilst they gazed in astonishment, it was knocked off to him. Often in this way he secured bargains, on which he would have been overbid by the regular gradation bidding. If Mr. Cotton had a preference in the great variety of property of which he thus became the holder, it was for old houses which he bought low, refitted, and rented to those who could not afford to pay a high rent. In this way he gradually became the holder of more houses, and a greater tax payer in proportion to his means, than any other citizen of property. He was just and honorable in his dealings, a considerate landlord, kind to the poor widow, and often sacrificed his own interests to promote the welfare of his tenants.

Mr. Cotton was possessed of a happy, cheerful temperament, and a generous, social warmth of manner which made him a "hale fellow well met" upon occasions of social festivity. Many will remember his excellences upon a chowder party, "down the river." Here he was at home; he was familiar with every step in the process of that difficult problem of cookery—how to make a good chowder from the peeling of the onions and potatoes to the final taking off the pot, and we believe that no case of failure was ever remembered against him. He gave his whole mind to it and to the comfort and well being of his fishing party, enlivening his work with racy old stories of the olden times, when the Sheafes, Havens, McClintock and Reuben Shapleigh were the ruling spirits in the active business of old Portsmouth.

Our old friend has gone from us, he has bid his last bid, he has bought his last barn, and has left behind cheerful pictures of his bustling, cheery life that will not soon be effaced. Peace to his memory. B.

The U. S. S. Marion from Norfolk, 25th ult., for this port, put into Vineyard Haven and repaired a leak, and sailed January 1st. On Saturday she was at anchor off Monomoy Point waiting for a fair wind.

The Democrats of this district renominated Hon. Daniel Marcy for State Senator, on Monday. Geo. E. Hodgdon, Esq., of Portsmouth, presided at the Convention, and Moses H. Jenkins, Esq., of Portsmouth, was Secretary. A disgusted delegate stated that he should petition the legislature to change the name of the County from Rockingham to Portsmouth County.

Rev. C. M. Dinsmore and family were agreeably surprised on Sunday evening by a crowd of his parishioners taking possession of the house, laying the tables with a choice variety of luxuries. All partook of a bounteous repast, the aroma of "Old Government Java" and "thea-nectar" adding inspiration to the hour, after which the company presented the pastor with fifty dollars in greenbacks, besides generously replenishing his larder, and on taking their leave received many thanks and an invitation to "call again."

At a meeting of Storer Encampment, Post No. 1, G. A. R., of this city, held Friday evening, Jan. 5, the following officers were installed for the current year:—Edwin H. Leslie, P. C.; John H. Mawbey, S. V. C.; Charles Hill, J. V. C.; Josiah L. Jones, Adjt.; Daniel J. Vaughan, Q. M.; J. W. Parsons, Surgeon; Charles Powell, Chaplain; E. Charlesworth, O. D.; James Barns, O. G.; William Lovell, Q. M. S.; L. A. Fletcher, S. M. D. J. Vaughan and J. A. Sanborn were chosen delegates to Department Convention; Relief Committee, J. H. Mawbey, F. Mahan, C. Muchmore and Henry Lombard.

Judge Page has had a double surprise, we are pleased and regret to say. His friends, and they are numerous, made a pleasant surprise-call on the Judge and his estimable wife, Saturday evening, just to let the family know that they remember that 'twas two years ago the family commenced to exist as a family. A jolly time was the natural result. The Judge joined in the sport and led the crowd in merriment; and Sunday only prevented the call from extending to a visit. On Monday, however, we regretted to see our municipal Justice about town with a swelled face, produced by an attack of the mumps! For his speedy recovery from that disagreeable visitation he has the earnest wishes of everybody who ever saw his genial countenance.

A CARD.—The statement in the local Democratic organ, that I went to Boston "in regard to the investigation into the cause of the fire that destroyed the Catholic church" "at the expense of the city," is a lie. WILLIS L. HIDDEN, City Messenger.

We don't doubt it, Willis! And you might have added that the man who wrote it is a liar, without laying yourself open to a similar charge.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model, does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

Passengers carried	4,209,099	4,653,487
Tons carried	346,566	378,199

For 1870 the total receipts were $1,718,755 16; property account, $67,514 60—total, $1,786,269 76. The total expenses were $1,225,039 85, leaving a balance of $561, 229 91.

From the foregoing statements it will be seen that the actual receipts from the business of the railroad, exclusive of property account, have been $1,841,324 09, against $1,718,755 16 for the preceding year, an increase in ordinary revenue of $122,568 93. Our expenses for the same period were $1,158,219 65, against $1,018,039 14, being an increase of $140,180 41, showing that although our business has largely increased, every dollar of that increase, and more too, has been expended upon the road itself, in its operation, in repairs and improvements, of which the public rather than the stockholders have the immediate benefit.

The report refers to the disastrous collision of passenger trains at Revere, on the evening of the 26th of August, and reprints the result of the investigation made by a committee of the board, whose report has been printed for the use of the stockholders.

We have laid down within the year 2724 tons of rails, 450 tons of welded rails, and 56,697 sleepers, upon our road and branches, the cost of iron and sleepers used in repairs amounting to about $250,000. We have built at various points on the line new side tracks and turnouts, to the extent of 17,546 feet, about three and a quarter miles. Our gravel trains have been in constant service in raising and improving roadbed and embankments; the pay-rolls for labor amounting to $88,736 99. During the year we have added to our stock twenty new passenger cars, of the value of about $95,000, of which twelve have been built in our own shops; we have also added new, six baggage cars, thirty long box cars, forty platform cars, and fifty coal cars, of the value of about $80,000. We have added during the year to our motive power nine new first-class engines of the value of about $100,000; of which three have been built in our own shops, and we have rebuilt three. In the carpenters' department a very large amount of work has been done; new passenger stations have been built at Marblehead and at Amesbury, and very considerable repairs made on many others; an additional shop has been built at the car factory at Salem.

At Newburyport a new brick enginehouse has been built; a new turn-table has been put in there and also at Middleton. Our engine-house at Prison Point is being enlarged. At Portsmouth we have put in a new turn-table and are building a new engine-house and coal-sheds, on the land purchased for that purpose. We have also filed a location under the laws of the State of New Hampshire, over a strip of the Portsmouth Mill Pond, adjoining our track, 400 feet wide, and have commenced filling for additional track room there; and in settlement of land damages therefor have found it expedient to purchase the mills and the whole of the mill pond. At Lynn—where there have been for a long time deep-seated complaints about the passenger accommodations, but where our facilities for freight business in its present magnitude are so limited that we send trains away to distant side-tracks to wait their turns to be hauled back and discharged—we have negotiated for the purchase and acquisition of a valuable tract of land for station purposes, both passenger and freight, extending from Market street to Pleasant street on both sides of our railroad, and comprising nearly four acres, at a cost of $200,000. A passenger station is already advanced in progress of erection thereon. We have also bought about a half acre additional, westward of Pleasant street, for $16,382, for the purposes of addition, of extension of freight tracks and accommodations. Improvements of an enlarged character are also in progress at the old passenger station on Exchange street. We have filled with solid embankment a large portion of the bridge between the Fitchburg Railroad crossing and Somerville, at an expense, in addition to use of train, of about $14,642 25. We have also covered with a pile wharf structure, under authority heretofore given by the legislature, a space, adjoining our bridge between the Charles River draw and Miller's River, of 48,268 square feet, giving us so much additional accommodation for side-tracks and station purposes at a cost of about $41,498 73.

The extension of our double track has been continued from Beverly eastward and will soon be completed into Ipswich, nine miles. The total expenditure for that work so far has been about $118,471.

The joint lease of the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth Railroad to the Boston and Maine Railroad and the Eastern Railroad Company having been terminated according to the notice referred to in our last annual report, a separate contract has been made between the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth Railroad and this corporation, embodying substantially the same provisions as in the former joint contract, but increasing the rent or dividends to the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth stockholders to ten per cent. currency annually, instead of six, as before. The net earnings since the contract have exceeded the rate of ten per cent., in addition to other advantages. A contract for twenty years has been entered into between this company and the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth Railroad Company and the Maine Central Railroad Company, by which it is hoped the great and growing eastern business will be facilitated and cheapened by being directed or allowed to flow in its natural channel to and from Boston.

The large outlays heretofore made, and which will hereafter be required for new rolling stock, for new side-tracks and depots, and depot grounds and accommodations at various points on the line, and especially at the terminal stations, and also for the second track, make a further addition of capital necessary, either in the form of bonds or stocks. It will be remembered also that our 1872 bonds, to the amount of $380,000, gold, will be due in a few months. Previously to the accident at Revere we had issued 2000 shares of new stock under authority heretofore given, but did not think it expedient to continue the issue under the depression caused by that disaster. We recommend that authority be given to the directors to issue bonds according to the provisions of the statutes on that subject, to an amount not exceeding $1,500,000.

The work upon the extension of the Portsmouth, Great Falls and Conway Railroad has been pressed forward with energy. The extension was opened for travel to Ossipee, seventeen miles, in August; and to West Ossipee, twenty eight miles, in October; and to Conway, forty miles, on the 5th day of December, 1871. When it is remembered that the work, though practically begun in November of 1870, was not fully entered upon with adequate force until the following month, this result cannot but be deemed most satisfactory. Forty miles of railroad, through the difficult mountain regions of New Hampshire, have in fact been constructed and put in operation within the period of about twelve months; and it has been well and thoroughly constructed as a first-class railroad, with suitable side-tracks, turn-tables, engine-houses and tasteful and convenient depot buildings, both for passengers and freight at every station, and with the telegraph line, the property of the corporation, extended and in use the whole length of the road. This result reflects credit upon the chief engineer, T. Willis Pratt, esq., and his efficient corps of assistants, and on Mr. G. F. Hitchings, the contractor, for the permanent way, and also upon those in charge of each department of the work.

Between Conway and North Conway the work is well advanced, and will doubtless be completed early next season.

The total expenditures to the present time for construction have been about $860,000, of which about $600,000 has been paid in on stock issued a year ago; the remainder has been chiefly advanced by this company, to be replaced by a further issue of stock of that corporation in due time.

Preliminary arrangements have been made for the lease and construction of the Wolfeborough Railroad, under authority heretofore given.

THIRTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE
IN THE TREATMENT OF
CHRONIC AND SEXUAL DISEASES.
A Physiological View of Marriage.
The cheapest book ever published—containing nearly three hundred pages, and one hundred and thirty fine plates and engravings of the anatomy of the human organs in a state of health and disease, with a treatise on early errors, its deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by a report of cases treated. A truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent free of postage to any address, on receipt of twenty-five cents,—in stamps or postal currency,—by addressing DR. LA CROIX, No. 31 Maiden Lane, Albany, N. Y. The author may be consulted upon any of the diseases upon which his book treats, either personally or by mail, and medicines sent to any part of the world.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, purging of all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They Invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawt&h16

HEAT OF WINTER ROOMS.—The investment of fifty or seventy-five cents in a thermometer will make paying returns in health before Spring. The great tendency in Winter is keeping rooms too warm. The foundation of pneumonia, pleurisy, pulmonary consumption is frequently laid in overheated, ill-ventilated apartments. The inmates become accustomed to breathing hot, close air, the system is toned down and a slight exposure to cold and wet results in serious illness. Some years since we called one Winter evening on a friend whom we found in a cosy sitting room with a large cast iron stove, a low ceiling, and the heat ranging among the eighties. She was suffering from a severe cold, but could give no account of how she took it. A month later she was prostrated with pneumonia, and she and her sister died within a week of each other, and were buried in the same grave.

The intelligent use of a thermometer would doubtless have saved both of those valuable lives The mercury in the tube should never be permitted to stand above seventy. If that temperature is not sufficient to give warmth it is an indication that the person does not take sufficient exercise, and the cure for it is more miles and more flannel. In the coldest weather, when the ground is like stone under the feet, and there is no drip from the eaves when snow lies on the roof, rooms seould be ventilated. Pure air should be admitted through open doors and windows so that the oxygen consumed by flame and by respiration may be replaced, and the effete and poisonous matters thrown off by the body thoroughly driven off. As one of our best writers on household science remarks, ventilation is a question of dollars and cents. But how much wiser he is who chooses to pay a large coal bill and enjoy fresh air in his Winter sitting room, than he who keeps everything shut up that heat may not be lost, and has a long doctor's bill to settle in the Spring, and maybap a grave to cut through the frozen turf.—N. Y. Tribune.

SENATOR MCCREERY.—McCreery is a jolly old soul, and personally one of the cleverest of men. You would take him, from his dress and appearance in the Senate, to be a well to do farmer, fresh from his barn yard, who had just dropped in to see with what little wisdom the world was governed. He was elected a few years ago to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Guthrie, and served until the 4th of March last. He was a candidate for re-election, and the indications were decidedly in his favor. He felt so confident of success that he declined to go home to take part in the canvass. Finally his friends persuaded him that he must be present at least to receive the congratulations of his friends when the thing was done. So he started for Frankfort. He had got as far as Lexington when he received an invitation to a big wedding party in that city, commemorative of the nuptials of two members of the first families. He accepted, and presented himself in homespun and tobacco juice.

At the supper table that evening he met his political death in this way: Right in presence of the elite, under the blaze of the big chandeliers, he transferred an unwashed soup-spoon, yet moist with mock turtle, into the bowels of a formidable pyramid of ice cream, and so mixed up his courses as to chagrin and disgust all the first families represented at the festal board. His doom was sealed. No man who so thoroughly disregarded the proprieties was fit to represent Kentucky in the Senate. A delegation went from Lexington next day intent upon his defeat, and they worked so assiduously in the name of all that was respectable in Kentucky, that they shelved him effectually. John W. Stevenson, then Governor of the State, was elected in his stead. McCreery went back to finish out his term in the Senate, swearing vengeance against the "shoddyites of Blue Grass region," as he styled them. He was rich, and masses of people rather liked him because he wasn't Tarvydropsical; he has spent a year in hard work among his friends, and has now redeemed the blunder of the soup spoon. He is a man of unusual ability in his way, and there is in him as a public speaker a vein of humor that often recalls the best days of Tom Corwin.—St. Louis Democrat.

—It is a curious coincidence that Vallandigham's last client, McGehan, was finally acquitted on the anniversary of the day when the crime with which he was charged was committed. Myers was killed Dec. 24, 1870, in a gambling saloon, as was supposed, by McGehan. Vallandigham, the latter's counsel, shot himself while illustrating the manner in which Myers might have done likewise. The verdict is a matter of astonishment to all, as the guilt of McGehan was generally conceded.

REV. GEO. H. HEPWORTH has renounced Unitarianism and announced his acceptance of Orthodox doctrine. The Golden Age suggests that Mr. Hepworth's "new departure" foreshadows a still newer departure — from his church, the debt on which he has been unable to extinguish.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulceration or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following ing symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them likewise tend to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of this art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 10, 1872.

JAMES FISK, JR., was born in Pownal, Vermont, April 1, 1835. His father was a country peddler, and moved to Brattleboro', Vt., while his son was quite young. The latter in his early days attended the district school, but a greater part of his youth was spent upon his father's cart. When quite a young man he adopted the vocation of jobber in cloths, jewelry and Yankee notions, and branched out in the business quite extensively. About twelve years ago Mr. Fisk was induced to give up this itinerant life and to enter the establishment of Jordan, Marsh & Co., in Boston as a clerk. He did not distinguish himself as a city salesman, but when the war broke out he first made his mark by securing large government contracts for his employers, and finally became a member of the firm. As a member of this house he indulged in several "corners," by which a large amount was made; he then turned his attention to shipping cotton from the South, notwithstanding the great difficulty of getting it through the lines of the opposing armies.

On retiring from the firm of Jordan, Marsh & Co., Fisk opened business for himself in Boston, but was at first so unsuccessful as nearly to be ruined. We next find him in New York, operating in Wall Street, where he drifted into railroads, became a director of the Erie, and in time had managed his cards with such craft that he might have been said to own the road; and it was under his direction that ten millions of extra stock were secretly issued. In spite of suits and injunctions he managed, backed by Gould and the ring, to retain his hold on this road. Fisk's connection with the Grand Opera House, his French opera companies, his dramatic ventures, his steamboat enterprises and his military records are well known and of too recent date to need repeating.

While nearly all the leading journals of New York, editorially and in their reports, give space to the enumeration of the better qualities of James Fisk, they do not hesitate to speak of his character and his manner of life in terms of the strongest reprobation. He was not without his good points. He had a helping hand for many a poor fellow, and he was kind and considerate to those who were related to him. He was anxious for success, and he did not measure by any very high standard of rectitude the means employed to obtain the object of his ambition. Notable for his enterprise, audacity and bold financial manœuvres, there is yet little in his career worthy of imitation. No one man, probably, ever did more to corrupt others by example and make overreaching respectable, than James Fisk, Jr.; and no one man ever did more to injure the reputation of the country for business honesty, abroad, than he. The fact that the two great Rings of New York, Tammany and Erie, could sieze upon and for years hold, in defiance of law and justice alike, the control of the financial and political affairs of a great State, has created a suspicious caution in foreign countries which the total overthrow of both Rings will but partially remove. From the Boston Journal, we take the following:—

What Tweed and his confederates were in politics, Fisk and his associates were in railroad and stock circles, and they denoted the low-water mark of the morality of that sphere, rather than caused it. Fisk's immoral courage, if we may use the term, was perfect; he defied society and public opinion at every point necessary to carry his point, and he even threw decency behind him. It is a disgrace to the nation, as we recently had occasion to state, that the management of a great railroad could be wrested from the control of its rightful guardians and the voice of its stockholders silenced by the decisions of a corrupt judiciary, while a clique of men increase its funded debt by millions of dollars, and so manipulated its affairs that what might have been a grand highway, bringing to its owners a fair interest upon their investment, has been made a source of corruption to the whole State.

There are other incidents in the life of Mr. Fisk which we might dwell upon. We have endeavored to touch briefly upon those which reflected the most credit upon the deceased. We regret that they are not more numerous. To gloss over what we conceive to have been the pernicious influences of his life would be unpardonable, for though we bear in mind the injunction, to speak only good of the dead, the duty devolves upon every journalist to see that the living are not led to interpret even silence into approval of what is bad in the lives of those who have been prominent actors in events which affect the tone of society and exert a widespread influence. The social relations of Mr. Fisk, though forced upon public attention, we leave to that oblivion which we trust will soon efface them from public remembrance.

Political.

Ex-Controller Connolly is not to be found in New York. His friends say he can return in four hours if wanted, and refuse to disclose the place of his retreat.

Biggs, the Delaware Congressman who boasted that no man ever returned to his State after having been publicly whipped, as a proof that whipping-posts were as valuable as public schools, got about as near the truth as Democrats generally get in their accounts of the workings of their peculiar institutions. The whipping-post statistics show that fully one-fourth of the persons annually whipped have been whipped several times over.

Judge Wright, whose connection with the Indian pensions and bounty frauds has made him notorious, is under arrest on a criminal charge, and will be also prosecuted in a civil suit.

Adjt. Gen. Sigel of Missouri reports that the accounts of Ku-Klux outrages telegraphed from Sedalia were entirely without foundation.

The investigation into the alleged custom-house frauds in New York is proceeding. Whitelaw Reid of the Tribune testified that all the statements in the Tribune had been made from hearsay authority. Other witnesses testified that unfounded charges had been made against them by government officers, who had accepted much smaller sums than were at first demanded to settle matters.

The Warmouth-Carter war in Louisiana continues. Gov. Warmouth charges Carter with having appointed 80 enrolment clerks when only 10 were needed, and shows that the last session of the legislature cost $767,000, or $126 a day for each member. The governor vetoed bills passed at the last session amounting to $2,500,000, and recommends reforms that will save $1,210,000 annually. Carter is an ex-rebel Colonel. The latter's adherents say that Warmouth's proposed reforms were only wrung from him by public opinion. Longstreet has been appointed to command the State Militia, and Gen. Emory announces his determination to preserve public order at all costs. The National Republican, of New Orleans, calls on the President for a republican form of government, and denounces Warmouth.

A resolution has passed the Virginia legislature appointing a committee to investigate the charges of corruption and bribery against the last legislature, in the passage of the State debt funding bill.

Secretary Boutwell, at Philadelphia on Saturday, in a short speech at the reception of President Grant at the commercial Exchange, quoted Burke, when he said: "To tax and to please are not common to men."

New Hampshire Items.

A citizen of Alstead writes to the Peterborough Transcript denying statements made in regard to ministers and bibles in that town. He says that though there is no bookstore in town there is a place where bibles are kept for sale, and that there are two constant and regular salaried ministers in town, and in no time, for thirty years, has the town been without regular preaching on the Sabbath.

Mr. Piper of Tuftonborough was found dead and frozen, between that place and Ossipee Corner on Sunday last. It is supposed he died of heart disease, as his horse and sleigh were found a short distance from where the body laid.

The school-house on Bible Hill in Hillsborough was burned Dec. 26, with all its contents.

A little daughter of Hugh Conroy of Manchester was burned to death, Jan. 8, by the upsetting of a lamp she was trying to light. She was but three years of age.

Alfred Hutchinson, a boy of twelve years, was crushed to death in the spinning room of No. 3 Mill of the Manchester Print Works, while passing upon an elevator to a room above, on Tuesday.

Hon. George Jones of Warner is the Democratic nominee for State Senator in the 8th District.

The Republicans of the 2d District have re-nominated Hon. Matthew H. Taylor, of Salem, for State Senator. The Democratic candidate is Winfield S. Meserve, of Danville, who was chosen to the House last year by the Democrats and Labor Reformers.

B. & M. RAILROAD CASE.—In the information to restrain the Boston and Maine Railroad Company from issuing stock in alleged violation of the laws of Massachusetts, which was argued on Saturday, in Boston, a decision has been rendered by the court. The information is dismissed.

BURROUGHS, who was found dead in two chairs in his house at Patterson, N. J., was poisoned by his mistress' paramour. The woman shielded her lover at first, but finding he was endeavoring to criminate her in order to save himself, she confessed the whole affair.

—Mr. Stanislauski recently dislocated his shoulder by a fall from a building. It is surprising that a little thing like that should dislocate a shoulder tough enough to withstand the pronunciation of such a name.

—A prominent citizen of Alexander county, North Carolina, hung himself about twelve years ago, and, recently, his widow went over Jordan in the same unpleasant fashion, leaving a house full of stricken orphans.

—An interesting case for the doctors was furnished recently by an Ohio farmer, in whose anatomy a wheat beard, which he had accidentally swallowed, pushed itself about for five months and finally issued from his cheek.

—William Goodwin is anxious about the fate of his eyes and nose which he has missed since he looked to see why a fuse which he had put in a bottle of powder burned so slowly.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Winter-Proof Systems.

Thick boots and flannels are necessary at this season, but the human frame requires something more than these to render it water-proof. The inner man, as well as the outer surface of the body, must be protected. The raw, moist, chilly winds which prevail at this season transpierce the warmest clothing, and are apt to effect the health unfavorably, both through the pores and the respiratory organs. The surest way to avert the evil is to strengthen the internal machine, and thus enable it to repel the devitalizing influence of unwholesome weather. Enrich the blood, gently stimulate the circulation, regulate the bowels, invigorate the stomach, tone the liver, and brace the nerves with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and no condition of the atmosphere, however inclement, no variation of the barometer or thermometer, however sudden, will have power to disorder the system thus fortified in advance, and put in perfect working order. Damp and cold, acting upon a sensitive or feeble organization, may produce consumption, diptheria, neuralgia, rheumatism, dyspepsia, liver complaint, low nervous fever, or intermittent fever: the importance of rendering the system impervious to these two destructive elements is therefore obvious. Persons in delicate health, or who are at all liable to be injuriously affected by atmospheric influences, should take the Bitters daily throughout the winter and spring. In this way dangerous diseases may be warded off, and a condition of perfect health preserved by individuals of comparatively feeble physique, while those more robust, who scoff at precautions, are suffering the penalty of their recklessness in hospitals and sick rooms.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

BETTER AND CHEAPER.

THAN ANY OTHER

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER.—Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER.—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

BATCHELOR'S HAIR DYE.

This superb Hair Dye is the best in the world—perfectly harmless, reliable and instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints or disagreeable odor. The genuine Wm. A. Batchelor's Hair Dye produces IMMEDIATELY a splendid Black or Natural Brown, leaves the hair clean, soft, and beautiful; does not contain a particle of lead or any injurious compound. Sold by all Druggists. Factory, BOND ST. BET. N.Y.

THE WHARTON MURDER TRIAL at Annapolis, Md., will probably result in the total muddling of the jurors' brains, if nothing else. Some of the medical "experts" testify positively that Gen. Ketchum was poisoned; the other side are as positive that he died from natural causes; and each side consider their opponents conceited asses, in which opinion both sides are doubtless correct.

—In Philadelphia the deaths from small-pox during the week were 230—about the same as the previous week. The decrease in new cases was 100.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RE-ANIMATING THE HAIR.—When the hair ceases to draw from the scalp the natural lubricant which is its substenance, its vitality is, as it were, suspended, and if not promptly attended to, baldness will be the certain result. The one sure method of avoiding such an unpleasant catastrophe is to use LYON'S KATHAIRON, which, when well rubbed into the scalp, will speedily re-animate the hair and prevent it from falling out. Besides that, this inimitable resuscitant and strengthener of the Hair nourishes and stimulates its young and tender fibres, removes all obstacles to their growth in the shape of dandruff and dirt, and ultimately produces a new crop of hair, stronger, glossier, and twice as abundant as the old. As a hair dressing it is notably the most agreeable, refreshing and serviceable article ever placed upon a dressing table.

TO THOSE WHO ARE BOWED DOWN by nervous Debility, and despair of ever recovering the vigor and mien of manhood we earnestly recommend DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. Before they have finished the first bottle, they will feel the restorative principle at work in every portion of their broken-down systems, and hope will spring up in their hearts. No case of Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, Gout or Kidney Disease, can resist this unequalled vegetable tonic, which is undiluted by any distilled or fermented liquor. 4wd10

The famous Halford Table Sauce can be had of grocers.

THE ALMANAC Publishers complain that their business is destroyed by Ayer's American Almanac. The people prefer it to any other, the Farmer's, Western, Southern or the numerous local almanacs when they can get Ayer's. It supplies the best astronomical data, weather and jokes of them all, and above all, medical advice which is invaluable for every family. It is supplied gratis by the druggists, and should be preserved for constant reference and use. We are sure that no good housekeeper or grandmother goes willingly without one.—Anti-Slavery Standard, N. Y.

WORTHY OF NOTE.—An exchange says there is scarcely a day passes that we don't hear, either from persons coming into our office or in some other way, of the success of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment in the cure of coughs and colds, so prevalent about town just now.

If we can benefit the readers of the Chronicle any by recommending Parson's Purgative Pills to be the best anti-bilious medicine in the country, we are willing to do so. We have had about as good a chance to know as any one.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Laconics.

The Republican Senatorial Convention for this District meets at the Franklin House in this city, this morning at 11 o'clock.

Jas. P. Bartlett, Esq., of this city, is to give the next entertainment in the High School course at Kittery, on Monday evening, Jan. 15,—to consist of select Readings.

At a regular meeting of Mount Sinai Encampment No. 19, I. O. O. F., on the 5th, the following Officers were installed for the ensuing term:—C. P., Hiram B. Lord; H. P., J. Coolidge Davis; S. W., Albert H. Tucker; Scribe, Joseph H. Gardiner; J. W., Eben Odiorne.

At the regular meeting of Osgood Lodge No. 48, I. O. O. F., on the 4th, the following Officers were installed for the ensuing term:—N. G., Emmons B. Philbrick; R. G., Horace Mudge; Rec. Sec., Edward Morrison; Perm. Sec., C. Dwight Hanscom; Treas., Benj. Plummer.

The tenth entertainment of the Lyceum course comes off to-morrow (Thursday) evening. Prof. Hitchcock is to illustrate his lecture on "Mount Washington in Winter" with a calcium light. This will be a most interesting feature and the Universalist church will doubtless be crowded to repletion. Wendell Phillips is to deliver his lecture on the 18th inst.

S. B. Allen, Esq., of Boston, will deliver the second lecture before the People's Lyceum at Kittery, this (Wednesday) evening, and judging from the manifest interest felt among the citizens of Kittery to hear their former fellow citizen, the lecturer will have a crowded house. Mr. Allen will be followed by Ex-Gov. Israel Washburn, Jr., of Portland, on Jan. 17th; subject, "Some of the Laws of Success in Life."

The ladies of the M. E. Church in Greenland will give their annual Levee and Literary Entertainment on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Jan. 16 and 17, in the Town Hall. Mr. E. Smith of Manchester will furnish the comic portion of the entertainment, and refreshments, including oysters, ice-creams, tea and coffee, will be furnished in the Hall. The proceeds will be devoted to fitting up the Church of the M. E. Society.

Epiphany.

Christmas tide has passed by, and already we are moving in the gentle flow of the Epiphany season, almost dazzled (when we look at it,) with the effulgence of that risen Sun of Righteousness, that Luminary of the Soul, of which St. John says, (St. John, 1st chap., 9th verse,) "That was the true light which lighteth every man that cometh into the world."

These were the opening words, and this the subject of the very able discourse delivered last Sunday evening at St. John's Church by the rector. He lifted the thoughts of his hearers to the consideration of the Bible's highest themes. God, the Father, in His attributes, made known to us, through the life of Christ. He drew vivid pictures with his ready pen, with an artist's skill; alluded to the distresses of of mankind with tenderest yet deepest touch, yet holding close in view, as it were in the same breath, the light that illumes all our sorrows; and closed with thoughts on the text in Revelations, which through all the ages has comforted and cheered those who come to this light, "the City had no need of the sun, neither of the moon to shine in it, for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the Light thereof."

Many have expressed the wish to hear the sermon again, and others, the regret that they were not present at the services, and we understand that a particular request has been made for its redelivery next Sunday, when we hope all who desire it may have the opportunity to hear this Epiphany discourse.

School "Exhibitions."

Messrs. Editors:—In a recent issue of your paper I noticed a statement that some of our City Fathers suggested the necessity for another Assistant in each of the High Schools, a Principal and one Assistant being considered too few for so many pupils. Now I, for one, regard keeping our educational facilities up to the highest possible standard as being even more important than the "water supply question," for the latter is purely a matter of dollars and cents and any decision or action regarding it will concern this city alone, while the school question is not only one of dollars and cents but of mind and morals as well, and must exert more or less influence in every place to which any of our much-given-to-wandering sons (or daughters) may ever stray. So, if more teachers are really needed, I hope the Committees to whom the citizens have entrusted the care of our schools will say so; and I have no doubt their recommendations will be promptly and rightly acted on by the City Government and fully endorsed by our citizens.

And not only the High Schools, but those of the lower grades—Intermediate and Primary—should be maintained in the highest possible state of efficiency, regardless of expense. I have often heard the opinion expressed that "anybody can keep an infant school." Possibly anybody can "keep an infant school" after a fashion; but I think tact and the ability to teach pupils to think for themselves quite as indispensable in an infant school teacher as in any other. I intend no reflections upon any of the present teachers of our schools, as, for aught I know to the contrary, they all possess the requisite qualifications for their positions; I but suggest that the best teachers should be procured for all our schools, and that the question of salary should have absolutely no weight in deciding the engagement or rejection of a candidate. A good teacher is cheap at any price; an inferior one is costly at any price.

But I started to speak of "School Exhibitions," and will now come to the point. For some years past our High Schools have had annual exhibitions; many persons doubt their utility, and some (and I am one of this number) consider them positively injurious. In the first place, several weeks are taken up in preparing for the grand occasion—not in reviewing previous lessons and making sure that they have been understood as well as recited, but in committing to memory long pieces to be spoken, rehearsing dialogues, &c., by which the regular studies of the school are brought almost to a stand-still, and then when exhibition day has gone and the show is over, the throngs of visitors who have sat out the long programme and wondered at the glibness with which the boys rattled off their "pieces," or admired the self-possessed and lady-like deportment of the girls, depart with about as accurate a conception of the school as could be gained from a passing view at the outside of the school-house,—far less accurate than would be gained from hearing the lowest class recite a single lesson in the ordinary routine of the school.

"Examinations," properly conducted, tell to a careful observer the exact value of the teacher. In my school-days "examination" meant a genuine investigation into the scholarship and behavior of the pupils; (I know, for I invariably won the well deserved censure of the Committee, for having the highest number of "demerit marks" on the list;) the classes recited in their regular order, the teacher informed the Committee how far through their books the classes had got, and then a searching review by the Committee revealed how much of what had been gone over had been learned. Neither scholars nor teacher had any idea what question was coming until it was asked. Examinations are now held every winter in our High Schools, I am informed, which is well; and the substitution of another examination, searching and thorough, for the annual Summer "Exhibition," I believe would be a move in the right direction.

Yours, X.

—The Chicago Times gives a recapitulation of the cases of missing since the fire, showing the impossibility of arriving at an exact estimate as to the number of human beings who perished in the great conflagration. It is now distinctly proved that several hundred must have been lost, while some very careful computation place sthe number at over 1000.

County Convention.

The Republicans of Rockingham County held their Convention at Exeter on Tuesday. It was called to order by William B. Morrill, Esq., of Exeter. Hon. Marcellus Bufford of Portsmouth was chosen President and H. B. Titcomb of East Kingston, Secretary. Messrs. Greenleaf C. Bartlett of Derry, John E. Yeaton of Newcastle, and William G. Crowell of Salem were appointed Committee on Credentials. They reported 106 delegates present, every town being represented except South Hampton and Greenland.

A ballot for a candidate for County Treasurer resulted in the choice of WINTHROP A. DOW, Esq., of Epping, who received 102 votes, all there were cast. On motion of Mr. Shannon of Portsmouth a committee of three were appointed to notify the nominee and ask his acceptance. The committee escorted Mr. Dow to the platform and he accepted the nomination in a brief speech.

Ballots for a candidate for County Commissioner resulted as follows:—

and FRANK W. MILLER, Esq., of Portsmouth was declared the nominee. On motion of James W. Odlin, Esq., of Exeter the nomination was made unanimous.

A committee of three were appointed, and waited upon Mr. Miller, asking his acceptance. He was conducted to the platform and responded to cheers by thanking the Convention and accepting the nomination.

On motion of Mr. Odlin, GEORGE W. WESTON, Esq., of Windham, the candidate of last year, was re-nominated for Register of Deeds. The Convention then adjourned. Its proceedings were marked with the utmost harmony, throughout.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
SINGER
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model. does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.
N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1st of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

Morning Chronicle.

New Publications.

The Typographic, published monthly, by L. B. Wilder & Co., 66 Congress Street, Boston, is one of the finest specimens of printing that has yet been issued, devoted to the art preservative of arts, and richly merits the compliments that have been bestowed upon its publishers.

Ballou's Monthly for February is original, filled with pleasant stories, sharp adventures and sea yarns, all calculated to claim the attention of the public. The contents of the February number includes The Valentine, The Chimney Sweep, Crystal Palace Aquarium, The Ogilvie Pride, My Constant Friend, One Time, Aunt Priscilla's Property, Uncle Sam's Story of and Adventure in Canton, The Maid and the Magpie, At Sea, and many other articles. Published by Thomes & Talbet, 63 Congres Street, Boston. $1.50 per year.

The School Festival, a Quarterly Magazine, devoted to new and sparkling matter for School Exhibitions and public days, is received for January. No teacher or pupil should be without it. It costs fifty cents a year. Alfred L. Sewall, Publisher, Chicago, Ill.

"Old and New" for January, 1872, contains the following papers:—Old and New; Six of One by Half a Dozen of the Other, Part 2; The Chicago Fire, by Mrs. M. A. Shorey; The Gate called Beautiful, by John W. Chadwick; The Vicar's Daughter, continued, by George MacDonald; Modern English Novels, by H. W. Bellows, D. D., No. 2; Mrs. Whitney's Novels; Walpurgis Night, by Miss Constance F. Woolson; The Hymn of Cleanthes, by Edward Beecher, D. D.; The Organ Blower, by Oliver Wendell Holmes; The Pilgrim's Tale—How he saved an Emperor, by Wild Edgerton; Ups and Downs, by E. E. Hale, continued; The Hill of the Lord, by Wm. C. Gannett; The Examiner; Record of Progress. Terms (payable in advance), $4 per annum.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger Almanac is received. It has many useful features.

Our neighbors of the Haverhill Bulletin, not content with the success they have achieved in its publication, have launched a weekly which looks nice and reads well.

Church's Musical Visitor, John Church & Co., Publishers, Cincinnati. The January number is out, with nine pages of choice new music, comprising a sparkling polka by Kinkel, "La Fidelity;" a ballad, "Dreams of Childhood," song chorus, by C. R. Leftwich; and the usual news. A correct likeness of the popular virtuoso, J. M. Wohli, with biographical sketch, occupies the first page. $1 per year. The value of the music alone is over $15 at regular rates.

THE POPULATION CENTRE.—The centre of gravity of population is a term adopted by calculators of statistics derived from the census returns of the United States to express briefly the following idea:

Supposing the country to be a plane surface loaded with inhabitants distributed over it in the manner shown by the census, the centre of gravity of population would be the point upon which the plane would balance. This point in 1840, was near the eastern foot of the Cumberland Mountains in Virginia, upon the thirtieth parallel of latitude. In 1860 the centre had moved westward fifty-seven miles to a point south of Parkersburg, Va. In 1850 it had moved eighty-two miles further west, to a point south of Chillicothe, Ohio, and not far from the boundary line between Virginia and Kentucky. The census of 1870 shows that the centre of gravity of population has moved forty-five miles further west, and is now at Wilmington, Clinton county, Ohio. It is estimated that in thirty years the centre will be found near Bloomington, Indiana, about forty miles southwest of Indianapolis.

—The San Francisco Morning Call thus adds another to the remedies for a "balky" horse: "Tuesday morning a horse drawing a grocery wagon up Pacific street, took a notion into his lean head that he had gone far enough, and in spite of urging, coaxing and whipping, stood stock-still, with his legs braced and his ears drawn back. The usual crowd surrounded him, innumerable treatments were suggested and tried with no avail. They sawed his fore-legs with a rope, stopped his breathing, twisted his tail, and pulled and pushed him; but he only braced himself the harder, and looked at the crowd with an eye of contempt. At last a tall Piker came along, and picking up a large handful of mud from the gutter crammed it into the brute's mouth. There was a scattering of the crowd as the old horse kicked and reared, and the scene ended in an exciting race by the young man after his horse and wagon as they tore up the street at a pace they had never equalled before."

—Justice Lynch prescribed strangulation for two Neosho highwaymen. The dose was promptly administered by the enthusiastic citizens.

—A Wisconsinian has actually made a whistle out of a pig's tail.

THIRTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE
IN THE TREATMENT OF
CHRONIC AND SEXUAL DISEASES.
A Physiological View of Marriage.

The cheapest book ever published—containing nearly three hundred pages, and one hundred and thirty fine plates and engravings of the anatomy of the human organs in a state of health and disease, with a treatise on early errors, its deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by a report of cases treated. A truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent free of postage to any address, on receipt of twenty-five cents,—in stamps or postal currency,—by addressing DR. LA CROIX, No. 31 Maiden Lane, Albany, N. Y. The author may be consulted upon any of the diseases upon which his book treats, either personally or by mail, and medicines sent to any part of the world.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Rootand Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants.
They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf6t6

BOSTON'S NEW COLISEUM. — Its ground plan will be a parallelogram 822 1-2 feet in length, 422 1-2 feet in width, measuring 347,506 square feet in area, or a trifle less than eight acres, being 422 feet longer and 122 feet wider than the Coliseum of 1869, and containing more than double the area of that immense structure.—Throughout the space not a single post, pillar or support of any kind will obstruct the view from end to end. The roof, consisting of a double system of self-supporting trusses, the invention of Mr. Allen, will spring in a gentle curve directly from the foundations constructed on piles driven 35 feet into the ground, the two segments meeting at the ridge and forming a graceful arch, at an elevation above the floor of 172 feet. Similar segments will spring from the ground at either end, uniting with the side segments, forming an immense Mansard pavilion, with the graceful lines peculiar to that style of architecture. These trusses, supporting these end segments of the roof will run the entire length of the building, having a clear span of 800 feet, and knitting the whole roof into a substantial, self-supporting structure.

From the foot of the arches on either side and end will rise perpendicular buttresses 53 feet high, at which elevation the curve of the trusses will leave a space of 18 feet between the outer line and the line of the buttresses. This space will be floored, forming an outside promenade, with an elevation of 50 feet, a width of 18 feet, and a total length equal to double the combined length and width of the building, or half a mile. In these buttresses, which serve the additional purposes of giving increased strength to the structure, will be constructed the entrances to the building. These will be sixteen in number, four principal and twelve minor. The four principal entrances in the centres of the sides and ends, will be inscribed with the names of the four great continents and be appropriately decorated with flags, national emblems, etc. Above each will rise an elegant pavilion, 120 feet high, while similar pavilions, of less height, will be built at each of the four corners of the structure, giveing beauty and symmetry to the whole.

Besides the four main or principal entrances named, there will be on each side four, and on each end two, minor entrances, appropriately decorated. Each of these will be surmounted by a tower 68 feet in height. A "monitory," 16 feet high, will run the entire length of the roof, affording ample ventilation. At each end will rise a splendid tower 216 feet high, while the central tower will reach the enormous height of 240 feet, from the summit of which will float the Banner of Universal Peace above the standards of all nations of the earth, which will be displayed upon the different points of the superb structure.

Two rows of windows will furnish light for the immense auditorium. The lower of these will be 70 and the upper one 112 feet above the parquette door. Under the corridors there will be 16 halls, ranging in size from 80x140 to 100x100 feet. These will be divided in such manner as convenience may dictate, and will be lighted by round top windows cut between the pilasters of the buttresses.

Both wood and iron will be used in the construction of the building. The immense trusses of which we have spoken will be of timber, one foot square, each of the cross-span trusses requiring no less than 25,000 feet of lumber for its construction. The seating capacity of the building will be about as follows, the figures given being rather below the numbers that could actually be accommodated: Audience, 38,000; chorus, 20,000; orchestra, 2,000; giving a total of 100,000 persons gathered under one roof. The exact location of the structure has not yet been determined upon. It will, however, be built, within the limits bounded by Huntington avenue, Fairfield street, the Providence Railroad, and the waters of the Back Bay, and knowing ones whisper that the recent purchase by leading capitalists of an immense tract in that vicinity was with a view to securing a proper place for the purpose.

PROFIT AND LOSS.—When shall we learn on which side our bread is buttered? Not long since a prominent farmer and stock-breeder of Maine made the remark that the farmers in this country were the greatest set of ignoramuses in the world. And I begin to believe him, when I see horses, cattle and sheep running in the fields until the snow drives them in, and again turned out as soon as a few bare spots of ground appear. The thing is of frequent occurrence. Then I ask myself the question, Can it be possible that these farmers realize that they are losing more than they gain? But such is the fact. Cattle exposed to the cold piercing winds of November and December, and compelled to eat dry, frost-bitten grass, lose both in flesh and animal heat, which will take months of good feeding to repair. When shall we learn where the profit lies?—Germantown Telegraph.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following ing symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges put the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

The Daily Chronicle,

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 11, 1872.

Political.

The Monitor says the "ruling off" of Col. Clough of Canterbury for Councillor by the Democrats "was carrying the doctrine of rotation to extremes." Col. Clough has served but one year as Councillor and Dr. Eastman of Hampstead was nominated in his stead, the Donahoe crowd wishing to get Eastman out of the way for delegate to the National Convention. The Monitor thinks as matters turned "it is a good thing for the Colonel, who will have the satisfaction of seeing the Hampstead 'pill-peddler' the worst beat man in the State."

The Boston Traveller is after Senator Sumner with a sharp stick. It suggests the application of the one term principle to United States Senators.

The Ohio legislature re-elected Mr. Sherman United States Senator. He received a plurality of nine votes in both houses over Morgan, the Democratic candidate.

Hon. Charles Hale of Boston is nominated by the President as Assistant Secretary of State to succeed Mr. Bancroft Davis.

Hon. Jehabod Cole of Eliot, Democrat, has been elected Senator by the Maine legislature, to fill a vacancy caused by a failure to elect at the annual election.

The Republicans of the 4th District have re-nominated Hon. Dexter Richards of Newport for Councillor.

Hon. Tilleston A. Barker, Republican, of Westmoreland, is renominated for the Senate in the 9th District.

The Republicans of the 11th District have nominated Mr. Nahum T. Greenwood of New London for Senator.

NEWS TO THE DEMOCRATS. — The Democrats of our State will be happy to learn, as they will from the New Haven Register, that "they reduced State taxes fifty per cent.," "abolished a large number of offices," and made "the legislative session much shorter than the average for four or five years."

The editor of the Register is evidently a disciple of our own State Democratic editors, and appears to have been a very apt pupil. He can tell as big "a whopper" as any Democratic paper in our State—our immediate neighbor, excepted.

"Reduced the taxes"—that is, pay none of the State, and appropriated a sum too small to pay the interest on the debt and the running expenses. That is the way they reduced the taxes. But is the State any better off? Is it not rather in a worse condition, and owing more at the close of the year than at the commencement? Is that good economy? Is it is good policy for one year, it is for two, six, twenty, perpetually, so that by and by, instead of $4,000,000 indebtedness, we shall have $8,000,000, and then $10,000,000, and so on until the State is bankrupted. This is the Democratic policy. They did, indeed, make a reduced appropriation, but the expenses of the State Government for the year ending in June next will be $25,000 more than during the preceding year, under the administration of Governor Stearns! Mark that! Mr. Register, and tell it to your Connecticut readers, who will be delighted with your honesty. A session "much shorter than the average for the past four or five years." Not so, as records show. It was the longest for a long series of years. It commenced, as usual, on the first Wednesday in June, and closed on the 15th day of July. No session for the past "four or five years" has extended so far into July. Will the Register tell its readers that?

"Abolished a large number of offices!" What ones, pray? Not an office, but instead thereof, the Democracy created new offices in abundance, to satisfy the "greed" of the party for place.

They appointed a commission of three on Statistics of Labor; a committee of five persons on the matter of a centennial celebration in 1876; a commission to the National Congress on prison discipline, to be held in Europe; and they added two men to the commission for arranging the reimbursement of towns for war expenses; and—but time will fail us to tell all the offices they created—while with the records before us we fail to find an item showing that a single office was abolished.

Why, Mr. Register, you have been sold; you are terribly demoralized; you have actually done yourself great injustice, and befooled your readers. Now, be a man; take off your hat and "own up!" Say it boldly, and thank us for sending down on your benighted pen a beam of truth. We wait your response.—Mirror

THE INQUEST in the case of the murder of James Fisk, Jr., was closed with a verdict of death at the hands of Edward S. Stokes. The prisoner plead not guilty, and the case was committed to the grand jury. Stokes appeared well at ease, and said to a friend that he was confident that he would come out all right before long. Graham is preparing for work, and the indications are that the trial will be more exciting and scandalous even than that of the McFarland case.

THE PRINCE OF WALES went out on the 8th for the first time since his illness.

New Hampshire Items.

A hundred and forty firms and persons pay taxes of $40 or over, in Somersworth.

On the 2d, in Colebrook, Mr. Calvin F. Rich was caught between a load of logs and one lying by the road, receiving very serious injuries.

On the 3d, in Keene, two lads of about six years started to cross the railroad track in front of a train, slipped and scrambled alive from under the very wheels.

Shoe business is driving at Farmington.

Jailor Leavitt, of Exeter, was surprised by some of his friends on the night of the 3d, by means of a trick, and he and his wife were presented with some elegant arm-chairs. He looked up his own brother in the disguise of a shaggy and shabby drunkard, but all ended well.

A few days ago a man by the name of Lovejoy, from Methuen, Mass., lost three fingers of his right hand by being caught in the engine of a mill at Newmarket.

The Granite State News says the Wolfeborough Railroad is progressing finely.

Mr. Wm. H. Piper of Tuftonborough Center perished with the cold near the Corner, recently. He was 52 years old.

The town of Charlestown voted on the 22d ult., to built a new town hall at an expense not exceeding ten thousand dollars, and chose a committee to carry out the project.

The Coos Republican thinks "Cottonwood" would be more appropriate than "Granite," as a name for the Democratic clubs in the State.

It is said that James W. Johnson of Enfield has made $50,000 this season by wool and produce speculations.

The citizens of Newport talk of appropriating the money which the town is to receive from the State as a reimbursement for war expenses in erecting a town hall.

The wife of Mr. Eben Wilcombe of Thornton recently presented him with three babies at once—two boys and a girl—eighteen pounds in all.

Mr. Geo. K. Jewell of Plymouth, who had his right leg amputated on the 23d of November, on account of a scrofulous disease that would soon have ended his life, died on the 5th inst., the disease having gone to his lungs. The stump had healed finely.

Lancaster had a slight earthquake shock at 7.44 P. M. of the 9th.

MAJOR-GENERAL HENRY WAGER HALLECK died on the 9th at his residence in Louisville, Kentucky, of congestion of the brain, brought on by disease of the liver from which he had been a sufferer for some time. Born in New York about 1810, he was appointed a cadet in the United States Military Academy in 1835, from which he graduated in 1839. He was assistant-engineering professor at West Point until 1840. He was made a first-lieutenant in 1845, having already published works entitled "Bitumen" and "Elements of Military Art and Science." He served in the Mexican war, and was secretary of state of California under the military government from 1847 to 1849. He was a member of the constitutional convention in 1849, was promoted captain of engineers in 1853, and retired from the service in the following year.

He then began the practice of the law in San Francisco, and was at the head of a prominent firm at the breaking out of the war. General Scott sent for him and commissioned him major-general of volunteers on August 19, 1861, appointing him to the department of the west, to relieve Hunter. In 1862 he was in command of the army and flotilla at Cairo, under direction of McClellan, who was soon after relieved. General Halleck was also in command when Fort Donelson was taken by General Grant, then brigadier-general commanding. Toward the end of April, Halleck, who had until then been directing the campaign from St. Louis, set out for Corinth, Mississippi, which was soon after evacuated. Early in July General Halleck resigned his command, and on July 23 assumed command of the army of the Potomac, relieving General McClellan.

On March 12, 1864, he was relieved at his own request, and Lieut.-Gen. Grant was assigned to the command of the armies of the United States. Halleck was assigned to duty in Washington, as chief-of-staff, and his active participation—if what he had done could be called "active participation"—ceased. At the close of the war he was appointed commander of the department of the west, which post he filled at the time of his death.

THOUSANDS OF CATTLE perished by the flood in the Sacramento valley. The rivers are still rising. The weather is very warm.

AN ENGLISH EXPEDITION of ten thousand troops has been sent to subjugate the Looshians on the northeastern frontier of India.

THE FATHER of Jas. Fisk Jr., has gone crazy from the assassination of his son.

HOT TOM AND JERRYS.—"Das Oanion Hill coome by dees cars?" inquired a jolly Dutchman, recently, as he staggered in a Union Hill car at Hoboken.

"Yaw, Fritz," answered a fellow-countryman.

"Vest cakes all the vile, Yacob," said Fritz, nearly crushing his friend's toes in his attempts to steady himself.

"Fritz, you pe tam heavy to-night."

"Yass, I bees full of hot Dom and Sherrys, Yacob; I vas a fool to dry Yankee drinks; Dom and Sherry doo much for Fritz. I must dry out get some fresh air on the platform, Yacob."

Fritz succeeded in getting the door open about six inches; a biting wind blew through the aperture, when an indignant passenger sprang to his feet and closed the door with a suddenness that turned Fritz half around.

"Bees dis car on de outside or inside?" inquired Fritz.

"You are all right, Fritz; sit down in this corner," said Yacob.

"Dank you, Yacob; if I sleeps when mine house coomes along, dell me who I am."

—"Do be frank," said young Mr. Smith to Miss Frances, who had been quizzing him for an hour. "But Edward, I have been Frank twenty-five years, and I should like to try some other name just for a change," was the arch reply.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Winter-Proof Systems.

Thick boots and flannels are necessary at this season, but the human frame requires something more than these to render it water-proof. The inner man, as well as the outer surface of the body, must be protected. The raw, moist, chilly winds which prevail at this season transpierce the warmest clothing, and are apt to effect the health unfavorably, both through the pores and the respiratory organs. The surest way to avert the evil is to strengthen the internal machine, and thus enable it to repel the devitalizing influence of unwholesome weather. Enrich the blood, gently stimulate the circulation, regulate the bowels, invigorate the stomach, tone the liver, and brace the nerves with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and no condition of the atmosphere, however inclement, no variation of the barometer or thermometer, however sudden, will have power to disorder the system thus fortified in advance, and put in perfect working order. Damp and cold, acting upon a sensitive or feeble organization, may produce consumption, diptheria, neuralgia, rheumatism, dyspepsia, liver con plaint, low nervous fever, or intermittent fever; the importance of rendering the system impervious to these two destructive elements is therefore obvious. Persons in delicate health, or who are at all liable to be injuriously affected by atmospheric influences, should take the Bitters daily throughout the winter and spring. In this way dangerous diseases may be warded off, and a condition of perfect health preserved by individuals of comparatively feeble physique, while those more robust, who scoff at precautions, are suffering the penalty of their recklessness in hospitals and sick rooms.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISONOUS TRICHEREADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dying, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

BETTER AND CHEAPER.

THAN ANY OTHER

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER—Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

BATCHELOR'S HAIR DYE.

This superb Hair Dye is the best in the world—perfectly harmless, reliable and instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints or disagreeable odor. The genuine Wm. A. Batchelor's Hair Dye produces IMMEDIATELY a splendid Black or Natural Brown, leaves the hair clean, soft, and beautiful; does not contain a particle of lead or any injurious compound. Sold by all Druggists. Factory, 81 BARCLAY STREET, N.Y.

—A thick-headed squire, being worsted by Sydney Smith in an argument, took his revenge by exclaiming, "If I had a son who was an idiot, by Jove, I'd make him a parson!" "Very probable," replied Sydney, "but I see your father was of a different mind."

—A Brooklyn husband who was kissing the chambermaid a little, was surprised by his wife, but got off with but one black eye by quoting Mrs. Stanton, who says, "the freer the relation between human beings the happier."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RE-ANIMATING THE HAIR.—When the hair ceases to draw from the scalp the natural lubricant which is its substenance, its vitality is, as it were, suspended, and if not promptly attended to, baldness will be the certain result. The one sure method of avoiding such an unpleasant catastrophe is to use LYON'S KATHAIRON, which, when well rubbed into the scalp, will speedily re-animate the hair and prevent it from falling out. Besides that, this inimitable resuscitant and strengthener of the Hair nourishes and stimulates its young and tender fibres, removes all obstacles to their growth in the shape of dandruff and dirt, and ultimately produces a new crop of hair, stronger, glossier, and twice as abundant as the old. As a hair dressing it is notably the most agreeable, refreshing and serviceable article ever placed upon a dressing table.

TO THOSE WHO ARE BOWED DOWN by nervous Debility, and despair of ever recovering the vigor and mien of manhood we earnestly recommend DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. Before they have finished the first bottle, they will feel the restorative principle at work in every portion of their broken-down systems, and hope will spring up in their hearts. No case of Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, Gout or Kidney Disease, can resist this unequalled vegetable tonic, which is undiluted by any distilled or fermented liquor. 4wd10

The famous Halford Table Sauce can be had of grocers.

THE ALMANAC Publishers complain that their business is destroyed by Ayer's American Almanac. The people prefer it to any other, the Farmer's, Western, Southern or the numerous local almanacs which they can get Ayer's. It supplies the best astronomical data, weather and jokes of them all, and above all, medical advice which is invaluable for every family. It is supplied gratis by the druggists, and should be preserved for constant reference and use. We are sure that no good housekeeper or grandmother goes willingly without one. — Anti-Slavery Standard, N. Y.

WORTHY OF NOTE.—An exchange says there is scarcely a day passes that we don't hear, either from persons coming into our office or in some other way, of the success of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment in the cure of coughs and colds, so prevalent about town just now.

If we can benefit the readers of the Chronicle any by recommending Parson's Purgative Pills to be the best anti-bilious medicine in the country, we are willing to do so. We have had about as good a chance to know as any one.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Senatorial Convention.

The delegates to the Republican Senatorial Convention of this District assembled at the Franklin House in this city on Wednesday, and were called to order by Elbridge G. Peirce, Jr., of the State Committee. William G. Brown of Stratham was chosen temporary Chairman, with A. F. Howard of Portsmouth as temporary Secretary. A ballot for President resulted in the choice of Timothy Murray, Esq., of Newmarket, who received thirty-three of thirty-four votes cast. A. F. Howard, Esq., was made permanent Secretary, and Messrs. William R. Martin of Portsmouth, David Murray of Newmarket and John N. Brown of Seabrook were appointed Committee on Credentials.

William R. Martin, Esq., the nominee for Senator last year, addressed the Convention and in fitly chosen words announced that he was not a candidate for renomination.

Mr. Murray, on taking the chair, made a telling speech, alluding to the Republican party as the best and most useful organization which has existed since the serpent preached the first rebel sermon to Eve in Paradise, and arraigning the Democracy by contrasting their absurdly contradictory platforms of the present and past years. He referred to the course of the Democrats in the rebellion, and spoke feelingly of the experience of his son in a rebel prison. He said the mission of the Republican party during the rebellion was to put it down; its mission now is to keep it down. The Democracy seem to have no especial mission, and no belief in the probability of electing a President; so they are hunting the nation over for a Republican sorehead to whom they may apply a Democratic plaster, that in defeat they may have some one's sympathy and companionship. Mr. Murray's remarks were frequently applauded.

The Committee on Credentials, thro' their chairman, Mr. Martin, reported forty-six delegates present. A ballot for a candidate for Senator resulted as follow:—

Whole No. Votes	46
Necessary for choice	24
Emmons B. Philbrick of Rye had	13
Warren Brown of Hampton Falls	33

and WARREN BROWN, Esq., was declared the nominee. On motion of Mr. Stephen L. Marston of Portsmouth, the nomination was made unanimous. A committee of five waited upon Mr. Brown and he appeared before the Convention, and thanking the delegates for their suffrage accepted the nomination. The Convention then adjourned to partake of one of landlord Atkins' famous dinners at the Franklin House.

The Town of Gosport

Is heavily burdened with debt, and its hardy inhabitants are not encouraged to maintain its existence. Since the fire which devastated the town, they have been unable to recover. The fishing business has declined and they find themselves hampered in every way. Origen S. Caswell, Esq., the town clerk, has furnished us with the following list of tax-payers of the town and the proportionate share of the debt which each must pay. The Portsmouth Savings Bank holds notes against the town for $5534.31, and at a town meeting held Dec. 3, 1868, it was unanimously voted to share and divide the debt among the property owners, according to the assessed proportional value of each person's estate. Each individual's proportional part of the debt is as follows:—

Lemuel B. Caswell	$1502.17
Origen S. Caswell	566.60
William Robinson	546.84
John B. Downs	533.66
Christian Johnson	342.60
John Caswell	316.25
William Brenin	237.18
Elvin Newton	237.18
James A. Randall	197.65
John H. Robinson	171.30
Samuel H. Robinson	144.96
Daniel Haley	138.36
Andrew J. Caswell	125.18
Joseph Randall	105.42
Josiah Rondall	72.47
E. H. Downs	72.47
William Downs	65.89
John C. Randall	60.61
Mrs. Jacob Randall	52.71
John O. Downs	19.77
I. Gilbert Randall	19.77
George Beebe	5.27

This exhibit shows how closely to each citizen comes home the large debt which would seem small for a town of several hundred inhabitants. A small sum from every reader of our paper would speedily extinguish the debt. Many would hardly feel the loss of a contribution of $100 each from their abundant means to help wipe out the entire debt which cripples the Gosport community. Three score of our friends can easily do it and not feel any pressure upon their purses, while they would be repaid by an approving conscience. A little reflection and prompt action is all that is needed. Will you aid in the work, reader?

Laconics.

The Republican Councillor Convention meets to-day at Newmarket.

The City Councils are to choose officers for the ensuing year this evening. Both Boards meet at seven o'clock.

The Singing School at the room of the Y. M. C. Association opens this evening, as will be seen by referring to the advertisement in another column.

Mr. B. F. Webster is building a large and handsome house, two stories with Mansard roof, on his eligible lot on State Street, formerly occupied by a livery stable—a decided improvement, for which the public, and especially the neighbors, are greatly indebted to this enterprising and public spirited master builder.

Mr. James Janvrin has commenced building a small house and barn for sale, on one of his fine lots, corner of South and Wibird Streets, very near the site of the old Johnny Floyd house, recently demolished. Several others are also contemplating putting up dwellings in this vicinity the coming Spring; and without doubt there will be no vacant lots in all this section in a short time. Verily, as one of our most skillful young builders remarked recently, in view of the great improvements started by him at this West End of the city, Mr. Miller "has put an addition on Portsmouth."

The Republicans of this Senatorial District had two excellent candidates to choose from at the Convention held on the 10th. Mr. Philbrick, who failed of a nomination, has many earnest friends who hope to place him in the Senate at the close of Mr. Brown's term. Mr. Brown, the nominee, is a wealthy farmer of Hampton Falls, and has been prominent in agricultural matters. His friends promise large gains in the country towns and as he is popular and can have the assistance of some who have hitherto acted with the Democrats, there seems no reasonable doubt of his election. Mr. Brown will make an able Senator.

FRANKLIN'S BIRTHDAY.—The New Hampshire Printers, Publishers, and Editors' Association will hold its annual Business Meeting at Eagle Hotel, Concord, on Wednesday, January 17, 1872, at 11 o'clock A. M. The order of Business and Entertainment will be as follows:—

At 11 o'clock A. M., Business Meeting.

At 1 o'clock P. M., Dinner.

At 2 o'clock P. M., Business.

At 4 o'clock P. M., a history of the Merrimack County Press will be read by Mr. Asa McFarland, of Concord; and of the Grafton County Press by Mr. Wm. A. Wallace, of Canaan.

From 6 to 8 o'clock P. M., a Reception at the residence of John M. Hill, President of the Association.

At 8 o'clock P. M., a Banquet at Eagle Hotel.

If the day should be suitable, the ladies will be entertained by excursions about the city.

Members will be entertained at Eagle Hotel for $1.50 per diem, each person, including ticket to Banquet.

Each member is particularly requested to inform the Corresponding Secretary, as soon as practicable, whether he will attend the meeting, and whether alone or with a lady.

—Many of the discharged street car conductors declare it impossible for any person filling such a position to be honest and retain his place. He must pay a certain weekly sum to the starters, drivers, and other employes of the road, and must, in a word, join a dishonest ring, or its members will prevent him from getting the average number of passengers. In the latter case the Company will discharge him, and so, in order to keep his place he must practice fraud, whether he will or not. A number of the conductors say they have been dismissed simply because they have dealt fairly with the companies; but they promise, if reinstated, not to do so any more.—New York Tribune.

—My father used to tell, with much gusto, of Dr. Bellamy, that one of his parishioners, who was a notorious scamp, came to him, saying in the parlance of the divinity that pervaded this part of New England at that time, "I feel that I have obtained a hope." The doctor looked surprised. "I realize that I am the chief of sinners," continued the hypocritical canter. "Your neighbors have long been of that opinion," rejoined the doctor. The man went on to say out the lesson—"I feel willing to be damned for the glory of God." "Well, my friend, I don't know any one who has the slightest objection."—Beecher.

—Bloggs had his nose pulled, and was asked by a friend to resent it. He said he would next tweak.—Cin. Com.

—To prevent his being rejected by another woman a Michigander vaccinated himself with a shot-gun.

FARM LABOR.—A question of great importance is that of farm labor. Joseph Harris, in the American Agriculturist, discusses one phase of it as follows:

We must make up our minds to pay men as much for working on the farm as they can earn in other pursuits. If they can get $1.25 for day the year round in a factory or on a railroad, we must furnish a similar compensation in one form or other on the farm. If we only count men for six or eight months, and that during the busiest season we must be prepared to pay higher wages than those who give constant employment.

We shall never have reliable labor until we make it worth a good man's while to stay with us year after year. And we can do a great deal to induce such men to settle in the country by building and renting small houses, or by selling an acre or two of land to some steady married man who wants to own a home of his own. There are many such men who would rather work on a farm than at any other employment, who are absolutely compelled to leave the country and go into the cities and villages because they cannot get a house to live in. And as a result, we frequently have to pay men from twenty to thirty per cent. more per day than they get in the immediate neighborhood of a city.

Farmers have this matter entirely in their own hands. They must either build houses, or sell land to those wishing to build. Every good, honest, industrious married man who settles in the country increases the value of farm property. The greater the population, if of the right kind, the greater the value of land. We cannot too often remember that it is labor and not land that produces wealth. It is a loss to the community to have a man lie idle all winter. And in this country there is certainly no lack of employment for any man who will work at reasonable wages.

MAKE THE HOUSE COMFORTABLE.—We have no patience with a man who allows the windows to rattle in the casements, while with a hammer, a few nails, a lath or two, and a little putty, he could, in an hour or two, make the house snug and comfortable. We believe in thorough ventilation, but it should be under our control. There are thousands of homes where the inmates spend a wretched winter, simply for want of a little attention to such matters. See that the outside doors fit snug. A storm house inclosing the door most exposed, or where the family are going in and out frequently, is a great comfort. A damper in the stove-pipe prevents the heat from going up the chimney, and saves fuel. See that the wood-house is well supplied with dry wood ready for the stove, and that there is some kindling always prepared ready for use. Where coal is used, and in the absence of charcoal, have a barrel of dry corncobs ready for starting fires.

Let the family room be well lighted, and make home attractive to the young people. Let there be no lack of good books and useful papers. Pleasant winter evenings at home constitute one of the greatest charms of country life. It is here that character is formed, and the future usefulness of children in a good degree determined.

A comfortable family room, warm beds, nutritious food, and plenty of sleep, will enable a farmer and his family to spend the winter pleasantly and profitably. There is plenty of work to be done, and the cold, instead of benumbing the faculties, will stimulate exertion. Do not spend your winter days by the stove or in complaining of hard times.—American Agriculturist.

MUTTON THE BEST MEAT.—A great many tillers of the soil drag out miserable days, simply because they will persist in eating salt pork, hams and shoulders in spring and summer, when a dish of good mutton would give them new life and strength. We mean to repeat a thousand times, or at least till what we say has some effect upon our countrymen, that a pound of lean, tender, juicy mutton can be produced for half the cost of the same quantity of fat pork; that it is infinitely healthier food, especially in the summer season; and that those who eat it become more muscular, and can do more work with greater ease to themselves, than those who eat fat pork. We know nothing more delicious than smoked mutton hams of Southdown breed of sheep.

THE SCHOOL MASTER.—Josh Billings says:—"There is one man in this basement world that I always look upon with mixed feelings of pity and respect, to whom I always take off my hat and remain uncovered until he gets safely by; and that is the district school master. When I meet him I look upon him as a martyr—just returned from the stake, or on his way there to be cooked. Don't talk to me about the patience of Job. Job had plenty of boils all over him, no doubt, but they were all of one breed. Every young one in a district school is a boil of a different breed, and each young one needs a different kind of poultice to get a good head on him."

—The story comes from France that a beautiful but strong-minded lady living in Boulogne sent a challenge to the publisher of a humorous journal, who had "twice concerned himself with her private affairs." A formal acceptance of the duel was returned, the choice of arms was waived, but a decided preference for those of the lady herself was expressed. Reconciliation followed, and the wedding trip is to the United States.

—Over six thousand million pins are used in the United States each year.

THIRTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE
IN THE TREATMENT OF
CHRONIC AND SEXUAL DISEASES.
A Physiological View of Marriage.
The cheapest book ever published—containing nearly three hundred pages, and one hundred and thirty fine plates and engravings of the anatomy of the human organs in a state of health and disease, with a treatise on early errors, its deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by a report of cases treated. A truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent free of postage to any address, on receipt of twenty-five cents,—in stamps or postal currency,—by addressing DR. LA CROIX, No. 31 Maiden Lane, Albany, N. Y. The author may be consulted upon any of the diseases upon which his book treats, either personally or by mail, and medicines sent to any part of the world.

THE CLAIM OF SUPERIORITY
Is often made for
ARTICLES OF GENERAL USE,
But the claimants often find it easier to assert such superiority than to readily prove it by practical tests.
After a long and thorough test of
BOOTS AND SHOES
FASTENED WITH
CABLE SCREW WIRE,
These goods were pronounced by the patentee to be
THE BEST
In the market for Pliability, Durability, and Economy. This claim has received
Full Endorsement
From Manufacturers! From Dealers! From Consumers!
Testimonials as to the superiority of this mode of fastening, over either Sewed or Pegged work, have been published by scores in Boston dailies, from leading makers and dealers throughout the country.
Cable Screw Wire goods are peculiarly adapted for our inclement winters, on account of their Waterproof qualities.
Every grade, from the heaviest FISHING, HUNTING, DRIVING, or WALKING BOOT, to a DRESS BOOT or SLIPPER, is best made with this most excellent of all fastening.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawb8i6

The Chronicle.

—It is rumored that Gen. McClellan is to be the successor of Fisk as vice-president of the Erie Railway.

A CAUTION.—Laura—"O, Amy! you ought never to wear a ring on your third finger, unless you are really engaged. Mamma says it often prevents a good offer."

—A little girl down east, who was impatiently waiting the tardy movements of her mother, a few Sabbath mornings since, cried out, "Come, mamma, the bell's stollin' and Dod's awaitin'."

—A Chicago minister maintains that "the Christian religion is a humane and adequate institution, because all infants and idiots are saved, and as more than one-half of the human race die in infancy, it follows that more than one-half of the race are saved, at any event."

—As the passengers were preparing to leave their seats, on the arrival of the train recently, an old gentleman picked up a dark object which appeared to drop from a lady's bonnet. "Madame, is this yours? You appear to have dropped it by accident." "Thank you, sir"—(placing her hand to her head)—"a railroad accident—a misplaced switch."

—The Louisville Courier Journal says: "An expedition, fitted out more than a year ago to search for Dr. Ujijii Livingstone, is still on the march through the wilds of Africa. As a loser of himself Dr. Livingstone is without a parallel in history. For our part we cannot see the use of spending so much time and money to find a man who can't be hired to stay found, and who is never happy except when he is lost."

—Of late years the whalemen have been making a wholesale slaughter of the walrus in the arctic regions for their oil and ivory. It is estimated that in 1870 upwards of 50,000 female walrus were killed, and they are now so shy that the natives on the arctic shores, from Cape Thaddeus to the Anadyir Sea, who depend upon them almost wholly for food, clothing, boats and dwellings, are unable to supply the necessities of life. The Arctic walrus are nearly all females, who go to the Arctic Sea in the summer months to bring forth and nurse their young.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following ing symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give rest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES—SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appear. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S compounded still has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. HIS HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

The Daily Chronicle,

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 12, 1872.

The Boston News and Its News.

In reply to our article regarding the advice of the Boston "News" to temperance men in New Hampshire to "ignore the Republican party," the News of the 10th says:—

All we have to say is that before the Convention the strongest argument used by Portsmouth Republicans in support of Mr. Walker's nomination was that if he was not nominated it would be impossible to carry the First Senatorial District, while if he was nominated it would be carried. If it was true then that Mr. Straw could not receive the full party vote it is true now.

This is "news," indeed! We venture to say that no Portsmouth Republican made any such statement before or after the Convention. One of the arguments used was that the nomination of Mr. Walker would aid the Republicans in carrying the First Senatorial District. The nomination of Mr. Straw does not injure Republican interests in this section at all, as Mr. Straw was one of the two candidates well known and popular in this vicinity. The "News" has been led into error by a misstatement of facts.

It says that last year the Republicans "did descend to petty squabbling" and defeated their own candidate "because he represented decent principles"—which is another misstatement. The Republicans of this locality assented to the nomination of Rev. James Pike, representing as he did the temperance element. They nominated as true a Republican as Mr. Pike for State Senator, and the wilful temperance men who like to butt against a stone wall just to let people know there is a stone wall in their way, ran a third candidate to prevent a choice or to elect Mr. Marcy. Under these circumstances it is not strange that some anti-temperance Republicans should cut the name of Mr. Pike from their ticket. The result shows that even then the temperance faction did the greater part of the bolting, as this Senatorial District gave but two majority against Mr. Pike, while the Republican candidate for Senator was defeated by 224 votes. The bolting of ninety-nine Portsmouth Republicans did not defeat Mr. Pike, and was caused more directly by Mr. Pike's zealous and unwise friends than by reason of his temperance proclivities.

Hon. E. H. Rollins needs no defence at our hands and the resuscitation of old feuds is not in the line of political policy. Mr. Rollins has not acted at all dishonorably in public or private life that we are aware of. The "News" is wholly right when it says that "he has done a vast amount of successful work."

The "News" sums up the sins of the Republican party of this State as follows:—

We admit that the Republicans enacted the liquor law, but we also know that it has been left by them a dead letter; that they have repeatedly selected men for their highest offices who were not friends of the law; that when the law creating a Constabulary was submitted to the people, they, by the instruction of the State Committee, defeated it; and that but for the accidental possession of a Senatorial seat by a man who was truer to prohibition than the Republican party was, the most effective portion of the law would have been repealed last year, the motion being made by Mr. Hackett of Portsmouth, who said in effect that the party could not carry the odium of the law longer.

The "News" editor shows a wonderful ignorance of New Hampshire matters. The prohibitory law is enforced outside the cities in every town where public opinion sustains it. We remember hearing Senator Cragin speak with pride of the fact that there was no rum shop in Lebanon, one of the most flourishing towns in the State. That the Republicans should dare select men for office who have more than a single idea is very sad! We have, however, held to the opinion, heretofore, that majorities should rule, and it is very evident that majorities were necessary to the selection of such candidates. We are of the opinion, also, that the prohibitory law must be favored by a majority of the voters of New Hampshire, to be enforced in every place.

Again, it is indeed "news" to the people that they were instructed by "the State Committee" to defeat the Constabulary bill at the polls. Common sense would have led to that result. How any Committee can make voters of every shade of opinion unite to defeat a measure is beyond our comprehension. It is true that Mr. Hackett of Portsmouth desired the repeal of the particularly obnoxious law (to many) which made owners of real estate responsible for the sale of liquors on their premises. Mr. Hackett certainly has a right to his opinions, as have owners of property who let buildings for injurious purposes.

The "News" says we "think more of the Republican party than of principle," and in the same article says we publish "an excellent paper." Taken in conjuction, these statements seem very inconsistent. We certainly cannot furnish "an excellent paper" unless our principles are excellent. We think the "News" editor has exposed himself to ridicule by attempting to be complimentary. It matters not whether our ideas are similar to those of others. We prefer to do good in the most practical way, and can see no reason for swimming a river when we can go as speedily above it and accomplish more by so doing.

We cannot decide by the "News" article whether its editor thinks the prohibitory law is enforced in this State or not. It says:—"We should prefer to see the law repealed by a Democratic legislature, than to witness the continued disgrace of the State, resulting from its non-enforcement;" and yet it says "the most effective portion of the law would have been repealed last year," but for the opposition of one man;—whence arises the query, If the law is not enforced how can one portion of it be more effective than another?

Councillor Convention.

The delegates to the Republican Councillor Convention met at Newmarket on Thursday, John Hodgdon, 2d, of Portsmouth, acted as temporary chairman, with Brad. P. Cilley of Exeter as temporary secretary. Messrs. James W. Odlin of Exeter, W. H. Hackett of Portsmouth, Peter Sanborn of Concord, J. F. Lawrence of Epping and S. A. Haley of Newmarket, were appointed Committee on Permanent Organization. Messrs. Frank A. Fowler of Concord, Frank P. Cram of Hampton Falls and Thomas Leavitt of Exeter, were appointed Committee on Credentials. The Committee on Resolutions consisted of Messrs. Wm. H. Hackett of Portsmouth, Peter Sanborn of Concord, and Robert C. Mack of Londonderry. The Committee on Permanent Organization reported the following officers of the day: President, Hon. Asa McFarland of Concord; Vice Presidents, Harry P. Hood of Derry and Moses Humphrey of Concord; Secretary, Brad. P. Cilley of Exeter.

On taking the chair, Mr. McFarland made a brief and pertinent speech. The Committee on Credentials reported a full list of delegates present. On motion of Mr. Pillsbury Hon. SAMUEL PLUMER DOW of Epping was nominated for Councillor, the Convention rising. A committee was appointed to wait upon Mr. Dow, who shortly appeared and accepted the nomination.

Mr. Hackett of Portsmouth, from the Committee on Resolutions, presented the following, which were unanimously adopted:—

Resolved, That the platform of the Republican party as enunciated at their late State Convention meets our hearty approval.

Resolved, That we heartily endorse the nomination of Hon. Ezekiel A. Straw as our candidate for Governor and here pledge for him the united support of every lover of liberty and good government in the State.

Resolved, That the administration of President Grant meets the approval of every good citizen in its endeavors to preserve law and order in the country, in its reduction of the debt by which so great a volume of currency is taken from the coffers of the government and is capable of use to the development of the resources of the country, and its efforts to root out and check corruption in every place, and we will heartily support it in all measures tending to these results.

Resolved, That in Hon. S. P. Dow, our candidate this day presented for the office of Councillor, we recognize a man of acknowledged ability and integrity and we pledge the hearty support of all true Republicans of District No. 1.

THE PROPOSITION of Jay Cooke, McCulloch & Co. and the Rothschilds of London is to take six hundred millions of the new United States bonds, one-half of the five per cents and the other half of the four-and-one-half per cents authorized by the funding act. The only condition attached to the loan is that the interest on the four-and-a-half per cent. bonds shall be made payable in Europe, and for consent to this condition of the bargain, Secretary Boutwell will have to ask permission of Congress.

A PETITION fourteen feet in length was presented to the president and directors of the Eastern Railroad, recently, asking for a reinstatement of Conductor Nowland, who was suspended at the time of the Revere accident. The petition is signed by about 950 residents on the line of the road between Boston and Gloucester.

THE GOVERNOR OF NEW JERSEY has issued a warrant for the execution of Botts at Newark, on the 26th instant.

New Hampshire Items.

Mr. S. Smith Stickney of Milford is the Democratic candidate for Senator in the 7th District.

Dr. Joshua Hall of Dover has been renominated for State Senator by the Republicans of the 5th District.

The Republicans of the 10th District have nominated Henry A. Hitchcock of Walpole for State Senator.

Political.

Special dispatches from Des Moines, Iowa, announce that the Republican caucuses nominated W. B. Allison for Senator on the third ballot.

LONGEVITY IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—According to the census report, New Hampshire, with a total population of 318,300, had 15,885 persons over the age of seventy—or five per cent. of the whole number. Of this aggregate, more than seven thousand were between the ages of 70 and 75; nearly five thousand were over 75 and under 80; seven hundred were octogenarians, and three hundred were between 90 and 95. Ten were 98 years old, two were 99, and six had passed the age of a century! It is doubtful whether any other State of three hundred thousand inhabitants can show so large a proportion of persons of extreme age.

LUTHER SMITH, on trial at Biddeford, Me., for shooting his two sons in a quarrel about two quarts of rum, has been sentenced to ten years' imprisonment at hard labor in the State prison.

CARL MARTINS died in Cleveland, O., on Sunday night, from trichina spiralis. His wife and two children are sick, and the former is unlikely to recover.

THE DEFENCE in the South Carolina Ku-Klux cases was entirely broken down, and those implicated are fleeing. The Klan is almost effectually broken up.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Winter-Proof Systems.

Thick boots and flannels are necessary at this season, but the human frame requires something more than these to render it water-proof. The inner man, as well as the outer surface of the body, must be protected. The raw, moist, chilly winds which prevail at this season transplace the warmest clothing, and are apt to effect the health unfavorably, both through the pores and the respiratory organs. The surest way to avert the evil is to strengthen the internal machine, and thus enable it to repel the devitalizing influence of unwholesome weather. Enrich the blood, gently stimulate the circulation, regulate the bowels, invigorate the stomach, tone the liver, and brace the nerves with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and no condition of the atmosphere, however inclement, no variation of the barometer or thermometer, however sudden, will have power to disorder the system thus fortified in advance, and put in perfect working order. Damp and cold, acting upon a sensitive or feeble organization, may produce consumption, diptheria, neuralgia, rheumatism, dyspepsia, liver complaint, low nervous fever, or intermittent fever; the importance of rendering the system impervious to these two destructive elements is therefore obvious. Persons in delicate health, or who are at all liable to be injuriously affected by atmospheric influences, should take the Bitters daily throughout the winter and spring. In this way dangerous diseases may be warded off, and a condition of perfect health preserved by individuals of comparatively feeble physique, while those more robust, who scoff at precautions, are suffering the penalty of their recklessness in hospitals and sick rooms.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

ALMOST EVERY CITY in Italy is infected with small-pox. In Messina a large portion of the lower classes are attacked, and many die.

ALL the Mormon criminal cases in the United States district court in Salt Lake City have been continued until March 11th.

ANOTHER EXPLOSION in a Wales colliery, at Oakwood, killed eleven persons, and more are missing.

VIGOROUS DENTISTRY.—A Clinton county (Iowa) man, having a toothache, determined to extract it by the Indian method. He went to the woods, bent over a sapling, tied a string to his tooth and the other end to the bush, lay calmly down on his back and let go. The tooth vanished through the treetops with a sound like the whistle of a minie ball, and carried with it something less than a pound of gums and "sich."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RE-ANIMATING THE HAIR.—When the hair ceases to draw from the scalp the natural lubricant which is its substenance, its vitality is, as it were, suspended, and if not promptly attended to, baldness will be the certain result. The one sure method of avoiding such an unpleasant catastrophe is to use LYON'S KATHAIRON, which, when well rubbed into the scalp, will speedily re-animate the hair and prevent it from falling out. Besides that, this inimitable resuscitant and strengthener of the Hair nourishes and stimulates its young and tender fibres, removes all obstacles to their growth in the shape of dandruff and dirt, and ultimately produces a new crop of hair, stronger, glossier, and twice as abundant as the old. As a hair dressing it is notably the most agreeable, refreshing and serviceable article ever placed upon a dressing table.

TO THOSE WHO ARE BOWED DOWN by nervous Debility, and despair of ever recovering the vigor and mien of manhood we earnestly recommend DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. Before they have finished the first bottle, they will feel the restorative principle at work in every portion of their broken-down systems, and hope will spring up in their hearts. No case of Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Intermittent Fever Rheumatism, Gout or Kidney Disease, can resist this unequalled vegetable tonic, which is undiluted by any distilled or fermented liquor. 4wd10

WORTHY OF NOTE.—An exchange says there is scarcely a day passes that we don't hear, either from persons coming into our office or in some other way, of the success of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment in the cure of coughs and colds, so prevalent about town just now.

If we can benefit the readers of the Chronicle any by recommending Parson's Purgative Pills to be the best anti-bilious medicine in the country, we are willing to do so. We have had about as good a chance to know as any one.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

City Councils.

On Thursday evening, Jan. 11, the City Councils met in Convention to elect city officers for the ensuing municipal year, all the members of both Boards being present, the Mayor in the chair. A letter was read, from Josiah G. Hadley, offering to serve as Collector and Treasurer for one year, for $1000. Chas. A. Shannon was chosen Treasurer, receiving 14 votes, Jas. P. Bartlett receiving 5. Superintendent Scott of the City Farm had 16 votes, 17 being the whole number cast; A. M. Hoyt, for Lot Layer, had all the votes thrown; and City Messenger Willis L. Hidden was re-elected by 16 of 18 votes. Sam'l Donnell had 5 votes for Keeper of Powder Magazine, T. E. O. Marvin 1 for City Messenger, and Frank W. Miller 1 for Pound Keeper, (and a capital Pound Keeper he would make, for he would pen up every old horse and cow in town,) but they were not elected. The Convention rose after electing the officers who are chosen by the two Boards, and the Common Council adjourned.

On resuming, the Aldermen balloted for a City Marshal, Asst. Marshals, Police and Watchmen, Collector and Board of Health, the result of which we give below. The following is a list of CITY OFFICERS—1872.

Board of Health—Samuel C. Whittier, Robt. Shillaber, Ammi L. Knowlton.

A Confidence Man.

On the fourth inst., City Marshal Johnson was notified by a member of the firm of Wm. Downs & Co. that he had just lent $20 to a "timber merchant from Savannah" and was a little suspicious that he had not acted in the matter with all the caution advisable. The Marshal thought so too, and both started for the depot, where the timber merchant was discovered in the train, and taken to the lockup. Here he disgorged $19.50, and also a meerschaum pipe which he had "confidenced" from Messrs. John Rider & Son, with a member of which firm he had been consulting about getting a return cargo of beef and pork for Savannah, "after his ship got in." A lot of blank checks on banks in Newburyport, Salem and Lynn were found on him, and Mr. Johnson telegraphed to these cities concerning him; but the answer in each case was that he was unknown and "not wanted," and he was discharged and escorted from the city. On Thursday a Massachusetts State Constable arrived here, looking for Charles Allen, (he was George Bailey, here,) who had been doing business in Newburyport, where he had sold a large lot of timber to Mr. John Currier, contracted for the usual cargo of beef and pork for his vessel, ordered a superfine suit of clothes from Mr. Ballou, a fashionable tailor, and borrowed of the latter an overcoat worth $60. A telegram from Providence, R.I., arrived the same day, requesting the arrest of the enterprising timber merchant, who has also favored that city with his patronage. He is described as being about 55 years of age, height 5 feet and 7 inches, bald head, very small feet, well dressed (in the borrowed overcoat) and of very gentlemanly appearance and address. If any such looking man engages a return cargo of beef and pork from any of our readers and then wants to borrow $20, "having nothing about him, but a large check which he does not want to cash just now," it will be reasonable cause for them to look upon him with suspicion and not to have the $20 handy.

Accidents.

On Thursday afternoon, Messrs. William C. Ham and James A. Waterhouse of this city, while driving home from Newmarket, were thrown out on the icy road at Greenland and dragged quite a distance by the mare they were driving. Mr. Waterhouse was severely injured, his face being cut badly and his bruises numerous. Mr. Ham's principal injury was a bad sprain of the knee joint of his left leg, which caused great pain until he arrived home. The mare was stopped by the voice of her driver after both parties had vainly tried to stop her by pulling on the reins.

After arriving in Portsmouth, Mr. William F. Ham, the Street Commissioner, took charge of the team, and after carrying Mr. Waterhouse home was returning up Islington Street, when the breeching gave way and the mare ran again, and finding it impossible to stop her Mr. Ham guided her toward the fence of the Barnes estate. She brought up against a post and threw Mr. Ham out, but fortunately he was not severely injured and pluckily held on to the reins and stopped the mare, who finished the entertainment by putting her heels through the dasher of the buggy. Mr. Ham recently purchased the mare, well known among horsemen as "the Hadley mare," of Frank W. Miller, Esq. The cause of the accident is alleged to be the application of the "Rockwell bit," which is entirely different from the one with which she is generally driven.

A Mournful Case.

It is mournful indeed—the reckless disregard by the Republican party of the disinterested advice of the Democracy. The Democratic press groans in the spirit because President Grant, if renominated, will certainly fail of an election, and the Democratic papers are crowded with editorials and "statements from reliable (re-lie-able would be the more correct reading) sources," to show the fatal weakness of the Grant administration with the people, and the certain defeat which awaits the Republican party in the coming Presidential contest if Grant is their candidate; yet the indications every day grow stronger that the headstrong Republicans will actually put in nomination the man whom the Democrats have already beaten—in the papers, where they can manage it so much more easily than they did at the polls in the last Presidental election or will be able to do in the next one.

The Republicans in this section manage their political affairs with quite as little regard for Democratic advice and desire as do their brethren in general. In opposition to the earnest wishes of the other party, the Portsmouth Republicans re-nominated several gentlemen whose names the Democracy hoped would have been dropped, for municipal offices; Hon. Horton D. Walker was named as the Republican candidate for Mayor, though the Democrats didn't want him to be nominated at all, and worst of all, the Republicans actually elected all these objectionable (to the Democrats) persons to office by large majorities.

The 1st District Senatorial Convention behaved no better; Warren Brown, Esq., of Hampton Falls, was nominated as candidate for Senator,—which action displeases the Democrats, if we may judge from the lament of the local Democratic organ, which says "the nomination is one of the gravest mistakes" made this year, and that Mr. Philbrick of Rye "is in many respects better fitted to run against such a man as Hon. Dan[e]l Marcy than this man Brown."

The City Government—just look at the utter disregard of Democratic advice displayed by our City Government. Chief Engineer Stephen L. Marston is re-elected, City Marshal Frank B. Johnson will render himself a torment to rogues of all kinds, Superintendent Haven L. Scott will care for the poor and manage the City Farm and Collector Charles A. Shannon will "loaf around in" and "always be absent from" the City Rooms, for another year; and last but not least of the City Government's offences—even City Messenger Willis L. Hidden has been retained in his position by a very complimentary vote, for no better reasons than that he has shown himself thoroughly capable and attentive to his business, though every one of the City Fathers must have known how distasteful such a proceeding would be to the local mouth-piece of the Democracy. Gentlemen of the Republican party, can't you—can't you manage your political affairs in such a manner as to give a little better satisfaction to our well-wishing Democratic brethren, and thereby save them from shedding bitter tears over your "grave mistakes" and "political blunders," which must result in Democratic victories?

Fire at Rye.

On Thursday morning, shortly before 1 o'clock, fire was discovered in the lower portion of the boarding-house at Rye Beach known as the Seaside House, situated on the extreme end of the Ocean House road leading to the beach, and ere help could arrive the building with nearly all its contents was consumed. The family were in sound sleep when the alarm was given, and the fire made such rapid headway that it was with considerable difficulty they succeeded in escaping with their every day wearing apparel. Mr. Wm. D. Perkins was sleeping in the lower part of the house and was the first to alarm and arouse the other inmates. He states that the origin of the fire seemed to be from the outside of the house, and it is his opinion that it was the work of an incendiary. The hotel and its contents were insured for $7000 in the North British, New Hampshire and Germania Companies,—$2000, $4000 and $1000 respectively. The loss falls heavily on the proprietor, Mr. Thomas H. Philbrick, who is employed at present as a watchman at the Navy Yard. We are informed that the furniture was to have been sold on the 11th.

Laconics.

The Bidwells are coming in about three weeks.

John L. Hall and his Burlesque and Comedy Company are to be here on the 26th and 27th inst.

Aaron Young, Esq., retains his position in the Custom House, having never been removed therefrom.

Gov. Langdon Engine Co., No. 5, are to give their annual Ball on Wednesday evening, Jan 17, in Irving Hall.

The Barnabee company, including Messrs. Barnabee, Fessenden and Arbuckle and Mrs. Barry and Mrs. Smith, have started on their Western tour. They expect to get as far west as Omaha.

Barque Andes, of Portland, bound there from New York, was spoken by U. S. S. Speedwell 9 miles off Thacher's Island, on Wednesday, with both anchors and chains gone and mizzen blown away. She required no assistance.

The Democrats of this county have renominated William H. Belknap, Esq., of Exeter, a Republican, for Register of Deeds. There was a sharp contest in the Convention, and Mr. Belknap was nominated on the third ballot. The result is unsatisfactory to many Democrats, who don't understand why they should vote for a man who has always voted against them.

The pastor of the Congregational church at South Seabrook was visited on Wednesday evening by a number of his congregation and members of his Sabbath School, and presented with a pair of stockings, containing a donation of greenbacks. The occasion was a pleasant one, and after singing by the children the company proceeded to the vestry, where meetings are now held every evening, much religious interest being manifested.

MARRIAGES.

In this city Jan. 11th, by Rev. James Denormandie, Chief Eng. T. A. SHOCK, U. S. N., and Miss MARIA K. CARR, daughter of James M. Carr, Esq., of this city.

DEATHS.

At Franklin, Jan. 1st, closed the earthly life of Mrs. MARY LANGDON SAVAGE, wife of Rev. William I. Savage, D. D.

Surrounded from childhood by all that tends to develope the highest intellect and spiritual graces, the mirror-like purity of her character received and reflected all these influences, and rendered peculiarly fitting to her the title of the "elect lady" by which St. John addresses the "honorable" but unknown "matron" among the early saints, and which was bestowed on this rarely endowed gentlewoman by Professor Parker of Hanover, who pronounced the beautifully appropriate tribute at the funeral service in the Congl. Church in Franklin. E.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are so we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
SINGER
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model. does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is lighter speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

TRUTHFULNESS. — "You stretch the truth." This a common expression, addressed to those who seem to exaggerate in what they state. But how much can the truth be stretched? Not much without breaking. In nothing, perhaps, are good persons in more danger of digressing from strict truthfulness than in telling anecdotes or giving an account of striking incidents. All are fond of the marvellous, and there is a proneness to make what is told as marvellous as possible. An instance may be given. In a late number of the New York Independent, (by the way a most valuable paper,) an incident in the life of Rev. Dr. Burrows, minister of Hanover from 1772 to 1809, is given. It is to the effect that for diversion and relaxation from his labors he went with a friend into the forest to hunt game. He was a poor marksman, and seeing a partridge, his friend assisted him in pointing the musket. It was discharged, but the bird did not fall, but sat still in its place. On this the parson exclaimed, "I declare, she stands it remarkably." A pretty tame partridge that, not to be disturbed by the report of a musket!

J. F.

JUGG ON PRAYING.—Just as soon as people began to pray Alfred Edward's chance for life was better.

Candor compels me to say that prayer is a big thing, the principal difficulty about it being the people who indulge in it.

No one can doubt that there are a great many good people in the world, and I'm quite sure there are just as many bad ones—but they all pray, and it's long been a question in my mind as to what they think of themselves while they're at it.

If a chap, who habitually swears, drinks and has his little sprees about town, regularly devotes a half hour or so to his prayer book, what does he imagine is to come of it? It either means something, or is a farce. If it really amounts to anything, he must be a hypocrite, and if it's a farce, he's a fool.

And what a lot of us there are.—N. Y. Star.

SOMEWHAT PARTICULAR. — As the 4.30 train from New York reached Stamford, Saturday, an antique-looking dame thrust her head out of the window opposite the refreshment-room door, and briefly shouted "Sonny!" A bright-looking boy came up to the window. "Little boy," said she, "have you a mother?" "Yes ma'am." "Do you love her?" "Yes ma'm." "Do you go to school?" "Yes ma'm." "And are you faithful to your studies?" "Yes ma'm." "Do you say your prayers every night?" "Yes, ma'm." "Can I trust you to do an errand for me?" "Yes ma'm." "I think I can, too," said the lady looking steadily down on the manly face. "Here is five cents to get me an apple. Remember, God sees you."—Hartford Post.

CARE OF THE HAIR.—Frequent brushing, and washing once a week with a teaspoonful of liquid ammonia in a bowlful of warm water, is said to be the best treatment possible for the hair. If any stimulant is required, half an ounce of dry ammonia, rubbed into a pint of olive oil, is the finest dressing to be made, and prevents hair from turning gray, if anything will, and urges its growth.

—A lady stepped on Ex-Senator Doolittle's foot, while getting into a Wabash Avenue stage, recently. She blushingly begged the gentleman's pardon, whereupon he said: "Miss, for a bright, sunny smile like that, I am perfectly willing you should dance the Boston dip on my favorite corns."—Chicago Times.

—Twelve wise men are wanted in Gotham to try the murderer of Fisk—twelve intelligent individuals who have never read a newspaper or heard of the circumstances of the murdered man's death.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yr dawlwbld

AN EDITOR'S TROUBLES.—No one ever comes up into the rooms of the top story building set apart for the staff of a daily paper. This is why every article reads so evenly and smoothly. All you've got to do if you belong to the staff is to climb up there, sit all day long in the deep, grim silence, and when midnight comes you can lower yourself down stairs with a consciousness that every article will read like clockwork.

Yesterday morning I commenced an article entitled "The Unseen Influences of the Spirit World," and had got so far as to say that "Although we hear no voices there is some subtle influence pervading the—" when a man came up with a demand for a correction of an article charging him with bigamy. You have to keep right on with an idea when you get hold of it, and so I run him in.

"Pervading the air about you all the time, Peter Smith has called at this office to say that the unheard voices coming from the dead often swerve from he isn't the man mentioned as having two wives the path marked out by obstinate—"

(Here another man came in and wanted a notice of his new building.)

—"spirits which refuse to yield to the new block on Michigan avenue, although Smith is directly charged by the police with a marble front and 120 feet deep. At night, after a day's toil, who does not love to sit down and let his mind run to the mysterious shadowy basement under it and stone caps above the windows we take great pleasure in setting Smith right before his fellow citizens, and——"

(Here a man came up and wanted to look at a State map, although he could have found one down stairs.)

—"Certainly, sir, look at all the State maps you want to, and call back the spirit of some dear friend gone before us will ascertain the name of the policeman who wrongfully accused Mr. Smith of having a frontage on Michigan avenue which helps the look of the street very much, and you will find the county of Hillsdale further to the left of the land from which no one has ever returned to tell us whether our friends are sad or joyful——"

(Here a boy came up and wanted to sell some tonka beans to keep moths off.)

"Thank ye bub, don't want any tonka beans if you ever want to look at any more of our maps come right up with a Mansard roof to crown all, and Smith is now set right before the public and his friends generally, who have thus improved the town and commune with them as to whether a moment of sadness does not occasionally steal over them as they think of the fond friends left behind come up again and I'll talk to you about the tonka beans and every patriotic citizen ought to keep a State map in his new block on Michigan avenue. Smith states that one of his wives deserted him in Illinois and the other——"

(Here a subscriber came in and wanted to know why no paper was issued the day after Thanksgiving.)

"Because it was a day set apart for one hundred and forty-four windows in the entire block with tonka beans enameled on State maps to mourn their early departure through the valley and the shadow of death. I don't want you to bother me any more Mr. Smith about your wives and come bub get right down stairs now with your beans to that spirit land where all joy and peace the compositors wanted a holiday and it's against the principles of Christianity to——" —"Forever more can't eat apples owing to my teeth, and Smith is now made good for any beans which any State may connected with this office has nothing but joy and peace to mark the never-ending time I'll break your neck if you say apples to me again and you see that the new block spoken of bigamy to prove the moths don't apple the tonka beans sold in Hillsdale county."—Detroit Free Press.

(Here a boy came up with a basket of apples.)

—A few days since, a teamster while coming to town with some marketing, stopped at a saloon on Rebecca street, Alleghany, to wet his whistle, and left his team standing in the street. The day being very cold the farmer lingered by the fire, and took another drink. After resting and warming himself inwardly and outwardly, he left the warm precincts of "mine host," got into the wagon, seized the reins, cracked the whip—but the horse never started. The driver thinking the horse was slightly mulish got out, looked the animal in the eye—as George Washington did his father when he was telling that "hatchet story"—seized the bridle, and gave it a vigorous jerk, when, lo! the animal was frozen dead, and fell over, heels upward, smashing one of the shafts in the fall. The mystery was now solved, and the indulgent farmer let his wagon stand, and went in search of another "hoss."—Pittsburgh Post.

YE INFANT PRODIGY. — Maggie—"Why is your hair so gray, Mamma?" Mamma—"Well, because you're such a naughty child, sometimes." Maggie—"What a naughty child you must have been! Poor Grandma's hair's quite white!"

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES. — Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S
EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more destructible to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S
Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.60.

AYER'S
SARSAPARILLA,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. HIS HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

SATURDAY, JANUARY 13, 1872.

The Democratic Convention

At Newmarket on the 10th was a spirited affair. We copy a portion of the report of its proceedings from the Haverhill Bulletin. Our Massachusetts cotemporary says:—Meeting agreeable to adjournment, the convention proceeded to ballot for a candidate for Register of Deeds. The result was, no choice, there being three candidates, two Democrats and a Republican. The candidates were W. H. Furber of Northwood, G. H. Jenness of Rye, and W. H. Belknap of Exeter. On proceeding to a second ballot, Mr. Furber's name was withdrawn, and the result was that Belknap was nominated over Jenness by a trifling majority. Belknap would have been nominated on the first ballot had it not been for Jones of Portsmouth and some prominent Democrats from Newmarket and other towns, who swore by all that was high and holy, that they were tired of electing a Republican who never voted the Democratic ticket and who paid his assessment into the Republican box. Now they double the imprecations, (many of them,) and swear that Belknap will not get their votes unless he comes out of his hole and unfurls the Democratic banner. Poor Belknap will have to go to the wall if the courage to drive him holds out in the camp of the unterrified. For County Commissioner, Lorenzo Frost of Hampstead was nominated, and for County Treasurer, William W. Wilder of Newton.

New Hampshire Items.

Col. James S. Cheney of Manchester is the Democratic nominee for Senator in the third district.

The Democrats of the third district have nominated John W. Morse of Bradford for Councillor. M. V. B. Edgerly of Manchester and Warren F. Daniell of Franklin were chosen delegates to the National Convention.

The editor of the Manchester Union says he wants "to belong to a majority party just once," to prove his earnestness in reform.

The Dover Enquirer says: "Nothing but a criminal misuse of splendid opportunities can stand between the Republicans and victory," at the coming State election.

There were 139 deaths in Dover in 1871.

The carpet yarn mills at Wilton run at night to fill orders.

Two new steamers will appear upon Lake Winnipisaukee next summer.

Linus Stevens, Esq., of Claremont has kept a weather record for thirty-nine years.

Hon. L. W. Fling of Bristol has been nominated for re-election to the Senate by the Democracy of the Eleventh District.

On the 1st, in Hinsdale, Thomas Rice was shot in the abdomen by a pistol in the hands of a brother who was examining it. The ball passed into his bowels and lodged near his spine. Of course, he did not long survive.

Three New Hompshire men are members of the Senate of Minnesota and the Chaplain of that body was also born in this State. In the House of Representatives three men from this State hold seats.

Those Manchester firemen don't allow their brethren to beat them if they can help it. The Kearsarge Company of Concord went down to see them recently. The N. S. Bean Company took them in charge and settled their score in advance at the Stearns House. But the Kearsarges went to the City Hotel and paid their own bills. The Beans found they were outwitted the next day and collected twenty pounds of copper cents, put them in an iron-bound box and sent them to the Concord boys by rail! The Patriot says the box was "small but hefty. At first it was viewed suspiciously as an infernal machine, and, afterwards, coming from Manchester, it was suspected that that portion of the Concord Railroad recently sold by citizens of that place might be contained therein and have been delivered to wrong parties. But the thing was opened and found to contain merely red cents, by whose withdrawal from circulation the business of the boot-blacks and newsboys of our neighbor city must now be either depressed or run on a system of tick."

About 100 workmen are now laboring on the Wolfeborough Railroad, and laborers are coming in daily.

Mr. John Rosebrook of Carrol, while chopping in the woods on the 9th, was struck by a falling tree and fatally injured.

Mr. J. J. Kimball of Boston has been elected by the school committee of Manchester principal instructor of vocal music in the public schools, at a salary of $1500 a year.

The annual levee of the Concord fire department, held under the auspices of Eagle hose company, came off at Phœnix Hall on Wednesday evening, and was a brilliant and successful affair. The net proceeds of these yearly anniversaries are added to the permanent fund for the relief of disabled members of the department or their families.

A despatch from Amesbury, Mass, received by the Western Union Line, says a staging on the Planing Mill of Cadience & Clark gave way Thursday morning, precipitating four men some thirty-five feet to the ground. Cyrus Bradley had both legs broken, and died about 10 o'clock A. M.; D. B. Webster had an arm and three ribs broken; Wm. Stover had his skull fractured, and several others were slightly injured.

THE NEW MEXICO LEGISLATURE is in confusion. On the 10th, in an attempt to clear the lobby of the house of representatives the disorder became so great that Speaker Rudolph adjourned the body. The democratic minority then elected a speaker of their own, and had Mr. Rudolph and two other republicans arrested.

COMDR. ALEXANDER A. SEMMES, U. S. N., was found guilty of cruel punishment to his men, abuse of official power, oppressive and inhuman conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman. His sentence is that he be suspended three years and reprimanded in general orders by the Secretary of the Navy.

GOOD.—The Republican State Committee organized on Friday by the choice of Hon. E. H. Rollins as Chairman, and B. F. Prescott, Secretary.

THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION for the nomination of President and Vice President will be held at Philadelphia, June 5th.

DR. WILLIAM D. BUCK, an eminent physician and surgeon of Manchester, died on the 9th. His age was about sixty years.

Hon. William B. Allison, Republican, has been chosen U. S. Senator from Iowa, to succeed Senator Harlan.

O. H. P. ARCHER has been elected President of the Erie Railway, vice Fisk.

THE WORKING OF HAIR has grown to be a large interest within a few years, and the uninitiated run as great a risk of being defrauded in this line as in any other that can be mentioned. Ladies, bearing this fact in mind, should always patronize a house of undoubted standing. Such a one is announced in our list of Boston cards, to-day. Mr. F. Herchenroder, at 52 and 54 Temple Place, has not only the finest Hair-working and Dye-dressing establishment in America, but he is ready to refund the price of all work that does not prove exactly as represented; and to furnish every "capillary attraction" that taste or fashion may dictate. His rooms for Ladies' and Gentlemen's Hair-cutting and Hair-dressing are acknowledged the most superb in the country.

—A little five-year old boy was being instructed in morals by his grandmother. The old lady told him all such terms as "by golly," "by jingo," "by thunder," etc., were only little oaths, and but little better than other profanities. In fact, she said, she could tell a profane oath by the prefix "by." All such were oaths. "Well, then, grandmother, said the little hopeful, is 'by telegraph,' which I see in the newspapers, swearing?" "No," said the old lady, "that's only lying."

—Two hundred and seventy overland passengers and the mails from New York, December 28, arrived at San Francisco on the 9th.

—A young lady sends us this: How to prevent chappy cheeks. Have nothing to do with cheeky chaps.

Orders received by mail, express, or at the CHRONICLE OFFICE will be promptly filled.

DEATHS.

In Manchester, Jan. 9, ANNIE DORA COFFIN daughter of Charles E. and Maggie M. Coffin, aged 5 years, 4 months.

At Franklin, Jan. 1st, closed the earthly life of MRS. MARY LANGDON SAVAGE, wife of Rev. William I. Savage, D. D.

Surrounded from childhood by all that tends to develope the highest intellect and spiritual graces, the mirror-like purity of her character received and reflected all these influences, and rendered peculiarly fitting to her the title of the "elect lady" by which St. John addresses the "honorable" but unknown "matron" among the early saints, and which was bestowed on this rarely endowed gentlewoman by Professor Parker of Hanover, who pronounced the beautifully appropriate tribute at the funeral service in the Cong. Church in Franklin. K.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Winter-Proof Systems.

Thick boots and flannels are necessary at this season, but the human frame requires something more than these to render it water-proof. The inner man, as well as the outer surface of the body, must be protected. The raw, moist, chilly winds which prevail at this season transplanee the warmest clothing, and are apt to effect the health unfavorably, both through the pores and the respiratory organs. The surest way to avert the evil is to strengthen the internal machine, and thus enable it to repel the devitalizing influence of unwholesome weather. Enrich the blood, gently stimulate the circulation, regulate the bowels, invigorate the stomach, tone the liver, and brace the nerves with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and no condition of the atmosphere, however inclement, no variation of the barometer or thermometer, however sudden, will have power to disorder the system thus fortified in advance, and put in perfect working order. Damp and cold, acting upon a sensitive or feeble organization, may produce consumption, diphtheria, neuralgia, rheumatism, dyspepsia, liver complaint, low nervous fever, or intermittent fever; the importance of rendering the system impervious to these two destructive elements is therefore obvious. Persons in delicate health, or who are at all liable to be injuriously affected by atmospheric influences, should take the Bitters daily throughout the winter and spring. In this way dangerous diseases may be warded off, and a condition of perfect health preserved by individuals of comparatively feeble physique, while those more robust, who scoff at precautions, are suffering the penalty of their recklessness in hospitals and sick rooms.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

THE AMERICAN WASHER!

Price, $5.50.

The American Washer Saves Money, Time, and Drudgery.

The Fatigue of Washing Day no Longer Dreaded, but Economy, Efficiency, and Clean Clothing, Sure.

In calling public attention to this little machine, a few of the invaluable qualities, (not possessed by any other washing machine yet invented,) are here enumerated.

It is the most simple and compact, most portable, most simple in construction, most easily operated. A child ten years old, with a few hours' practice, can thoroughly comprehend and effectually use it. There is no adjusting, no screws to annoy, no delay in adapting! It is always ready for use! It is a little wonder! It is a miniature giant, doing more work and of a better quality, than the most elaborate and costly. One half of the labor is fully saved by its use, and the clothes will last one-half longer than by the old plan of the rub board. It will wash the largest blanket. Three shirts at a time, washing thoroughly! In a word, the ablution of any fabric, from a Quilt to a Lace Curtain or Cambric Handkerchief, are equally within the capacity of this LITTLE GEM! It can be fastened to any tub and taken off at will.

No matter how deep rooted a prejudice may exist against Washing Machines, the moment this little machine is seen to perform its wonders, all doubts of its cleansing efficacy and utility are banished, and the doubter and detractor at once become the fast friends of the machine.

We have testimonials without end, setting forth its numerous advantages over all others, and from hundreds who have thrown aside the unwieldy, useless machines, which have signally failed to accomplish the object promised in prominent and loud sounding advertisements.

It is as perfect for washing as a wringer is for wringing. The price, another paramount inducement to purchasers, has been placed so low that it is within the reach of every housekeeper, and there is no article of domestic economy that will repay the small investment so soon.

$5.50,

All that is asked for this GREAT LABOR SAVER, is a fair trial. We guarantee each machine to do its work perfectly.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RE-ANIMATING THE HAIR.—When the hair ceases to draw from the scalp the natural lubricant which is its substenance, its vitality is, as it were, suspended, and if not promptly attended to, baldness will be the certain result. The one sure method of avoiding such an unpleasant catastrophe is to use LYON'S KATHAIRON, which, when well rubbed into the scalp, will speedily re-animate the hair and prevent it from falling out. Besides that, this inimitable resuscitant and strengthener of the Hair nourishes and stimulates its young and tender fibres, removes all obstacles to their growth in the shape of dandruff and dirt, and ultimately produces a new crop of hair, stronger, glossier, and twice as abundant as the old. As a hair dressing it is notably the most agreeable, refreshing and serviceable article ever placed upon a dressing table.

TO THOSE WHO ARE BOWED DOWN by nervous Debility, and despair of ever recovering the vigor and mien of manhood we earnestly recommend DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. Before they have finished the first bottle, they will feel the restorative principle at work in every portion of their broken-down systems, and hope will spring up in their hearts. No case of Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Intermittent Fever, Rheumatism, Gout or Kidney Disease, can resist this unequalled vegetable tonic, which is undiluted by any distilled or fermented liquor. 4wd10

WORTHY OF NOTE.—An exchange says there is scarcely a day passes that we don't hear, either from persons coming in to our office or in some other way, of the success of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment in the cure of coughs and colds, so prevalent about town just now.

If we can benefit the readers of the Chronicle any by recommending Parson's Purgative Pills to be the best anti-bilious medicine in the country, we are willing to do so. We have had about as good a chance to know as any one.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

City Councils.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Jan. 11—Subject of pump on Noble's Island was referred to Committee on Streets with power to act.

Committee on Accounts reported bills against the following Departments: Streets, $503.18; Police, $169.99; Bridges, $10.12; Contingent, $38.49; School Houses, $227.50; Sidewalks, $69.98; Street Lights, $444 01; Watch, $227.84; Fire Department, $427.09. Ald. Hatch moved that the report be laid on the table for one week, and the yeas and nays were called, Ayes, Ald. Mendum, Hatch and Wendell, 3; Nays, Ald. Annable, Waldron, Wilson, Marvin and Giddings, 5. The report was accepted.

Ald. Marvin moved that the bills be paid, and the ayes and nays were taken; Ayes, Ald. Annable, Waldron, Wilson, Marvin and Giddings, 5; Noes, Ald. Mendum, Hatch and Wendell, 3.

Ald. Hatch submitted the following resolution, which was passed:

Resolved, That the Committee on Accounts be instructed to report in writing a brief statement of the nature of all claims which shall from time to time be examined and allowed by them.

Committee on Accounts reported the bill of Stoddard & Beacham, for hauling engines, $135, which was ordered to be paid.

Same Committee reported bills of J. Rider & Son, for bread, cheese, &c., $20 67, which was laid on the table.

Ald. Wendell moved that the vote passed at last meeting, directing order in favor Wm. Willey, be reconsidered. Voted, That said claims and all similar claims on file be referred to Committee on Claims, to ascertain value of the sheep at the time they were killed.

The Aldermen then went into Convention for selection of City Officers, and on resuming balloted for City Marshal and other officers.

Ald. Hatch moved that the Board appoint but one Assistant Marshal, which was defeated, and two were selected.

Ald. Hatch moved that the Board choose four and only four Police Officers, Constables and Watchmen, which was defeated, and six were chosen.

Proposal of John F. Marden to collect the taxes of the City for the year 1872 for $900, and proposal of J. G. Hadley to perform the duties of Collector and Treasurer for one year for $1000, were read. Ald. Hatch moved that City Ordinance be so modified that the compensation of the Collector shall not exceed $900, and the yeas and nays were called; Ayes, Ald. Hatch and Wendell, 2; Nays, Ald. Annable, Waldron, Giddings, Wilson, Mendum and Marvin, 6. Voted, That Messrs. Marden and Hadley's proposals be recorded; Ayes, Ald. Annable, Mendum, Giddings, Hatch and Wendell, 5; Nays, Ald. Waldron, Wilson and Marvin.

Ald. Hatch presented the following resolution, which was passed:

Resolved, That no Committee can act upon any claim or account against the City until the same has been first presented to this Board and properly referred.

Wm. H. Lovell was appointed Engineer, and Thomas J. Mitchell Foreman, of Steamer No. 1; Andrew J. McIntire Engineer, and Charles Cummings Fireman of Steamer No. 2; and Charles Manent Engineer, and George N. Jones Fireman of Steamer No. 3.

Committee on Police reported the City Marshal's quarterly report, correct. Report accepted.

Petition of T. H. Odion and others for extension of Haward Street to Pleasant Street was referred.

Voted, That the City accept a gas post near the foot of Daniel Street, to be located by the Committee on Gas Lights.

Committee on School Houses reported that the Catholics do not expect at present to have a bell.

A resolution authorizing the Committee on School Houses to place a fire bell on the Cabot Street Schoolhouse, provided it could be done for $800, was negatived.

Charles H. Mendum was appointed a member of the School Committee, to fill vacancy in Ward Two.

Mercet Goodrich was appointed a member of School Committee from Ward One, to fill vacancy occasioned by resignation of S. M. DeMerritt.

Adjourned.

Prof. Hitchcock's Lecture.

Prop. C. H. Hitchcock, of Dartmouth College, delivered his lecture, illustrated with views, on life on Mt. Washington in winter, to a large audience Thursday evening. He gave a statement of the reasons for undertaking the expedition to the White Mountains in the winter of 1870-71. The physical character of Mt. Washington was peculiar; the observations could be telegraphed to the press daily; interesting photographic views could be obtained; and it furnished a fine field for full meteorological observations, which would prove of advantage in compiling weather reports and predicting "probabilities." The love of adventure was also abundantly gratified.

The most common question asked is, how cold was it? The average temperature was 7 degrees above zero. A "cold snap" occurred in February, lasting three days, when the thermometer staid down at 40 degrees below zero, and the wind blew at the rate of 100 miles an hour. Within the house it was warm and comfortable. By the use of a stereopticon, several views of the mountain ranges seen from the summit, beautiful frost and snow formations, cloud scenery, and many other objects of peculiar interest, were shown to the audience.

The entire lecture was a simple narrative of the experience on the mountain, a description of the buildings, etc., and an explanation of views upon the screen. There was great scope for thrilling description and for valuable scientific research, but the lecturer failed to venture on the illimitable subject.

After the conclusion of the lecture, Mr. Folsom, in charge of the stereopticon, gave miscellaneous pictures, including representations of the North Church and Congress Block. Interspersed among the beautiful views of European architecture were a few humorous illustrations, of which "David and Goliah" seemed the most speaking.

Wendell Phillips is to close the Lyceum Course in February.

The Ward Three gas bag wasted a little more wind in the Board of Aldermen, Thursday evening.

Ship Gov. Langdon, 1096 tons, built here in 1854, has been sold to Boston parties on private terms.

Rev. Carlos Martyn will preach Sabbath evening, in the North Church, on "Public Plague Spots," with special reference to recent events in New York.

In the St. John's Church, to-morrow (Sunday) morning, the Rector will repeat, by special request, the Epiphany discourse which was delivered last Sunday evening.

The Jackson Leader says that Captain W. Quincy Lowd, of the firm of Lowd & Raymond, has been elected Sergeant-at-Arms of the Mississippi Senate. Mr. Lowd is a Portsmouth boy.

Aaron Young, Esq., was not "removed Dec. 30th by order of the Secretary of the Treasury." The Secretary issued an order in compliance with Collector Bailey's recommendation to that effect, about the middle of December, but ascertaining that the Republicans of Portsmouth opposed the move, revoked the order before the time of removal came. Mr. Young has remained continuously in office, since.

Agreeably to announcement, S. B. Allen, Esq., of Boston, delivered the second lecture before the People's Lyceum at Kittery on Wednesday evening, and as anticipated had a full house. The lecture was fully up to its popular reputation, and was listened to with the closest attention. To Mr. Allen Kittery is largely indebted for many of the features which now characterize its schools as among the best, and its Lyceum and Debating Societies as sources of refinement and education. While a resident there he was prominently identified with school interests, as also in the cause of temperance, and won for himself an enviable position in the respect and esteem of teachers, scholars and citizens generally.

The Dover Enquirer says:—The large vote given to Hon. Horton D. Walker in the Republican Convention was a well deserved testimony of the regard and high estimation of his fellow Republicans throughout the State and especially of those who known him best. With any other competitor than Mr. Straw, and almost any other circumstances, Mr. Walker's nomination could not have been prevented, so favorably known and so deservedly popular does he stand with his fellow citizens; and the cordial acquiescence of Mr. Walker and his friends in the nomination of Mr. Straw, with their generous pledges towards his election, will only intensify their warm appreciation of the man and make all Republicans who honor signal worth and ability wait impatiently for the opportunity to bestow upon him their highest honors.

J. A. Rollins of Moultonborough writes that he shipped in Privateer Portsmouth, of this city, under Capt. Thomas Shaw, for three months, in 1814, and served during two cruises off the Grand Banks and the Newfoundland coast. Mr. Rollins also gave up his school to another teacher when he was drafted, and responded to the call for the defence of Portsmouth, "rendezvoused at Durham under Capt. Vincent Meserve, marched to Portsmouth, and with that company was placed under the command of Major Edward Long, of Portsmouth, and stationed at Fort Washington, on Shapleigh's Island." Mr. Rollins complains that as he was mustered out after fifty-three days' service that he is deprived of a pension under the late act of Congress, which provides a pension to those serving sixty days. Another man who served fifty-nine days is also excluded from the provisions of the act. The few survivors of Col. Long's regiment think they are treated unjustly and call the attention of our Representatives and Senators in Congress to their claims. They deserve prompt recognition.

U. S. ship Marion, Commander Crosman, arrived in the lower harbor on the evening of Jan. 11, and was towed up to the Navy Yard on the morning of the 12th by U. S. S. Speedwell. The Marion left Norfolk, Va., for this port on the 25th of December, and has experienced very severe weather. [The master of barque Andes of Portland, which vessel was spoken by the Speedwell on the 10th, off Thacher's Island, with her ground tackle gone and mizzen blown away, reported the weather of the previous week as the worst he had ever met in a lifetime at sea.] We are informed that Comdr. Crosman had his fingers badly frozen, that many of the crew were severely frostbitten, and that all suffered terribly from exposure. The ship had ten inches of ice on her deck when she arrived, and her catheads were bigger than hogsheads, with ice. The following is a list of her officers: A. F. Crosman, Commander; C. H. Davis, Lieut. Comdr.; Edwin Longnecker, H. N. Manney, Lieutenants; E. S. Prime, Master; H. T. Skelding, Paymaster; A. N. Brown, Asst. Surgeon; Lewis F. Strout, A. F. Bashford, J. K. Crozett, Mates. Most of these officers left the U. S. S. Swatara at Norfolk, after a 25 months' cruise.

Clippings.

The Portsmouth Journal's "local" kindly collected the following items for our use, and we are as much obliged to him as though they had not been used in his own paper:

....A singular coincidence—the Eleventh chapter of Hebrews was read from five of our city pulpits last Sabbath morning.

....Dr. Blackman, the Temperance party nominee for Governor, is expected to give several lectures in this city before election.

....A movement is on foot among our dry-goods dealers to close their stores at 6, P. M., each evening. Why not make it general?

....A beautiful sentiment: "Eyes through which shine the light of other worlds are often dimmed with tears" says one of Portsmouth's writers.

....Among thelist of officers of the U. S. S. Worcester, which is speedily to sail from Boston for the North Atlantic Squadron as flagship, is Engineer David B. Macomb long a resident here. He goes out as Fleet Engineer.

....Several ladies of our city have been noticed on the streets wearing a belt of leather around the waist, to which was fastened a clasp holding a silk umbrella on one side so that they were not obliged to take their hands out of their muff.

....Messrs. Job Jenness & Son, proprietors of the Jenness House, Washington, D. C., have leased that establishment to James Sykes, late of Willard's Hotel. It is understood that Messrs. Jenness will now give their whole attention to their popular summer resort at Rye Beach, the Ocean House.

....On Wednesday the sun began to rise one minute earlier. Sunday about 5 1 2 o'clock A. M., the moon passed very near the planet Venus, a little south of it, both continuing visible several hours after sunrise, their distance of course constantly increasing. A very large spot is visible on the sun near the centre, which can be seen all the week.

....As an instance of the business standbys of Portsmouth we notice the old sign over the store of E. F. Sise & Co., on Market St. which was placed there the 22nd day of June 1822, nearly 50 years ago, and that name has constituted the sole firm occupants of the building ever since. Of those who have followed in the footsteps of the late worthy senior, Mr. William H. Sise will have completed his twenty-five years of active business life at this stand September next. He recalls many reminiscences of by-gone days combining both grave and gay. Mr. Lafayette Laighton is another of our merchants who has nearly completed his quarter century at one stand in the same business.

....The first public appearance in this city of Mrs. George Vandenhoff, which occurred under the auspices of the Young Peoples' Christian Union, at the Temple Monday evening last, drew together one of the most fashionable audiences of the season. As an elocutionist she takes front rank, having a remarkably clear and distinct enunciation, personally pleasing and vivacious yet dignified in manner, versatile in style from grave to gay from lively to severe. Tones and looks which speak the very wit and humor of the text she gracefully pictured in "Mr. Bumble's Courtship" and "David Copperfield's Wooing and Marriage," while the wide scope of the truly pathetic and devout as expressed, in "High Tide on the Coast of Lincolnshire" feelingly impressed the hearts of her listeners. As a whole the entertainment was most enjoyable, and it is hoped that our citizens will soon have the pleasure of again listening to this talented lady.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

HOW TO INCREASE CIRCULATION.—The Poughkeepsie Eagle presents the following unique plan for the general enlargement of the newspaper business. If in no other way commendable, many editors will appreciate those advantages which are clearly expressed in the last few words of the article:

Newspaper publishers spend a great deal of time in planning and executing ways of increasing their subscription lists, and many different means are adopted. Perhaps the most popular of all is the premium plan, where as an inducement to read (or pay for) a two dollar newspaper, a gun, or clothes-wringer or picture is given the subscriber. But a distinguished Dutchess County editor has struck a better plan, and before which the authors of all other schemes must bow their heads in grief. In the generosity of his large and benevolent heart we believe he has not obtained letters patent for it, and as his well-known modesty will prevent him from publishing it in the columns of his own large and interesting paper, we will give it to the newspaper world, confident that all in studying it and fully comprehending its details, will at once exclaim Eureka! and adopt it as the last, best way of all.

To carry this scheme into successful operation, it is not necessary that much brain should be wasted in the editorial management of the paper, as the subscribers rarely bother themselves to take the paper home, but that a clear head and large stomach should be given to its business management. The plan is as follows:

First go to some popular place where refreshments for man and beast are dispensed, and after asking the boys, expatiate on the merits of your paper, in a few well-chosen words, and wind up by proposing a raffle, in which at least ten shall join, with ten cent ante, the editor to be one. The one drawing the highest number has the paper for a year, and the one who draws lowest treats the crowd, and the editor pockets the stamps. This is the plan complete, but as we before said it takes a clear head and large stomach to make it a success, as without a clear head, the boys, if at all smart, will manage to make the editor draw the lowest number at least twice out of five times, and unless he has a large stomach, he will be obliged to rest before any considerable addition is made to the list. A really good editor, by close attention to business, and a successful working of this scheme, can manage to increase his subscription list, make fifty cents or one dollar, calling the value of the paper nothing, and go home drunk every night.

A TEMPERANCE LECTURE IN COLORADO.—A gentleman from Zanesville, now residing in Lincoln City, Colorado, writing home, gives the following account of a lecture on temperance delivered in that place. He says: "I must not close my letter without telling you of an incident that happened here a short time ago. It will give you a little insight how things are done here once in a while. One night the boys of Lincoln concluded to get on a regular, square North American drunk. They did so. To have a little fun they went for the minister (familiarly know as 'Old Father Dyer'); routing him out of his bed at 2 o'clock in the morning, they carried him to the saloon, where they told him he 'either had to drink with them, stand treat, or give a temperance lecture. He decided on the latter, when they rolled out a barrel of whisky as an impromptu stand on which he mounted. Meanwhile it was a perfect bedlam in the saloon; the ring of glasses, the click of revolvers, were only drowned by the loud oaths and ribald jests that were given to him. A lull in the noise gave him a chance to open out, which he did in language not to be mistaken; he piled not his words in regard to the feelings of his hearers, some of his language being more forcible than flattering, like the cut of a sharp instrument, it carried conviction with it. They found they had awakened the wrong sleeper. At the end of his discourse, each man drew forth his gold pouch, stepped up to the gold scales, and weighed out what he thought was the value of the good done him. After all had contributed, it was found that he had done over $240 worth of good. The $240 was promptly handed over to Father Dyer, with $20 in green backs from the saloon keeper. Zanesville Courier.

—The year 1872 contains fifty-two Sundays. September and December each begin on Sunday; January, April and July, on Monday. October is the only month beginning on Tuesday. February begins and ends on Thursday; consequently it has five Thursdays, which will not occur again until the year 1909. In the year 1880 February will have five Sundays, which will not occur again until the year 1920. The year 1871 began on Sunday and ended on Sunday. This will occur again in 1882 and every eleventh year thereafter.

—At the Wharton trial, on the 5th, one of the lawyers, and a doctor who was on the stand, had a dispute relative to the accuracy of men in their respective professions. "The mistakes of the doctor"—said the lawyer—"are buried six feet under ground." "Those of the lawyer"—returned the doctor—"are sometimes hung on a tree." Two to one on the doctor.

—"Woman is a delusion, madam!" exclaimed a crusty old bachelor to a witty young lady. "And man is always hugging some delusion or other," was the quick retort.

—What ancient Universalist clergyman do the literary ladies remind you of? Hosey Blue.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS.
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE; a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfwbld

The Chronicle.

—A Louisville German rejoices in the suggestive and rather appropriate name of Sauerwein.

—The New York yacht club is making preparations for a cruise to Russia next summer, by invitation of the Grand Duke.

—A young woman at Natchez embroiders portraits with straw—possibly for the purpose of securing a strawng resemblance to the original.

—John P. Fandy says he was in Central Africa last summer, where he heard that Dr. Livingston was forced to marry a negro wife and not allowed to leave.

—In the lives of the saddest of us there are bright days, when we feel as if we could take the great world in our arms. Then come the gloomy hours, when the fire will neither burn on our hearths nor in our hearts, and all without and within is dismal, cold and dark. Believe me, every heart has its secret sorrows which the world knows not, and oftimes we call a man cold when he is only sad.—Longfellow.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

Another Discovery.

Hon. Greenbacks H. Pendleton, of Ohio, has written a letter in which he ventilates a startling discovery he has made, viz., that the practice of distributing offices in accordance with the Jacksonian-Democratic theory that "To the victors belong the spoils," grew out of the Republican organization! He says:

"The Democratic party confronts this theory and denounces these practices. Founded upon the idea of local government, jealous of powers granted to authority, taught that simplicity and economy are essential to the honesty necessary in republican institutions, it maintains with a determined purpose that the officers must be subordinate to the civil authority, and that offices are a trust for the people, not spoils for the victors."

How easy it is for a party to be miraculously honest when the Treasury doors are locked and they on the outside! Had the Democratic party "confronted the theory" and "denounced the practice" of using official patronage as a means of perpetuating their hold on the reins of government, when they were in power, their opposition would have carried weight with it; but the fact that they were the original inventers of the "To the victors," &c. plan, and never failed to act upon it whenever they could, exposes their loud protestation to the suspicion of being but hypocritical humbug. And some men's memories may go back to the times when the whole power of a Democratic government, bayonets and all, was used in an endeavor to cram a pro-slavery constitution down the throats of a people who refused to swallow it of their own accord, and when "federal bayonets" glistened around Boston court-house and "federal cannons" were planted in favorable positions for blowing abolitionists out of the way of the slave-hunting aristocracy—and never a word of denunciation came from a Democratic paper or orator.

Mr. Pendleton says that "reform in the civil service is a higher duty than rewarding prospective partisan efforts by distributing spoils;" and our local Democratic cotemporary says "Mr. Pendleton speaks for the Democracy of Ohio, and we are sure that the Democracy of New Hampshire will say amen to his declarations." The New Hampshire Democracy won't say that same "amen" very loud,—if they do they will wake up unpleasant memories of Democratic performances at Concord last year.

THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION will be held in Philadelphia on the first Wednesday of June next. The committee, which met on Thursday, issued a stirring "Call" after deciding upon the place of holding the convention.—The Call reads as follows:

In calling this Convention the Committee remind the country that the promises of the Union Republican Convention of 1868 have been fulfilled. The States lately in rebellion have been restored to their former relations to the government, the laws of the country have been faithfully executed, the public faith has been preserved, and the national credit firmly established; governmental economy has been illustrated by a reduction at the same time of the public debt and of taxation, and the funding of the national debt at a lower rate of interest successfully inaugurated; the rights of naturalized citizens have been protected by treaties, and immigration encouraged by liberal provisions.

The defenders of the Union have been gratefully remembered and the rights and interests of labor recognized. Laws have been enacted and are being enforced for the protection of persons and property in all sections. Equal suffrage has been engrafted on the National Constitution, the privileges and immunities of American citizenship have become part of the organic law, and a liberal policy has been adopted toward all who engaged in the rebellion.

Complications in our foreign relations have been adjusted in the interest of peace throughout the world, while the national honor has been maintained, corruption has been exposed, offenders punished, responsibility enforced, safeguards established, and now, as heretofore, the Republican party stands pledged to correct all abuses and to carry out all reforms necessary to maintain purity and efficiency of public service; to continue and firmly establish its fundamental principles, we invite the co-operation of all citizens of the United States.

SMALL-POX continues to spread in all parts of the British isles. Cardinal Cullen in a pastoral letter permits the use of meat on Fridays for sanitary reasons, on account of the prevalence of the disease.

F. A. MARDEN has been convicted of the embezzlement of $12,000 of government funds while employed as a clerk in the Treasury department at Washington.

Political.

By dint of hard labor and marked ballots, Bingham managed to have his office student chosen clerk of the House at the late session, in place of Benton of Lancaster, whose peculiar fitness for the position was admitted by the Democracy all through the struggle. Now mark the sequel. The March election is close at hand and yet the Journals of the late session are not printed and distributed, because the Democratic clerk cannot get his Journal ready for the printer. This is the young man who in obedience to Bingham, it is said, will place on the roll the names of all the representatives elected whether towns are entitled to so many or otherwise, and hopes to save his office by an organization which would for a time give the Democrats the power. The Republicans should be ready to checkmate this fraud.

Hon. Mason W. Tappan desires us to say that his name was used for the nomination for State Senator in the eighth district without his knowledge or consent. Col. Tappan does not like to be placed in the position of an office seeker when he is not. He knew nothing of the action of his friends until he read the result of the balloting in the papers.

New Hampshire Items.

On the 11th, in East Lebanon, Mr. Asa W. Clark, a workman in the factory of W. O. Haskell & Son, was bit in the throat by a knife from a sticking machine, which severed an artery and cut his windpipe half off. It is doubtful if he recovers.

Mr. A. Bennett, while fixing a belt at Milford on the 9th, was in some way drawn between a pulley and the ceiling, causing his death in a few hours. His age was about thirty years.

New Publications.

The Hoosier School-Master, by Edward Eggleston, which closed as a serial in Hearth and Home, No. 52, of 1871, is received from the Publishers, Orange Judd & Co., New York. Probably no serial by any living American writer was ever so extensively copied. It is a truly American tale. The scene is laid in Hoopole County, Indiana, and the characters are drawn with lifelike accuracy, while the story increases in interest to the very close. It is full of a quaint humor, a tender pathos, and vivid descriptions. The book is bound in fine cloth, printed on heavy paper, and contains 226 pages, with twelve full-page illustrations on tinted paper, and many other cuts designed by Frank Beard. Price, $1.25. For sale by Jos. H. Foster.

The New England Historical and Genealogical Register for January introduces the twenty-sixth volume with upwards of one hundred pages of town, parish and family history, recent bibliography within the field it cultivates, and notes and queries of general interest. The scope and value of the Register will be best indicated by the principal topics of the present number, which opens with a portrait and sketch of the late Benjamin P. Richardson of Boston; sketches of the families of Oxnard, Bromfield, Winslow, Lee of Virginia, and Page; the will of Governor Benefoot of New Hampshire, now first printed from a copy made at the time the will was proved, in 1688-9; Memoir of Hon. Oliver Wolcott, sen., governor of Connecticut, written in 1819 by his son, the second governor of Connecticut of that name; Captain Preble's Notes on Early Shipbuilding in Massachusetts, continued; correspondence, now first printed from the original letters on Early Printing in Virginia, with notes on the Sucker, Madison, Randolph and Bolling families; Mr. C. W. Tuttle's memoir of Christopher Kilby of Boston, which has also been reprinted in a pamphlet by itself; further extracts from the first church in Charlestown, and notes on early local law in Massachusetts. This quarterly is conducted with care, judgment and intelligence, and deserves a liberal support.

REV. W. R. ALGER sleeps well, eight hours in every twenty-four, eats heartily, reads and walks out, and is sufficiently recovered to understand his delusions and to battle with every tendency to a fit of delusion that makes itself apparent. A letter has been received from Dr. Brown-Sequard of Paris, denying the rumor that he had pronounced the case incurable. The prospects of complete recovery are excellent, but it is probable that it will not be advisable for him to resume literary labors to any great extent for a long time, if ever.

FRANK GILBRANE was instantly killed, and Michael Quinn seriously injured by the explosion of a cask filled with lime and water, at the Long Island, N. Y., brewery, Friday morning.

—Arrangements have been made for the introduction of American cars on English railways.

—A North Carolina baby was born with holes in its ears as if pierced for rings. The doctrine of original sin may be unsound, but this child certainly has an ear-ring nature.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH—Discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, acrid, thick, mucous, purulent, offensive, &c. In others a dryness, dry, watery, weak or inflamed eyes, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, constant desire to clear nose and throat, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, &c. Only a few of the above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time. The proprietor of Dr. Sagar's Catarrh Remedy will pay $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which he can not cure. Sold by Druggists at 50 cents. 572.

A STABLE INSTITUTION.—Just at the period when all stable-men were complaining that the horse-constituents of the day were unstable remedies, the MUSTANG LINIMENT made its entree in Missouri, without any flourish of trumpets, and within one year became the favorite embrocation for the external distempers and injuries of horses and cattle in all the Western and Southern States. From that time to this, it has never had a rival in the estimation of accomplished horsemen; nor is its household reputation as a cure for rheumatism, neuralgia, sore nipples and caked breasts, tumors, mumps, sore throat, earache, toothache, bruises, burns, wounds and sprains, a whit behind its celebrity as a horse Liniment. The Mothers of America know its value, and apply it promptly to the external injuries of the "rising generation," and in fact there is not a city or township in the United States where the MUSTANG LINIMENT is not regarded by both sexes and every class, as a blessing to the community.

We were pleased to see, not long since, in one of our exchanges, some pretty severe remarks addressed to several persons, who, during an interesting lecture by Rev. Jno. S. C. Abbott, kept a continuous coughing, which prevented many from hearing. People who cannot refrain from coughing, had better stay away from such places, or else take a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment with them.

The importance of giving Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders to horses that have been out in the cold rain, stood in cold wind, or drank too much cold water, cannot be over estimated; no man should be without them who owns a good horse.

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the sterner sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the thoughts of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. Take VINEGAR BITTERS. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a healthy circulation, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. j15 4w

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Winter-Proof Systems.

Thick boots and flannels are necessary at this season, but the human frame requires something more than these to render it water-proof. The inner man, as well as the outer surface of the body, must be protected. The raw, moist, chilly winds which prevail at this season transplace the warmth and life-giving effect the health unfavorably, both through the pores and the respiratory organs. The surest way to avert the evil is to strengthen the internal machine, and thus enable it to repel the devitalizing influence of unwholesome weather. Enrich the blood, gently stimulate the circulation, regulate the bowels, invigorate the stomach, tone the liver, and brace the nerves with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and no condition of the atmosphere, however inclement, no variation of the barometer or thermometer, however sudden, will have power to disorder the system thus fortified in advance, and put in perfect working order. Damp and cold, acting upon a sensitive or feeble organization, may produce consumption, diptheria, neuralgia, rheumatism, dyspepsia, liver complaint, low nervous fever, or intermittent fever; the importance of rendering the system impervious to these destructive elements is therefore obvious. Persons in delicate health, or who are at all liable to be injuriously affected by atmospheric influences, should take the Bitters daily throughout the winter and spring. In this way dangerous diseases may be warded off, and a condition of perfect health preserved by individuals of comparatively feeble physique, while those more robust, who scoff at precautions, are suffering the penalty of their recklessness in hospitals and sick rooms.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CHEAP AT LAST!

Having received a large number of Sewing Machines (including nearly all kinds) in EXCHANGE FOR THE "DOMESTIC,"

I am prepared to offer them at very low prices. Many of them have not been in use more than a month, and are actually better than new one of the same make, because they have been run just enough to make them work easily. They accumulate so fast that I must dispose of them soon or be over-run with second-hand Sewing Machines. So now is your time to buy cheap, either for cash or by installments. I still continue my offer of

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

There's Nothing Like Leather.

The Shoe and Leather Reporter thinks our "wealthy and conservative" old city must give up hoping and striving for a return of its former position as a commercial city, and take to manufacturing, if it would prosper as younger places have done and are doing. It says:

Portsmouth has every advantage of location, and may be within 10 years one of the representative shoe towns of New Hampshire. The old town is rich and quite conservative, and all its traditions point to commerce on the seas as the broad high road to wealth and preferment, but in common with Salem, Newburyport and other great seaports of the old time, it must resign itself to the loss of its traffic on the ocean, which has sought more favored localities, and the younger part of the community must prosecute domestic manufacturing industries; and the town, once in the lists of those which contend for pre-eminence, will soon have its proper designation and importance as a shoe town, whatever it may lack in milling, mechanism and metal founding.

The shoe business of Portsmouth will commence the year 1872 most hopefully. Manufacturers are preparing for a good trade in their line of work, which is all in women's and men's light goods, machine sewed. T. S. Nowell has a handsome brick factory near the centre of the town, and makes a fine quality of men's goods in gaiters and low cut shoes, and women's goods of a light staple trade for city consumption. The goods are all sold from the salesrooms of the firm on Pearl Street, Boston.

A. F. & C. Davis are putting up a Baxter engine and other machinery, furnished by Tripp, Eddy & Co., of Milk Street, Boston, among which is Tripp's heating-nut machine, and will continue to make for a largely increased demand all kinds of low-cut shoes and slippers for men and women, of the character known to the trade as the Lynn style of goods.

The Rockingham Co-operative Boot and Shoe Company have recently built a new factory 90 by 40 feet, two and a half stories high, for the manufacture of men's light, machine-sewed gaiters and low-cut shoes. This concern is only a year in business, and report the trade as flourishing and extending. The goods made in Portsmouth find a ready market in Boston, the freightage facilities and travelling conveniences of the Eastern Railroad proving sufficient to sustain and encourage the manufacturing enterprises of Portsmouth, which, it is hoped, will be fully appreciated by the citizens, and supported until fully developed on a scale that shall advance the town to a position not inferior to that enjoyed by the younger places that have grown up around it.

Whether this city ever becomes a centre of the shoe trade (or any other) or not, one thing is certain, viz., that a few enterprising shoe manufacturers have added greatly to its prosperity. Mr. T. S. Nowell has won an extended name for his goods, and his trade increases yearly; he has deserved success for his enterprise and energy, and his large manufactory gives profitable employment to many persons of both sexes.

Messrs. A. F. & C. Davis four years ago commenced the manufacture of carpet slippers, in the building corner of State and Washington Streets, employing three assistants and occupying a portion of two floors. Year by year their business has increased, until the whole of the building is none too large for its accommodation; all the latest improvements in machines have been introduced, including a steam-engine now being set up, and when the firm are able to recommence operations, which they hope to do next week, they will employ about sixty persons in the manufacture of common and fancy slippers of all kinds, men's Newport ties and women's serge croquet shoes, with orders enough on hand to necessitate extra hours of labor until the middle of February. Enterprise and perseverance have enabled this firm to develope a large and important interest from a very modest beginning, and they may be regarded as among the real benefactors of the city.

The Rockingham Co-operative Boot and Shoe Company, as stated by the paper previously quoted, have been engaged in business but a year; yet notwithstanding the annoyances and inconveniences incident to the starting of an extensive enterprise by men whose capital consisted to a large extent of the skilled labor of their hands, their past success and present prospects fully warrant them in extending their accommodations and improving their facilities for manufacturing. The small building on Penhallow Street, where the Company first commenced operations, was soon found to be too small, and a portion of the building on Daniel Street, owned by Jas. H. Jenness, Esq., was also rented and occupied. The latter building has recently been very much enlarged, and is the one referred to by the Shoe and Leather Reporter. About one-third of the lower story (in front) is occupied by an oyster saloon, the Rockingham Co. having the rear, which will be used by the sole-leather and bottoming departments of their business; on the second floor will be the stitching room, in the rear, and a counting room and packing and sales room, in front; the upper floor will be used for a store room. The Company will commence work in their new quarters with about forty persons, and as their business increases—and they fully intend it shall continue to increase—will be able to find room for about eighty persons to work. The goods manufactured by them are intended for and are taken up by the New England trade, and consist wholly of the best qualities and newest styles of fine machine-sewed gaiters and low-cut shoes. The styles most in favor with them are Congress, button Oxford, Prince Albert, strap shoes and Oxford ties,—in calf and seal skin and patent leather. The Company find a ready market for their goods, and nearly every dealer who gave them an order last year has given a larger one this year.

The Boston Shoe and Leather Record of Jan. 8 has an article in which the excellence of New Hampshire manufactures (referring to Dover, Rochester, Farmington and Portsmouth,) in the boot and shoe line is endorsed, closing as follows;—

So far as our observation extends, the course of trade will favor the New Hampshire line of goods the coming season, as the goods are wanted, and prices are favorable to a rapid sale. All kinds of prepared shoe stock and artificial leather is regarded with disfavor by New Hampshire manufacturers, who propose to maintain their place in the shoe trade by making a quality of work which will give to consumers their money's worth in durability.

Burglars at Work.

Two well dressed men were about this city, Friday, and hired a team of Mr. H. L. Stoddard returning it after riding about the city. One of them had a U. S. Marshal's badge and seemed in pursuit of some person. In the afternoon the two strangers appeared again at the stable, stating that they must have a double team to go to York with immediately. They went and did not return—but a telegram from Berwick informed Mr. Stoddard, Saturday morning, that his team was smashed at South Berwick and that in the carriage several burglars' tools had been found.

Since writing the above we have seen a dispatch from Great Falls, stating that an unsuccessful attempt was made Friday night to rob the Great Falls National and Savings Bank. An entrance to the building was made through a window which is accessible by an alley leading from Prospect Street, between the bank building and Dr. Elliott's office. From the room they first entered, which is used as a Director's room, three wooden doors leading to the banking room were pressed open. The first operation seems to have been to cut away the brick work on the front of the vault until they reached a heavy granite wall, the lining of the vault, which was too hard for them. Then two heavy jacks were applied to spread apart the walls on either side of the iron doors. By the aid of wedges the first door was opened. The second door, which is made of steel, with combination locks, was untouched, and it is doubtful if the rogues could have broken it, as they are evidently not experts; much less could they have reached the valuables in the steel chest within. It was a bold attempt, as the bank is within a stone's throw of the Boston & Maine engine-house, where there is a watchman always on duty. They evidently left in haste, as their curtains and tools, consisting of the two jacks mentioned, a heavy bar, wedges, pliers and tongs and a heavy sledge, were left behind. It is said a clue is in the hands of the Great Falls police.

Mr. Stoddard recovered his team and brought it home on Saturday. It seems that the carriage was wrecked on the farm of Ex-Gov. Ichabod Goodwin. The rogues then hired a person living near to bring them to Portsmouth. They arrived here at half past 6 o'clock, Saturday morning, fifteen minutes too late to take the first train to Boston. They left in the 8.25 train and the dispatch notifying Mr. Stoddard of the accident to his team was received at 9 o'clock. Mr. Charles E. Tucker, Mr. Stoddard's book-keeper, thinks he knows one of the men and that his name is Kelly.

Laconics.

About ten o'clock, Friday evening, the marine hospital at the Navy Yard was on fire and Mr. H. Lefevre, the steward, it is said put it out—this being his third experience in that line. The fire was set in the attic in two places among some boxes and rubbish, and the incendiary, not content with his labors, had crowded a mattrass into the lower floor and set fire to it. Several inmates of the hospital are confined to their beds, and had the fire continued it is probable they would have been burned alive. A committee of inquiry were investigating the affair, Saturday, and it is reported that a government employe was suspected of setting the fire.

The Greeley club have put three bundles of straw in their windows, corner of State and Pleasant streets.

The Eastern Railroad Company is building an extensive carpenter shop near the foot of Northey street, Salem.

Capt. Andrew L. Emerson of York is to command the clipper ship Pride of the Port, now loading in Boston for San Francisco.

The hand-organ prints a list of officers of the Aqueduct Company the present year, and includes the name of Stephen H. Simes!

Ten years in the State Prison is assigned Mr. Remick, of Kittery, for the recent assault on his son Harry. Rather a heavy sentence.

A hearing before the Railroad Committee of the Maine legislature for a charter allowing the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad to build a road from Kittery to Kennebunkport will be had at Augusta on the 23d inst.

It's rare fun to advertise for the War Department! On Jan. 13, 1872, we received $4 in payment of an advertisement published in this paper, July 4, 1868, the advertisement being ordered by Gen. Foster. The delay, we presume, is an exemplification of the extreme redness of tape.

The Eastern Railroad Company placed three new cars from their shop on the rails last week. They number 102, 103, and 104, and are of the same neat and tasty finish as the last, and as strong and substantial as all the work done under the supervision of J. P. Somerby, the master car-builder.

The Journal, speaking of Gov. Straw's summer residence at Rye, remarks; "Among the handsome turnouts seen in this vicinity during the summer, none has excelled that driven by Mr. Straw". Probably the best turnout shown by Mr. Straw next summer will be when he turns out Weston and his political crew from their ill-gotten places, and restores the State government to its condition before the "fall," last summer.

That enterprising and "startling" (if not always discreet and reliable) critic and would-be regulator of Republican management in journalism and in municipal, State and national affairs, the editor of the local Democratic organ, is indignant because "the partizans who are chosen by the Republican tax-payers refused to accept the offer" of a Democrat to act as Treasurer and Collector for $1000. As Gen. J. G. Hadley was the person making the offer alluded to, and the vote for Treasurer was 14 for Mr. Shannon and 5 for Mr. Bartlett, it would seem that the "partizans" elected by the Democratic tax-payers—assisted by the large number of good Democrats who never pay even their poll tax—"refused to accept the offer" also.

An alarm of fire, Saturday evening, at 9 o'clock, called out the Fire Department, two companies going as far as the residence of Hon. Frank Jones. The fire proved to be in Newington, on Gosling Road. The barn of Mr. Edmund P. Roach, formerly of this city, was set fire to and was burned with its contents, including hay, agricultural implements, a horse, three cows and two pigs. The fire communicated to the house adjoining, a two story building, and that was also totally destroyed. Mr. Roach, while endeavoring to save his property, narrowly escaped being burned. The insurance on the buildings was small and the loss falls heavily on Mr. Roach, being estimated at $3000. He had recently put up an addition to the house and had made other improvements. All his papers and a sum of money were burned.

Alderman Hatch thinks he isn't properly appreciated by the new Mayor, who failed to appoint his mightiness one of the Committee on Accounts. We struggled on through the war without any assistance from him, and the canoe is in such condition that it can still float him without the use of his paddle or his inconsequential chatter. At the last meeting of the old Board of Mayor and Aldermen the Committee on Accounts, of which ex-Committee man Ald. Hatch was chairman, reported favorably upon bills against the City to the amount of $10,500, which were ordered to be paid by the board without individual scrutiny by each member. The present Mayor did not deem Mr. Hatch's services indispensable nor desirable, and a new committee was appointed this year. In the ordinary discharge of their duties they reported favorably upon bills amounting to about $2200, at the regular meeting of the board, Thursday night. Mr. Hatch moved to lay their report upon the table and was voted down so quick that he lost his wind and subsided.

Mr. A. Mirault announces his return on his regular piano-tuning rounds. See advt.

Speaking of the reconstruction of the sloop of war Marion, the local Democratic organ says:

The facts are that a new ship is to be built and the keel has already been laid. To cover the fraud a few pieces of timber will be taken out of the old Marion. The new Marion will be a larger and longer vessel. It is thus that the law is evaded. Congress is economical and refuses to appropriate money to build new ships, but an old one is destroyed and a new one built that takes the old name, and the expenses go in under the head of repairs.

Exactly. In a similar manner the handsomest ship in the navy was reconstructed during the administration of Franklin Peirce, a good many years before you were a Democrat, William.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model, does twice the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1st of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

NEW YEAR'S CALLS.

I don't feel like writing to-day, my head aches. I made calls yesterday—made 125 calls. I finished them about twelve o'clock—an hour ago.

I had my collars cutten off, and commenced at Sixteenth street, and came down. My idea was to make 125 calls of five minutes each. This would take 625 minutes, or ten hours. I think I did it. I worked hard. I was an intermittent perpetual motion. I did all that anybody could do. If any fellow says he made 126 calls, he—well, he is guilty of li-bel. I tried it. I made my 125th call with my eyes closed, and at my 126th I swooned on the hall stairs. Nature was exhausted. Oa! but wasn't it fun! It is nothing to make calls after you have been at it a spell. The last twenty calls I made with one eye closed. I was actually taking a mental nap all the time. My tongue talked right straight ahead, from force of habit. Talking came as easy as ordinary respiration. All I had to do was to open my mouth, and the same words tumbled out:

"Hap—new year Mis Smitte!"

"Ah, Mr. Perkins! I am delighted—"

"May you have man' bap' returns—by—by!"

"But ar'nt you going to drink to—"

"Thank—spleasure (drank) may you live thousand years. By—by" (sliding into the hall and down front steps.)

I started at noon. Made first call on young lady.

She said, "You have many calls to make; won't you fortify yourself with a little sherry?"

I said I would, and drank small glass.

Called next on married lady on Fifth avenue.

She said, "Let's drink to William—you know William off making calls on the girls."

"All right, Mrs. Mason." Then we drank some nice old port to absent William.

On Forty-ninth street met a sainted Virginia mother, who had some real old Virginia egg-nog.

Very nice Southern egg-nog. Abused the Yankees and drank two glasses with Virginia mother.

On Forty-sixth street met lady who had some nice California wine. Tried it. Then went across the street with Democratic friend to say New Year's and get some of old Skinner's 1836 brandy. Got it. Mrs. Skinner wanted us to drink to Skinner. Drank to Skinner, and ate lobster salad.

Met a friend, who said:

"Let's run in and see Coe, the temperance man." Coe said:

"Ah! happy time! Let's drink to my wife."

Drank bottle of champagne to Mrs. Coe—then drank to children.

Drove round to Miss Thompson's on Fifth avenue. The Thompsons are famous for rum punch. Tried two glasses with Miss Thompson. Very happy. House looked lovely. Ate brandy peaches. Good many lights, pretty girls quite numerous. Drank their health. Drank claret. Then drank Roman Punch. Went out leaving a Dunlap hat for a Knox, and a twelve-dollar umbrella in the hat-rack.

Happy thought! — Took Charley Brown in the carriage. Charley said, "Let's drop in on the Madison avenue Masons." "All right." Dropped in. Miss Mason says, "have some nice old Madeira?" Said, "Yes, Miss Mas'n, will have some, my dearie." Drank to Mrs. Mason, and ate boned turkey to young ladies. Young ladies dressed beautifully—hair court train, and shoes a la Pompadour. Left overcoat and changed high hat for fur cap. Saw a span of horses in a carriage drawn by Charley King. Charley was tightually slight. Said he had been in to Lent, eating boned sherry and drinking pale turkey.

Now all called on the Lambs on Thirty-fourth avenue. Old Lamb was round. "Lamp's very good," says Charley.

Also drank brandy peaches here, and ate more pony brandy. Young ladies beau'ful high-heeled dress and shoes cut decollete. Great many of them. Nice Roman punch with monogram on it. Had fried sanwich with brandy on it. Presented large bouquet in corner to Mrs. Lamb. Exchanged hat for hall card basket, and slid down front banisters.

Called on Vanderbilt. Hang Vanderbilt! Vanderbilt did'n rec'v calls. Carried off card basket and hung Charley's hat on the bell-knob. Used Van's cards to make other calls with. Kept calling. Called steady. Called between calls. Drank more. Drank everywhere. Young ladies mere beau'ful. Wanted us to come back to party in evening. Came back. Grand party. Berns tein furnished by music. Drank more lobster salad. Drank half a glass of silk dress and poured rest on skirt of Miss Smith's champagne in corner. Slumped plate gas-light green silk down on to nice ice cream. Dresses more white tarleten young ladies cut swallow tail. Sat on young lady's hand and held stairs. Very happy. Fellows had been drinking.

11 P. M. Left party. Carriage outside wanted me to get into Fred Young and promenade over to the Stewarts. Roman punch had been drinking Fred. He invited 8 other horses to get into the fellows and ride around to the Stewarts. Stewart tight and house closed up. Left pocketbook in card basket outside, and hung watch and chain over bell knob.

Called on the Furgisons. All up. Had old Burgundy. Furgison's brick. Took sherry. Beau'ful young lady dressed in blue Roman punch. Opened bottle of white gros grain trimmed with Westchester county lace. Drank it up. Fellows getting more tete-a-ty slight. Drank pompadour rum with young lady dressed a la Jamaica. Had not strength to refuse. Drank hap'ney year fifteen times—then got into Fifth Avenue Hotel and told the driver to drive round to the carriage. Came up to the letter, and wrote this room for the Com-vertiser. Pulled coat off with boot-jack, and stood self up by the register to dry. Then wrote——wrote more——

ELI PERKINS, in N. Y. Com. Advertiser, Jan. 2.

—The Emperor of China is soon to be married, and has imported a pair of elephants to assist at the ceremony. His future consort is undergoing a careful training in the etiquette of court life. For three years the looms of Nankin, Hongchou and Canton have been engaged on the silks and satins for her bridal trousseau, and just now they are announced as completed, at a cost of nearly half a million in our money. When the bridegroom, who has the sun for his emblem, goes forth in a car drawn by elephants, his bride, who represents the moon, is to be borne to her palace in a palanquin composed entirely of strings of pearls.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying of all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawf6t6

The Chronicle.

—As we expected and hoped, Rev. Mr. Hepworth of this city has taken his "departure" from the Unitarians, and declared his intention of acting hereafter with the Orthodox Congregationalists. His sermon of last Sunday morning was a strange jumble for a metropolitan preacher; but its inconsequence and incoherency are somewhat accounted for by the agitation caused by his receiving on Saturday evening a note from the Chairman of the Trustees, informing him that his pastoral services would not be required after the discourse of the morrow. This Mr. Hepworth regarded as an insult. The chairman rose to explain his course in a very courteous manner, but was greeted with hisses by some of Mr. Hepworth's admirers. Mr. Hepworth closed his brief but not quite brilliant career at the Church of the Messiah by saying, "I do not want to preach in this pulpit, but I shall preach somewhere next Sunday—you may believe;" words which read much more like the bravado of a bully than the utterance of a disciple of the meek and lowly Jesus. What Mr. Hepworth proposes to do has not been stated, but he intimated a desire to form a new church for the people with no theology but "Christ." His recent demonstrations have given him a vast deal of gratuitous advertising, and a notoriety which he may consider fame. Golden Age.

—The following touching lines were written by a blind Darwinian peanut vender, on the corner below our office, with chalk, on the side of his wagon. As soon as he had completed them he was so overcome that he swooned and was carried away on his own wagon, which we had meantime surreptitiously procured to be photographed; and are thus enabled to lay before our readers this charming morceau:

THE DARWINIAN'S CONSOLATION.

No more shall plesiosaurus, nor the frisky ichthyosaurus
Divide with pterodactyls all our fellowship of kin;
Nor the cunning megalosaurus, letting on he never saw us,
Slam the doorway in our faces, while he asks the mammoth in.
By the doctrine of selection, we have gained the topmost ladder,
And if we can't grow better, why, at least we won't grow badder.

—A romantic couple of Franklin, Tenn., whose course of true love didn't run smooth, of course, planned a runaway scheme which they proceeded to carry out early on a recent morning. They had got as far as the depot, waiting to take the train, when the young love became nervous lest the irate father should overtake him, but his betrothed reassured him, thusly: "I don't see how he can; I really don't. He lives three miles from here, and if he comes he will have to walk. He can't make the distance afoot before the arrival and departure of the train. I foresaw the danger of such a denouement, last night, and made my arrangements accordingly. I went to the stables, hid all the bridles, locked the doors, and threw the keys away. When I left home this morning, mother and father were asleep. I quietly turned the key upon them and threw it away, too."

—One of the most desperate of all the bloody personal conflicts which have occured in the West took place in Nevada between a fugitive convict and his pursuer. Both were armed with Henry rifles, which discharge sixteen shots without reloading. The convict fired eleven shots, all of which took effect and all caused fatal wounds. His pursuer, Armistead, fired fifteen shots and hit him twelve times. As he fired his fourteenth shot Armistead fell from loss of blood. The convict, who had been retreating, ran up to finish him, when Armistead drew up and shot him through the head killing him instantly. The victor lived but two hours.

—A party of wits once stopped at a tavern. When the feast was over, one of the members called in the hostess. "Angelique," he said, "I am going to give you a lesson in astronomy. Have you not heard of the great Platonic year, when everything must return to its former condition? Know, then, that in sixteen thousand years we shall be here again, on the same day and at the same hour. Will you give us credit till then?" The hostess, however, had her reply. "I am perfectly willing," she retorted, "but it is just sixteen thousand years since you were here before, and you left without paying; settle the old score, and I will trust you on the new."

—One day the surgeon came to the side of an ague patient in a military hospital, and anxiously inquired how he felt. In the midst of a shivering chill the reply was, "No—no—t a—bit bet-ter." "I am sorry; but your case is a very peculiar one and hard to get hold of," said the surgeon, sympathetically. "Ye—yes," said the shivering soldier, "that's that so: th—th—th—n ca— case sha—shakes so yo—you can—t gi—get—a a hold-d of it—tah." He recovered.

—A New York politician, in writing a letter of condolence to the widow of a "country member" who had been his friend says: "I am pained to hear that ——has gone to heaven. We were bosom friends, but now we shall never meet again."

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much confined to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S
EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S
Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

JURUBEBA.
IT IS NOT A PHYSIC—It is NOT what is popularly called a BITTERS, nor is it intended as such. IT IS A SOUTH AMERICAN plant that has been used for many years by the medical faculty of those countries with wonderful efficacy as a POWERFUL ALTERATIVE and UNEQUALLED PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD and is a Sure and Perfect Remedy for all Diseases of the
LIVER AND SPLEEN, ENLARGEMENT OR OBSTRUCTION OF INTESTINES, URINARY, UTERINE OR ABDOMINAL ORGANS, POVERTY OR A WANT OF BLOOD, INTERMITTENT OR REMITTENT FEVERS, INFLAMMATION OF THE LIVER, DROPSY, SLUGGISH CIRCULATION OF THE BLOOD, ABSCESSES, TUMORS, JAUNDICE, SCROFULA, DYSPEPSIA, AGUE AND FEVER, OR THEIR CONCOMITANTS.
Dr. Wells' Extract of Jurubeba
is offered to the public as a great invigorator and remedy for all impurities of the blood, or for organic weakness with their attendant evils. For the foregoing complaints is confidently recommended to every family as a household remedy, and should be freely taken in all derangements of the system; it gives health, vigor and tone to all the vital forces, and animates and fortifies all weak and lymphatic temperaments.
JURUBEBA

A Y E R ' S
CHERRY PECTORAL
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.
The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvelous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proofs of great skill and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.
JOHN TAGGART."

The Daily Chronicle,

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1872.

Congress.

Senator Sumner delivered an able speech on his civil rights amendment to the amnesty bill, Monday. He considers it one of the most memorable efforts of his public career.

In the House, Mr. Freeman Clark of New York introduced a bill providing for a return of specie payments, as he believes, without contraction of the currency. It directs the President, at any time he shall deem expedient during the present year, to redeem after thirty days' notice the legal-tender notes in coin at par at the sub-treasury in New York, or other appointed places. National banks are also required to redeem their notes at par in New York, those outside of the city appointing banks in the city or agents for the purpose. National banks shall continue to hold the amount of reserved funds prescribed by the present law, in addition to the coin on hand, until the first of September, 1873. The fourth section of the bill authorizes a bank of redemption in New York, in which national banks may hold stock to the amount of one per cent. of their capital. The fifth exempts from taxation the average amount of deposits kept by national banks for purposes of redemption, and the sixth requires the Secretary of the Treasury to keep one hundred millions of coin on hand, provided that he may use the proceeds of the sales of bonds in redemption of other outstanding bonds. Duties on imports will continue to be paid in coin. The bill was referred to the committee on banking and currency, and is said to meet the views of Mr. Hooper, the chairman.

SATURDAY was an exciting day in New Orleans. The streets were crowded with people, and the police and military were active. In accordance with the programme of the Carteritas a committee of that faction demanded of the house a reinstatement of its officers and members as it existed on the 4th instant, which was tersely refused. Another committee demanded of Governor Warmoth a removal of the police about the hall of the house, which was also refused. Then a crowd collected about the headquarters of the Carter faction, and Mr. Carter said he would appeal to General Emory. The crowd rushed for Camp street, and General Emory was called for, accompanied by a demand for a declaration of martial law. The general replied to the mob that if they did not disperse he would give them martial law with grape and canister, and the crowd went away. General Emory had the United States troops ordered out at the request of Governor Warmoth, who represented that there were threats of a riot and of a demolition of the State capitol. The city was quiet Sunday, the only event of importance being the sending of a letter to General Emory by Carter, in which he announced his intention of appointing extra sergeants-at-arms to take possession of the State house today, and asked protection from violence in so doing. The general refused to give aid or advice.

A BILL has passed both houses of the Illinois legislature which makes a radical change in regulating the sale of liquors in that State. It enacts that no intoxicating liquors shall hereafter be sold in Illinois without a license shall be issued unless the party applying therefor shall give bonds in $3000, with two freehold sureties, and they shall pay all damages to any person incurred in person or property by the selling of liquor under said license, the penalty to be recovered in the name of the State for the use of any person injured by liquor sold by such licensed person.

MR. JOHN H. COMER, the administrator of Colonel Fisk's estate, has been presented with a bill for $2500, the price demanded for allowing Fisk to die in the Grand Central Hotel. Mr. Comer says that Fisk's personal property amounts to scarcely $100,000, the lawyers and other luxuries having used up his ill-gotten gains. The story that Fisk had his life insured for a large amount is contradicted.

THE GRAND JURY at New York has found indictments against the murderer, Stokes, and there seems to be no reason why his trial should not come on immediately, but his counsel will endeavor to keep it off as long as possible.

HENRY BELL MITCHELL, an Indian boy, 14 years of age, has been convicted of robbing a stage in Sonoma county, Cal. The robbery was committed by the boy alone, at night, armed only with a fence picket.

Political.

A soldier of our acquaintance, as true and faithful a man as ever breathed, who lost a leg at Fort Wagner, and who voted the Labor Reform ticket last year and year before, was a delegate to the Republican Conventions which met at Haverhill, Wednesday, the 10th. In view of the conduct of the Labor Reformers at Concord last June, and the pendency of the election of a U. S. Senator next June, he made the remark to us, "I would rather take another hard knock than see Harry Bingham or John G. Sinclair elected to the U. S. Senate." Our friend is not alone.—Lebanon Free Press.

A noted Democratic leader in this State remarked of a certain Democratic member of the present Legislature, who last June was not quite ready to do all his dirty work, that he had "too much religion to be much of a Democrat."

According to a Democratic cotemporary, the Patriot, Hon. Lewis W. Fling was renominated "as candidates for Senator, by acclimation."

Seven women were permitted to vote at a special local election in Vallejo, Cal., on the 1st instant.

A correspondent writes us as follows: The Labor Reformers of Danville had a meeting on Thursday evening last, and sent invitations to several in other towns. There was a fair attendance and some speaking. Danville has been Republican for quite a number of years, till last year, when the Labor Reformers made an unhappy diversion and the Republicans were in a minority of ten. Of course a Democrat was chosen representative. A good spirit exists among the Republicans and they are laboring with good hope of success. Labor Reform now means simply office-seeking and Democracy, in this State.

HOW TO GET BACK TO SPECIE.—Mr. Charles Rogers, of Philadelphia, the originator of the present National bank system, makes the following suggestions in regard to the resumption of specie payments, which we think are entitled to the careful consideration of all business men:

1. Let the Government issue no more postal currency.

2. Let Congress make a law compelling all Government disbursing offices and all National banks to pay sums under one dollar in silver.

To illustrate: If an individual draw on a bank $50.75, the seventy-five cents to be paid in silver; or, if a man purchase twenty-five cents' worth of postage stamps, and presents a dollar bill, he receives his change in silver.

Thus silver would take the place of the retired and retiring postal currency. The premium upon it would as gradually decrease, thereby finally affecting the premium on gold, and bringing it into use, or making bank bills its equivalent, which is the same thing.

BOSTON'S NEW DAILY PAPER is to be issued about March 1st. The Courier says the following gentlemen are engaged for it:—Manager, M. M. Ballou. Literary editor, Edwin P. Whipple. Political editor, Charles H. Taylor. Financial editor, Murray R. Ballou. Dramatic and musical critic, Benjamin E. Woolf (of the Saturday Evening Gazette). Night editor, Mr. Aldrich (of the Worcester Spy). Ship-news editor, A. J. Lawson (late of the Evening Traveller). City editor, Clarence S. Wason (late of the Charlestown Chronicle). Art critic, M. F. Round (of the Daily News). Local reporters, Mr. Spaulding (of the News), and Mr. A. A. Knowlton (short-hand), a new man. Washington correspondent, R. J. Hinton. Business man, Henry G. Parker (of the Saturday Evening Gazette).

PAYING BACK.—The Patriot expresses the hope that the Democracy in the Second Senatorial District will vote for Winfield Scott Meserve, the Danville Labor Reform Republican, who was adopted last March by the Democracy, elected to the House, and voted as Harry Bingham's finger indicated. He now comes out as a competitor of Mr. Taylor, whom the Labor Reformers nominated two years ago.

THE LONDON PRESS generally approve of the project for the laying of a new cable from the English coast to that of the United States, and agree that cheaper rates than those of the present lines will be incentive to the business community and the press of both countries.

GRAND MASTER JOHNSTON, who led the Orange procession in New York on the 12th of July, was soon after appointed to a position in the custom-house by request of the President, and still holds the office.

JUSTICE STRONG has delivered an opinion in the Supreme Court affirming the Legal Tender act of 1862. This opinion was concurred in by Justices Miller, Bradley, Davis and Swayne.

THE SALARY of Minister De Long, who accepts the Japanese mission to America and other great powers, is to be thirty thousand dollars yearly.

—This is the way they report an attempt at robbery in California:—"After walking half a block, the sport stopped suddenly and asked Mr. Jackson if he had anything with him. Without any hesitation Mr. Jackson pointed two revolvers at the sport, and asked him which he would prefer. The reply was that he did not want anything to do with him. Jackson could not walk as fast as the other man did, and consequently had to go to his hotel alone."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH—Discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, acrid, thick, mucous, purulent, offensive, &c. In others a dryness, dry, watery, weak or inflamed eyes, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, constant desire to clear nose and throat, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, &c. Only a few of the above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time. The proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will pay $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which he can not cure. Sold by Druggists at 50 cents. 572.

We were pleased to see, not long since, in one of our exchanges, some pretty severe remarks addressed to several persons, who, during an interesting lecture by Rev. Jno. S. C. Abbott, kept a continuous coughing, which prevented many from hearing. People who cannot refrain from coughing, had better stay away from such places, or else take a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment with them.

The importance of giving Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders to horses that have been out in the cold rain, stood in cold wind, or drank too much cold water, cannot be over estimated; no man should be without them who owns a good horse.

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the sterner sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the keenness of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. Take VINEGAR BITTERS. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a perfect digestion, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. j15 4w

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Thrown in Reinforcements.

The Citadel of Life is in a state of siege all through the year, but is never more closely invested than in mid-winter. The liver is usually somewhat torpid, and the bowels more or less constipated at this season, and dyspepsia often assumes its most aggravated form in cold and wet weather. In short, the sluggish system seems inclined to intermit or shirk some of its most important duties under the influence of a low temperature, and requires wholesome stimulation. The spur required is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the only medicine which quickens the action of the secretive organs, and brings out the latent vitality of the system, without creating any febrile symptoms, or the slightest nervous excitement.

The great Vegetable Tonic is not recommended as a specific for Coughs, Colds and Consumption—that field being left open to the concoctors of preparations which can not by any possibility reach the lungs! but as a specific for the constitutional and physical weakness which invite pulmonary diseases, it is literally infallible. The most insidious and terrible enemy of human life is not disease itself, but the weakness which affords it an opportunity to gain a firm hold of the vital system. Remember that Stamina, Vital Energy—the life-principle, or whatever you may choose to call the resistant power which battles against the causes of disease and death, is the grand safeguard of health. It is the garrison of the human fortress, and when it waxes weak, the true policy is to throw in reinforcements. In other words, when such an emergency occurs, commence a course of Hostetter's Bitters.

—The following appears under the head of "Divorces" in a contemporary: "Stevenson—In Chicago, John A. Stevenson from Thamazine Stevenson. Cause, Stevenson, who is a travelling salesman, was walking through Morristown, Pennsylvania, one day, when a man put a pistol to his head and walked him into a house, where he found a justice of the peace, who forced him to marry a girl whom he had never seen before, and then the girl's father kicked him out of the house."

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Laconics.

The Republican Committees of the three Wards are requested to meet at their headquarters on Daniel Street, (the room formerly occupied by Joseph P. Morse, Esq.,) this Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, for organization and business.

The ladies of the Methodist Society at Greenland give entertainments in the Town Hall at that place this (Tuesday) and to-morrow evenings, consisting of singing, dialogues, tableaux, charades and recitations, the net proceeds to be applied to the use of the church. Oysters, ice creams and other refreshments will be furnished.

The Gosling road fire-bug had but a short run. On Monday, Asst. Marshals Entwistle and Barsantee went to Newington, to the farm of a Mr. Furber, and arrested a young man named George Howe, about 26 years of age, on suspicion of being the incendiary who set fire to Mr. Roach's barn on Saturday night, he having been seen in the vicinity about half an hour before the fire broke out. He confessed to having committed the act, but disclaimed any malice and said he did not know what made him do it. We are informed that some time ago a pig was procured of Mr. Roach by Howe's wife, but not being paid for was removed from Howe's premises by Mr. Roach, and taken back. Whether any ill-will between the parties resulted from the manner in which the pig trade was settled we did not learn. Mr. Roach's property was insured $2000. The penalty for Howe's offence, if he is convicted, is not less than seven nor more than thirty years in State prison.

Aldermon Hatch, poor fellow, is no more—to sit as Chairman of the Committee on Accounts. He feels badly, and lets it be known to His Honor the Mayor and the rest of the bored. The copper whi-hi-er of the Lyre has taken up the mournful ditty, and shinbone alley is disconsolate. The chip which it so defiantly put on its champion's head was not touched; but where's the head gone? Sorrow pervades the ranks of the undismayed; whether the sorriest are rankest or the rankest sorriest is a question for the "eyes and nose" of the unsympathetic world. That the Republican Aldermen could be so cruel as to resist the plaintive appeal of the disinterested patriot — the mill-dam seer whose words of counsel and cheer were omitted when our Boys in Blue left for the seat of the late unpleasantness, just to save his breath for such great occasions as these, is too much for astonished hunkerdom.

Chester C. Hutchins of Bath is the Republican nominee for Councillor in the Fifth district.

The Republicans of the Twelfth district have nominated John Farr of Littleton for Senator.

In one day, recently, about two tons of bass were caught in the Squamscott between the Concord and Portsmouth Railway bridge and Exeter village. The most of them were sold on the river at 12 1-2 cents per pound, and were sent to New York city markets.

Hon. E. L. Cushing of Charlestown is the Democratic nominee for Senator in the 10th district.

Mrs. Stevens, wife of Mr. B. F. Stevens of Goffstown Centre, committed suicide Sunday morning, by hanging herself with some strips of carriage reins. She was greatly depressed in spirits on account of the illness of her husband. She ate her breakfast as usual, after which she went to a chamber and committed the fatal act.

As the mixed train which left White River Junction at 6 o'clock Saturday for Bellows Falls was approaching High Bridge, West Claremont, for some unaccountable reason the train broke apart three cars behind the locomotive, and as the train ran on to the bridge, four freight cars loaded with lumber and one with hay broke away from those in the rear and went off the bridge. On one of these cars was an Irishman named Crowley, stealing a ride from Windsor to Claremont. The distance from the top of the bridge to the highway below, where Crowly and the cars landed, is about one hundred feet. The cars were completely smashed, but the man was not severely injured, though a large amount of lumber was heaped upon him. The passenger car, in which there were ten passengers and the conductor and brakeman, remained on the track.

RAYMOND ITEMS.—The number of deaths in Raymond in 1871 was 32. This was an unusally large number.

In correspondence, not long ago, mention was made of a festival by the Congregationalists, the proceeds of which were to be appropriated to the purchase of an organ for their Vestry, and that there was dissatisfaction because promenading was not allowed. Immediately the Methodists got out bills for a Levee, in which it was stated there would be at the close a grand promenade. The Levee was had, and there was a promenade, but that was not the close; dancing followed, to a late hour. A few evenings later one who had been concerned in the Drama —"Ten Nights in a Bar Room,"—and thereby was out of pocket some fifteen dollars, had a Levee, oyster supper, promenade, &c., and found a net gain of seven dollars, besides unstinted pleasure. Next, in quick order, a Dancing School was started. One member of a church declared, "Church or no church, I shall go and dance." So in some directions matters are lively here.

Mr. Moses R. Currier has been for some time the very acceptable Superintendent of the Congregational Sabbath School. He has left town and gone to Manchester, and his friends have obtained as a present for him a beautiful silver cake basket, mainly purchased by the contributions of the young in the Sabbath School. New Publications

Godey's Lady's Book for February is at hand. The illustrations consist of two Valentine plates, a handsome fashion-plate, an alphabet of interlaced letters, a large presentation sheet of braiding patterns, and the second of the series of Miss Lolipop's Party. In the work department the usual variety of designs for fancy work occupy a large space. Brilliant and entertaining reading matter, by popular authors, combine to make this a spirited number.

Scribner's Monthly for February contains some very remarkable articles. Prof. Hayden's paper on the last Yellowstone Exploration confirms the graphic accounts before published in this Magazine; and the illustrations are exceedingly curious and effective. R. H. Seeley tells about "The Mormons and their Religion," Prof. Wells gives an illustrated description of "The Charities of the Fatherland," with some valuable suggestions concerning Protestant Sisterhoods. A writer whose name is not given, contributes one of the most important articles that have lately appeared, on the "Defects of the National Banking System." "How One Woman Kept her Husband" is the title of a new and powerful story by Saxe Holm, author of "Esther Wynn's Love Letters." "Back-log Studies — Renewed" is in Warner's wittiest and most suggestive style; and Mrs. R. S. Greenough's "Christine Nilsson and her Maestro" is a charming piece of reminiscence. "At His Gates," Mrs. Oliphant's new story, is one of her best. "Wilfrid Cumbermede," by George Macdonald, is continued, and will soon be published in book form. Mr. Barnes' spirited poem, "The Fox Hunters," is beautifully illustrated and gives a wintry flavor to the opening pages. In "Topics of the Time" Dr. Holland protests against "Triflers on the Platform," describes the merits and demerits of "American and European Railways," and says something about "Dressing the Girls."

The Physician's Annual, a calender for 1872.

The Song Messenger for December is on our table. It contains the song of Mrs. O'Leary's Cow, by "P. Green," editorials on "Adapting Hymns to Tunes," "The Cabinet Organ in Play," by Mr. Geo. F. Root and others. Also a now song, "Ye Have Done It Unto Me," by Mr. Root, a Christmas anthem, and several glees. Published by Root & Cady, Chicago, at $1 a year.

We have made arrangements with the publishers of the American Stock Journal to send three monthly numbers gratis and post paid to all our subscribers who apply for them. Farmers and Stock Breeders should avail themselves of this generous offer, as the three numbers contain nearly 100 pages of choice original articles, on Veterinary Science, Farming, Stock Breeding, Dairying, Poultry Breeding, etc., handsomely illustrated with engravings. Also a great number of valuable recipes for the cure of various diseases to which Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Swine, Poultry, &c., are liable. Address N. P. Boyer & Co., Publishers, Parkesburg, Pa.

—Here are some statistics for temperance orators, or rather for all thinking men and women. During the last ten years there have been 132,103 persons committed to the station houses in New York city for intoxication—65,674 of them women. In 1865, out of 18,518 committed for that offence, 11,392 were women. Can Gough give a temperance lecture as eloquent as these figures?

A STABLE INSTITUTION.—Just at the period when all stable-men were complaining that the horse-ointments of the day were unstable remedies, the MUSTANG LINIMENT made its entree in Missouri, without any flourish of trumpets, and within one year became the favorite embrocation for the external distempers and injuries of horses and cattle in all the Western and Southern States. From that time to this, it has never had a rival in the estimation of accomplished horsemen; nor is its household reputation as a cure for rheumatism, neuralgia, sore nipples and caked breasts, tumors, mumps, sore throat, earache, toothache, bruises, burns, wounds and sprains, a whit behind its celebrity as a horse Liniment. The Mothers of America know its value, and apply it promptly to the external injuries of the "rising generation," and in fact there is not a city or township in the United States where the MUSTANG LINIMENT is not regarded by both sexes and every class, as a blessing to the community.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING.—We have made great additions to our jobbing facilities—a mammoth Hand Press (the largest in Portsmouth,) new Display Type, Borders of various styles, &c.—and are prepared to execute with neatness and dispatch, all orders for FULL SHEET POSTERS, DATE SLIPS, PAMPHLETS, SERMONS, ADDRESSES, AUCTION BILLS, CONSTITUTIONS, BY LAWS, PROGRAMMES, HANDBILLS, CIRCULARS, ORDERS DANCES, BLANKS, BILL HEADS, RECEIPTS, TICKETS, BUSINESS, MARRIAGE, ADDRESS AND VISITING CARDS, LABELS, TAGS, and in fact PRINTING OF ANY DESCRIPTION, at SATISFACTORY PRICES. FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS

and Dealers in Government Securities,

No. 5 Nassau Street,

New York, Nov. 20, 1871

The successful and rapid negotiation of nearly three-fourths of the FIFTEEN MILLION LOAN OF THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY, and the energetic prosecution of the work of extension and preparation of the road for an extensive mineral, agricultural, and through traffic, have placed the financial affairs and resources of the Company upon such a basis, that we are directed to advance the price for future sales of the Bonds, as explained in the following letter of MR. HUNTINGTON, President of the Company:

OFFICE CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY
54 William Street, New York,
NOVEMBER 18, 1871.

Messrs. FISK & HATCH,
Bankers and Financial Agents C. & O. R.R. Co.:
Gentlemen:

The Western Division of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, comprising the 95 miles between Huntington, on the Ohio River, and the mouth of New River (above the Falls of Kanawha), is now substantially completed, and will, in a few days, be ready to do the immense coal and other business that is awaiting its completion. The Eastern Division, comprising 227 miles, between White Sulphur Springs and Richmond, is now in complete order and successful operation. The grading and masonary on eleven of the 103 miles, between the mouth of New River and White Sulphur Springs, is complete, and the work on the remaining 91 miles is so far advanced that track-laying will be commenced on this portion of the road in May next, and continued without interruption until the whole line is completed.

In view of these facts, you are hereby directed to make no further sales of the Bonds of said Company at a less price than 94 and accrued interest, at which price you will continue to sell until further orders.

Very respectfully yours,
C. P. HUNTINGTON, President.

In compliance with the foregoing instructions, the price of the Bonds, from this date, until further orders, will be 94 and accrued interest.

The scarcity of, and demand for, really

Desirable six per cent. Gold Bonds,

for solid and permanent investments, is evinced by the facts that

Five-Twenty Bonds of 1867 are selling at...115
Central Pacific Bonds are selling at.....103
Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are selling at..94

These bonds all pay both principal and interest in New York City, in U. S. gold coin, and are equally safe for investment.

The reason why FIVE-TWENTY BONDS are so high is because no more can be issued, and the outstanding amount is being rapidly decreased by purchases by the Government from their surplus revenues.

The reason why we think CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS will in time advance to the price of Five-Twenties, is because no more can be issued; while the operation of their Sinking Fund will soon commence to decrease the amount.

The reason why CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are selling so low, comparatively, while equally safe, is because the Company are selling Bonds to complete their road. They will all be sold, in a short time, and in a few months the road will be finished, when we have no doubt the same result will follow as with FIVE-TWENTIES and CENTRAL PACIFIC Bonds. The Sinking Fund of the Chesapeake and Ohio must go into effect within one year after the completion of the road.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are issued either coupon or registered—the denominations are as follows:

$100, which cost to day.....$94.13
$500 " " " " 471.56
$1000, " " " " 943.12

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, may be sent through any National Bank or Banker; or accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

We buy and sell Government and Centrall Pacific Bonds and receive them in exchange for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds.

Accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum.

OLD TIME CHRONICLES, No. 45.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

The Wentworth House.—In the church formed by the early settlers of Dover there was a Wentworth, who was Elder, an office then known in many churches. He had a son John, who resided in Portsmouth and was a merchant; and in 1717, while New Hampshire was united with Massachusetts and the royal Governor resided in that Province, this John was appointed Lieut. Governor. He held the office till his death in 1730. In 1741 New Hampshire was separated from Massachusetts, and Benning Wentworth, son of Lieut. Gov. John Wentworth, was appointed Governor. After more than twenty-five years he resigned, and four years later died in Portsmouth, in the year 1770.

The Wentworth House is two miles south of the compact part of Portsmouth, and was built by Gov. Benning Wentworth while he was in office. It is probably more than 125 years old. Portsmouth having had Newcastle, Newington, Greenland and a part of Rye set off and incorporated before the close of Wentworth's administration, was yet a town of from three to four thousand inhabitants. The Governor, like English noblemen, was disposed to retire from the busy part of the town. The location of his mansion is now an arm of the sea, and to this day but two or three houses are near, and those not in sight. Newcastle, however, is not far off, across the water.

The house never could have been very showy outside. It was irregular in shape, was rather a pile of buildings, and its grandeur must have been in its capaciousness. The number of rooms is about forty. The parts are one story, two stories and three stories high. It went out of the Wentworth family to the Cushing family. It is now occupied by Mrs. Cushing, who kindly showed us through parts of it; and we were pointed while outside to a hill a little westerly, where the royal troops were posted for defence in Gov. Wentworth's time. It is believed the troops numbered from one to two thousand men.

We first noticed large chimneys, wide fire places and high mantle pieces. In one room the paper on the walls was French velvet, which after the lapse of a century or more, looks as good as new. In a small room near are racks for quite a number of muskets; no doubt in the Governor's day these were filled. We pass on and notice chairs of olden time, with high backs, wood seats and richly carved. In one room is an old picture of the apostle Peter and the cock crowing behind him, as named in the Bible, to his great consternation. In another room are two pairs of China shoes, which Mr. Israel brought from that country ten years ago. It is known that Chinese ladies wear small shoes, taking pride in keeping their feet small. In the same room numerous paintings hang on the walls; one very beautiful is a portrait of Gov. Hancock's wife. Her dress and ornaments were evidently rich and costly. One of the largest pictures is of the Earl of Strafford. It possesses a melancholy interest and represents him the day before his execution, in prison and dictating to his Secretary, who is writing what the Earl dictates. The Earl of Strafford was a victim of the troublous times of Charles I of England. Strafford was Lieutenant of Ireland and at the head of the Council of York. He possessed noble talents and character, although not without some faults. He was a friend of the king and had the confidence of that monarch. He was sent to the scaffold in 1741, and eight years later the throne was overturned and Charles I was executed by being beheaded as the Earl of Strafford had been.

The barn near the Gov. Wentworth house (and built by him) is not large. It is presumed that he was not fond of horses.

The town of Wentworth, in Grafton County, was named in honor of Gov. Benning Wentworth. He had a good education, having graduated in 1715, at the age of 20. At the time of his death, Oct. 14, 1770, he was 75 years of age.

—The Box and Cox arrangement is quite common in London. Certain classes attending the theatres every night—ballot dancers, supes and the mob which is attached to a pantomime—let their beds to market people, who are just ready to get up and go to work when the theatrical folks come home.

—The Boston Courier says that the late Mr. Isaac Rich was to have been married on Friday, the day before his death, to the lady who has been his housekeeper for many years.

—The Brooklyn committee of fifty have ascertained that the debt of that city is $30,786,072.

How to Waltz.—As to waltzing, there's no doubt at all about it's being pleasant. The difficulty lies in executing the manœuvre. The mode of execution adopted by one party, at least, is perfectly simple, and may be practiced with impunity by any one. "How is it," said one swell, who never could please the damsels, to another, who was immensely popular—"how is it that all the women want to waltz with you, and say that no one can waltz so well? How do you manage it?" To which the swell replied, "Why, my dear fellow, I just hold them and let them kick!"

—A Des Moine girl, enjoying a buggy ride with her lover, and had her chignon removed by a horse which was driven up behind. Just as the thing was done the driver of the horse whipped up and passed the lovers and whirled away, the chignon dangling from the horse's mouth.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants.

They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it whenever you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

IN FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

MUSIC AT HOME.—Mrs. Lyons Chaucer—"How cruel of you to get up so suddenly, dear Mr. Rumbletumski! Is anything wrong with the piano?" Herr Rumbletumski (with pardonable severity)—"No, madam; put I vosavrind dat I inderrubited de general conversation!" Mrs. Lyons Chaucer—"O dear no! Not at all! Pray go on!"—Punch.

—A western lady has invented a contrivance which effectually does away with the annoyance produced by her husband's snoring—two funnels of hard rubber connected by a flexible tube. One of the funnels is placed over the snorer's mouth and the other over one ear. The result is, all the sound is confined and snorer hears his own music intensely. It generally wakes him up at the first note.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

Describe symptoms in all communications.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! Increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cure of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs, NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON, After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 17, 1872

Congress.

The House, on the 15th, passed an amnesty bill by a vote of 170 to 31. It exkepts from its provisions members of Congress and officers of the army and navy who joined the rebellion.

Mr. Hale of Maine, who, as a member of the House Committee on Appropriation has charge of the Naval Appropriation bill, was at the Navy Department, Tuesday, with reference thereto. Orders have already gone out to nearly all of the navy yards to put vessels in repair, but there is only a small amount of money for this work, not enough to complete all the repairs which the Navy Department officials think the efficiency of the service demands. Hence, in view of the reports of serious complications in the future, it is not unlikely that the Naval bill may be held back until these rumors either assume definite shape or have entirely vanished. A naval appropriation bill, prepared with reference to existing relations, might not be at all suitable a month or two hence.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE NEW YORK CUSTOM HOUSE OFFICERS.—President Grant is reported as saying in regard to the alleged irregularities in the New York custom-house: "My mind is clear upon one point. Every officer under the administration who has been in any way connected with the irregularities in New York will be dismissed at once. It makes no difference if every man now holding office in New York should be dismissed. I shall not wait for any report or resolution of the Senate, nor even for absolute proof of overt acts. I know how hard it is to prove overt acts. The fact that officers have so demeaned themselves as to be open to suspicion, or to bring scandal on the service, or to disparage the large mercantile classes, is enough to justify a change. These Senators are no more anxious than I am to purify the service, and I shall be glad to do my share in the work."

TWO CHILDREN, about three years old, were burned to death in a tenement house on Milk Row, Somerville, Mass., about midnight of Monday, owing to the explosion of a kerosene lamp and the carelessness of their mother, a Mrs. Belcourt.

REV. W. F. CLARKE of Unity Chapel, New York, preached a sermon last Sunday, in which he said "if Christ was God, His prayers, temptation, agony and death were merely theatric performances."

THE PORTSMOUTH, GREAT FALLS & CONWAY RAILROAD has built and owns and operates its own telegraph line, as all railroad companies should. The road is now operated as far as Conway, 133 miles from Boston, and 66 miles from its intersection with the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad at Brock's Crossing. The Superintendent at his office in Great Falls is informed of the number of cars and time that each freight train enters upon the road, as the connection of this road with the Portland & Rochester, at Rochester, and with the Eastern at Brock's, are important; the time of every passenger train from Conway is reported from each station, and any delay is at once known to the Superintendent and the cause of it.

An instance showing the economy of this feature in operating the road occurred recently. The train on the P. & R. Railroad had a carload of passengers bound to Boston over the Eastern, and the engine that was to draw the train from Rochester to Great Falls got off the track at Rochester; the mishap was telegraphed to the Superintendent at Great Falls, and an order came back to wait for a new engine. The usual running time from Great Falls to Rochester, five miles, is fifteen minutes; and in less time than that a fresh locomotive was despatched and arrived at Rochester, and the passengers were taken to Brock's crossing, connecting with the Eastern Railroad for Boston without delay. This is only one example of how much can be saved by a prompt and constant use of the telegraph, not in meeting trains, but in obviating delays and saving time to travellers on railroads where they might suffer unnecessary detention.

The gentleman replied by saying: "Indeed, Paddy, I just strolled out to see if I could find an appetite for my breakfast;" and then, eyeing Paddy suspiciously, said: "And now, Paddy, what brought you out so early this morning?" Paddy, replied: "Indade, your honor, I jist strolled out to see if I could find a breakfast for my appetite."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH—Discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, acrid, thick, mucous, purulent, offensive, &c. In others a dryness, dry, watery, weak or inflamed eyes, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, constant desire to clear nose and throat, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, &c. Only a few of the above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time. The proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will pay $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which he can not cure. Sold by Druggists at 50 cents. 572.

We were pleased to see, not long since, in one of our exchanges, some pretty severe remarks addressed to several persons, who, during an interesting lecture by Rev. Jno. S. C. Abbott, kept a continuous coughing, which prevented many from hearing. People who cannot refrain from coughing, had better stay away from such places, or else take a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment with them.

The Halford Leicestershire Table Sauce is highly recommended for family use.

The importance of giving Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders to horses that have been out in the cold rain, stood in cold wind, or drank too much cold water, cannot be over estimated; no man should be without them who owns a good horse.

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the sterner sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the keenness of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. Take VINEGAR BITTERS. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a perfect digestion, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. j15 4w

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Thrown in Reinforcements.

The Citadel of Life is in a state of siege all through the year, but is never more closely invested than in mid-winter. The liver is usually somewhat torpid, and the bowels more or less constipated at this season, and dyspepsia often assumes its most aggravated form in cold and wet weather. In short, the sluggish system seems inclined to intermit or shirk some of its most important duties under the influence of a low temperature, and requires wholesome stimulation. The spur required is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the only medicine which quickens the action of the secretive organs, and brings out the latent vitality of the system, without creating any febrile symptoms, or the slightest nervous excitement.

The great Vegetable Tonic is not recommended as a specific for Coughs, Colds and Consumption—that field being left open to the concoctors of preparations which can not by any possibility reach the lungs! but as a specific for the constitutional and physical weakness which invite pulmonary diseases, it is literally infallible. The most insidious and terrible enemy of human life is not disease itself, but the weakness which affords it an opportunity to gain a firm hold of the vital system. Remember that Stamina, Vital Energy—the life-principle, or whatever you may choose to call the resistant power which battles against the causes of disease and death, is the grand safeguard of health. It is the garrison of the human fortress, and when it waxes weak, the true policy is to throw in reinforcements. In other words, when such an emergency occurs, commence a course of Hostetter's Bitters.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

In consequence of the partial destruction of our files of the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE, an accident but recently discovered by us, we find ourselves in want of papers of the following dates to complete our files for the year 1871:

Some of our subscribers (particularly of those at a distance, who preserve files of their home papers,) may be willing to help us in making up a loss which can be made up in no other way; and any who have GAZETTES of either of the above dates to spare and will forward them to us, may be assured their kindness will be properly appreciated, and the indebtedness liberally liquidated.

We Rise to Explain.

The local Democratic organ, after taking nearly two weeks to concoct a reply to our paragraph relating to its untruthful and unfounded reports concerning the Republican State Convention at Concord, on the 3d inst., manages to announce that we "would do well to keep silent about such matters in the future," and trusts we "will rise to explain." We comply, most willingly. A year ago the Democratic organ gave a report of a Republican convention in Exeter, and made a statement concerning drunkenness among the delegates similar to that made about the recent Concord convention — and received the lie direct from its own correspondent, the latter having been present at the convention, and the Democratic editor not having been nearer to it than his own sanctum. His report of drunkenness at the late State convention was also drawn from his own vivid imagination, as he was not in Concord at all during its session, and the editor of this paper, who was there all through it, saw but one drunken man—and he the Democratic organ's reporter. The Democratic sheet also says it has information that "liquor was as free as water" at the Republican Senatorial Convention in this city, last week. Who its informant was is not stated; but the writer of this was a delegate to that convention, was present long before it was called to order and remained until it adjourned, and did not see a glass of anything stronger than water drank by any one, nor a man who showed signs of having been drinking anything else, during that time. We are not at all surprised at a Democratic paper publishing false reports concerning political antagonists; it is a recognized Democratic custom; but that men who profess to regard the rum traffic as an honorable branch of trade and rum-drinking as the most noble use to which a man can devote himself, when engaged in by their own party friends, should consider similar conduct disgraceful to their opponents, is a puzzle to us.

Commander Crosman and several other officers of U. S. ship Marion have been detached.

George Howe, the Newington incendiary, waived an examination on Tuesday and went to jail in default of $5000 bail. He is inclined to retract his confession of the crime. It is said that he attempted to set fire to his own house once.

A car-load of cotton, shipped to one of the corporations of Lewiston, took fire on a freight train on the Eastern Railroad, just west of Portland, on Thursday morning, and it was found impossible to extinguish the fire. The car was consequently unshackled and left behind. The cotton and car were burned. The cotton was valued at between $4000 and $5000.

Rev. J. W. Tilton, of the Christian denomination, gave a very interesting lecture upon Biblical Chronology at the Christian church in Newcastle, Monday evening, to a full house. The closest attention was given, and the lecture was highly appreciated. Many dark things were made plain, and the lecturer told the audience how he ascertained the age of some of the patriarchs, not stated in the Bible. The lecture was illustrated by a chart, which was fully explained. To those interested in the study of chronology this lecture is intensely interesting. It will be delivered in the Court Street church in this city next Sabbath evening.

From Messrs. Hurd and Houghton, we have received a small volume of Poems by Celia Thaxter, beautifully printed on tinted paper; the collection consists of short pieces, all of which are well worthy a perusal. If we were not before aware that the poet was a resident of the Isles of Shoals, we should know that she was familiar with the murmuring of the sea, as the whole book breathes of "sights and sounds and sea-scents delicate." For sale by Jos. H. Foster.

The Board of Engineers organized Monday evening, Jan. 15, choosing W. L. Hidden as Secretary and Messenger. The Assistant Engineers were assigned the following positions:—1st Asst., M. T. Betton; F. Portsmouth Music Society—rehearsal this (Wednesday) evening at half-past 7, at Mr. Tilton's music room.

We are informed that arrangements are being made for a Musical Convention in this city in a few weeks, under direction of Mr. Solon Wilder of Boston, an experienced and popular conductor. Harlow's Orchestra will lend their valuable aid; and of course all who are interested in music in this vicinity, will gladly avail themselves of this opportunity.

The ship Calcutta, of this port, captain Robertson, from Calcutta for Boston, is now more than one hundred and sixty days out, and some concern is beginning to be felt for her.

At the annual meeting of the Portsmouth Cornet Band, Mr. Charles Manent, one of the old members, was elected President, and S. H. Kingsbury, Clerk. The Band is improving greatly under the direction of their new leader, Mr. Pierce.

At the annual meeting of DeWitt Clinton Commandery of Knights Templars the following officers were elected:—A. R. Hatch, Eminent Commander; J. R. Holbrook, Generalissimo; W. Freeman, Captain General; Charles G. Pickering, Prelate; Wm. R. Martin, Senior Warden; Robert O. Dennett, Junior Warden; Wingate N. Ilsley, Treasurer; Calvin Page, Recorder; Wm. P. Walker, Sword Bearer; Daniel G. Raitt, Standard Bearer; John H. Cheever, Warden; Samuel Fletcher, Sentinel.

THE "WEEKS HOUSE."

I observed in the Gazette of Jan. 6, a communication from Uncle Joseph on the "Oldest House in New Hampshire," in which it is stated that the "Weeks brick house" in Greenland was built in the year 1638, which I am satisfied is a very great error. It is also stated in the second series of Mr. Brewster's "Rambles," p. 358, that this house was "built by the father of Leonard Weeks," which is also an error, as there is no evidence yet discovered which shows that the father of Leonard Weeks of Greenland was ever this side of the ocean.

Leonard Weeks, the emigrant ancestor of the Weekses of Greenland and son-in-law of Deacon Samuel Haines, was born about 1633, and consequently was only five years of age in 1638, when he is made the builder of this brick house.

I found among the old papers at Exeter, in the year 1850, the following deposition made Sept. 26, 1683, by Deacon Samuel Haines and his two sons, Samuel, Jr., and Matthias; "That the land lying by the highway southward up from Winnicut river along to the place where Leonard Weeks hath settled, his house and dwelling place, hath been possessed by said Weeks these 23 years." This would fix the year 1660 as the time of his settling upon the land upon which the brick house stands; and I have not found in my researches, which have been very extensive during the past twenty years any evidence of there having been any Weekses in Greenland prior to this date.

It is stated on the Portsmouth Town Records, 5th July, 1660, that 600 acres of land were divided among those who were inhabitants of Portsmouth and in free communion in the year 1657:—to Samuel Haines was granted 101 acres, possessed 10 already, and 91 added to make up fare proportion, — Leonard Weeks to have 44 acres (34 and 10).

Feb. 5, 1679: Ordered by Selectmen to lay out land for Deacon Haines and Leonard Weeks.

Dec. 18, ninety acres laid out for Deacon Haines on N. W. side of Hampton highway to a little brook, and Leonard Weeks' land on north side of it.

Jan. 18, 1748-9. Elias Philbrick of Greenland, who was born in 1680, testified that Samuel Haines, Jr., (who died between 9th Dec., 1688, and 20th Feb., 1689,) built a garrison where he lived, which was on the "Old Homestead" of Deacon Samuel Haines, undoubtedly for the protection of his own and the neighboring families against Indians in the "second" or "King William's war," which commenced in the year 1688. This garrison was only a few rods from the "Weeks brick house," and very near the dwelling house now (1872) owned and occupied by Mr. Nathaniel Chapman of Greenland. The building of this garrison would seem to indicate the absence of others in the neighborhood, as one answered in those days for several families to flee to for safety.

Leonard Weeks died about 1708. His children were Samuel, John, Joseph, Mary and Margaret. His eldest son, Samuel, born 14th Dec., 1670, and who married Eleanor, daughter of Samuel Haines, Jr., administered on his estate 5th March, 1717-18.

Samuel Weeks, above mentioned, made his will 15th Sept., 1745 which was proved April 3d, 1746, in which are mentioned the names of his children,—Samuel, John, Walter, Matthias, Eleanor and Mary Chapman. To Walter, his third son, he bequeaths his Dwelling House.

In the year 1850, Thomas Norton of Newmarket, a native of Greenland, born 17th Feb., 1769, informed the writer that the "old brick house" in Greenland was built and occupied by the above Walter Weeks, a grandson of Leonard, and if so the time of its construction must have been subsequent to the time of his inheriting the homestead from his father, 1745; and then the house would not be over 127 years old, instead of 233 as stated by Uncle Joseph. And even if built by Capt. Samuel Weeks, the father of Walter, it could not be over 164 years old, as he did not inherit the homestead until the decease of his father, Leonard, in 1708.

I am disposed to take the testimony of Mr. Norton in this matter, as he had a very retentive memory, with a very clear mind, and all of his statements made to me about the earlier history of Greenland have been wonderfully confirmed by written testimony since found.

If there is any evidence aside from testimony, which is very unreliable, which will disprove Mr. Norton's testimony, I shall be pleased to see it; and further, I should be as much pleased as any one for Greenland to possess the oldest house in the State.—but I am unwilling to remain silent and permit the statement of this house having been built in 1638 to pass into history as a fact without a shadow of evidence to support it. A. M. HAINES,

GALENA, MICHIGAN, Jan., 1872.

FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS

and Dealers in Government Securities,

No. 5 Nassau Street,

New York, Nov. 20, 1871

The successful and rapid negotiation of nearly three-fourths of the FIFTEEN MILLION LOAN OF THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY, and the energetic prosecution of the work of extension and preparation of the road for an extensive mineral, agricultural, and through traffic, have placed the financial affairs and resources of the Company upon such a basis, that we are directed to advance the price for future sales of the Bonds, as explained in the following letter of Mr. HUNTINGTON, President of the Company:

OFFICE CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY
54 William Street, New York,
NOVEMBER 18, 1871.

Messrs. FISK & HATCH,
Bankers and Financial Agents C. & O. R.R. Co.:
Gentlemen:

The Western Division of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, comprising the 95 miles between Huntington, on the Ohio River, and the mouth of New River (above the Falls of Kanawha), is now substantially completed, and will, in a few days, be ready to do the immense coal and other business that is awaiting its completion. The Eastern Division, comprising 227 miles, between White Sulphur Springs and Richmond, is now in complete order and successful operation. The grading and masonry on eleven of the 102 miles, between the mouth of New River and White Sulphur Springs, is complete, and the work on the remaining 91 miles is so far advanced that track-laying will be commenced on this portion of the road in May next, and continued without interruption until the whole line is completed.

In view of these facts, you are hereby directed to make no further sales of the Bonds of said Company at a less price than 94 and accrued interest, at which price you will continue to sell until further orders.

Very respectfully yours,
C. P. HUNTINGTON, President.

In compliance with the foregoing instructions, the price of the Bonds, from this date, until further orders, will be 94 and accrued interest.

The scarcity of, and demand for, really

Desirable six per cent. Gold Bonds,

for solid and permanent investments, is evinced by the facts that

Five-Twenty Bonds of 1867 are selling at.....115
Central Pacific Bonds are selling at.....103
Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are selling at..94

These bonds all pay both principal and interest in New York City, in U. S. gold coin, and are equally safe for investment.

The reason why FIVE-TWENTY BONDS are so high is because no more can be issued, and the outstanding amount is being rapidly decreased by purchases by the Government from their surplus revenues.

The reason why we think CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS will in time advance to the price of Five-Twenties, is because no more can be issued; while the operation of their Sinking Fund will soon commence to decrease the amount.

The reason why CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are selling so low, comparatively, while equally safe, is because the Company are selling bonds to complete the road. They will all be sold in a short time, and in a few months the road will be finished, when we have no doubt the same result will follow as with FIVE-TWENTY and CENTRAL PACIFIC Bonds. The Sinking Fund of the Chesapeake and Ohio must go into effect within one year after the completion of the road.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are issued either coupon or registered—the denominations are as follows:

$100, which sect to day.....$94.13
$500 " " " 471.56
$1000, " " " 943.12

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, may be sent through any National Bank or Banker; or accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

We buy and sell Government and Central Pacific Bonds, and receive them in exchange for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds.

Accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum.

FISK & HATCH.

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

THE FAMILY CAT.

Last Christmas morning the children awoke, and Johnny found himself the owner of a box of tools, with which he proceeded immediately to cut, punch, bore, saw and hammer at everything about the house and barn, and so damaged the estate at the rate of twenty dollars per month. Jimmy found a drum, a rifle, a harmonicon and a tin-foot-horn. His mother next day was sick, and all from that toot-horn. Mr. Crab had sent it to Jimmy: Mr. Crab is an old suitor of Jimmy's mother: she refused him. Now he never neglects an opportunity of tormenting that family. Jane found for herself two goldfish and a canary.

Everybody found Christmas presents save the Family Cat. He rubbed and purred around, wishing to show that he took part in the general rejoicing, and wondering why he did not receive his usual share of attention. He was a large, portly cat, in color gray streaked with black, with large yellow eyes and English whiskers.

He sat silently by the fire all the morning thus neglected, the rest of the family being in joyous commotion. Inside he grew wrathful and more wrathful. They forgot even to give him breakfast. Once he did step into the kitchen and gently intimate that he was hungry. The cook, hurried with preparations for the Christmas dinner, insulted him with a spiteful "Scat!" an explective only applicable to common street-cats. He sat there, occasionally, stroking his whiskers with his right paw, yet he looked none of the rage which boiled inside. There was an occasional opening of the two yellow slits where were his eyes: it was a sort of lazy, self-satisfied, reflective closing and shutting, as if agreeable, soothing thoughts were passing through his mind. If you had watched him closely, however, you would have seen that head, once in a while turn very quickly in the direction of the canary bird and the goldfish, and the two yellow orbs would widen to their utmost and glare with all the fury of his race. He was laying plans.

To have seen him there, you would have said that no more correct or respectable cat lived in the city. But he was not. There came not a night but this demure Family Cat was scrambling over barn and housetop long after honest people are abed, screeching, howling and rioting with all manner of disreputable cats. Not only was he vicious, but even among vicious and degraded cats he was held a dangerous and troublesome character. He had clawed out his first wife's eyes. Many respectable families had forbidden him their houses. Still, he was very foppish, and at the Royal Back Yard Catalan Opera he lounged about the dress-circle and ogled young creatures just entering cathood.

The Christmas dinner was over. The turkey, the pie and the pudding made everybody sleepy. Every one was glad when it was bed-time; everybody went early to bed.

And still the Family Cat seemingly dozed by the smouldering sea-coal fire. The house became silent. Only the nibblings of midnight mice were heard, and the settlings which come to all houses at night. Then the Family Cat roused himself. He was a different cat. He was no longer a good-natured, fawning, caress-begging cat, as when, with arched back and tail erect, he rubbed about your ankles. He looked mischief and business. His tail had settled to the floor; his whiskers were pointed at a different angle; his eyes very wide open.

"So," said he, "I am to have no Christmas, am I? We'll see. Do they take me for a fool?"

The mice were heard nibbling in the dark corners. "Nibble away to night," said the Family Cat. They may eat rats and mice in Paris—and cats too—if they like: I'm after a game supper. Let's see: what shall I have—fish or fowl? Fish, of course. That always comes first on the bill of fare. Where's the bone, though? Hem—chowder! I'll drink my soup out of the goldfish basin. It's weak, but fresh."

The canary bird and the goldfish! It was for them the family Cat had been laying his plans.

We will not describe the tragedy. When all was over the goldfish globe lay shivered on the floor; the bird-cage was there also, upset and empty. Empty? No, not quite. In it, against the wires, lay a little yellow head, torn from the body. Not a soul in the house had woke amid the racket—the cries and fluttering of Tip, the crash of glass, the fall of the cage. Turkey and plum pudding had brought deep slumber on this household. This the Family Cat knew well: to this he had trusted.

And there, by the dying, dull red gleam of the coal-fire, was seen the room just as the family had left it—the dinner-table, the fruit-dessert not removed, the chairs irregularly huddled together, inanimately sociable—and in his accustomed corner sat the Family Cat cleaning his whiskers. By him were scattered feathers and a few fish-bones.

"Well," said he, "I feel refreshed. This feels like Christmas. I think I'll go down to the club." The Family Cat went out by the door near the roof. All aristocratic cats have private doors made for them.

Just as he was descending from the roof to the yard, who should come along but old Black Dick! Black Dick was a vagrant—a pauper cat. He had but one eye and a stub tail. He lived in a miserable manner, begging from other cats and prowling about people's kitchens at night.

"Say," said Dick, "give me something to eat, won't you? I haven't had a meal to-day."

The Family Cat was about to snub Black Dick, as usual. Cats are not generous so their own kind. They save much of their affection for the human race.

Suddenly an idea came to the Family Cat. "Somebody," said he to himself, "must be punished for this scrape of mine. The majesty of the law must be vindicated. The victim might as well be Black Dick as any one else. Juries of late have been very lax about convicting. There must be a reaction soon. They organized a Vigilance Committee t'other day at Los Angelos. They may do the same here, and hang or shoot me without trial. In the regular courts there might not be so much to fear. I'll fix it!"

"Black Dick," said the Family Cat, there's my private door. You've been in the house before. You know the road to the dining room. Dinner's still on the table; cold leavings—turkey, chicken, wine, fresh fish, bloody canary. Scat!"

Black Dick rushed for the private door. The Family Cat sneaked softly after him and nursed a bolt: Black Dick was a prisoner inside.

There was next morning an execution without judge or jury. A bloody, limpy corpse was flung into the highway. It was Black Dick's.

About nine o'clock of the same day the Family Cat again made his appearance, clean, newly shaved, his hair "puffed." He sits demurely by the sea-coal fire. The yellow eye-slits lazily, good-humoredly open and close. Occasionally they glance upward toward an empty bird-cage on the wall. "Poor Tip!" the children mourn. The Family Cat draws down the corners of his mouth. "My poor goldfish!" says Jane. The lower jaw of the Family Cat drops lower still. "That wicked, wicked Black Dick!" say they all. And the Family Cat murmurs, "Verily, the way of the wicked cat is hard."

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. Lyrdaweblz

The Chronicle.

—A letter was put into the post-office at South Farmington a few days ago, bearing the following direction: "Ulices S. Grant. President Unlighted States, Care of Congress."

—Light is piercing Japan. The Mikado wears pantaloons, gets drunk on champagne, has taken stock in a street railway, and is President of a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

—Titusville bridegrooms "step upon the hymenial platform, adjust the fatal noose, and swing off into that silent bourne from whence they can never return save by the Indianapolis or connecting lines."

—A Boston minister says he once preached on "The Recognition of Friends in the Future," and was told after service by a hearer that it would be more to the point to preach about the recognition of friends here, as he had been in the church twenty years and didn't know any of its members.

—A Kansas billiard table is thus described: "First, in the middle of the floor was an enormously large box, on which was laid about a wagon load of sandstone, covered with about eight yards of blue jean. For pockets they had old boots: for cues they had old broken hoehandles; boiled eggs for balls, and to count this lovely game they used dried apples on a clothes line."

—A Connecticut clergyman recently announced from the pulpit that he had heard a man say that he had read the Bible through in 60 hours. Determined to ascertain whether the individual told the truth, he set about it himself, and read the whole of it aloud to his wife in 59 hours and something over 30 minutes. He read sometimes an hour and sometimes two hours a day, keeping the exact time, with the result indicated.

—If we may believe the stories, the medical recipes of the "British Housewife" were not disregarded in the Prince of Wales' illness. The "hop pillow" is said to have been the only thing that gave him sleep; and, when death seemed imminent, a butcher stood in an adjoining room, with a lamb, ready at a moment's notice to flay it, that the warm and reeking skin might swathe the Prince's extremities should they have shown signs of death coldness.

—At a public meeting in Walpole, Canada, Mr. Wood, annoyed by the extravagant statements made by his opponents as to the burdens of the bonus tax, exclaimed, during his address, "Why, six hens would lay enough eggs in a week to pay a farmer's bonus tax for a year." After the meeting was over Mr. Wood was considerably bantered about this method of paying the tax, and was in danger of having to retreat from his position, when Capt. Stuart Reeve, of Oneida, came to his rescue thus; "Stick to the hens, Mr. Wood, but give them a little more time!"

—I heard a good story lately, told of Barnum and a prominent clergyman, who shall be nameless, and who is noted for his opinion of himself. The two met in the street, when the divine patronizingly inquired after the great showman's physical and spiritual welfare, and remarked that it was time he should be preparing for his latter end. To this Barnum agreed, and spoke of the satisfaction with which he had attended the ministrations of the learned preacher. The latter swelled with satisfaction at the praise and replied, "Barnum, I always liked you. You are a good fellow, and I trust we shall meet in heaven. "Oh!" said the imperturbable showman, with a twinkle in his eye, "I have no doubt we shall—if you are there."—New York Letter.

—Cincinnatians have a habit of advertising their projects under the head of "Wants," and for the purpose of securing insertion under that heading in the advertisements, resort to ingenious construction of sentences, as: "Wanted, dresses to make, by Miss Jones, Smith street;" "Wanted, clothes-wringers to repair, by Robinson, Jones street." This style encourages Dr. Parsons to advertise in the Commercial: "Wanted, small-pox, to cure." It is a curious fancy which leads a man to want the small-pox, but it is a want that is easily supplied, for anybody who has it will give it to him without hesitation. Whether he will cure it or not, of course depends upon his skill; and that he has faith in that skill is evident from his willingness to take the disease.

—A gentleman from the land of the olive and fig, also of the earthquake and volcano, was in the city the other day, lodging near the rehearsal rooms of one of our brass bands. He had retired for the night, and was slumbering peacefully, when suddenly a talented artist commenced an elaborate solo on the bass drum, with a muscular accompaniment on the cymbals. Within a moment their came a volley of carajos and carrambos from a window, followed immediately by a dishevelled Spanniard, dressed principally in a neck-tie and window sash. He was about to take to the woods, when he was persuasively collared and informed that he was mistaken—that it was not an earthquake, and after considerable argument he was convinced and subdued.—Norwich Bulletin.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Disbotes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following ing symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parents' heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

JURUBEBA.

IT IS NOT A PHYSIC.—It is NOT what is popularly called a BITTERS, nor is it intended as such. IT IS A SOUTH AMERICAN plant that has been used for many years by the medical faculty of those countries with wonderful efficacy as a POWERFUL ALTERATIVE and UNEQUALLED PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD and is a Sure and Perfect Remedy for all Diseases of the

LIVER AND SPLEEN, ENLARGEMENT OR OBSTRUCTION OF INTESTINES, URINARY, UTERINE OR ABDOMINAL ORGANS, POVERTY OR A WANT OF BLOOD, INTERMITTENT OR REMITTENT FEVERS, INFLAMMATION OF THE LIVER, DROPSY, SLUGGISH CIRCULATION OF THE BLOOD, ABSCESSES, TUMORS, JAUNDICE, SCROFULA, DYSPEPSIA, AGUE AND FEVER, OR THEIR CONCOMITANTS.

Dr. Wells' Extract of Jurubeba

is offered to the public as a great invigorator and remedy for all impurities of the blood, or for organic weakness with their attendant evils. For the foregoing complaints is confidently recommended to every family as a household remedy, and should be freely taken in all derangements of the system; it gives health, vigor and tone to all the vital functions, invigorates and fortifies all weak and lymphatic temperaments. 4w d29

JURUBEBA

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.
JOHN TAGGART."

Morning Chronicle.

THE WARMOTH-CARTER WAR in Louisiana seems to be about ended. President Grant refused to accede to Warmoth's request to place the U. S. troops at his disposal, and declined to interfere in the matter. The Carterites appear to have been checkmated by the other faction. Congress has appointed an investigating committee who hope to leave for that city on Sunday night. The composition of the committee gives general satisfaction to both sides sides of the House, although the Louisiana members say that the importance of their work is likely to be diminished in consequence of a settlement of the troubles before they arrive.

A LOVELY CREATURE. — A woman named McCarthy shot two men in a horse car at Utica, N. Y., on Wednesday. Some words passed between one of the men and the woman, when the latter drew a revolver and shot the man through the face, the bullet entering the other man's heart and killing him instantly. The woman is under arrest.

BARQUE VOLUNTEER, of Boston, Captain Field, which was lost on the voyage from Norfolk for Marsala, foundered at sea on the evening of Nov. 26, in a heavy gale. The crew were on the wreck seventeen days, without anything to eat or drink, suffering incredible hardships. The cook and one boy died on the wreck.

A TRAVELING SIDEWALK.—The imperative demand in large cities for some means of travelling quickly from point to point calls forth some novel designs for securing rapid transit. The most curious that has yet been projected is a plan, already patented, for a moving sidewalk, which shall be in perpetual motion, carrying pedestrians at the rate of ten miles an hour, a speed which they can increase by their whole power of independent locomotion. The inventor is Mr. Albert Spear, whose previous achievements have been mainly confined to the manufacture of wine and bitters.

The particulars of the plan are briefly these: It is proposed to have a series of pillars along the outer verge of the curb-stones, rising to the height of the second story of ordinary buildings. Space between the tops of these pillars and the building adjacent is to be a sidewalk, one-half of which is movable and the other half stationary. This is to be reached at every corner by a stairway.

On the inner or stationary walk pedestrians can pass back and forth at their leisure, entering the stores and offices which might then occupy the second story of the building, and be entered immediately from the street. The other half of the walk, made of a sort of lattice work and moving on small trucks which are beneath the surface and altogether concealed from view, is propelled at the rate of ten miles an hour by engines beneath the surface of the ground at such intervals as may be necessary to secure the requisite power.

The sidewalk is moved by friction rollers, worked upon by shafts which pass through the upright pillars and on one side of the street passes up, and on the other side down, continually night and day.

On this moving roadway pedestrians may stand or occupy the numerous chairs and settees thereon, going at the rate of ten miles an hour, or if so inclined, can walk at full speed in the same direction, thereby adding four or five miles an hour to their rate of progress.

The most most ingenious part of the whole contrivance is the device for getting off and on this moving pathway. The pedestrian mounts to the stationary walk, and then if he were to step from this to the moving one he would be instantly floored. To prevent such a catastrophe, there is a serie of seats ingeniously contrived to move partly on the stationary and partly on the moving walk. These are stopped by applying a brake, which releases them from the moving platform and allows them to run on their trucks on the stationary one, where they are readily stopped. The passenger takes a seat, the conductor takes his fare, the brake is reversed, and immediately the seat moves on, and the traveller can then leave it without the risk of breaking his neck.

All this is very curious and novel, but how about its practicability? We are told that several competent engineers have examined into the plan and pronounce it entirely feasible and far less expensive than any that has been broached before for carrying citizens rapidly up and down town, or back and forth between distant points. The machinery will work with very little noise, and that will be continuous and therefore scarcely noticeable; there will be no danger of accident, and the contrivance can be put up in any street, long or short, where it may be required.

It is said that an attempt is to be made very soon to demonstrate the feasibility of this scheme, probably on Chambers street, from Pavonia Ferry to Broadway. Whether it proves successful or not, the project is very curious and ingenious and will therefore attract no small degree of attention.

THE EARTH CURE FOR ULCERS.—I dried and pulverized some clay, and recommended it as a valuable remedy to a neighbor woman who had for ten years a very bad ulcer on her ankle. She had paid our best physicians over $50 for treatment, without any relief. She applied the dry clay almost constantly for about six months, and a perfect cure has resulted. The first effect of the preparation was to remove inflammation and relieve pain, and now she says there is no scar remaining, and her limb, which was stiff and lame, is as elastic as when she was a girl. The woman is a very large, fleshy person, about forty years of age. I considered the test a very severe one, and the result very satisfactory. About a gallon of pulverized clay was used.—Country Gentleman.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants.

They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

A SUGGESTION FOR FARMERS.—The farmers throughout the New England States are aware that their grass fields have been imperiled by two successive summer droughts and that half of the mowing stubble roots on portions of the farm were pinched and dead beyond recovery when winter closed in. How is the farmer to recover from this loss in his hay crop? It looks to me, no quicker remedy remains than the sowing of clover seed and Herds grass mixed if practicable, on the snow late in March. This has often been recommended and when tried a good catch has been obtained. As soon as the field will permit it in the spring, the oxen and a heavy roller (loaded with stone) should be applied, the old grass roots thrown out by frost and the new catch become firmly packed in the soil and the visible effects of heavy rolling will give an increase of 15 per cent. at haying time, especially with Timothy and Red Top. The roller in a dry time on the fresh sown grain is equally beneficial. It checks rapid surface evaporation. Too many farmers undervalue this excellent implement of husbandry. Judging from the experience of the past two years, the farmer must have deep solicitude for his hay crop another year. Much of his mowing land can be reclaimed after getting his early crop of hay, by plowing at once and re-seeding on the sod. This process will very much increase his crop the succeeding year without loss of time in regard to the new crop.—Cor. Me. Farmer.

—About thirty years ago two young ladies, sisters, were at school in London, where they had been sent from Jamaica, their native place. After every one but themselves was asleep they used to get up quietly, slip down into the kitchen, and there catch and eat the cockroaches. This extraordinary habit was not detected for some time, but at last the mistress found it out and remonstrated with them. They, how ever, defended themselves by saying that they had seen her eat shrimps, which fell upon all manner of carrion, whereas the cockroaches were clean feeders, living on the crumbs which had been suffered to lie about the kitchen. Even after the discovery, it was almost impossible to keep them from the kitchen at night, so strong was their love of the cockroaches.

—At a gathering not a thousand miles from Farmington, Me., a short time since, was a young lady dressed in the height of fashion, the admired of all admirers. Fashion squizzors were wondering how "that bustle" was arranged, when she was escorted to a seat. Throwing up her overskirt as ladies usually do before sitting down, she unconsciously revealed to those behind her the make up of the article in question. The young lady had "cabbaged" her mother's rag-bag, string and all! and there it was, tied around her waist.

—Hermann, the prestidigitateur, is dead.

—Wheat is still burning in the Chicago elevator.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.—

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

Describe symptoms in all communications.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread; for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appear. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

The Daily Chronicle,

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 19, 1872.

THE FOURTH ANNUAL MEETING of the Publishers, Editors and Printers' Association was held at Angelos Hall, Concord, on the 17th. About fifty members were present and but little business was transacted beside the election of officers for the ensuing year, the appointment of committees and trifling amendments to the constitution. On motion of Mr. A. J. Hoyt, it was voted that information regarding the standing of advertising agents and unknown advertisers should be kept on file by the Secretary. The next annual meeting will be held at Concord, June 17, 1873. A spirited discussion in relation to the annual excursion developed the fact that a large majority preferred that the Association go on a trip by themselves. The matter was finally left to the Executive Committee. Dixville Notch was talked of as the locality for the contemplated trip.

The officers of the Association the ensuing year are as follows:

President, Parsons B. Cogswell of Concord; vice-presidents, Henry O. Kent of Lancaster, J. B. Sanborn of Concord, F. P. Whittemore of Nashua; recording secretary, Charles F. Livingstone of Manchester; corresponding secretary, Howard F. Hill of Concord; treasurer, Thomas W. Lane of Manchester; executive committee, J. M. Hill of Concord, George E. Jenks of Concord, Charles Marseilles of Exeter. Mr. Hill made a brief speech in retiring from the chair, which he has occupied since the organization of the association, and a cordial vote of thanks for his services was passed.

During the afternoon, the History of the Press of Merrimack County was read by Mr. Asa McFarland, the veteran editor so long connected with the Concord Statesman. He confined his attention to the first forty of the eighty years since the earliest paper was printed in Concord. This account of these remote days, when the poor editor had to content himself with slow barter pay, was very amusing. Yet the typographical appearance, he asserted, and tasteful arrangement of the Concord Herald, printed before the close of the last century, would by no means suffer by comparison with many country papers of to-day. The other essays read were by William A. Wallace, editor of the Canaan Reporter, on the newspaper press of Grafton county, and by Colonel Henry O. Kent, formerly editor of the Coos Republican, on the history of the profession of his county.

Notwithstanding the fall of snow the lady guests of the Association enjoyed a fine sleigh ride about the city, and were taken to many points of interest by the courteous members resident in Concord.

Between six and seven o'clock, John M. Hill, Esq., the retiring President of the Association, gave a reception at his beautiful residence, assisted by his estimable lady and children. The occasion was a very enjoyable one. Refreshments were served during the evening and the party returned to the Eagle Hotel in season to partake of a Banquet at which one hundred and fifty persons were in attendance. The tables were spread with a profusion of the most enticing dishes and when the failure of appetites became evident there followed one of the most enjoyable post prandial entertainments it has ever been our lot to be present at. President Hill presided, Mr. P. B. Cogswell acting as toast-master. Sentiments were responded to by Ex-Governor Stearns, Judge Foster, Mayor Jones of Concord, Messrs. Elwell (of the Portland Transcript), Poland of the Vermont press, Stockwell of the Boston Journal, Fogg of the Concord Monitor, Col. Kent of Lancaster, Dr. Gallinger of Concord, Mr. H. A. Brown of the Statesman job office, Alderman Durgin of Concord, Marden, the wag of the Lowell Courier, Dr. Crosby of Concord, Mr. Wallace of Canaan, and others. The speeches were interspersed with some fine singing by a select quartet, solos by Dr. Guilmette and piano music by Prof. Morey. At one o'clock the festivities closed after a sitting of nearly four hours. John A. White, Esq., the proprietor of the Eagle Hotel, and his courteous clerk, Mr. John F. Byron, were assiduous in their attentions to the gentlemen and ladies in attendance. Mr. White has recently handsomely refitted the Eagle and has the trimmest, neatest and most commodious hotel of the kind in the New England States. The Association passed resolutions of thanks to Mr. White and all who contributed to the success of the entertainment.

—Florida reports the biggest oranges for years.

Political.

Mr. Allison, of Iowa, who succeeds Senator Harlan, was distinguished, when a member of the House, as a free trader. He is a young man of fine abilities.

The Philadelphia Post says of Colfax:—"Mr. Colfax is the first to hear the cry. His quick ear is never deaf to the voice of his fellow patrons. Like Jemmy Twitcher he groaned, 'I want to go home,' but he can't go home."

The Cincinnati Commercial says of the re-election of Senator Sherman:—"The people of Ohio will not consider the re-election of John Sherman a calamity. He is neither a very rich man nor a very bad man. He loves his country and the constitution as it is, and he has a respectable reputation for statesmanship in spite of a long service in the Senate. He may not be all the fancy of a free-trader would like to paint him, nor so fond of making money plenty as to stir the enthusiasm of a Pendletonian democrat. He is rather conservative, in fact, in regard to the reservation of the national credit, and is not without hope that before his term expires a greenback dollar will be as good as a gold one fresh from the Philadelphia mint."

A Washington dispatch to the Tribune says Secretary Robeson will shortly ask Congress for an appropriation to build ten new steam sloops of war carrying thirteen guns each, and seven propellers.

NASBY.

CONFEDERIT X ROADS,
(wich is in the stait of Kentucky,)
Dec. 29, 1871.

The hopelissness uv electin a Dimekratic President by Dimekrats alone, wuz apparent to all the gigantic intelleks uv the party, over a year ago. A conference wuz held in Noo York eighteen months ago; Tweed, Hall, Connolly and Sweeney representin Noo York, me and Garrett Davis representin Kentucky, the Blairs representin Missouri, and so on. We decided then that the Dimocrisy shood appeal directly to the people to yoonite with us to beat Grant. Gen. John C. Breckinridge desired that the issue be made fairly between Grant and Despotitism on the one hand, and the People and Yoonyun on the other. Tweed liked the idea, but he desired to add to it. He wanted the issue to be Grant, Despotism and Corrupshen on the one hand, and the People, Yoonyun and Purity on the other. That wuz wat Tweed wantid. With sich a ishoo ez that he felt that he cood go afore the people and make sich a fite ez he never made afore. Gen. Breckinridge accepted this amendment gladly. He felt that the corrupshen uv the present Administrashen, ez well ez its attacks upon constitooshnel liberty, hed bin a stench in the nostrils uv the people, in wich opinion Mr. Tweed coincided. It was resolved there and then to make the fite in this way and upon this basis, and the meetin adjourned.

Sevno months after the conference, Mr. Tweed, for obvius reasons, dropped out uv the management uv affairs, and the Dimocrisy wuz left, reely, without a head. But I felt that the programme laid down was the proper one, and I determined to make a tour thro the Northern States to ascertain how much strength we cood depend upon gittin from the Republikins. I jist got home from that trip yesterday, and the following extrax from my diary will show how successful the raid wuz:

Smithville, N. Y.—Found one man, J. C., who was strongly in favor of reorgnizin the parties on a new basis. He groaned over the corrupshen uv the Republikin party for years. Hed bin a member uv the party from its organizashun, but owing to the prejoodisses uv the members thereof in his county had alluz bin debarred from holdin offis, up to the year 1866. In March uv that year, President Johnson made him Collector uv Revenoo, which offis he held with profit to himself till that ojus military tyrant, Grant, wur elected. There wuz some trifling irregularities in his accounts, and he was dismissed and a supple tool uv tyranny appointed in his place. His bail wuz outrageously sood for his defalcashun, and hed bin crooelly persecekotid ever since. Wuz a earnest beleever in Civil Service Reform, and wood jine heart and sole in this movement. Uv course he wood want his old place back again, in the event uv success, and when he gets it shood favor a law makin it perpetooal. Shel want money from the general committee to pooze among shaky Republikins.

Jonesboro, Ohio.—Found Mr. M. L. in a grocery, with his feet cocked up opto a counter. Wuz disgusted and heartsick at the profligacy uv the Administrashen, and saw no hope uv any change for the better until present party lines wuz busted. Hoped the new organizashen wood not overlook the claims uv men uv talent and genius ez completely ez the party now in power hez done. His friends hed urged him time and again to the tyranical Administrashen for various posishens, from Minister to Venezuela to the Postoffice in his native village, all uv wich the military tyrant now at the head uv the government hed persistently disregarded. Felt that there must be a change or that room wuz inevitable; wuz in favor uv the new movement, stipulating, uv course, that he shood hev his choice uv the offises in that locality.

Brownstown, Illinois.—P. B. confest that the Post-offis in his native village hed bin the heighth uv his ambishen for twelve years, and ez he hed never bin able to get it under Republikin rool, he wuz willin to jine the new movement if that wuz promist him. Hez a brother-in-law who did want to be collector, and possibly he cood be indoost to go in also. He is doubtful, however, ez he hez lately experienced religion. Will try him any how ez it isn't certain that he hez been soundly converted. The promise uv the place may possibly fetch him. Ez for him the corrupshen uv the present Administrashen wuz too glarin to permit him to stay a minit in a party which supported it. He wanted it to be understood that he wuz to hev the post offis.

Noblesville, Indiana.—Got together a meetin uv the leading Dimocrisy and the dissatisfied Republikins—ten of the latter. One had bin histed from the Postoffis, and the other nine hed applied for it in vain. Ther wuz much enthoosiasm at the beginnin, till the question happened to arise ez to the distribushen uv the offices in the event uv success. The ten disgustid Republikins insisted that they shood be given to them, ez without their assistance the Dimocrisy cooden't do nuthen, and the Dimocrisy insisted that ef Republikan renegades wuz to hev the offisis they didn't care a tinker's cuss whether they did anything or not. "Ef Republikins is to hev the places anynow," yelled the Dimocrisy all in korus, "we'd rather it should be the decent ones." Meetin broke up in a row. Paid my own expenses out uv that town.

I break off my diary thus abruptly, for these are specimens uv the whole. I found in each town I visited Republikins willin to join us, but there wuz alluz two troubles in the way, viz.

1. They wuzn't never the kind uv men we wanted.

2. They all want just exactly what we most desire, and without which triumph iz yooselis for us, viz: the offisis.

They are alluz men uv pekooliyer character who hev to be carried, when wat we want is men capable uv carrying us. I am fearful that the experiment won't win, and that after all we will hev to settle back into our old party lines and be whailed again ez usual.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY, (wich wuz Postmaster).

A PARTY OF KU-KLUY visited the house of a citizen in Frankfort county, Ky., while a wedding was in progress, took possession of the premises, fired off pistols, danced over the floor, and the fright occasioned to the daughter of a citizen caused her to go into spasms, succeeded by insanity.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Thrown in Reinforcements.

The Citadel of Life is in a state of siege all through the year, but is never more closely invested than in mid-winter. The liver is usually somewhat torpid, and the bowels more or less constipated at this season, and dyspepsia often assumes its most aggravated form in cold and wet weather. In short, the singgish system seems inclined to intermit or shirk some of its most important duties under the influence of a low temperature, and requires wholesome stimulation. The spur required is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the only medicine which quickens the action of the secretive organs, and brings out the latent vitality of the system, without creating any febrile symptoms, or the slightest nervous excitement.

The great Vegetable Tonic is not recommended as a specific for Coughs, Colds and Consumption—that field being left open to the concoctors of preparations which can not by any possibility reach the lungs! but as a specific for the constitutional and physical weakness which invite pulmonary diseases, it is literally infallible. The most insidious and terrible enemy of human life is not disease itself, but the weakness which affords it an opportunity to gain a firm hold of the vital system. Remember that Stamina, Vital Energy—the life-principle, or whatever you may choose to call the resistant power which battles against the causes of disease and death, is the grand safeguard of health. It is the garrison of the human fortress, and when it waxes weak, the true policy is to throw in reinforcements. In other words, when such an emergency occurs, commence a course of Hostetter's Bitters.

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

REMEMBER, THE SWORD

is not more dangerous than the lead compounds in the market, and that the EXCELSIOR DYE contains no lead. As a dressing after dyeing, use CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Laconics.

A burning chimney on Deer Street occasioned an alarm of fire, shortly before six o'clock on Thursday morning, and made the Fire Department turn out. No damage.

The Sunday School connected with the Methodist Church in this city is preparing for a public exhibition, to be announced soon, and which promises to afford an interesting entertainment.

A barn owned by Mr. Jefferson Lewis of Kittery was burned on the afternoon of Jan. 17, with all its contents, consisting of farming implements, three hogs, poultry and about ten tons of hay. The amount of the loss is not given; partially covered by insurance. Mr. Lewis was in the barn in the forenoon, took out a yoke of oxen and went to the woods, returning towards evening to find the building destroyed. He is not a smoker, and the origin of the fire is a mystery.

The Pullman night express train from Bangor was delayed two hours and ten minutes on its arrival at Portland, Thursday morning, because of the storm; but, notwithstanding the fact that the ordinary running time of the train from Portland to Boston has been very fast, two locomotives were put on, and there was a gain of forty minutes over the usual speed. The train reached Boston at half-past seven o'clock, only ninety minutes behind time, after having run a distance of 108 miles in four hours and twenty minutes, with ten stops.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hall, supported by a picked Comedy Company, will appear at the Temple on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, Jan. 23 and 24,—an announcement which guarantees that a large audience will also appear at the Temple on the evenings named. The advertisement will appear to-morrow.

New Hampshire Items.

The democratic councillor convention of the 4th district nominated Oscar H. Bradley of Jeffrey, and chose Charles G. Chandler of Keene and George E. Dame of Newport as delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Carroll, where the White and Twin Mountain houses are located, is made lively this winter by the buzz of seven steam saw-mills, each doing a heavy lumber business.

The State board of agriculture met at Lancaster on Tuesday. Hon. Moses Humprey presided, and addresses were made by W. H. H. Mason, J. S. Walker, J. F. Lawrence, J. B. Walker and C. M. Clough of the board. The attendance was large, and many of the citizens engaged in the discussion. The Coos and Essex Agricultural Society organized as follows: President, John W. Hartshorn; vice-presidents, W. Clough, J. H. Dudley; treasurer, Henry O. Hunt; secretaries, Charles Benton and George Emerson.

The first section of the Mount Washington branch of the White Mountains railway, extending from the "Wing Road" up the Ammonoosuc to a point three miles from Bethlehem, has been completed and the trains have begun to run.

A trial term of the supreme judical court commenced at Exeter on Tuesday. By reason of illness, Chief Justice Bellows who was expected to preside, was not present, Judge Doe officiating in his stead.

The Boston and Maine Railroad, having bought out the owners of other shares than those formerly held by them in the steamer Cochima on Lake Winnipisaukee, will either sell the boat or run her solely for freighting purposes. A new iron steamer is being constructed in Boston, whence the materials will be transported by rail to Alton Bay to be joined together. The boilers are being built at the works of the Swampscott Machine Company at South Newmarket.

JURIES.—Under this head, Gov. Powers of Mississippi, in his recent message to the Legislature of that State, says:

Under the present usage persons who have formed or expressed an opinion upon the case on trial are rejected from the jury by the court. The result of this ruling is, in many instances, to deprive the country of the services of its very best jurymen. It is the intelligent, reading and thinking men who are best informed of the crimes that are committed in the community, and they are most able and likely to form an opinion of the character of the crime and the guilt of the perpetrator. Reject this class from the jury-box, and there remain but two other classes from which to choose,—the reckless, irresponsible class, (including the professional jurymen,) who attach but little importance to the restraints of the law and have a marketable value placed upon their conscience, and the ignorant class which is comparatively unable to form or express an opinion upon a complicated criminal offence. I recommend that the statute be so amended as to prevent the challenging of a juryman upon the ground of his having formed or expressed an opinion, unless he is willing to say that he is prejudiced in the case to such an extent as to doubt his ability to do the prisoner justice by deciding in accordance with the testimony produced before the court.

From the above we gather that in Mississippi, as well as in New York and other States, intelligent and well informed men are not considered suitable material to make juries of, stupidity and ignorance being regarded as indispensable qualifications for a juryman. We believe no such sapient ruling has ever been given by a New Hampshire court, intelligence and education not being supposed by our judges to necessarily lead to perjury; yet even in this State verdicts are sometimes rendered more in accordance with stupidity and prejudice than with law and evidence,—and when stupid and prejudiced blockheads manage to make the administration of the law so gloriously uncertain in this State, it may be imagined what a "bulwark of liberty"—to criminals—the jury system must be where ignorance and stupidity have the sole right to sit in the jury-box. An amusing instance of the trouble experienced in some places in finding men sufficiently ignorant to serve for jurors, comes from New York city, where a lawsuit growing out of the Westfield steamboat explosion has been recently brought and but four jurors obtained, the fourth one, a negro, having been accepted as a man "wholly unprejudiced in the case," he never having heard of the Westfield disaster till he heard of it in the court!

New Publications.

The American Journal of the Medical Sciences for January; published quarterly, by Henry C. Lea, 706 & 708 Sansom Street, Philadelphia; edited by Isaac Hayes, M. D., and I. Minis Hayes, M. D. This quarterly has a wide circulation among the medical profession, and few discoveries and inventions of importance in medicine or surgery miss receiving a notice in its pages; and its reports of annual operations and cases of disease are full and important.

QUICK TIME.—At an ice-boat race on the Hudson river, one craft sailed nine miles in eight minutes, two others going a mile a minute.

A VERY MEAN ACTION.—The meanest men in Fitchburg slide down hill. It would be well if the hill has no end when such men slide as are mentioned in the following from the Reveille: "Last Saturday afternoon, three little boys, two of them children of Capt. E. T. Hayward, were coasting on Milk street, when two men jumped on the sled with them to slide down hill. Capt. Hayward's eldest boy begged them to get off, as he could not guide the sled with their weight on it. This they refused to do, and the boy being unable to manage the sled, it ran against the fence and broke the little fellow's right thigh. The men started to leave, but the boys begged them to take him home, for he was hurt and unable to walk. They, therefore, put him on the sled and carried him part of the way home, and then left him to the care of his playmates. The injured boy now lies in a very critical condition."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH—Discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, acrid, thick, mucous, purulent, offensive, &c. In others a dryness, dry, watery, weak or inflamed eyes, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, constant desire to clear nose and throat, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, &c. Only a few of the above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time. The proprietor of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will pay $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which he can not cure. Sold by Druggists at 50 cents. 572.

We were pleased to see, not long since, in one of our exchanges, some pretty severe remarks addressed to several persons, who, during an interesting lecture by Rev. Jno. S. C. Abbott, kept a continuous coughing, which prevented many from hearing. People who cannot refrain from coughing, had better stay away from such places, or else take a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment with them.

The importance of giving Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders to horses that have been out in the cold rain, stood in cold wind, or drank too much cold water, cannot be over estimated; no man should be without them who owns a good horse.

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the sterner sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the keenness of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. Take VINEGAR BITTERS. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a perfect digestion, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. j15 4w

FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS

and Dealers in Government Securities,

No. 5 Nassau Street.

New York, Nov. 20, 1871

The successful and rapid negotiation of nearly three-fourths of the FIFTEEN MILLION LOAN OF THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY, and the energetic prosecution of the work of extension and preparation of the road for an extensive mineral, agricultural, and through traffic, have placed the financial affairs and resources of the Company upon such a basis, that we are directed to advance the price for future sales of the Bonds, as explained in the following letter of MR. HUNTINGTON, President of the Company:

OFFICE CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY
54 William Street, New York,
NOVEMBER 18, 1871.

MESSRS. FISK & HATCH,
Bankers and Financial Agents C. & O. R.R. Co.:
Gentlemen:

The Western Division of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, comprising the 95 miles between Huntington, on the Ohio River, and the mouth of New River (above the Falls of Kanawha), is now substantially completed, and will, in a few days, be ready to do the immense coal and other business that is awaiting its completion. The Eastern Division, comprising 227 miles, between White Sulphur Springs and Richmond, is now in complete order and successful operation. The grading and masonary on eleven of the 102 miles, between the mouth of New River and White Sulphur Springs, is complete, and the work on the remaining 91 miles is so far advanced that track-laying will be commenced on this portion of the road in May next, and continued without interruption until the whole line is completed.

In view of these facts, you are hereby directed to make no further sales of the Bonds of said Company at a less price than 94 and accrued interest, at which price you will continue to sell until further orders.

Very respectfully yours,
C. P. HUNTINGTON, President.

In compliance with the foregoing instructions, the price of the Bonds, from this date, until further orders, will be 94 and accrued interest.

The scarcity of, and demand for, really

Desirable six per cent. Gold Bonds,

for solid and permanent investments, is evinced by the facts that

Five-Twenty Bonds of 1867 are selling at...115
Central Pacific Bonds are selling at.....103
Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are selling at..94

These bonds all pay both principal and interest in New York City, in U. S. gold coin, and are equally safe for investment.

The reason why FIVE-TWENTY BONDS are so high is because no more can be issued, and the outstanding amount is being rapidly decreased by purchases by the Government from their surplus revenues.

The reason why we think CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS will in time advance to the price of Five-Twenties, is because no more can be issued, while the operation of their Sinking Fund will soon commence to decrease the amount.

The reason why CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are selling so low, comparatively, while equally safe, is because the Company are selling Bonds to complete the road. They will all be sold in a short time, and in a few months the road will be finished, when we have no doubt the same result will follow as with FIVE-TWENTY and CENTRAL PACIFIC Bonds. The Sinking Fund of the Chesapeake and Ohio must go into effect within one year after the completion of the road.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Bonds are issued either coupon or registered—the denominations are as follows:

$100, which cost to day.....$94.13
$500 " " " 471.56
$1000, " " " 943.12

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, may be sent through any National Bank or Banker; or accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

We buy and sell Government and Central Pacific Bonds, and receive them in exchange for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds.

Accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are so we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model, does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf6t6

A CURE FOR SEA-SICKNESS.—An authority on this subject says "I am much surprised at the opinion, which is so prevalent, of the incurability of sea-sickness. I believe the opinion to exist among the nonmedical part of the community from sheer ignorance, and among sea-going surgeons from a supineness to applying remedies—a fault to which they are rather too subject. In the greater number of instances, I allow the stomach to discharge its contents once or twice, and then, if there is no organic disease, I give five drops of chloroform in a little water, and, if necessary, repeat the dose in five or six hours. The almost instant effect of treatment, if coupled with a few simple precautions, are to cause an immediate sensation, as it were, of warmth in the stomach, accompanied by almost total relief of the nausea and sickness, likwise, curing the distressing headache, and usually causing a quiet sleep, from which the passenger wakes quite well."—Exchange.

—They have a new way of getting up surprise parties in certain parts of Illinois. A resident receives an anonymous letter, stating that a surprise party will be with him on a certain evening. He prepares for it. Nobody comes, and the surprise of the party is complete.

—A bill is now before the Massachusetts Legislature to make it obligatory on railroad companies to provide passengers with seats at the risk of losing their fare if they keep people standing.

—What is the difference between the entrance to a barn and a loafer in a printing office? One is a barn door and the other a darn bore.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following ing symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

Describe symptoms in all communications.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menace is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appear. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed in the most careful manner with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.
JOHN TAGGART."

SATURDAY, JANUARY 20, 1872.

WASHINGTON MATTERS.—The committee on appropriations have finished the post-office and pension bills, the former appropriating $28,000,000 and the latter $30,480,000. They will soon be reported to the House. The next bill to be taken up by the committee will be the army and navy bill. The committee will report all the other bills at the earliest practicable period, so that Congress may have ample time to discuss and pass them in view of an adjournment by the 1st of June.

Secretary Robeson and Mrs. Commodore Aulick will be married on the 23d instant, in St. John's church.

A sharp and spirited debate took place in the Senate on civil service reform, Thursday. Senator Carpenter argued that the proposed scheme was unconstitutional, inasmuch as it proposes to take the power of appointments from the President, in whom it is now vested, and put it into the control of a board unknown to the Constitution. He ridiculed the idea of finding out the qualifications of men for official position by means of the competitive examination which the commission proposed, and declared in effect that the whole form was impossible. Senator Trumbull replied, saying that the President and Cabinet have become the mere clerks of Congressmen in making appointments, and the present system is the source of great evil. Senator Sherman opposed the scheme.

THE NEW YORK TIMES is again on the war path, and is now exposing a water-pipe swindle. B. A. Starr is accused of furnishing pipe, getting pay for a much larger weight than was received. B. G. Clark acted in a similar manner, until the downfall of Tammany unsettled affairs.

DR. RICHARD S. SPOFFORD, a veteran Newburyport physician, died Thursday night. He was in his 85th year.

THE GOLDEN AGE suggests that if Fisk has "gone below" he might make "a corner" in brimstone.

New Hampshire Items.

The next annual meeting of the Publishers, Editors and Printers' Association is to be held at Concord, January 17, 1873.

A Frenchman carried the small pox to New Ipswich, going into a house with sixty occupants. The result was seventeen cases of the disease.

Ansel Dickinson of Winchester is the Democratic nominee for Senator in the 10th district.

The Newmarket Congregationalists have remodeled their church at an expense of $5000. The Methodists are about to get into a $25,000 church, the vestry of which is already in use.

The military school at Reed's Ferry has been discontinued, and the instructor, Rev. S. N. Howell, has accepted a position in Philadelphia.

Mr. Paul Twombly, a farmer residing in Farmington, was on Wednesday found dead in the woods near his house with his skull crushed in. It is supposed that a tree which he was chopping down must have fallen on him. He was about fifty-three years of age, and leaves a wife and three children.

MAINE ITEMS.—Saco is to have a first-class hotel.

Mrs. Scott Brown of Reedfield, a few days since, left her two little children, one a year and a half old, and the other four years old, alone in the house, to visit a neighbor, and when she returned she found the clothing of the oldest one nearly burned off. The child died a few hours after.

The Boston and Maine Railroad Company have bought property in Saco and Biddeford amounting to nearly $60,000, for the use of the extension of that road.

The Shakers at Alfred have sold nearly one thousand acres of timber land to parties in Saco. It is expected that this society will remove to a home further West.

The annual statement of the financial affairs of York County, shows a balance in favor of the county Dec. 30, 1871, of $13,028.26. December 31, 1870, the balance against the county was $1,516.77; making a gain the past year of 14,554.98. About $8000 has been paid during the past two years for the new jail and foundation at Alfred.

—Greeley says that the best way to raise early pop-corn is to start it now. Put the corn,—any kind will do,—in a corn-popper, and suspend in the sun over a pan of water till the shoots grow out between the wires; then in the spring set it out in pots or beds, and before June the popped corn will be hanging in little paper bags all over the branches.

DUTY OF TEMPERANCE MEN.—While those advocates of the enforcement of the prohibitory law who believe that that object can be effected by making it a political issue, will probably continue in the future as they have in the past, to impair, if not entirely throw away, all the influence which they might legitimately exert in connection with and as members of the Republican party, for the promotion of temperance, there can be no doubt that all reasonable friends of the cause will see their duty in another direction. Instead of frittering away their strength upon third candidates who stand no possible chance of an election, they will vote, as they have generally in past elections, with that party which has placed the prohibitory law upon the statute book, and to which the State is indebted for all the legislation for the promotion of temperance which it has ever received.

Rev. R. S. Stubbs, the well known Methodist clergyman, who has been a prominent advocate of temperance and of the enforcement of the prohibitory law, indicates that such is the course which he shall feel it his duty to pursue, in a letter recently published. Mr. Stubbs has been frequently quoted of late by Democratic newspapers, as being at variance with the Republican party on the temperance issue, but his letter shows that he still has faith in the Republican to the cause, and that he does not believe in supporting a distinct prohibitory party. He cannot see why the Republican party as such is any more responsible for the enforcement of the prohibitory law than of other laws intended for the public good. He believes that the temperance cause has been sufficiently knocked about in the political tennis court, and that it is the duty of all true

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

City Councils.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thurday evening, voted to allow the Young Men's Christian Association the use of the Water Street ward room for Sunday afternoons.

Dr. Edward S. Ryder having declined to serve as a member of the School Committee from the 1st ward, the Board chose Charles A. Shannon, Esq., to fill the vacancy for this year.

The bonds of the various city officials were received and accepted.

The printing of the City Accounts for 1871 was awarded to Lewis W. Brewster, Esq. There will be about 80 pages to print. Mr. B. F. Thorndike's bid was $4.24 1-2 per page; Marston & Freeman bid $3.95; and Mr. Brewster, $3.90.

A hearing on the proposed extension of Howard Street to Pleasant Street was appointed for Thursday evening, Feb. 8th, at 7 o'clock.

The bill relating to the Fire Department was read and referred to the Committee on 2d reading of bills.

The Mayor and Aldermen Hatch and Annable were requested to confer with Mrs. Burroughs relative to widening Pleasant Street.

The Common Council met but transacted no business, and adjourned to meet at the call of the Mayor.

Uncollected Rent.

A resident of Exeter consulted an attorney in this city some time ago, claiming to own a tract of land three miles wide in Maine, and a portion of the land embraced in the limits of this city. He desired to prosecute this claim and make municipalities pay for the land they occupy. As the claimant was not considered sane, he could find no disciple of the law to aid him, and returned home disappointed. A document was received from him on the 17th, directed to the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Portsmouth, N. H. It reads as follows:—

The seal of your City is a Pair of Cavalry Boots. When you have organized your City Government please hand over to a responsible Bank the money annually due me as fast as received and notify me through the mail.

Yrs., &c., —.—.——,
(Baron Wentworth,)
Land Baron.

The unfortunate "Land Baron" is a member of a very respectable family in Exeter.

Laconics.

How about that veteran military company, Capt. Towle?

S. H. Goodall, Esq., has at his office a petition to Congress, in favor of the French Spoliation Bill. As this bill will undoubtedly be acted upon during the present session, all interested are requested to call at his office, No. 13 Pleasant Street, immediately, and sign the petition.

Rev. A. W. Hilton, of Hanover, will deliver a lecture on the "Chronology of the Bible," in the Christian church on Court Street, on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The lecture is highly spoken of wherever it has been delivered, as being both instructive and interesting.

By reference to the advertisement in another column it will be seen that those talented artists, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hall, assisted by the mysterious Munroe, are to give our citizens two nice entertainments next week. Their fine acting last year made a favorable impression and they will doubtless receive a hearty welcome on their return. The Company have just closed a successful engagement at Wood's Museum and the Grand Opera House in New York.

Our Democratic neighbor says, "We don't object to a battle with swords, but do condemn the use of mud-hooks and slush-buckets." We never knew its present editor or his great exemplar, Joshua, to object to a battle with anything—except with a man who would strike back. But that condemnation of "mud hooks and slush-buckets," coming from that quarter, reads very like a rich joke; if it is really meant, however, we gladly welcome the great change of conduct it promises. If our cotemporary would only include untruths in his list of discarded weapons, what a reformation it would be.

An elegant bouquet of wax flowers in the window of Jos. H. Foster's bookstore has attracted the attention and admiration of passers by for several days. It is one of the most beautiful specimens of that kind of work we have ever seen, and includes white and Japan lilies, tea roses, convolvuli, geraniums, fuchsias and ivy, all perfect in form and color. Mrs. Samuel Lamprey, whose taste and skill produced this exquisite bouquet, will give instruction in the art to a few pupils at No. 35 Deer Street. The bouquet mentioned is sufficient recommendation of her skill.

Our call for assistance from our subscribers in repairing the loss of our GAZETTE files for the early months of 1871, has been responded to with such generous promptitude that we now lack copies of but one date (Jan. 21, 1871.) to complete our files. Until now we had no idea that the GAZETTE was so extensively preserved by our patrons in this city, and our principal reliance for procuring the missing copies was on our distant subscribers. To the friends who have so generously aided us—and we include several who have written that if necessary they would break into their own files to complete ours—we return our earnest thanks.

The Exhibition at the Methodist Church will take place on Tuesday evening next, to commence at 7 1-2 o'clock. The programme will consist of dialogues, recitations and singing, giving a varied and sprightly entertainment.

Rev. Wm. Scott of Haverhill, Mass., will preach at the Methodist Church, to-morrow.

The Portland Press says that Thomas Sands & Co., of New York, have concluded not to build a carpet factory near Knightville, on account of difficulty caused by a railroad crossing. They have a bond for a site in this city. We hope these gentlemen will establish a manufactory here and that our citizens will offer inducements that cannot fail to make the business mutually prosperous.

Kittery.

The third lecture before the People's Lyceum in Kittery, was delivered on Wednesday evening, Jan. 17th, by Ex-Gov. Israel Washburn, Jr., of Portland, on "Some of the laws of success in life." The lecturer considered the most important of these laws to be, 1st, one occupation or profession; 2d, perfection in whatever is undertaken; 3d, persistence or perseverance and 4th, to act at the right time and season. These great governing principles, which would almost surely lead to success in life, were vividly illustrated, on the one hand by reference to professional men and others, who in their attempts to be everything and to do everything became utter failures, and on the other hand by those who had confined themselves to one great life work and by so doing had become eminently successful. Perfection in whatever is undertaken is indispensable to success. The lawyer, to be successful, should never trifle with half efforts; the clergyman he would not allow to preach a sermon until he had made it as good as he knew how; very few sermons were fit to be preached, which had not been written more than once. These ideas were illustrated by reference to Webster, Channing, Dickens and Sumner, men eminent for their perfection in whatever they undertake. Persistence or perseverance in individual effort would surely lead to success; without it failure was sure, notwithstanding the purity of the motives by which the efforts were prompted. It is not enough to have a single occupation, but it must be prosecuted with zeal; the work must be continued to the end,—and pertinent to this idea was the remark of Gen. Grant, during the late war, "I shall fight it out on this line if it takes all summer." The laws of success require that work should be done at the right time and season; and if in case a faithful observance of these laws failed to bring success, such as the world notices, it never would fail to bring that truest and best success of all which blossoms into Character, and in such a life there could be no room for regrets.

The lecture is considered one of the most eloquent and instructive that has ever been delivered before an audience in Kittery; considering the inclemency of the weather it was well attended, and it was listened to with the closest attention.

The Methodist Society have cleared off their church debt, and a new organ is being put up by Messrs. Hook of Boston.

The Universalist Society have but $1200 to raise to clear their new church of debt, $1300 having been already secured; and the prospect now is that they will soon be free of debt.

Clippings.

We place the local columns of the Journal under contribution for the following items:

....The difference between the present prices of family marketing and those current one year ago is apparent and generally "favor the buyer."

Portsmouth Aqueduct Co.—Joshua W. Pierce, President; Oliver Ayres, Proprietor's Clerk and Treasurer; J. W. Pierce, Ichabod Goodwin, Jonathan M. Tredick, Oliver Ayres, John J. Pickering, Directors.

....The 23rd Regt of Infantry, U. S. A., now at Camp Harney, Oregon, has been ordered to Arizona, in anticipation of threatened difficulties with the Apache Indians. Lieut. Fred I. Dodge, of this city, is connected with this regiment.

....Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus L. Brown, of this city, returning from a wedding tour were visited by a large number of their friends one evening last week, and made the recipients of an elegant silver service. Mr. Brown is of the firm of John Stokell & Co.

....The Pest House is to be put in thorough order. Capt. Robert Shillaber, one of the Health Committee who rendered such efficient service at the time of the yellow fever was here, is determined to have all ready in case of emergency of any kind.

....The Concord Railroad conductors, engineers, and all other men who are employed upon the trains, are to be supplied with caps of a uniform pattern, the manner of trimming them showing the distinguishing mark, which latter point has not yet been decided on.

...."May Mannering," well known as a daughter of Portsmouth, and the author of the "Helping Hand Series," and other clever books and stories for boys and girls has the commencement of a juvenile story in the February number of Demorest's Young America.

PORTSMOUTH ATHENÆUM.—The following officers were chosen at the annual meeting: Alfred Haven, President; Joseph H. Foster, Sec and Treas.; Jona. M. Tredick, Richard Jenness, Albert R Hatch, James DeNormandie, Joshua W. Pierce, Directors; John Albee, Librarian.

....We take pleasure in announcing that Mr. F. S. Martyn, graduate of Paris Conservatory, and a brother of Rev. Carlos Martyn of this city, is soon to give an Organ Recital here. He will have the aid of some fine vocal talent. From our knowledge of Mr. Martyn's masterly performances we bespeak a full house.

....An elegant pleasure boat is in course of construction by Staples Brothers, of Eliot, for parties in this city, which is expected to eclipse anything ever made on this river. It is to be constructed entirely of cedar, named the "Swan," with a chaste figure head, black walnut trimmings, finely finished throughout and will have a portable awning.

....Mr. Charles A. Burroughs, is making arrangements for the speedy opening of a steam laundry at No. 9 Penhallow street, in this city. It will doubtless prove of great convenience not only to many of our own citizens but to naval officers and summer visitors. Haverhill has just opened one which is meeting with gratifying success. We bespeak for it a liberal patronage.

....We take pleasure in announcing that at the request of the Committee James P. Bartlett Esq., of this city has consented to read before the Lyceum audience on Thursday evening next Jan, 25, at the Universalist church, when he will present selections from Shakespere and Richard Brinley Sheridan. Holders of season "Tickets No. 10" will be entitled to this extra entertainment as well as to the closing lecture by Wendell Phillips in February.

Evening tickets will be for sale at the usual places and at the door.

EASTERN RAILROAD.—The depreciation of the stock of this road since the Revere disaster is the largest item in the round million at which the cost is estimated. The capital is $4,262,600. The capital of the New Hampshire line is $492,500, making an aggregate of $4,765,100 upon which there is a depreciation of fourteen per cent.—which amounts to $667,114.

Important matters are to come up for discussion and action at the approaching annual meeting of the road, and stockholders should attend in person instead of sending proxies. It is to be hoped that the Directors will provide a suitable place this year for holding the meeting, which promises to be one of the most interesting of any yet held. The Directors' room is not large enough to hold one half of the stockholders who desire to attend.

The road is providing admirably for its patrons, its express trains in particular affording every comfort to the traveller, and moving at a rapid rate with few stops. The new patent brake, worked from the locomotive, has been adopted and works admirably. No road in this country has a better or more thoroughly organized corps of employés than the Eastern.

We understand that a company of Boston capitalists have bought a piece of land in Kennebunkport, where they intend to erect a hotel, and several cottages for summer residences. The location is one of the pleasantest on the Maine coast, and must attract a large number of visitors, especially when the new railroad from Kittery to Biddeford is built. This branch of the P. S. & P. will, it is said, shorten the distance between Boston and Portland very materially, over the present route, being some 15 miles or more shorter than by the Boston and Maine line. Besides, it will open many fine resorts for summer travel, which are now neglected from the inconvenience in reaching them.

WINTER FISHING.—Owing to the superior advantages which Portsmouth harbor has in the winter, a part of our fleet make their market there, and thus far, they have done extremely well. The vessels thus engaged are the Sarah E. Babson, E. A. Creed, Nettie Adams, Comet, and Queen of the Bay. The fish are taken by trawls, being set one day and hauled the next; they are shipped to all parts of the country and the Canadas, and the demand is constantly increasing. Haddock at this season, is worth more than cod-fish, the former being from $4 to $5 per cwt., while the latter sell from $1.75, to $3.75 per hundred according to the state of the market.—Newburyport Herald.

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

Correspondence.

BOSTON, Jan. 20.

The farce of our sumptuary liquor law is now having daily representations. The legislature is newly convened and the cumbrous machinery of the State Constabulary needs the prestige of numerous seizures to counteract the damaging testimony elicited in regard to the corruption and blackmailing so general in the force, made public before the Legislative Committee last spring. For example, I was witness of the seizure of two leading dealers on Tremont Street a few days since and before the wagon containing the boxes, casks and demijohns had driven from the door I saw a steady bar trade doing over one of the counters. A large crowd had gathered to watch the seizure, and but one sentiment was visible in the faces thereof—that of disgust in a land of boasted freedom a man's property should be taken from his own premises on the dicta of ——— the Lord only know who. Don't mistake me as the apologist of the rum trade. I look farther than that. 'Tis a dangerous precedent to establish, and if one man may not sell liquor another man may not sell tobacco, and if a man may sell neither of these it is difficult to say where the precedent of prohibition can be stopped. For myself—I object to the sale of tea, ready-made clothing, tobacco in any form, liquor, tracts, opium, gunpowder, cod liver oil, and confectionery, but because I object to all these I have no idea that it is my right to interfere with my fellow men who may wish them.

The trouble is, we have begun at the wrong end of this dilemma. Were our present laws enforced in Massachusetts, prohibition would not stand on the statute books thirty days. The true secret is to cultivate the people so that they shall not desire that which is hurtful, and to that end the old Washingtonians have labored for forty years.

Because Stokes shoots Fisk shall hardware dealers be prohibited from selling pistols, powder and percussion caps? Because Mr. White dies of an overdose of morphine shall every druggist be debarred from selling either opium, morphine, laudanum, or the many drugs which (used indiscreetly) terminate human life?

The two dealers in question have been sentenced to a fine and twenty days' imprisonment in the House of Correction. When Lewis Rice, Geo. Young, Harvey D. Parker, Gardner Wetherbee, and the men of like ilk are sentenced to the House of Correction, and confined therein for the full term of sentence, the cavil against the workings of the law will cease.

The Boston News to the contrary:—fact proves that while Bridget Mahan, with her stock of ten dollars' worth of liquor, at the extreme North end, is in constant fear of seizure, Messrs. S. Q. Cochran, D. Lawrence & Sons, J. D. Richards & Sons, C. E. Richards & Co., and men of such caliber, (with their hundreds of thousands of capital,) rest in almost perfect immunity from interference by law.

Give us a law that shall not discriminate against the poor in favor of the rich; give us a law that shall be enforced and not left a dead letter, nor made a burlesque in its application, and the public will more readily acquiesce in its decisions and workings than in those of the law which at present renders our State Constabulary and our Statute Book subject to deserved ridicule. M.

A "QUEER" CORRESPONDENCE.—It seems that this portion of "Providence Plantations" is not wholly devoid of "queer" customers, as the following "queer" correspondence which has been placed in our possession will show:

CENTRAL FALLS, R. I., June 12, 1872. William Lewis & Co.—Sirs: Please send me a price list of "queer," as I expect to visit your establishment in one month from date. Yours truly,

H——R——,
Formerly of Biddeford, Maine.

P. S.—Your letter and price list of March 4, was destroyed by fire in my shop. Address

H——R——, Central Falls, R. I.

This interesting epistle having been sent to New York, it properly fell into the hands of the chief of police of that city, who returned it to H——R——with the following information and advice:

On the back of a one dollar United States note you will find a complete price list of all such goods. Uncle Sam deals liberally with all who wish to go into the business. You had better find a new residence as soon as possible. Yours truly, JAMES KELSO, Chief of Police, New York City.

June 14, 1871.

H——R——has probably done so ere this, as the parties to whom the letter was intrusted have been unable to find him at any time for the past six months.—Pawtucket Gazette and Chronicle.

—The late Dr. Marshall Hall of England said: "If I were seriously ill of consumption, I would live out-doors day and night, except in rainy weather or mid-Winter: then I would sleep in an unplastered log-house. Physic has no nutriment, gaspings for air cannot cure you; monkey capers in a gymnasium cannot cure you, and stimulants cannot cure you. What consumptives want is air, not physic—pure air, not medicated air—plenty of meat and bread.

—"Excavated" is the latest for interviewed.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Vital Organs. 1yrdawf&bi6

OLD TIME LITERATI.—A writer in the Louisville Courier Journal, musing upon the announcement of the "Poets of the Breakfast Table" in the Atlantic, speaks of the time (1858) when Prof. Holmes was Autocrat of the Breakfast Table" thus:—

Happy time! happy, peaceful time! Irving was alive then, and read the first of those delightful papers; and the grim cast of powder and iron had not yet come smirching over the simple Arcadianism of the American life and thought and letters. The public taste had not been hardened—we will not say corrupted—by learned and worldwise critical exactions. The public appreciation had not been cultivated beyond the capacity of wholesome diet by warlike sensations. It did not need the details of a battle or the burning of a Chicago to make an event of universal recognition and significance.

There is a quietude even in the old names. Hawthorne lived and wrote, and Longfellow was a most live active person. George William Curtis stood as a sort of beau to all the muses—young and trim, and Byronic, at least in his shirt-collar—and Aldrich and Winter were mere striplings. Lowell had written little prose; and George Hillard and Edwin Whipple were oracles. Holmes and Saxe had been friendly rivals.

The great names in our military vocabulary were Winfield Scott and Phil. Kearney, and General Twiggs, and Colonel Jack Hays. The Grants, the Shermans, the Johnsons, the Lees, were unknown to fame. Nor had the journalism of the country been penetrated by such strong names as Manton Marble and Whitelaw Reid and Murat Halstead and Horace White. Dr. Holland, and not Samuel Bowles, edited the Springfield Republican. John Russell Young was reading proofs for Colonel Forney; and Croly and Conant were barely out of school. Dana was an embryo literateur, and had perhaps little thought of becoming a war secretary—a man of action and business—to burst finally into the gorgeous newspaper sunflower of to-day.

The Duyckincks and Parke Godwin and Dr. Griswold held possession of the critical citadel in New York; and the old Home Journal, with Morris and Willis, was a real literary power in the land. Porte Crayon was a lion; and Miss Flora McFlimsy made a sensation as great as the Heathen Chinee, and much more substantial and better deserved. It was fashionable in those days to discuss Poe and the Raven.

There was a Bohemian set who were going to establish a new school, in the execution of which purpose they drank great quantities of beer and smoked great pipes-full of tobacco, and wrote all manner of odd rhymes, irregular and funny as their own lives—until—until there came a sudden flash and smell of powder, and when the clouds blew away they were all gone, like the goblins in the Castle Specter.

TOO MUCH FOR THE DEVIL.—This is Edward Hale's story: A man had sold himself to the devil, who was to possess him at a certain time unless he could prepound a question to his satanic majesty which he could not answer, he being allowed to put three queries to him. The time came for the devil to claim his own, and he consequently appeared. The first question the man asked was concerning theology, to which it caused the devil no trouble to reply. The second he also answered without hesitation. The man's fate depended on the third. What should it be? He hesitated and turned pale, and the cold dew stood on his forehead, while he shivered with anxiety, nervousness and terror, and the devil triumphantly sneered. At this juncture the man's wife appeared in the room with a bonnet on her head. Alarmed at her husband's condtion, she demanded to know the cause. When informed, she laughed and said, "I can propound a question which the devil himself cannot answer. Ask him which is the front of this bonnet?" The devil gave it up and retired in disgust, and the man was free.

HOW TO BRIGHTEN STRAW MATTING AND OILCLOTH.—Tell your readers, writes Mrs. G. E., that if they wish their straw matting to keep looking bright, they must wash it twice during the summer with salt and water, say about a pint of salt, dissolved in a pail of warm, soft water, drying the matting quickly with a soft cloth. The salt, she says, will prevent it from turning yellow. Far away, and from quite an opposite quarter, we hear another friendly voice, begging us to say to our readers that after oilcloths are scrubbed and dried, they should be rubbed all over with a cloth dipped in milk. "You're no idea," says our friend, "how brightly the colors come out. Husband says it's the albumen in the milk, but I think it's the very thin film of grease deposited. Meantime our oilcloth shines the whole year round."—Exchange.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superseding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

Describe symptoms in all communications.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appear. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no toxic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these determities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glossy and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood,

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as sure. Being sugar coated they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with despatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice relating to all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.
JOHN TAGGART."

MONDAY, JANUARY 22, 1872.

A PLEASANT CORRESPONDENCE.—Immediately on the nomination of Mr. Straw, Mayor Walker, who was the only formidable competitor in the field, addressed to him the following courteous letter:

PORTSMOUTH, Jan. 4, 1872.

My Dear Sir:—Permit me to congratulate you upon your successful nomination for Governor, and to express the confident hope that your election will be even more triumphant. I pledge my earnest support, with my fellow-citizens of this city, that Old Strawberry Bank shall not be wanting in rolling up a good majority for the nominee.

With sentiments of the highest respect,
I remain truly yours,
HORTON D. WALKER.

To HON. E. A. STRAW, Manchester.

Mr. Straw's reply:

MANCHESTER, Jan. 8, 1872.

My Dear Sir:—Please accept my thanks for your very kind letter of the 4th inst. It was quite as gratifying to me as any incident connected with the nomination. I sincerely hope the time is not far off when there will be an opportunity to show you how entirely I reciprocate your good wishes.

Your Republican friends on old "Strawberry Banks" are all my friends, and no one here has ever doubted their entire reliability.

I remain with great regard,
Yours very truly, E. A. STRAW.

To HON. HORTON D. WALKER.

NOT FOR WESTON THIS YEAR.—The Manchester Mirror has a letter from a gentleman who has seen much of the world,—a Democrat not unknown in Hillsborough county, but now temporarily out of the State,—who has always voted the Democratic ticket, and is still a Democrat, a believer in true Democracy, and not in shams. He was a war Democrat, and, because he so believed, did but little more than vote for several years. But last year he worked earnestly for Weston, with the idea that a new departure had been taken, and he rejoiced to see Mr. Weston win. But now he sees the party yielding to the dictation of the managers who opposed the war, to Sinclair and Bingham and their kin; he sees a war Democrat displaced on the State Committee, and his place from Manchester filled by a man who represents a special interest, and he sees that Mr. Weston is no longer the man he supposed him to be, and he will not aid in his re-election this year. Here is an extract from his letter:

"I think the Republican party has made a good move in putting forward Mr. Straw. The Democracy have lost their best opportunity to win, in their failure to take a bold, decided stand for a more noble and advance movement. I did the best I could, when I was at home, to induce their leaders to come up to a high moral plane, and thus secure the advantages of the hour. Some of them were disposed to do so; others were of the opinion that the party really did not want any moral plank in their platform, but preferred to pursue the reckless policy of fault finding, and dragging in the dead past. I told them their only hope was in better principles, in real Democracy. For as sure as God was just, the cause of humanity would win. I have nothing further to say save that, knowing what I do, I cannot help forward any cause or party that does not move forward with the increasing light of the new age."

MASSACHUSETTS TRAGEDIES.—Chas. W. Leach, a Lakeville dentist, while insane from the use of intoxicating liquors, Friday, shot at four persons from his house. Thomas Bump was shot in the breast and may not live; Capt. Daniel Swift was slightly wounded in the shoulder and arm; William Coombs has a severe wound in the arm; and John Capeless was shot in the chin and neck, is severely wounded and may die.

In a drunken affray on the British steamer Tiber, at East Boston, Friday night, John McLane and Samuel Hanson, firemen, got into a personal dispute. Hanson severed McLane's jugular vein with a sheath knife, the victim dying immediately. The murderer hid between the boilers, but the Boston police secured him. Hanson and his victim are both about 22 years of age, and the sad tragedy was doubtless the result of sudden passion, as the relations between the parties heretofore are believed to have been amicable.

RECENTLY PREPARED TABLES at the Treasury department show that the total defalcations by internal revenue collectors under President Lincoln were $797,746; under Johnson, $1,817,223; and under Grant, $135,186.

THE REMAINS OF COLUMBUS, now deposited in a cathedral at Havana, are to be transferred to a new cemetery there.

—Although a dog walked around the Franklin Statue in front of the City Hall, New York, for half an hour, and barked at old Ben to come down, the old fellow stood it on and did not budge an inch.

AT THE RECENT PRESS BANQUET, the toast master called up Mr. George A. Marden of the Lowell Courier to respond to the following toast:—

From the City of Spindles, with its bustle and stir,
Comes an avant-Courier, without whip or spur,
To scatter his rhymes about our times,
In contradistinction to the days of yore,
When a Ramage press and huge ink-balls
Were sign and seal of the very De'il,
And the church's ban was placed on the man
Whose genius obeyed the divine command,
Spoken in Creation's pristine dawn—
"LET THERE BE LIGHT."

Mr. Marden closed a witty speech with the following lines:—

I sing the Press—the journalistic Press,
Whose power all own, whose virtues all confess.
Greater than monarch—the imperial crown
At its behest shall rise or tumble down.
Nobler than Prince—by its consentsshall be
The noble's patent of nobility.
Wiser than sage—upon its sheet unfurled
Behold concentrate wisdom of the World.
Sharper than wit—its rifles every jest
And from the whole condenses what is best.
Stronger than laws—the power behind the throne
That reveals the people's will to meet its own.
Fuller than history—on each daily page
Read the whole record of the passing age.
The poet sings—and by its power his lays
Are garnered treasures for all future days.
The orator speaks—and quick each word is caught
And fixed forever in his golden thought.
The statesman argues—and the law he frames
To all the Press present its urgent claims.
Philanthropists exhort, the pulpits preach,
Authors enlighten, educators teach,
But all their labor is but wrought in vain
Except the Press enforce, expound, explain.
The Press—the King, the Prince, the Wit, the Sage,
Judge, Legislator, Ruler of the Age,
Chronicle, Poet, Philanthropist, and Preacher,
Statesman and Scientist, and also Teacher.
The Press—all things in one, itself we see
Essence of all—the world's epitome.
Its kindling beams irradiate the sky
From pole to pole—Now, how is th at for high?
I sing the Press—the grand New Hampshire Press,
Which always merits what it wins—Success.
Cheers for its head—let's give them with a will,
Cheers for that N. H. Patriot, John M. Hill.
We thought we owed him more than we could pay
For what he did for us one summer day,
But Granite folks have such a mountainous style
And on such Ossas such huge Pellons pile,
That we in Massachusetts haven't yet
Found out the way in which to pay the debt.
In summer's heat and even in winter's cold,
Your generous hearts are just as good as gold.
This new expression of your kind good will
But adds another item to the bill.
Though cold the air, and cloudy is the sky
You've watched our comforts with an Eagle eye.
I can't express the pleasure it does give
For us to know how Concord White folks live.
(It Messrs. White should think it best, they will File this as offset when they make the bill.)
I think you'll have to take it out in wishes
We can't repay you all the loaves and fishes.
Long may you wave, your columns all unbroken,
And quires of angel friends afford some token
Of their regard more beauteous than your dreams.
May greenbacks fill your pocket-books by reams,
May grumblers leave, and all your bad advisers,
May you be crowded by your advertisers.
And as appendix I would add to that
May rates be "solid" and the copy "flat."
May that millenium soon your Joys enhance
When all subscribers pay up in advance;
And bores and dead-beats, always to be dreaded,
Be fair examples to be double-leaded.
May foes cease fighting, sneerers to deride,
And every line you write be justified.
May critics cease, and carpers stop their vapors;
May no subscribers send to stop their papers;
May new ones come, may borrowers learn to buy;
May crusty cusses be knocked into pi;
May news be plenty, and may duns be few;
May paper fall—I don't now mean fall due.
May (if you're single) half your help be girls
With pretty faces and bewitching curls;
And when a lake you take to help them through,
May they be willing to set up with you.
And should they come inquiring to your case
To see if they can get just one em-brace,
May you receive severest of retorts
Hyson refuse, and leave them out of sorts.
And lastly—may your proof be found correct,
Your language chaste—your actions circumspect.
And when, imposed upon the marble stone
Which marks the place your locked-up form has gone,
There stands a head—Oh! let it say of you,
You left no bill the Devil calls his due.
In short, my brethren of the Granite State,
May you the final working-off await,
Hopeful that, folded on the shelf away
In peaceful rest, He there will let you stay.
And till the innumerable caravan that moves
To the pale realms of shade in Stygian groves
Shall call for you—if I should have my will,
You'd all be prospered like your President Hill.

Political.

Hon. George R. Dennis has been elected United States Senator by the Maryland legislature, to succeed Mr. Vickers. Mr. Dennis is a director of the Baltimore and Ohio and other railroads.

A Washington dispatch says that George Wilkes has brought out Charles Sumner as the reform candidate for President, in the New York Spirit of the Times. The anti-Grant Republicans selected Sumner without his knowledge. Many Democrats have agreed to remain "passive."

A GROCER'S REVENGE.—In Brooklyn a few days since, a boy was observed standing in front of a dwelling and supporting a large bulletin board inscribed, "Waiting for $3.37," the debt of the family for groceries being thus advertised.

—The wife of a member of the Arizona Legislature, whose house, when her husband was absent on his legislative duties, was attacked by Indians, shot six, and the next day wrote to her husband—"Dear John, the Apaches attacked the ranche. I have won the fight. You need not come yourself, but send some more ammunition."

—Indians from Mexico are burning ranches, killing settlers, running off stock from Texas, between Loredo and Eagle Pass, and conveying property to camps on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande.

—Josh Billings says: "Most men concede that it looks foolish to see a boy dragging a heavy sled up hill for the 'fleetin' pleasure of riding down again. But it appears to me that boy is a sage by the side of a young man who works hard all the week and drinks up his wages on Saturday night."

—The hearing in the appeal of Foster, the car-hook murderer of New York, to the general term of the superior court, is postponed to February 10.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING.—We have made great additions to our jobbing facilities—a mammoth Hand Press (the largest in Portsmouth,) new Display Type, borders of various styles, &c. —and are prepared to execute with neatness and dispatch, all orders for FULL SHEET POSTERS, DATE SLIPS, PAMPHLETS, SERMONS, ADDRESSES, AUCTION BILLS, CONSTITUTIONS, BY LAWS, PROGRAMMES, HANDBILLS, CIRCULARS, ORDERS DANCES, BLANKS, BILL HEADS RECEIPTS, TICKETS, BUSINESS, MARRIAGE, ADDRESS AND VISITING CARDS, LABELS, TAGS, and in fact PRINTING OF ANY DESCRIPTION, AT SATISFACTORY PRICES. Orders received by mail, express, or at the CHRONICLE OFFICE will be promptly filled.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

We were pleased to see, not long since, in one of our exchanges, some pretty severe remarks addressed to several persons, who, during an interesting lecture by Rev. Jno. S. C. Abbott, kept a continuous coughing, which prevented many from hearing. People who cannot refrain from coughing, had better stay away from such places, or else take a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment with them.

The importance of giving Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders to horses that have been out in the cold rain, stood in cold wind, or drank too much cold water, cannot be over estimated; no man should be without them who owns a good horse.

For coughs, bronchitis and consumption, in its early stages, nothing equals Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. 573.

A BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.—The perceptive faculty of women is usually keener than the same phrenological organ in men. Women know that beauty rather than genius is worshipped by the sterner sex. A man may talk of the latter to his lady-love, but the keenness of the woman knows that he is thinking of the former. Women are fond of admiration; hence one of their longings is to be beautiful. The grand secret of female beauty is health, the power to eat, digest and assimilate a proper quantity of wholesome food. Take VINEGAR BITTERS. It will cleanse the stomach, tone the vital organs, give a perfect digestion, purify the blood, clear up the complexion and produce a state of mental and physical electricity, which gives symmetry of form, bright eyes, white skin, glossy hair and a genuine type of female loveliness, which no cosmetic can produce. j15 4w

SPECIAL NOTICES.

An Appeal to Reason.

Health would be much more carefully guarded than it is at present, and the average of human life lengthened by many years, if common sense and the light of experience were accepted by the universal public as their medical monitor and guide. The true philosophy of health is simple. It consists in refraining from indulgences and impudences which impair the vital forces, and in supplying any deficiency of vital power and constitutional vigor that may exist, by invigorating and alterative treatment. To reinforce and regulate a feeble system, and to prevent a more vigorous physique from yielding to unhealthy and debilitating influences, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unquestionably the most potent of all vegetable purifiers. As a stimulant, it is the purest ever administered in medical practice; as a tonic and stomachic, the most infallible; as an anti-bilious agent, the safest and surest; and as an aperient and regulating medicine, mild and painless, yet irresistible. It is a protection against disease of every kind, and all seasons, and is particularly efficacious as a means of forearming the system against the ailments generated by a raw, damp, ungenial atmosphere. Hence its great value as a winter tonic and invigorant. No one predisposed to indigestion, biliousness, constipation, rheumatism or nervous headache, should ever be without this Vital Elixir. As a certain class of country dealers are very anxious to dose their customers with "local bitter," of a worthless or pernicious character, which they represent to be equal or superior to the great national tonic, the public is hereby forewarned against their "tricks of trade."

FACING THE BAYONET!

When soldiers face the bayonet they take the chance of life or death; but when private citizens, deceived by the pretences of unscrupulous dealers, apply POISON TO THEIR HEADS to change the color of their hair, they have no idea of the terrible risks they run. The first analytical chemists have endorsed one hair dye as "free from everything deleterious to health," viz:

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

Let the wise and prudent stick to that. It imparts shades of color that are perfectly life-like and is in all respects the very best.

Brighton Cattle Market

FOR THE WEEK ENDING WEDNESDAY, JAN. 17.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week—Cattle 1936; Sheep and Lambs 10,975; Swine 9100; number of Western Cattle 1438; Eastern Cattle 523; Northern Cattle and Working Oxen 175. Cattle left over from last week—.

Prices Beef Cattle—Extra $7 00 @ $ 7 50; first quality $6 75 @ $6 75; second quality $5 50 @ $6 00; third quality $4 75 @ $5 25; poorest grade of coarse Oxen, Bulls, &c., $3 75 @ $4 50 ℔ cwt, (the total weight of hides, tallow and dressed beef.)

Brighton Hides 9c @ 9¼ ℔ lb; Country Hides 8¼ @ 9½c ℔ lb.

Brighton Tallow 6@6½c per lb; Country Tallow 5@5½c ℔ lb.

Sheep and Lamb Skins $2 00 @ 3 00 each; Calf Skins 16 @ 18c ℔ lb.

The trade this week has been lively and prices advanced from ¼ @ ½c ℔ lb over last quotations. Several large lots were taken at a commission. Cattle cost higher at Albany, and the quality of the Western Beeves was not so good upon an average as those of last week. The trains were behind time and a part of those from the West did not get in until Tuesday noon, but before night nearly all were sold. There were some very good Beeves among them from Maine, but the larger portion from that section were Working Oxen and Stores.

Store Cattle—Yearlings $7 @ $13; two years olds $12 @ $28; three years olds $25 @ $45 ℔ head; those of a poorer grade at $7 @ $30 ℔ head.

Milch Cows—Extra $18 @ $90; ordinary $18 @ $50; Store Cows $16 @ 55 ℔ head. Prices of Milch Cows depend much upon the fancy of the purchaser.

Working Oxen—Extra $200 @ $240; ordinary $140 @ $190; poorer grades $35 @ 100 ℔ pair. Good supply in market.

Sheep and Lambs—We quote extra and select lots $4 00 @ $8 50; ordinary $2 50 @ $3 75 ℔ head, or from 4 @ 8½c ℔ lb.

Store Pigs—Wholesale 0 @ 0c ℔ lb; retail 0 @ 0c ℔ lb. Fat Hogs 8 @ 5½c; Columbia County Pigs 00 @ 00c ℔ lb.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Grand Concert.

We are glad to announce that Mr. Frank L. Martyn, of New York, who is here on a visit to his brother, Rev. Carlos Martyn, has consented to give one of his excellent musical entertainments, at the Temple next Monday evening, January 29th. Mr. Martyn has recently returned from Europe, and comes crowned with honors from the Paris Conservatoir de Musique, acknowledged by musicians to be the best musical school in Europe. Since his return he has been giving concerts with marked success in the West and South. The New York journals have spoken of him in the most flattering terms, and he has achieved a noticeable success in musical circles. Mr. Martyn will be assisted by powerful auxilliary talent, and we think we can promise our readers a musical treat. Tickets have been put at the popular price, thirty-five cents, and are for sale at Preston's, and elsewhere.

Public Laundry.

Mr. Chas. A. Burroughs has leased the building No. 9 Penhallow Street, now occupied by the Co-operative Boot and Shoe Co., and will repair and fit it for a public laundry as soon as the present occupants vacate it, which they will do in a few days. Mr. Burroughs has made himself thoroughly acquainted with all departments of the business and has secured experienced help from laundries in Lawrence, Boston and Chelsea. He has received most encouraging assurances of patronage from many citizens, and the enterprise promises to be profitable to its projector as well as to do away with one of the greatest miseries of housekeeping for its patrons. The rules and terms on which the business is to be conducted will be distributed throughout the city about the first week in February, by which time Mr. Burroughs expects to have every thing working. Order books will be kept at the hotels in this city, at the Shoals and at Rye, to which latter place an express will run twice a week during "the season," in connection with the laundry. Mr. Burroughs deserves the thanks and patronage of housekeepers for supplying a long felt want, and we wish him the success he merits.

Laconics.

The Exeter News Letter says the New Hampshire Co. will contest the insurance claim on the Sea Side House at Rye Beach, on the ground that the building was insured as a private dwelling, and at the time of insuring no knowledge was had of other insurance on the property.

The Great Falls Journal asks if the burglars who failed to accomplish the robbery of the Great Falls Bank will return to sue the town of South Berwick for damages occasioned by a defective highway, where their team capsized. As this is the second attempt at bank robbing with Portsmouth as headquarters, the Bank officers and capitalists propose "the construction of an earthwork provided with rifled cannon commanding the Portsmouth road." Good enough!

The Hall Comedy Company will be here to-morrow evening. Mr. John L. Hall has extraordinary popularity in this country, as well as in Europe and Australia—and well be may have after thirty years in the business. He is a man of genius, is industrious and possessed of consummate tact. He is a most successful as well as deserving manager.

The Rochester Courier says that Mrs. Mary Clark, widow of the late John Clark, died in that village on Monday, aged 90 years and 11 months. Mrs. Clark, (whose maiden name was Willey), was born in Kittery, Me., but had lived in Rochester for more than seventy years. She was the oldest person in the town but one,—Mrs. Mercy Kenney, who is 91 years of age.

The editor of the local Democratic organ is the Ananias of the New Hampshire Press, and foolishly thinks that repetitions of a falsehood will convince people that he tells the truth.

A Seal weighing about one hundred and fifty pounds, was caught early Saturday morning by Messrs. Edmond Ramsdell and Charles Moulton on York River, a mile and a half above salt water. He was caught with a lasso, brought to this city and sold to Camo Brothers, who have built a tank for his Sealship and will have him on exhibition.

James Stevens, Esq., died in Boston, on the 17th, at the age of 73 years, 2 month, 2 days. He was born in New castle, N. H., in 1798, and served in the war of 1812 with honor. He was twice married and leaves eight children and an elder brother. He at one time had amassed a handsome property, but in 1838 and 1840 by fires and indorsing for others, he lost heavily.

Look well to your glass lamps. A lady in this city filled a small hand lamp with kerosene on Saturday, and after cleaning it took it up by the handle, which became detached from the lamp. The lamp fell to the floor and her dress was saturated with kerosene. Had the lamp been lighted she would doubtless have been fearfully burned.

A prominent merchant desires us to call attention to the fact that other cities are encouraging manufacturers to establish themselves in their midst by releasing all new business from taxation for ten years. This is a subject which should command the immediate attention of all citizens who have the best interests of this city at heart. If Portsmouth is to increase in wealth and prosperity we must become a manufacturing community, and to become so, we must encourage all new comers who desire to establish business here. Let a new Board of Trade be formed of active business men, who will endeavor to advance the best interests of the city and our citizens.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.—The January Term of the S. J. Court commenced at Exeter on the 19th inst., Judge Doe presiding, on account of the illness of Chief Justice Bellows.

The trial of the action, Alex. M. Murphy v. Garlands and Hezekiah B. Lamprey, trustee, was commenced on Wednesday, the issue being as to the liability of the trustee.

The case was subsequently taken from the jury, and ordered to be continued on terms to be settled.

Hilliard Fogg v. W. B. Morrill. Tried by Court—issue found for Plf. Small for Plf., Marston for Deft.

Rebecca A. Maloon v. James D. Maloon, of Portsmouth, Divorce decreed. W. H. Y. Hackett for libellant.

State News.

Stratham, which has only about two hundred ratable polls, lost by death, during the year 1871, ten men between the ages of 21 and 80 years, viz: Lieut. Charles W. French, of the Massachusetts 1st Light Artillery, and the disease of which he died was contracted while in the service of his country; Dr. Geo. H. Odell, the only physician in town; Col. Merrick Piper; Moses Wentworth; Joshua Wiggin; John H. Huntress; James S. Leavitt; John F. Wiggin; John Smart; Wm. H. Jewell. This per centage of loss in men, is something unusual for a town which has been considered one of the most healthy in the State and noted for the longevity of its inhabitants.

It is proposed to establish a portrait gallery in Phillips Academy at Exeter. It will be a pleasant feature in the new building, for the pupils and instructors, an ornament to Exeter and the State. There are now but two portrait galleries in the State—at Dartmouth College and in the State House. When this gallery is once started at Exeter, and people understand that it is a secure place, and the pictures are well protected, other paintings besides portraits as well as sculpture, will be given, and in a short time it will be a place that will attract visitors from a distance to see it.

The capacity of the Keene gas works is soon to be trebled, to keep up with the growth of the town.

Mrs. Luella Conkling of Exeter has brought a suit against the Boston and Maine Road for injuries sustained by the negligence of a gate tender. She lays her damages at $5000.

The stockholders of the Great Falls Riding Park Association held a meeting on the 16th and voted to instruct the Directors to sell all property owned by them by April 1st.

Among the amounts claimed and paid to the New England States and the amounts still claimed to be due for expenses incurred in equipping volunteers from 1861 to 1872 we find the following figures for New Hampshire:—Filed in Second Auditor's office, $450, which was paid; filed in Third Auditor's office, $1,407,491.42; paid by warrant, $967,875.50; paid by purchase of property, $37,940; total, $1,006,812.50; balance of claim, $400,678.02.

On the 17th inst. Patrick Cady, aged nineteen, a laborer on the Great Falls & Conway Railroad, fell from a dump, a distance of twenty-five feet, killing him instantly.

Deerfield.

The total number of deaths in this town during the year 1871 was twenty, about 1 1-8 per cent. of the population, which is near 1750. The average age of the deceased was 53 years; two died under 10 years of age, and two were nearly 95. There has been little sickness the past year; small-pox proved fatal in the two cases, but the disease has now entirely disappeared. The number of marriages in the town during 1871 was seven.

The want of snow will prevent many from hauling so large a quantity of lumber as they expected. Since it became so expensive to haul logs to water-mills, the lumbermen have commenced putting up steam saw-mills by the side of the timber, and move the mills instead of the logs.

We had some very cold weather early in the winter, — the thermometer down to ten and twelve degrees below zero; but of late the weather has been much milder.

In the 24 years preceeding 1866, there were admitted to the Congregational church sixty members; in the 5 following sixty-three members were received. Number removed from the church by death or dismissal, during 29 years, one hundred and thirty-seven. Contributions in Church and Society in 1871 for charitable purposes, $170.50. J. C.

DEATHS.

At Hantsport, N. S., Jan. 19, GEORGE B. TODD, aged 10 yrs., 11 mos., son of the late Mr. George Todd of this city.

In Deerfield, Jan. 15, Mr. DAVID OSGOOD, aged 73 years.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

SINGER

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. does two-thirds the sewing done in this country, and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

MR. HEPWORTH'S CASE.—Rev. Geo. H. Hepworth is a clergyman whom we have never heard, or known, or seen. Of his personal worth, or intellectual and moral calibre, or representative rank, we can only judge as do other general readers and critics. Thus judging, it seems to us that his case has not been properly handled, either by himself or his denunciators.

The religious views of thoughtful and honest men interest us profoundly. And when such a man, after having taught for years a certain type of theology, changes to the opposite, we endeavor to weigh candidly not only "the reason for the faith that is in him"—but also for the faith that has gone out of him. A careful reading of Mr. Hepworth's sermon announcing his new views left us with a sense of its feebleness of conception, its meagerness of logic, and its unimpressiveness—save only its one strong quality of manly frankness and glowing sympathy.

Without pretending to understand Unitarianism quite so well as Mr. Hepworth does, perhaps we understand orthodoxy a little better than he; and we feel free to say that while this new-departing minister has renounced Unitarianism, we see no evidence that he has embraced Orthodoxy.

The whole affair, as reflected in the daily papers, exhibits an over-share of bad spirit. Mr. Hepworth proved himself a Hotspur, quick to take an unintended insult from his trustees. Moreover the empty and noisy defiance which he flung behind him in leaving his old charge was ungraced with the spirit of the new Leader whom he was to follow and serve. On the other hand, the criticisms, both in and out of Unitarian pulpits, made by Mr. Hepworth's former confederates in faith on his renunciation of it, have been hardly worthy of a freedom-loving sect that has done almost as much as the Society of Friends for the ecclesiastical emancipation of the human mind. Mr. Hepworth has not only a right to change his religious views (as all will admit) but to change them without penalty of taunts, flings and innuendoes. We have small sympathy for that tyranny of public opinion which is intolerant and dogmatic, whether in religion, or politics, or literature, or art.

Now that Mr. Hepworth is out of a denomination whose representatives have publicly given him a good riddance, let him beware how he enters into the trammels of another sect who, for a similar offence, would administer to him a still worse punishment. The "good, grey heads" of the orthodox churches—the leaders of the orthodoxy of the period—will be very shy of Mr. Hepworth. Let him not build his new future on expectations which may be disappointed.

Mr. Hepworth's best place, if he is man enough to hold it, will be an independent foundation of his own—chained to no denominational creed, bound by no sectarian limitation, amenable to no local conference or general council, but using his free mind as God shall give it liberty, subject to no bondage which he cannot shake off in each day's sunshine, and obedient to no other authority in the church save only its Divine Head. If his self-reliance and soulful consecration be proven "sufficient for these things," then we shall hail his new departure as a cheering harbinger of the times. But if in addition to going backward to dedicate himself to an ancient dogma, he is to go still further back to chain himself to an ancient ecclesiasticism, we shall sorrowfully consider that he has gone forth from much liberty into certain bonds.

But whatever he does, he has a right to do it; and the only missile that we care to fling at him is a "God" bless you!"—Golden Age.

—The following sensible language is from the Boston Commercial Bulletin: "A new field of enterprise, and one which will surely bring its reward, is now open to the first courageous and independent boot and shoe manufacturer who dares make a really good, honest article, fit for real wear. For a long time there has existed dissatisfaction at the miserable leather in which too many of the boots and shoes in our market are put together, causing them to be cast aside long before the stock itself has been worn out. Children's shoes, in particular, are the most slighted, being hastily put together with small rotten thread, the buttons imperfectly sewed on in most instances, and the boot or shoe perhaps embellished with gewgaws of no use to the wearer. Consequently, long before the leather has exhausted itself by wear, the stitching rips out, the buttons fly off, the heels are all askew, and the structure is a wreck. To be sure "cobblers" do not object, but parents, who have in charge the supplying of these goods, do object, and are clamoring for some change to be made that shall remedy this shoddy state of things. Let some public spirited manufacturer take this matter in hand and be the first in the field to advertise Blank's boots and shoes thoroughly made in every particular, warranted not to rip, buttons not to come off, counters to hold, and the demand he will have will surprise him."

—The story is told of an old farmer who loved mischief, and did not love a neighboring deacon. With a gang of roguish boys in the neighborhood he was on most friendly terms, though he took good care never directly to encourage them in their youthful pranks. But he thoroughly understood them, and they knew him. One evening he met them just starting out on a lark, and addressing them in stern tones, said, "Boys, I tell you not to put the deacon's wagon on the roof of his barn, to-night!" And, then, as if an afterthought, just as they were moving off in the direction of the deacon's residence, he cried out—"Be good boys, and here's a quarter for you!" The next morning the deacon had to call upon his neighbors to assist in getting his wagon to terra firma, but no one could say that the farmer had advised the mischief the boys had done.

—A despatch from Bombay reports the loss of a vessel of Surat, and 35 natives drowned.

—A barrel of buckwheat flour exploded in Iowa.

THE CLAIM OF SUPERIORITY

Is often made for

ARTICLES OF GENERAL USE,

But the claimants often find it easier to assert such superiority than to readily prove it by practical tests.

After a long and thorough test of

BOOTS AND SHOES

FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE,

These goods were pronounced by the patentee to be

THE BEST

In the market for Pliability, Durability, and Economy. This claim has received

Full Endorsement

From Manufacturers!

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system for so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and other Vital Organs.

The Chronicle.

THE MYSTERIOUS WOMAN OF THE WEST.—"The mysterious woman of the West," who was recently expected to make terrible developments in the Miner counterfeiting case, is Susie Freeman, of the well-known Freeman Sisters, who appeared at the Globe Theater in New-York lately, under the management of John Stetson, and are now playing at the National Theater, Cincinnati. The accidental connection of the young lady with Col. Wood and the Secret Service happened under quite romantic circumstances. The sisters had been traveling with a company which had suspended on account of bad business, and were left penniless and far from home. Undismayed by their misfortunes, they took the first train for New-York, and although they explained their situation to the conductor, he was unrelenting, and was on the point of putting them off the cars, when Col. Wood, happening to be in an adjoining seat, volunteered the payment of the required fares. Before reaching their destination the detective learned the story of their lives, and noting that the elder was extraordinarily energetic and shrewd, he placed her upon the trail of a gang of counterfeiters. At last, tiring of the duties of a female detective, she returned with her sister to the stage.

THE JUNE JUBILEE.—The degree of interest attached to the second musical jubilee in this city far transcends that of the first. There is no difficulty in securing the cooperation of first-class business-men, one of whom, our well-known public-spirited fellow-citizen, Mr. Eben D. Jordan, has expressed his entire willingness to assume the whole pecuniary risk. This confidence, however, it is not necessary to put to the test, as he has numerous and able sympathizers in the success and real grandeur of the enterprise. The guarantee-fund is rapidly accumulating, and the $200,000 necessary will soon be subscribed. The new art-museum directors have a warm interest, and will probably loan a portion of its funds, sharing in the results of the demonstration for their cordiality. The Charitable Mechanic Association, also, is interested, with the view of securing the building (which is to be of iron) for the purposes of their tri-annual exhibitions. On the whole, the project goes on swimmingly, and Boston will be more than ever a good place to visit next June.—Boston Commonwealth.

TOOTH PULLING ILLUSTRATED.—Before the days of chloroform there was a quack who advertised tooth drawing without pain. The patient was placed in a chair, and the instrument applied to his tooth with a wrench, followed by a roar from the unpleasantly surprised sufferer. 'Stop,' cried the dentist; 'compose yourself. I told you I would give you no pain, but I only just gave you that twinge as a specimen, to show you Cartwright's method of operating.' Again the instrument was applied,—another tug, another roar. 'Now don't be impatient; that is Dumerge's way; be seated and calm,—you will now be sensible of the superiority of my method.' Another application, another tug, another roar. 'Now pray be quiet! that is Parkinson's mode and you don't like it, and no wonder.' By this time the tooth hung by a thread; and whipping it out, the operator exultingly exclaimed: 'That is my mode of tooth-drawing without pain, and you are now enabled to compare it with the operations of Cartwright, Dumerge, and Parkinson.'

HEPWORTH.—An esteemed reader of our paper writes us: "The Commonwealth of last week contains an article accusing Rev. Mr. Hepworth of unworthy motives for the change in his religious belief. Does the writer intend the article as a practical illustration of the Christian charity and toleration of a self-styled liberal Christian?" No! simply a frank statement of our disbelief in the value of the convert. Ever since he prevaricated out of the relief-meeting for John Brown's family, in November, 1859, we have deemed him a burlesque on the Christian profession.—Commonwealth.

A YOUNG POSITIVIST.—Parson—"What is a miracle?" Boy—"Dunno." Parson—"Well, if the sun were to shine in the middle of the night, what would you say it was?" Boy—"The moon." Parson—"But if you were told it was the sun, what should you say it was?" Boy—"A lie." Parson—"I don't tell lies. Suppose I told you that it was the sun; what would you say then?" Boy—"That yer wasn't sober!"—Punch.

—The Commercial Advertiser says that the ridiculously low price of tickets to the Franklin dinner (only $10 each) exposed the rich printers of New York to the danger of eating with "poor white trash" that had no business to intrude itself on the genuine admirers of the deceased kite-flyer and epigrammatist. This is "sarkastickle."

—A man named White was killed at the Fourth avenue railroad crossing in New York on Thursday. Soon after the accident a large crowd gathered and threatened to tear up the track, but were dispersed by the police.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA - BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

Describe symptoms in all communications.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes it to fall off prematurely, and other effects is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S unsurpassable skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood,

Are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action, and they impart health and tone to the whole frame. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most eminent clergymen, most skillful physicians, and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits they have derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unanimous testimonials of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

Civil Service Reform.

That a radical reform in the civil service is needed has been urged by many honest men and by not a few rogues, the former class being actuated by the best of motives and the latter by a hope that by agitation or possible change they might be able to "reform" their own positions for the better. Loud demands have been made by the opponents of President Grant that Congress should do away with that "military tyranny" power of influencing the people by official patronage—for that, we take it, is really what much of the civil service reform talk amounted to—but the President's evident willingness to do more of his own accord than his enemies demanded should be done by others, has dampened the zeal of the reformers to a wonderful degree, and the plan of reforming the civil service by taking the appointing power from the Congressmen, by whom it is really exercised, and giving it to parties less known and less easily reached by popular opinion and the ballot-box, seems now to have few supporters save the President, Mr. Curtis and the "advisory board." That the President has strengthened himself with the people by promptly acting in obedience to what was made to seem a popular demand is certain, but that "competitive examination" is a panacea for all the evils existing in the civil service we do not believe.

Competitive examination will not disclose whether a candidate for office is honest or not, and the principal reason given for the demand for a change from the present system of appointments, so far as we have heard, has been that the civil service is corrupt, not that it is inefficient. A candidate might pass a "double first" examination and still be a rogue—and a rogue lacking administrative ability and every other necessary qualification for the office he coveted; and many of the most available men would fail, through lack of readiness and "cheek," or even from defective education, to pass an examination for the lowest office. A look over this city will show that some of our most enterprising and successful men of business are among those who could not pass such an examination as is proposed, though there are few offices they could not fill with credit; and a Representative is quite as likely to know the private worth of an applicant from his Congressional district as any examining board. James Fisk, Jr., was the "smartest" man of the age, yet he would have been rejected for his lack of education only, by an examining board, had he appeared before one as an applicant for office, while his moral character would have had no weight, one way or the other.

The plan proposed would not make dishonest men honest, nor keep them out of office. Its principal result would be to give us an aristocracy of office-holders quite independent of the people, and holding their positions for life or until the other party got the government and overthrew the system, in order that the victors might divide the spoils,—for that is surely what would take place, as it is sheer nonsense to suppose an administration elected by one party would allow all the civil offices to be held by incumbents appointed by the other party. Nor is it reasonable to expect it; for if a political party has (as political parties always think they have) imperative reasons for having the Presidential chair and the Houses of Congress filled by men of their own political faith, the same reasons will render it equally necessary that the subordinate offices be not filled by their enemies. The old Democratic motto, "To the victors belong the spoils," expressed a truth, though in rather offensive terms; its great fault was in its placing the removal from office of men who were opposed to the government and filling their places with others in harmony with it, in the light of a plundering raid instead of a necessity. An administration served only by its enemies could not long exist, were it ever so good in itself. We do not believe a conviction that they were above and beyond the power of the people would tend to make civil service officials more careful in their acts or more desirous of standing well in public opinion than they are under their present tenure of office, notwithstanding the opinion of those who advocate one term for the President and life tenure in the civil service, to the contrary.

Some person says that "If only honest men were appointed to office we should have an honest civil service." The saying is doubtless very wise, and we will add one just fit to accompany it.—If all men are made honest all office-holders will be honest men. But so long as dishonest men exist some of them will find their way into official positions, and so long as swindling is glorified under the name of "smartness" and a successful thief as "a smart fellow," so long dishonesty will be rampant. If thieves were punished as thieves, and if the bondsmen of thieving officials were rigidly held to the terms of their bonds and compelled to make good the public losses, defaulters would soon be more rare than they are at present or have been for twenty years.

As to reforming such abuses as have been exposed in the New York Custom House, all the competitive examinations ever invented would not do it. Giving the officials a fixed and fair salary, letting them know that the acceptance of a single dollar as a "perquisite" would certainly secure their discharge, and then acting up to that rule, would do more towards purifying that branch of the civil service than all the hard questions that could be put to candidates for office. The Washington correspondent of the Boston Commonwealth asserts that Congress will not vote a dollar to pay the expenses of the examining boards, and adds:
